

Hood River Glacier.

HOOD RIVER, OR., JULY 21, 1894.

The tariff bill, which passed the senate July 4th, by a strict party vote, except Hill, 84 to 39, is now in conference committee, with no immediate prospects of an agreement.

After the passage of the tariff bill by the senate there was much enthusiasm and congratulations among the senators. Even republicans were smilingly glad that the contest was over and congratulated their democratic friends. One man herded alone, and that was Hill. Not a democrat spoke to him; even the republicans forsook him and the populists ignored him. He is called by senators the Benedict Arnold of his party.

As an advertising medium the GLACIER presents advantages that should not be overlooked by those wishing to catch the eye of the public. Everybody in the community reads the paper; its pages are small, and no matter how diminutive the item or advertisement, it is seen and read. If you have anything to sell, in the shape of a farm or wagon, a horse or cow, or wish to purchase anything, a little ad. in the GLACIER will help you, and the cost will not be much.

At the bicycle races at San Jose, June 28th, James Ordway showed what could be done with a bicycle. Though the track was like a fresh-plowed field, he waltzed his wheel all over it, rode upright, sideways and upside down. He made his machine rear up and started it along on the hind wheel; he rode it backwards; then he stood the machine on its seat and handle bars and did a treadmill-act on the pedals with both wheels in the air; he rode down a step-ladder and then balanced the ladder over a high sawhorse and rode his wheel up one side and down the other.

The European low rates inaugurated by the leading steamship lines is causing an exodus from Chicago and other points in the northwest of many foreigners connected with the strike. There is much food for thought in the depletion of the standing army of unemployed in this country by return of workers to their homes abroad. It is predicted that before long labor will be at a premium instead of a discount, and some people figure on a season of prosperity as a consequence of the return to Europe of thousands who have been in the past six months unsuccessful in obtaining employment.

The overwhelming majority in favor of the income tax when it passed the senate, but demonstrates the popularity of that measure. Of those who voted in favor of the income tax, 31 were democrats, 6 republicans and 3 populists. The republicans voting for the income tax were Mitchell of Oregon, Hansbrough, Pettigrew, Power, Shoup and Teller. The three populists, Kyle, Allen and Peffer, also voted for it. Of the 23 senators who voted against it, 20 were republicans and 3 democrats. The latter were Hill, Murphy and Smith. As the house is overwhelmingly in favor of the income tax, there is no longer a doubt that it will become a law.

A report on immigration issued by the bureau of statistics, treasury department, shows that during 11 months of the fiscal year ended May 31 the total number of immigrants arriving in the United States was 238,020 as against 430,210 for a corresponding period of last year. The greatest decrease was from Poland, the number being only 1,379 against 13,046 during the first 11 months of 1893. The number from Italy decreased from 62,227 to 40,335. The rate of decrease from all other countries is approximately the same. During the 10 months ended April 30, 1894, the whole number of immigrants barred from entering the United States was 2,102, of which 1,423 were contract laborers and 652 paupers. Of the whole number 1,940 were men, 83 women and 70 children.

Dalles Chronicle: While talking to Mr. William Buskirk, yesterday, Mr. Biggs came in. Mr. Buskirk at once asked who it was, and on being told, said "I thought so." We called Mr. Biggs over and introduced them, Mr. Biggs at once recognizing Mr. Buskirk as an old friend back in Missouri. At that time Mr. Biggs was captain of a Mississippi river steamer, and though they had not met for thirty years Mr. Buskirk recognized him instantly.

Strike News.

Portland, Or., July 17.—The Pullman boycott and strike is over in this city, and through passenger and freight service has been fully resumed on two of the great railroads terminating here. The only obstacle in the way on the Southern Pacific is the break at Mott's station, Cal., where a trestle was burned, and that is being patched up as rapidly as possible. Before the end of the week it is anticipated that all trains, both freight and passenger, will be running on all lines on schedule time. The situation last night was brighter than it has been since the trouble first commenced here, eighteen days ago, and officials are confident that traffic hereafter will not be interrupted.

