Nearly all women have good hair, though many are gray and few are bald. Hall's Hair Renewer restores the natural color and thickens the growth of the hair.

W. E. Tate returned from Sherman county Tuesday, where he has been running a threshing machine. He says No. 1 wheat is selling there for 27 cents a bushel.

Saturday and Monday of each week will be our grinding days during the fall and winter. Our "Whole Wheat Graham" is for sale at the stores as usual. HARRISON BROS.

Last week Tom Wickens sent five boxes of Bartlett pears to Oregan by express at "special" rates. Tuesday he got returns. The pears sold for 75 cents a box and the express charges were $5.35 on the five boxes.

The passenger train from the East Wednesday morning ran into a sand bank near Celis, causing the mail car to leave the track and collide with the baggage coach in the rear. An unknown tramp riding on the front of the baggage car was killed.

Two weeks ago the GLACIER mentioned that George T. Prather would open an insurance office, notary and collecting agency in the room with E. V. Husbands' shoe shop, and since then George has been plugging full of business. It pays to advertise.

Parties who promised us wood in subscriptions are requested to bring it along. Those hauling from the west side will please deliver the wood at our residence, 1 1/2 miles west of town; those on the east side deliver at the GLACIER office. We will also take wheat on subscription if delivered soon.

Some mischievous person or persons cut the snaps from the rope on the flag at the Smith school house, so that the flag cannot be hoisted. Whoever is guilty of this malicious and unpatriotic trick should remember that the law is very severe in cases of this kind, and if caught it will certainly go hard with them.

A. B. Jones is setting out four acres of strawberries, or 60,000 plants. Three men expect to set the plants in four days. On being asked if that wasn't pretty good work, Mr. Jones replied that a good hand could set 5,000 plants when the ground was prepared and the plants dug. His son, Frank Jones, set as many as 5,300 in one day.

Last Monday N. C. Evans had the remains of his little girl, Leta, and his father-in-law, Charles W. Plaisted, disinterred and buried in the Old Fellows' cemetery, where tombstones will be placed over their graves. The bodies were first buried in the old burying-ground near Lynn and Smith's place. Mr. Plaisted had been buried eleven years.

The new harness store and shop of D. F. Pierce is quite an addition to the business houses of Hood River. It is well stocked with everything in the line of harness and saddles, displayed in attractive shape, and is the nearest and best arranged store in town. In the show window is a handsome model of a horse. It is unnecessary now to go to The Dalles or Portland when anything is wanted in the harness line. Call and see this new store.

Mr. Scales, teamster for the Oregon Lumber company, while hauling heavy logs in the mountains one day last week, met with an accident that might have been serious. The coupling pole of the wagon broke and let the front wheels slip out from under the load. The logs spread and pitched to the ground in front, throwing the teamster down among the logs, knocking out several front teeth and bruising him considerably.

Samuel Winans, while alone and at work on his cabin near the head of Dead Point creek, met with a painful accident. He was on a ladder fixing the gable end of his house, when the ladder gave way, precipitating him to the ground. His right arm was broken at the wrist, and he received a bruise on his temple that caused a swelling as large as a hen's egg. He was brought into town Thursday night and is now stopping at E. W. Winans, where he is under the doctor's care.

Miss Madge Warren, while helping to wash the windows of the school room in district 2, Thursday, pushed her hand through a pane of glass and received severe cuts on the arm. The pane must have been broken but was not noticed for the dust that had been allowed to accumulate upon it. The accident will prevent the use of her arm for a while.

The store of Mays & Crowe, in The Dalles, was burglarized Wednesday morning. A boy named George Obarr, 10 years old, discovered the burglars at work and notified the city marshal, who succeeded in capturing and jailing the two men engaged in the burglary.

Public Meeting.

A meeting of citizens of town and country is called, to meet in the warehouse of the Fruit Growers' Union, on Saturday, September 22d, at 3 o'clock, to consider the question of holding a horticultural fair. MANY CITIZENS.

From the Mills.

Mr. Ellsworth, who has been in the logging business with O. B. Hartley, moved to Hood River Wednesday.

