

Hood River Glacier.

SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 8, 1894.

THE MAILS.

The mail arrives from Mt. Hood, at 11 o'clock A. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays; departs at the same days at noon.
For Clatsop, leaves at 8 A. M.; arrives at 6 P. M. Saturdays.
For White Salmon, leaves daily at 8 A. M.; arrives at 1 o'clock P. M.
From White Salmon, leaves for Felda, Gilmer, Trout Lake and Glenwood Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

SOCIETIES.

Canby Post, No. 18, G. A. R., meets at Odd Fellows' Hall, first Saturday of each month at 2 o'clock p. m. All G. A. R. members invited to attend.
M. B. POTTER, Commander.
C. J. HAYES, Adjutant.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Tin cans and wax strings at Dallas's.
The steamer Regulator resumed her regular trips Monday.

S. E. Bartness is agent for the Bridal Veil Lumber Company.
M. H. Nickelsen has on hand a full supply of school books, tablets, paper, etc.

Dr. G. E. Sanders will be in Hood River every two weeks until further notice.

School begins next Monday, with Prof. Gilbert and Miss Callison as teachers.

Pulverize your ground with an Osborne Spring Tooth Harrow. C. D. Henrich, agent.

Hon. A. R. Byrket of White Salmon has about 80 head of hogs, pigs and shotes, for sale cheap. a46t

Keep the weeds out of your orchard with an Osborne Spring Tooth Harrow. For sale by C. D. Henrich.

The school in Pine Grove district, which was to have commenced last Monday, has been postponed for one month.

Round trip tickets to Portland, good for return ten days from date of sale, $3. Tickets on sale daily until September 30th.

There will be a dance at White Salmon next Friday night, in Blum's hall; Evans, York and Haynes furnishing the music.

The county court last week granted license to operate a ferry between Hood River and White Salmon to J. R. Rankin.

W. J. Morris, who has been living in the Morse & Early building, has rented and moved into the eastern part of the Champlin building.

When the scalp is atrophied, or shiny bald, no preparation will restore the hair; in all other cases, Halls' Hair Renewer will start a growth.

When you want any fruit boxes go to the Hood River Box Factory. They also keep all kinds of rough and dressed lumber. Grain rolled any day.

The post office was moved Monday into the Morse & Early building. The Glacier building shop also moved into this building on the same day.

C. D. Henrich has started in the business of selling agricultural implements. The harrow he has for sale is the best implement in use for orchard work.

If you wish to fence your farm or door yard, go to the Hood River Box Factory and see their samples. They are agents for the East Portland Fence Works.

Saturday and Monday of each week will be our grinding days during the fall and winter. Our "Whole Wheat Graham" is for sale at the stores as usual. HARRISON BROS.

Or it will some day go down in the east. It is now inches towards the west at least six inches. A little work now might save a good deal in future.

Hood River was visited by a good soaking rain Friday night of last week, which cleared the atmosphere of smoke and gave us perfect weather during the first part of the week. Another rain Wednesday gave us enough to start the grass.

E. V. Husbands will move into the room in the Prather building, vacated by the Glacier barber shop, and Geo. T. Prather will open an insurance office, notary and collecting agency in the same room with Mr. Husbands' shoe shop.

Joe Purser's corn headed out too soon this year, and as a consequence is short. It is the kind you can't reach the top of from the back of a horse. He thinks his ground is too strong, causing the corn to tassel out before its time. He has struck a new scheme and will get H. C. Bateham to bud it.

Parties who promised us wood on subscription are requested to bring it along. Those hauling from the west side will please deliver the wood at our residence, 14 miles west of town; those on the east side deliver at the Glacier office. We will also take wheat on subscription if delivered soon.

Mrs. Ordway's horse and cart furnished another runaway last Saturday. She had stopped in front of West's butcher shop and left the horse unhitched and he took a notion to start for home and ran through town in that direction. We heard of no damage being done.

Prof. C. L. Gilbert of Hood River is in the assessor's office this week, transferring the assessment lists to the assessment roll, copies of which will be placed with the secretary of state, sheriff and clerk. Mr. Gilbert is a very correct accountant, and work done by him will not need little or any revision. —Times-Mountain.