The striking engineers and firemen of the Northern Pacific agreed to return to work at a conference with officials Sunday night, but when it came to taking an oath required by the receivers of the road some of them rebelled. For this reason their action was kept quiet and the officials have nothing to say in regard to the matter. Judging from the preparations made by the company last night to move through freight at once, it is fair to presume that the matter was satisfactorily settled. This action on the part of the Northern Pacific strikers is not altogether local. The stampede commenced at St. Paul three days ago and traveled westward with surprising speed.

It was learned at the general freight offices of the Northern Pacific yesterday that, commencing today, freight will be received here for all points on the road, clear through to St. Paul. Agents at all points between Seattle and Pasco are instructed to receive all kinds of freight.

Through freight service was resumed on the O. R. & N. yesterday morning, but only light freight will be received until the damage wrought by the flood is repaired between Cascade Locks and The Dalles.

Longshoreman Teesdale, leader of the local strike, said last night: "The strikers stand firm. Some of the few men who went to work this morning quit again at noon, because their fellow strikers did not follow their example. There has been no coercion on the part of those men who have stood firm throughout. We are in this strike to win it, and will win it. The longshoremen are as solid today as at any time since they went out. We had a very reassuring telegram from Tacoma. We held three of the largest and most enthusiastic meetings today that we have had at any time during the strike."

Tacoma, July 16.—A Northern Pacific train from the East was fired upon this afternoon near Cle-Elum. Twenty deputies, many of whom were returning from the eastern part of the state, left the train as soon as it stopped and chased the culprits. A log train was also fired on near Puyallup this evening by a man on horseback, who fled as soon as two deputies gave chase on foot. Many of the railroad employes who yesterday made application to be reinstated today reported for duty and took the receiver's oath. The officials say that nine-tenths of the old engineers are ready for work, and that there are more applications than places in all the departments. All passenger trains are running, and the sale of tickets to eastern points was resumed today.

Missoula, Mont., July 17.—An east-bound Northern Pacific train, the first in 16 days, was wrecked today at a point about two miles east of here by a dynamite cartridge concealed in the truck. The engine had barely struck the spot when a terrific explosion was heard, the shock shattering the pilot and right cylinder and piston rod. It also broke the windows of the cab and mail car. Some eight coaches constituted the train, which was loaded with troops and passengers. Strikers denounced the act in unmeasured terms. There is considerable feeling over the return to work of some engineers and conductors, and it is believed that some one in sympathy with the strikers adopted this method of deterring further progress.

Spring Valley, Ill., July 7.—Two stores were thoroughly looted here today, and a dozen others compelled to give up part of their merchandise to a mob of 2000 striking coal miners. The depredations of the mob commenced at noon, when the meat market of S. M. Horner was taken possession of and thoroughly raided. Not only the fresh meat, but the lard, hams and everything pertaining to the shop, including the butcher tools, were carried away. No resistance was made by the proprietor, as that was considered not only useless, but as endangering the destruction of the entire building.

The mob was made up wholly of non-English speaking men, the leaders being Belgians, Poles and Italians. When the supply of plunder at Horner's gave out the strikers organized into a band of about 1,000, and marching along the streets compelled firms to turn over liberal supplies of their goods. A raid was then made on the saloons, and each one visited was compelled to contribute a keg of beer. By 3 o'clock six kegs had been gathered and were opened on the street corners and made free to all comers.

The immediate cause of the resort to violence was the refusal of Supervisor James B. Nelson of this city to issue further orders on the county for provisions. During the last sixty days these orders aggregated over $4,000. This amount was about sufficient to furnish food for the men, while in idleness, and the latter demanded that the plan be continued indefinitely. The County Board had unofficially decided to put a stop to the issuing of orders, and had so instructed Supervisor Nelson.

Singular Facts About Birds.

The passenger pigeon lays but one egg at a sitting. These pigeons assemble in greater multitudes than any other fowl, unless the congregation of the quail, on which the children of Israel feasted, be an exception.

