C. J. HAYES, Adjutant.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Doug. Langille visited The Dalles Tuesday.
Ice cream Saturday and Sunday at the bakery.
C. Welds has two houses for rent; good location.
Court convenes at The Dalles Monday, the 25th.
Rev. T. L. Elliot arrived here from Portland Tuesday.
Captain Ferguson visited Portland during the week.
Mrs. Charles Early came up from Chewath Monday.
Miss Julia Cowperthwait is visiting Captain, Coe's family.
J. W. Wallace is at The Dalles forwarding the berry crop.
S. E. Bartmess is agent for the Bridal Veil Lumber Company.
O. B. Hartley has horses and fresh milk-cows to trade for cordwood.
Miss Grace Underwood has our thanks for a nice lot of strawberries.
The Winans Brothers caught nearly five tons of fish with dip nets Monday.
Hood River strawberries are selling in The Dalles Tuesday for 85 cents a crate.
M. H. Nickelson made a trip to Portland during the week, arriving home Friday.
If you want to buy a farm, come to this shop and we will give you some pointers.

A Sunday school was organized at the mill last Sabbath with Milton Odell as superintendent.
Mr. Mammen Willis was in The Dalles Wednesday, arriving home by Regulator Thursday morning.
The Fruit Growers' Union had, up to Wednesday night, shipped 258 crates of strawberries.
Mrs. Hibbard will have charge of the Langille house for the summer, after the 15th of the month.
C. S. Jackson of the East Oregonian has been appointed receiver of the national bank of Pendleton.
Leslie Butler of The Dalles was here Tuesday, coming down at the request of Mr. Pratt to draw his will.
Rudy Cradleigh arrived home from Bishop Scott Academy, Portland, Saturday, to spend the vacation.
We need ten cords of wood, and will gladly trade newspaper for it. Sixteen inch stove wood preferred.
If you want to buy a farm, anything from five acres to 500, call at this shop and we will give you a pointer.
Double moulded cent. 1c.75. All kinds moulding 1/2 cent. per inch.
HOOD RIVER MFG. CO.
Mrs. Wm. Stewart is visiting her parents, Hon. and Mrs. E. L. Smith, coming up by boat Monday from Portland.

Round trip tickets to Portland, good for return ten days from date of sale, $3. Tickets on sale daily until September 30th.
From 8 until 10 o'clock Monday evenings the Glacier barber shop will be at the service of the ladies for shampooing, etc.
Colonel Thompson has appointed Captain A. S. Blowers lieutenant and commissary of subsistence on his staff in the Third regiment.
L. Neff commenced work Thursday repairing bridges for the Union Pacific, giving employment to quite a number of men from this locality.
Twenty-two buildings were carried away from Grant by the flood. The machinery of the distillery was all saved except the worm and vat.
The following deed was filed for record this week: George C. Jones to W. L. Conkey, 160 acres in section 17, township 1 north, range 9 east.

Our "Wheat Graham" is for sale at all the stores. We guarantee every sack to be made of clean No. 1 wheat.
HARRISON BROS.
A cyclone struck the town of Long Creek, Grant county, last week, killing three and badly injuring six persons, and wrecked twenty-five buildings.
Hall's Hair Renewer cures dandruff and scalp affections; also, all cases of baldness where the glands which feed the roots of the hair are not closed up.
The Indians are a badly disappointed set. In some cases they are picking on shares and living mostly on berries having no money to buy provisions with.
The Hood River box factory has the agency for the combination fence made of wire and pickets. The best and cheapest fence made. Call and see it.
The Dalles elected Mr. G. V. Bolton mayor Monday. Mr. Bolton is a wide-awake young man, full of energy and vim, and will administer the affairs of the city on strictly business principles. It was a wise selection.
I have arranged for handling strawberries and other fruits the coming season, and having had ten years experience in the commission business, feel confident of getting the best returns for my customers. C. R. BURNS

W. N. West has opened up a butcher shop in the Morse & Early building and intends to sell meat cheaper for cash than it has been sold for the last ten years.
The steamer Baker was taken back to Portland Thursday, and will not make the attempt to climb the cascades again until the water is much lower.
The Pendleton wool-scouring mills are in active operation and will soon be running day and night. The mills are capable of handling 750,000 pounds of wool per month.
The Hood River Box Co. has put in its machinery and is prepared to roll barley or wheat. The Co. also keeps on hand all kinds of rough and dressed lumber. Agents for combination fence.
Captain Blowers and Ed Williams made a trip to the Cascades Monday and succeeded in having their freight transferred; Captain Blowers going after sugar and Mr. Williams for cigars.