John Rogers had a narrow escape one day last week while at work at the planer. He was helping to load a wagon with two or three others, when a heavy piece of timber slipped from the hind wheel of the wagon and John's head was caught and held fast between it and another heavy piece. Luckily there was enough help close at hand to remove the timbers and he was extracted without much injury.

The new road from Tucker's mill to Winans, at the forks of Hood river, is now open for travel. The petition for the road asked for an appropriation of $700, but the commissioners cut it down to $200. Capt. Blowers was authorized by the court to contract the work for $200. This he did, but the contractors failed to get the road wide enough in places and the grade was lowest on the outside. The captain has had the work completed in good shape, and those who travel this cut off to the forks can thank him for the road.

John Buskirk, Monday, moved his household goods to The Dalles, his family having preceded him last week. Mr. Lusk, who has been residing in Robt. Rand's house, moved into John Buskirk's house a mile below town.

Some of our absent-minded citizens have been seen since Monday to walk down to the old quarters of the post office in the Champlin building after their mail.

Turner Bros. have concluded that in order to raise a good crop it must be well put in, so have bought an Osborne Spring Tooth Harrow. C. D. Henrich, agent.

The house recently vacated by C. R. Bone, corner of River and Fourth streets, is for rent. Inquire at this office.

Dr. G. E. Sanders will be in Hood River again September 19th and 20th, with rooms at the Mt. Hood hotel.

A cow was killed by the cars Tuesday night near the Hood River Manufacturing Co's works.

M. V. Rand's Orchards.

A few days ago we visited the famous fruit ranch of M. V. Rand, two miles from town, on the East Side. It is astonishing to see the fruit this place will turn off this season from six and seven year old trees. He has a great variety of apples, but his Baldwins are probably the most numerous and will yield an enormous crop of this choice apple. His trees are free from codlin moth and other pests and are smooth-barked and thrifty looking, every one of them. Mr. Rand certainly has the best of orchard land. His trees are not irrigated but receive thorough cultivation. We were shown the tree-bearing 118 good sized apples, mention of which was made in the GLACIER about a month ago. It can plainly be seen by the growth of the tree that it is but two years old from the bud. The fruit is growing in clusters, which often happens with this variety of apple. Mr. Rand's peach trees are free from curl leaf and the fruit has no blight. But the most wonderful part of his orchards are the prune trees. He has the German, French, Italian and Hungarian prunes. The latter are a sight to behold. The trees are breaking down with tons of fruit, although propped in all directions. There should be no trouble to sell this luscious fruit in the cities of the East if it was there, but Mr. Rand's experience and losses in shipping fruit East for the past two seasons makes him wary of trying again. He says he will plant an orchard of 1000 sour crab apple trees, for he knows they will sell in the East. The people there know what they are and will buy them, but they know nothing of our finer fruits. It is well worth climbing the big hill east of town to see this orchard. We wish we could do it justice in writing of it.

The Case of Mrs. Neely.

MOUNT HOOD, Aug. 31, 1894.—Editor GLACIER: In your paper of the 18th of August appeared an article in regard to the destitution and insanity of Mrs. Clara Neely of Mount Hood.

My son is living on a claim adjoining mine. He left home for work July 27th and did not leave his wife and family in my care; but I allowed my daughter to stay with Clara until I brought them all to my home on account of her insane freaks. She only staid at her house three days.

I will admit we don't live as well as some of the old settlers, but we don't live on bread and tea alone. We ate at the same table with the rest of the family, and I can guarantee she was not starved out at my house.

My wife has known Clara since she was six years old, and she has always been a poor, skeleton looking girl. She has three children, 4 and 2 years and one three months old. The two oldest are good, healthy looking children. Clara arrived from the East about a year ago, and she was as much of a skeleton then as when she left my house, which I can prove by neighbors. Yours truly, MIKE NEELY.

PERSONAL.

Gov. Moody was in Hood River last week.

Miss Callison arrived at Hood River Saturday from her home at Jasper, Oregon.

Bert Langille left last week for California to resume his studies at Stanford university.

John A. Wilson went to The Dalles Thursday as one of the appraisers of the estate of the late H. A. Pratt.