The ruby-throated humming bird lays but two eggs at a sitting, and has a habit of oscillating like a pendulum, describing a semi-circle in rapid succession. The pied-billed grebe possesses the wonderful power of sinking in the water, out of sight, and without diving. The turkey buzzard can travel against the wind while "on the wing," without any movement of the latter. The marsh hawk (the male) turns a somersault backwards while on the wing. This is done, seemingly, to please the female, who no doubt admires acrobatic exhibitions.

The American dipper walks on the bottom of rapidly-flowing mountain streams, being entirely submerged and holding themselves down by a pulling movement of their wings, which are kept constantly in motion, while they remain on the bottom of the stream in search of food.

The woodcock rises spirally to a great height in the air, then dashes headlong to the spot he ascended from to repeat the same performance. The sharp-tailed grouse assemble in small groups and run in circles, passing each other in opposite directions. The cow-bunting is polygamous; does not build a nest, does not rear its own offspring, but lays its eggs in other birds' nests, by whom they are hatched and fed; only one egg being committed to their care. The European cuckoo has similar habits to our cow-bunting. We have two species of cuckoo, but they rear their offspring. EDGAR W. WINANS.

Willamette Valley Chautauqua Society. The first annual assembly of this association will be held at Gladstone park, Oregon City, July 24, 25 and 26, 1894. A general invitation is extended to all Chautauquans and kindred societies, to all church denominations, to the United Societies of Christian Endeavor, the Epworth League, the Y. M. C. A., the W. C. T. U., to the various schools and colleges and other associations of literary and scientific character, to join them in the three days' symposium of art, song and oratory. Electric cars will run every 40 minutes from Portland at reduced rates.

From Cloud Cap.

Bert Langille came down from Cloud Cap Inn Thursday. At the hour he left the Inn, 6 a. m., a lively thunder storm was raging and the weather of course was not very promising for the work of the Mazamas in climbing the mountain. The Inn was full to overflowing with guests from Portland, The Dalles and Hood River, many of them there for the purpose of climbing the mountain Thursday; among the latter seven or eight ladies. Mr. Hanna and family were quartered in one of the neat little cabins close by the Inn. Will Langille arrived there Monday. It was Bert's intention to climb the mountain Thursday, but business called him away.

AYER'S SARSAPARILLA

M. Hammerly, a well-known business man of Hillsboro, Va., sends this testimony to the merits of Ayer's Sarsaparilla: "Several years ago, I hurt my leg, the injury leaving a sore which led to erysipelas. My sufferings were extreme, my leg, from the knee to the ankle, being a solid sore, which began to extend to other parts of the body. After trying various remedies, I began taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and before I had finished the first bottle, I experienced great relief; the second bottle effected a complete cure."

Hood River Pharmacy's

Directions for Mixing the Acme Compound.
Weigh out ten pounds of the Compound and put it in a barrel or large kettle; then pour on five gallons of boiling water gradually, until the mixture is of the consistency of soft soap—stirring it all the time. After it is thoroughly dissolved add the balance of the water (forty-five gallons), hot or cold—hot preferred. Do not boil the mixture. It is then ready to apply. Be sure and have your kettles or barrel clean (also your spraying tank) and free from other mixtures, in order to avoid clogging your spraying nozzles. Do not spray when the trees are moist. For Codlin Moth use No. 2, and spray immediately after the blossoms drop, then again four weeks after, which will destroy all other insects that may appear. Apply by means of a spray pump or a forster's syringe.

Testimonials.

Coralitos, Cal., March 26, 1894.—Watson, Erwin & Co.: I used one hundred pounds of your Acme No. 1, and it had the desired effect; it not only gets away with the insect but it cleans up the tree and leaves it in a healthy condition. I will guarantee it will do just what it is recommended to do. Yours truly,
J. E. MORTIMER.

Niles, March 14, 1894.—I have had six years' experience spraying, and used various washes to quite an extent. For the last two seasons I have used Acme insecticide, and find it the best wash, and that it gives the best results of any I ever used. It is a very pleasant wash to use, and easily prepared.