The excursion to the Cascades last Wednesday was well attended and enjoyed by all. From the number of fish brought home one would think that they had been fairly successful in that line.
A. J. Borie, superintendent of the Union Pacific, was here Tuesday, making the trip from the locks overland. Mr. Borie thinks the road can be repaired between here and Portland in a couple of weeks.

It is expected that Cloud Cap Inn will be opened by the first of July. Doug Langille went out Thursday afternoon to plow snow so it will melt out of the road. Mrs. Langille will go out the 25th of this month.
Will Langille has been sick in bed for over a week with mountain fever, but we are pleased to state that he is very much better. He is still confined to his bed, and will be for some time yet, but is out of danger.

Money is scarce with everybody just now, and the printer is no exception to the rule. In order to meet our bills we have to make collections, and any one knowing themselves indebted to this paper will please come forward and pay up.
Thursday evening George Aleck was mounted on a bucking cayuse and was fired off backward. The pony stepped in his face badly cutting his lower lip and chin. Dr. Brosius dressed the wound it taking twelve stitches to close it.

Crops of all kinds are looking fine. Potatoes will be an unprecedented crop. Corn is growing fast and haying has begun; and as we now have plenty of sugar people are not looking quite so sour as they did.

Messrs. Henry Hibbard and N. C. Evans went to Celilo to look after the transfer of the berries at that point last Friday. They returned in a small boat from The Dalles, Saturday evening, and had to stop at Mosier several hours on account of the wind.
Complaint is being made that the bands of Indian ponies turned loose upon us are using up all the pasturage. About 200 were counted one day last week, which is about one piece for every Indian. Notwithstanding two and three are often seen on one horse.

Strawberries are being utilized in several different ways. More have been canned than ever heard of before to the exclusion of other fruits which it is hoped will find better sale. Quantities are being dried; syrup is being made of some and wine of others and still many are going to waste. Oh for a canner!
Mrs. William Rand gave a tea party, last Saturday evening, in honor of Miss Alma LeRoy of LaGrande, who is visiting Mrs. Rand. Those present were: The Messrs. Alice Cleaver, Cora Cople, Ida Foss, and Messrs. Ed Williams, Claude Cople, William Mercer and P. C. McGuire. The party spent a very pleasant evening together, after taking a drive through the valley.

Mr. W. P. Watson showed us a box of berries raised by him from a seedling, which he has named the Messrs. Triumph. Eighteen berries weighed thirteen ounces, and the largest one measured eight and one-half inches in circumference. Should they prove to have the shipping qualities of Hood River's pride, the Clark seedling, they will prove invaluable.
Last week two crates of berries were shipped by the Fruit Growers' Union to Mr. L. Sichel. Mr. Parrish, who delivered the berries, reports that as arriving in fine condition after a trip of 130 miles, occupying two days, in a stage. The berries looked, said Mr. Sichel, "like they had just been picked, and certainly were the finest ever seen in Prineville."

The present season has shown the necessity of a cannery establishment at Hood River, and before it is over will, we think, demonstrate the need of one at The Dalles. Every year the fruit industry increases in importance, and the cannery becomes the more necessary to save the surplus products. With such an institution in Hood River this year, thousands of dollars would have been saved to the berry growers, and other thousands made by the cannery.

We received a letter from Thomas McKay, sr., Tuesday. Mr. McKay is now located at Anaconda, Montana, and is road master for the Butte, Anaconda and Pacific railway company at that point; his family remaining in Port Townsend. The following item, published in the Inter-Mountain, was included: "Hood River strawberries appeared on the market yesterday—big, luscious berries. They came via the Union Pacific from Spokane." From this it will be seen that Portland commission men found a way to reach the Montana market with our berries. The first shipments were made east from here on the 15th, and Mr. McKay's letter was dated the 13th.