L. Neff, J. W. Wallace, Scott Peterson and A. M. Creed and family left Tuesday night for Riparia, Wash.

Miss Louise Strout, who has been visiting her friend Miss Essie Sherman for the past two weeks, has returned to her home in Portland.

Mr. Joseph Wilson arrived here from Ashland Wednesday night and was kept busy Thursday shaking hands with old friends and acquaintances.

L. Neff and J. W. Wallace arrived home last week from Alto, Wash., where they have been employed on the big tree at that place.

M. Willis writes from Tampico, Yucatan, county, Wash., that his party arrived at the hop fields all in good shape. Mrs. Phelps had been quite ill for a few days, but was better.

Dr. D. S. Stryker of Portland, a dentist of 22 years' experience, will be at the Mt. Hood hotel from Sept. 17th to 21st, and any one desiring first-class warranted work will please take notice.

Jim Covert returned last week from a trip to California, where he visited old haunts that had not known him for thirty-two years. He reports the apple crop a failure everywhere he went.

Dr. T. L. Eliot sailed for San Francisco on the steamer California Wednesday. Rev. W. G. Eliot has accepted a call from the First Unitarian church of San Francisco to act as the colleague of Dr. Stebbins, and to assume the duties of that office.

Captain Wallace of Stevenson, Washington, editor of the Skamania Pioneer, was in Hood River, Saturday, on his way to Amesville to give that section a write up. The captain is an old soldier and past senior vice commander of the department of Washington. He is making a good paper of the Pioneer, and we are glad to learn it is a pioneer.

Rev. J. W. Rigby and family arrived at Hood River Wednesday evening from Mosier, where they have been stopping since conference, engaged in canvassing fruit. Mr. Rigby will go from here to his new charge at Bickleton and the family to Portland, where the girls will attend school during the winter.

The families of J. A. Freeman and William Roberts, who have been stopping at Mrs. Alina Howe's for a week, left for Portland Tuesday. Mr. Freeman and Mr. Roberts came up Saturday and returned home with their families. Monday all went to the forks of Hood river. Mr. Freeman is manager of the Walter A. Wood Machinery company, with headquarters at Portland. Mr. Roberts is the financial manager of the wholesale grocery house of Lang & Co., Portland.

CHURCH NOTICES.

Rev. J. W. Rigby will preach at Pine Grove Sunday at 11 a. m.

Rev. Jake Peak will preach at Belmont Sunday, at 11 a. m.

Preaching by the pastor, Rev. T. L. Johns, at Hood River M. E. church morning and evening, Sunday, the 9th inst.

There will be quarterly meeting at the U. B. church Sunday, September 9th. Rev. C. C. Bell of Portland will preach Saturday evening, Sunday morning and evening.

From Cloud Cap.

Doug Langille came down from above the clouds Thursday evening and remained in town over next day. He reports a prosperous season at Cloud Cap Inn. Two inches of rain fell at the Inn Wednesday, and the road was badly washed out in several places. The rains cleared out the atmosphere and the view to be had from the Inn is opened now as far as the snow line while it was raining below.

New Church Organized.

EDITOR GLACIER: The protracted meeting at the Valley Congregational church closed Sunday evening. A church of thirty-eight members was organized and a committee of three appointed to take steps to secure a house of worship for the new organization.

The meeting throughout was enjoyed by all who attended, and I contemplate holding another short meeting for the church this coming winter. Yours sincerely, J. W. JENKINS.

Mr. W. P. Watson's Garden.

