HARRISON BROS.

Clarence English last Saturday caught a salmon trout in Hood river, a little below Indian creek, that measured 30 inches in length and weighed 8 1/2 pounds. He caught the fish with a No. 8 trout fly hook.

Parties who promised us wood on subscription are requested to bring it along. Those hauling from the west side will please deliver the wood at our residence, 1 1/2 miles west of town; those on the east side deliver at the GLACIER office. We will also take wheat on subscription if delivered soon.

J. R. Rankin, the ferryman between Hood River and White Salmon, last week found a pole sticking out of the water in the river, and hauling it in, found it about twenty feet long, with a fish net at the end. The net contained two large salmon, weighing about twenty or twenty-five pounds. Oyster can have the net, but the fish were confiscated by the flinder.

Monday a man was burning brush on Capt. Blowers' place two miles west of town. The day was calm and just the kind for burning brush; but in the afternoon the west wind sprang up and the fire crossed the road and burned through Dr. Elliot's place and Lyman Smith's woods pasture. Capt. Blowers went out at 5 o'clock with a wagon load of men from town, who managed to get the fire under control and kept it from going any further.

A carload of prunes was shipped from this place Wednesday for Omaha, consigned to Peckce Bros. It was made up by B. Warren, W. B. Perry, W. J. Sherman, E. Lyons, T. E. Wickens, Miller Bros. and S. F. Blythe. The car for some reason failed to arrive here Tuesday night, as promised, and the shippers commenced hauling, when their fruit early Wednesday morning, when it was discovered the car was not here. The fruit was stored in Joe Wilson's warehouse and Mr. Perry telegraphed to Supt. Campbell at Portland, who sent a car from The Dalles by the 3 o'clock train.

W. J. Campbell has a young apple tree, bearing this year for the first time, that is hanging full of the handsomest apples to be found in Hood River. Mr. Campbell does not know the name of the apple, as the tree was planted before he bought the place. It is a large red-checked apple of fine flavor. Its keeping qualities are yet to be tested, but it looks as if it might keep till Christmas.

Elmer Campbell, while crossing the creek at his father's place and carrying a cross-cut saw, fell and struck his arm against the sharp teeth of the saw, cutting a gash about four inches long between the elbow and wrist on his right arm. It was a severe cut and it will be some time yet before he recovers the use of his arm.

The slaughter house of the Columbia Packing Co. at The Dalles was burned Wednesday night. Loss $3,000; insured for $2,000.

S. E. Bartmess is making up a carload of lumber. Send in your small orders within the next day or so.

James B. Crossen is about to open a general merchandise store at The Dalles.

Hon. E. L. Smith will set seventeen acres of winter apples trees this fall.

The Open Season for Salmon.

Yesterday was the beginning of the open season for salmon and the catch here was quite good. There is a heavy run of silversides and some chinooks. The fall catch gives promise of being the best we have had in a number of years.—Dalles Chronicle, Sept. 11.

The salmon season for the fall opened yesterday; but the run will not be large and wheels will be almost useless. The water is too clear, and fish are too wary to swim into a trap if they have timely warning.—Dalles Mountaineer, Sept. 11.

Reception to Rev. F. L. Johns.

Last Monday evening the people of the M. E. church tendered their new pastor, Rev. F. L. Johns, and wife a reception at the house of Mrs. M. J. Mercer. About thirty were present, and a very pleasant time was had by all. Before retiring to their homes songs were sung and a few bright words of welcome were spoken by Mrs. Mercer. About thirty were present, and a very pleasant time was had by all. Before retiring to their homes songs were sung and a few bright words of welcome were spoken by Mrs. Mercer.

The School House.

The bonds for the new school house were sold to Parties in Tacoma representing an Eastern banking house. It was then found that the returns of the election voting on the bonds had not been properly certified to. The papers have since been fixed up and forwarded, and it is expected that now the money for the bonds will soon be forthcoming. But it is thought by the directors that the season is too far advanced for work to begin on the building, and it will likely be postponed until spring.

Mr. Douthitt has been reading the GLACIER and let himself posted in matters relating to our fruit, and is convinced that this is a good locality. We hope he will find a place to suit him and that soon he will be prepared to make his home amongst us.