BORN.
Thursday, June 14, 1894, to Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Davidson, a daughter.
Little Johnnie's Treasures.
Mrs. Wearie—When you sweep little Johnnie's room, don't put the sweepings in the fire.
New Girl—Why not, mum?
Mrs. Wearie—The room I did that the stove exploded.—Good News 45.

Popular Concert.
Mrs. Heald's concert will be given at the Congregational church next Friday evening, June 29th, at 8 o'clock. The programme consists of a variety of vocal and instrumental solos, duets, concerted works and singing by the glee club. About thirty persons will take part in the concert, and it will certainly be a novel and interesting entertainment for this place. An admission fee of 25 cents will be charged. On Thursday afternoon, the 28th, at 3 o'clock, a full rehearsal of the programme will be given at the same place, which all the children in the valley are invited to attend free of charge. The programme will be as follows:

The Gang Undone.
The Hawthorne gang are now thoroughly settled. Hayes dead, and Tuesday morning Hawthorne was taken to Portland by the U. S. marshal to answer to the charge of murder in killing Karpolis. Rowe is in jail at The Dalles and is really more to be pitied than anything else. He is simply a case of bad company. He was led into some petty offenses, and ashamed to confess, he drifted in deeper and deeper. He will be tried for burglary in breaking in Mays & Crowe's store, but public sympathy is with him and his family and his punishment will be light.

Death of H. A. Pratt.
H. A. Pratt died Wednesday morning, at 10 o'clock, and was buried Thursday in Idlewild cemetery; the Masonic order of which he was a member, taking charge of the funeral. Deceased had an attack of la grippe during the past winter, from which he never recovered. He was 56 years old, a native of Maine, and came to this coast in the early sixties. For many years he was in the employ of the O. R. & N. Co., as master mechanic, and set up the first locomotive used by that company on the portage road at the Cascades, probably the first used on the coast. About ten years ago he settled in this valley, on a farm, where his wife died about nine months ago. They left no children.

A Quarter Century Test.
For a quarter of a century Dr. King's New Discovery has been tested, and the millions who have received benefit from its use testify to its wonderful curative power in all diseases of throats, chest and lungs. A remedy that has stood the test so long and that has given so universal satisfaction, is no experiment. Each bottle is positively guaranteed to give relief, or the money will be refunded. It is admitted to be the most reliable for coughs and colds. Trial bottle free at the Hood River Pharmacy. Large size 50c. and $1.

Hot Climates and Long Livedness.
People who have lived long in hot climates like India become presbyopic four or five years earlier than they would otherwise have done, for life in a hot climate naturally means excessive wear and tear to a European. The ordinary age for the adoption of spectacles for reading used to be 50, while it is now nearer 45.—New York Tribune.

Cause of Insomnia.
Now, it happens in this stirring age of ours that men, and women, too, are so much intellectually worked or so emotionally disturbed that their brains have more to do than they can accomplish and yet preserve their normal balance.
Mental work, whether it be simply perceptual, intellectual, emotional or volitional, requires that an increased amount of blood shall flow to the brain; hence during mental exertion of any kind the cerebral vessels become distended, owing to the increased volume of blood they contain, and they remain in this condition as long as the exertion is continued. If it is too intense, or if it be persevered in for too long a period without there being alternations of rest, the vessels lose their contractibility and remain in a permanently enlarged state. They are therefore not able to contract so as to produce sleep. A state of cerebral congestion is established, and wakefulness is the result.

Such persons go to bed, perhaps feeling as if they would sleep, but no sooner do their heads touch their pillows than their minds become inordinately active, and they lie awake hour after hour recalling the events of the day, or else indulging in the most preposterous thoughts. The blood vessels will not empty themselves, simply because they have lost the power to do so. They are like the india rubber bands that we put around big packages and leave undisturbed for a long time. We try to use them again, and we find that the elasticity which they once possessed has gone.—Dr. Hammond in North American Review.

Plant Forms Seen In Coal.
The substance of coal has been so compressed that the forms of the plants composing it cannot usually be seen, but when a piece of it is made so thin that it will transmit light and is then subjected to a powerful microscope its vegetable structure may readily be distinguished. Immediately under every separate seam of coal there is a stratum of what is known as fireclay. This stratum is always present and contains in great abundance the fossil impressions of roots and stems and twigs, showing that it was once the soil from which vegetation grew luxuriantly.