Tuesday morning we were shown by W. P. Watson through his garden and fields of corn and potatoes. Knowing the reputation of Mr. Watson for being the best gardener in Oregon, we were not inclined to be much surprised at anything we saw. He is a great lover of flowers, and to this part of the garden we were first shown. He picked a beautiful bouquet of dahlias and roses and lilies for us, and at the same time told the name of every flower; but not being a connoisseur in the line of flowers it was all lost. Next we came to sweet corn ten feet high with ears that would make a meal for two. He procured the seed at the midwinter fair from the premium ear of corn from Ventura county. Coming from six hundred miles south, this corn has been made to mature under the skillful care of Mr. Watson, but we don't believe it would have done so for any one else in the valley. And here were tomatoes with the vines bent to the ground and the big, smooth tomatoes, with not a sign of rot or blight, actually heaped in piles on the vines. Here was nut-meg muskmelons as large as your hat, and watermelons of extra size. Mr. Watson has succeeded in growing sweet potatoes, the vines of which, at last, look very promising. His Irish potatoes, we believe, took first premium last year at our local fair and they will be hard to beat this year. His corn, of the Missouri yellow dent variety, is estimated by good judges will go 90 to 100 bushels to the acre. To walk through his corn field one can readily imagine himself back in the cornfields of the Wabash bottoms in Indiana. It is the best field of corn the writer has seen on the Pacific coast. His squashes are of immense size and still growing; he is cultivating them for our coming fair. On his black, loamy soil Mr. Watson can grow anything to perfection that can be grown in this latitude. He likes his work among the growing vegetables, and though some of us might consider it hard work to care for crops like he is doing, it is doubtful if any man in Hood River has enjoyed life more thoroughly this summer than W. P. Watson.

Belmont.

Mrs. Sutherland, who has been visiting Mrs. A. Rich, has returned to Portland.

Mrs. M. B. Potter received a letter from Miss Lottie Hodgson, written from The Dalles. The family arrived safely on Friday last and were cordially received by friends.

Mrs. J. F. Armor took the Tuesday afternoon train for Portland, where she will remain until the 8th.

Rev. H. returned from Goldendale on the 21d. He has arranged for a shipment of peaches from Goldendale to Hood River.

The farmers are regretting the early rains, as many have their corn cut and not under shelter.

Mr. Isenberg has sold one of his fine Jersey cows. Mr. Savage and Mr. John Clarke have each purchased one of Dr. Barrett's beautiful Jerseys.

The writer had the pleasure of going through the garden of Mr. Templeton, where were found the choicest of vegetables, such as cabbage, onions, corn and celery. Mr. Templeton is an adept at any work, and the garden speaks of his industry. He is now building a large root house, which ere long will be filled with vegetables for winter. Mr. T. believes "in laying in for summer his winter supplies, and then he won't mind the cold winter."

Miss Mellie Rigby is the guest of Mrs. A. Rich.

Sunday school at Belmont chapel Sunday at 10 o'clock. Epworth League meets at 3:30. Everybody cordially invited.

Death of Emil Schütz.

Emil Schütz of The Dalles died at Canyon City, September 3d, where he had gone in search of health and to visit his brother. Mr. Schütz was known by every old settler in the county. He was a pioneer, coming to the coast in 1850, and has been a resident of The Dalles since 1863. He was sheriff of Wasco county one term and has held other responsible positions. His age was about 62.

Above the Clouds.

Hon. M. A. Moody and his coaching party returned from Cloud Cap Inn Monday evening. On Tuesday, the second day after the arrival at Cloud Cap, the Misses Lang, Miss Evelyn Newman and Lieutenant Taylor, with Mr. Laughlin as guide, reached the summit of Mt. Hood on the north side by what is called the Langille route. While at the summit they met a party of thirteen who had made the ascent from the south side, and spent a very pleasant hour in comparing notes on the different routes. The road to the summit from the north side is not difficult and may be made easily by any one accustomed to mountain climbing. Mr. Moody and those with him speak in the highest terms of the hospitality of Mrs. Langille and her sons, who manage the Inn in the best style, set an excellent table, and are accommodating to guests. The members of the party report a delightful trip and enjoyed hunting and fishing in the near vicinity of Cloud Cap Inn. They killed a fine doe deer and had an abundance of trout the whole time. From the summit the view was grand beyond description, and in making the ascent no great difficulty was encountered. —Times-Mountain.

Armour's Poor Kin.

It has been a matter of current report for years among board of trade men that Phil Armour has no poor relations. "He will not allow any of them to remain poor," a veteran of the board remarked, by way of explanation of his usual good fortune of the rich man. "He makes them all rich."

"I have heard of that story before," Mr. Armour remarked with a smile, when one of his friends asked him about it the other day. "But it is a mistake. I have enough of them."

Then the big packer burst out in a laugh and his friends knew a good story was coming.