F. J. Wright and John Peyton arrived last Saturday from Umatilla county. The former was engaged feeding a threshing near Athena, and got a job the next day after his arrival there at $2.50 a day and board. The boys are glad to get back again to Hood River and out of the dust of that dusty country. Mr. Wright says everybody in town and country up that way look like they had been working behind a threshing. The dust is intolerable and covers everything.

Petitions to sell liquors of N. A. Anderson, Budder and McKenzie, and Ed Bergerson granted.

In the matter of paying fees by

"The attention of county officers is called to section 6 of an act relating to the paying over of taxes to county treasurer once a week, and also to section 9 of an act relating to payment of fees by clerks and sheriffs to county treasurers. The penalties provided by the law will be strictly enforced for the nonpayment of fees and taxes collected by them.

Across the Columbia.

Captain Wallace of the Skamania Pioneer last week gave the southeastern part of his county a write up, and the following is an extract from what he had to say of our neighbors, the Underwood brothers:

"The Underwood farm consists of a section of land, being 320 acres of government land and 320 acquired by purchase from the railroad. The owners of this magnificent body of land are the Underwood brothers, Amos and Edward, pioneer settlers, who could have entered land as homesteads in almost any part of the state at the time they settled on their present home. The location of this farm is one of great scenic beauty, and must be seen to be properly appreciated. The view from the Columbia, while picturesque, would not be attractive to an agriculturist, as huge cliffs of basaltic rock line the Washington shore at this place. The White Salmon river, the dividing line between Skamania and Klickitat counties, empties into the Columbia at this point. The level plateau is reached by a good road up the hill on the west side of the White Salmon river. When the level is reached every indication of a prolific soil is observable. The view from the edge of the bluff which surmounts the river is grand. Looking south, across the Columbia, is seen the town of Hood River, while the valley of the same name stretches away with a gradual rise until it reaches the base of Mt. Hood, towering high above the clouds, a white-capped cone of ice and snow glistening in the sun. A fine view of the Columbia river, for about ten miles east and for about the same distance westward, can be enjoyed.

"Looking north, a fine view of White Salmon river is had, terminating at the base of the snow-clad peak of Mount Adams. It is seldom so many scenic attractions are to be observed from one point. The view from this point would amply repay the lover of nature for the trouble of reaching the elevation necessary.

"Amos, the elder of the Underwood brothers, is at present chairman of the board of county commissioners, and is a public-spirited citizen. Having crossed the plains in 1852, he came on directly to the Willamette valley, and from there to this county, where he at once took part in public affairs. At the outbreak of the Indian war he promptly volunteered and was in the famous four days' battle at Walla Walla, furnishing his own horse, arms and ammunition. After the war was over he arrived in time to take part in the outbreak at the Cascades, and garrisoned with others the Attwell house in the anticipation of the Indians crossing the river to burn and destroy; but after "holding the fort" for two days, the steamer returned from The Dalles with soldiers, who blew their bugle, and warning the Indians of their approach, the latter incontinently fled. In 1864, Amos Underwood settled upon his present farm, and twelve years later was joined by his younger brother Edward."

A Household Treasure. D. W. Fuller of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house and his family always find the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it.

AYER'S Cherry Pectoral Prompt to act, sure to cure

INFLUENZA, Or La Grippe, though occasionally epidemic, is always more or less prevalent. The best remedy for this complaint is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. Last Spring I was taken down with La Grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so difficult was my breathing that my breast seemed as if confined in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I begun taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete. It is truly a wonderful medicine.—W. H. WILLIAMS, Crook City, S. D.

TO FRUIT-GROWERS.

It is very essential that those who have fruit to ship advise us of the kind and quantity they will have to ship as far ahead as possible. The markets are not making the fruit, but the fruit must meet the market this fall. Fine fruit can be sold at a profitable figure if properly handled. Poor fruit must be kept at home, or somebody will lose money. Come and see us at our office near the depot. We will not ship your fruit if we can't make you some money. Regular office hours, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons.

H. F. DAVIDSON, Secretary Hood River Fruit Growers' Union.