It is common also to find fossil stems lying masked flat between the layers of black slate which form the roofs of coal mines as well as the impressions of the leaves, nuts and seeds which fell from these trees while they were living. In some beds of canal coal whole trees have been found with roots, branches, leaves and seeds complete, and all converted into the same quality of coal as that by which they were surrounded.—Washington Star.

The Pugnacious Anglo-Saxon.
Men of peace! No, we are nothing of the sort. The modern Anglo-Saxon is a fighter, as his savage ancestors were. He goes into war with a zest as keen as any other nation's and a pluck which is—or at least he thinks it—is a little better than any. Between his wars he fights the lesser battles of the football field, the pugilistic ring, the baseball diamond or looks on and shouts approval while others fight. His boys learn to doubt their fists almost as soon as to walk. Their favorite Bible stories are of David's fight with the Philistine Goliath and the muscular exploits of Samson. They go to school to be taught to venerate the classic deeds of the fleet footed Achilles and the masterful Heracles, and to regard as the modern successors of those ancient heroes the youth who among his schoolmates has the quickest eye and the most powerful biceps. How can we ever forget that "his excellent to have a giant's strength" when we are reminded of the truth of the adage at almost every turn of our daily lives?—R. R. Williams in Munsey's.

A Liar With a Big Fish.
"Dear! dear!" exclaimed George H. Pogram to a covey of railroad birds in the St. James, "how many liars there are in the world anyhow. Every small and large town has its star liar, and my old town had one. My old town was Chatham, Mass. There was, when I was a boy, an old fellow of the name of George Sanders, who wore without an effort the silver star of champion long distance liar for the town and neighboring vicinity. This fellow had been, according to himself, lost 50 times in great ocean wrecks. He had wandered naked and starving up and down cannibal islands and been rescued in a most providential manner. Sharks and whales had vainly harbored designs against his life, and invariably he had led them a bootless chase. In doing all this he had also established his star reputation. One day George came into the town dragging after him an immense codfish. "He stopped at all the houses, he was so well known, and calling out to the inhabitants pointed with pride to the fish and said: 'Now, if I had told you people I had caught a fish of that size you wouldn't have believed it.' George knew his reputation well, and he knew that to gain the actual credit for his catch that he would have to work for it. It always tickled me to think that the biggest liar in town should catch the biggest fish and then be compelled to drag it all around town to prove it."—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Attention Paid to Walking.
It is enough to imagine the unfeigned amazement of a dame of the old school if the proper position of the feet in walking were made a matter of doubt. For years the dancing master's standard in all matters of carriage and walk has been an unquestioned one. The fine de siecle young woman, however, has a mind of her own. She has not found that the conventional training of the dancing master, valuable as it undoubtedly is, was all sufficient in producing that grace of carriage and elegance of manner so desirable in the woman of the world.
On the contrary, she has found that the physical training of the woman of the stage has been more often conducive to the desired end. Hence it is that schools of Delsarte have sprung up all over the land, and systems of physical training, including boxing and fencing, heretofore relegated to the sterner sex, have found patronesses in plenty.—Chicago Tribune.
Solomon's temple was 107 feet high, 36 feet broad and 54 feet high. Though deemed a wonder of the world, it was not larger than many private houses of the present time.

A Gentleman

Who formerly resided in Connecticut, but who now resides in Honolulu, writes: "For 20 years past, my wife and I have used Ayer's Hair Vigor, and we attribute to it the dark hair which she and I now have, while hundreds of our acquaintances, ten or a dozen years younger than we, are either gray-headed, white, or bald. When asked how our hair has retained its color and fullness, we reply: 'By the use of Ayer's Hair Vigor—nothing else.' "In 1865, my affianced was nearly bald, and the hair kept falling out every day. I induced her to use Ayer's Hair Vigor, and very soon, it not only checked any further loss of hair, but produced an entirely new growth, which has remained luxuriant and glossy to this day. I can recommend this preparation to all in need of a genuine hair-restorer. It is all that it is claimed to be."—Antonio Alarum, Bastrop, Tex.