"One of the poor kind—he lives down in Illinois—is one of the most persistent men I ever knew. He keeps writing and I wonder for money all the time. He is not a bad fellow, only improvident, and if he displayed the same energy in attending to business that he does in writing to me, he would have been rich a long time ago. Well, he kept sending one letter after another, saying that if he only had $500 he would be all right. He repeated this so often that one day I told my secretary to send a letter saying that if he wouldn't bother me for a year I would send him $500."

"Well sir," and Mr. Armour's sides shook with laughter, "as soon as the mail made it $1,000 and two years," and I thought it was such a clever turn that I sent the money."

"What happened next?"

"In about three months he wrote again, saying the agreement was off because his wife hadn't been included."

Mr. Armour hadn't thought the whole thing a great joke, and he especially enjoyed the shrewdness of his poor relation. —Chicago Exchange.

Since Lincoln is Pullman's Adviser.

Robert Lincoln has been heard of Robert T. Lincoln. He dropped almost out of sight after reaching his old home. Occasionally he would be seen at the Chicago club, but he has never appeared in court, and did not go often to his law office in Women's Temple. Some of Mr. Lincoln's friends remarked that he was out of the legal swim, and added that the honor of representing his country at St. James had proved very expensive.

These solicitous friends were very much misinformed. Mr. Lincoln is kept quite busy in the law business. He is the personal legal advisor of George M. Pullman, and spends most of his time in the office of the palace car magnate. They are constant and inseparable companions. By those who think they can detect Mr. Lincoln's style, it is claimed that of all the prepared interviews and correspondence credited to Mr. Pullman since the strike began were the work of Ex-Minister Lincoln. —Chicago Herald.

First Aid to the Drowned.

A pamphlet recommending the operation of firmly holding the tongue of persons taken with syncope as a sure means of restoring life. The tongue can be held fast by means of wrapping a cloth around it, and must then be drawn backward and forward with a rhythmic motion. The doctor describes a case in which he succeeded in restoring life. A young man, while bathing, was surprised by a wave. After a quarter of an hour he was taken out of the water, and every effort made to revive him. Two doctors for more than an hour used all their resources in vain. The young man seemed to be dead. Then the doctor arrived who reports the facts; and, asking for a spoon, thrust it into the back of the mouth, seized the tongue, and worked it violently. Shortly after the patient gave a deep breath, and a little later vomited water. The operation was continued; the breaths became gradually more frequent. Meanwhile clothes dipped in nearly boiling water had been placed over the chest of the patient, and the extremities rubbed vigorously. After half an hour thus employed, the heart began to beat, the face gained a little color, and the patient brightened. But the patient still needed careful attention four hours more to completely recover from his long syncope. The doctor hopes that this simple mode of restoring life will be adopted at all places on the sea where life-saving apparatus is used. But even when no such arrangements are ready, any one can try the tongue pulling process, and procure hot water for the application of heat. —Boston Transcript.

Two Lives Saved.

Mrs. Phoebe Thomas of Junction City, Illinois, was told by her doctors she had consumption and that there was no hope for her, but two bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery completely cured her, and she says it saved her life. Mr. Thomas Eggers, 139 Florida street, San Francisco, suffered from a dreadful cold, approaching consumption, tried without result everything else, then bought one bottle of Dr. King's New Discovery and in two weeks was cured. He is naturally thankful. It is such results, of which these are samples, that prove the wonderful efficacy of this medicine in coughs and colds. Free trial bottle at the Hood River Pharmacy. Regular size 50c. and $1.

Saved Her Life.

Mrs. C. J. Woodbridge, of Wortham, Texas, saved the life of her child by the use of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. "One of my children had Croup. The case was attended by our physician, and was supposed to be well under control. One night I was startled by the child's hard breathing, and on going to it found it struggling. It had nearly ceased to breathe. Realizing that the child's alarming condition had become possible in spite of the medicines given, I reasoned that such remedies would be of no avail. Having part of a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral in the house, I gave the child three doses, at short intervals, and anxiously watched results. From the moment the Pectoral was given, the child's breathing grew easier, and, in a short time, she was sleeping quietly and breathing naturally. The child is alive and well to-day, and I do not hesitate to say that Ayer's Cherry Pectoral saved her life."