C. H. Pearson, who has been working here for the company since May, left for his home at Trout Lake Wednesday.

There will be a dance at the boarding house here on Saturday evening, September 22d.

The mills started up again Wednesday, after a shut-down for a few days on account of the scarcity of logs.

Most Devenport and the Odell brothers are now furnishing logs for the mill.

Miss Kemp of the E. St. Side is visiting the family of Milton Odell. School closed Friday, the 14th, with a picnic at the school house; Miss Sears, teacher.

The Annie Wright Seminary. The route to the Interstate fair at Tacoma leads directly in front of the beautiful grounds of the Annie Wright Seminary, that most complete and charming of schools for young ladies, which is an ornament and a credit to the city of Tacoma. Its splendid location at the corner of the two principal avenues gives it an advantage which its officers have not been slow to improve, and the grounds, with their wealth of carefully tended shrubs and flowers, their breadth of terraced lawn, with turf like velvet, have all through the long dry summer made it a thing of beauty and a joy forever. No one could find a more beautiful place to educate a young girl, and the care bestowed upon the exterior is a true indication of the thorough painstaking work done by the refined and cultured women whose lives are given to this institution. The fall term opened Thursday, September 13th, with a good attendance.

Entertainment at Mt. Hood.

A farewell dance was given at Harry Mann's on the night of the 14th, as he is about leaving for Portland. Those who attended were: Mrs. O. Sandman, Miss Josie Hansberry, Miss Noma Cooper, Miss Alice Graham, Miss Christina Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Wait, Jim and Johnnie Dimmick, Fred Wishart, Frank Reis, Bert Sandman. The music was furnished by J. A. Knox. All enjoyed a good time.

Birthday Party.

Little Sully Bartmess, 2 years old, gave a birthday party Monday. Little folks present were: Gladys Harje, Eva Yates, Dot Watt, Florence Hanna, Estel Leokus, Everett Rand, Clyde Eland, Dale Harrison, Edward Hartley and Ellsworth Hanna. Lunch was served and all enjoyed themselves.

Frank Hammond, who has charge of the Albia division of the City and Suburban electric railway, came up from Portland Monday. He is taking a vacation of two weeks and concluded there was no better place than Hood River to put in a week of it with old friends.

Superior Prather last week caused the arrest of Wm. Eccles, president of the Oregon Lumber Co., and Frank Devenport, foreman at the planer, charged them with obstructing the road. The charge, where it crosses the road on the Heaves' hill, had sprung a leak and washed out the road, and the superior charged that the company were too slow in making repairs. Defendants appeared before Judge Soesby Thursday and were fined $43. C. P. Heals appeared for the state and Pierce Mays for defendant. The case will be re-tried in the circuit court.

Mr. Emil Shanno received today a colony of Australian lady bugs from California, which will turn loose in some of the orchards on Mill creek. These are very destructive to the San Jose scale, and this vicinity should have several colonies of these insects to rid fruit trees of this pest.—Mountain.

INFLUENZA,
Or La Grippe, though occasionally epidemic, is always more or less prevalent. The best remedy for this complaint is Ayer's Cherry Pectoral.
"Last Spring, I was taken down with La Grippe. At times I was completely prostrated, and so dejected as my breathing that my least second as if I was in an iron cage. I procured a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral, and no sooner had I began taking it than relief followed. I could not believe that the effect would be so rapid and the cure so complete. It is truly a wonderful medicine."—W. H. WILLIAMS, Crook City, S. D.

SOMETHING NEW IN CHEMISTRY.

Beef Preserved and Kept Pure by a Permeation of Ozone.
A writer in a Minneapolis newspaper relates with great circumstantiality how a party of diners in a hotel were surprised and just a little horrified to learn that the roast beef they had eaten was twenty-one days old, and had been lying exposed to the sun for that length of time. They were reassured when they were informed that the meat had been subjected to a permeation of ozone, and by this means "preserved as well as purified."
The diners will probably learn before they gain the information from this column, says the New York Mail and Express, that they encountered something entirely new in chemical action, and if any one of them has the courage to try it he can very readily prove the assertion. Ozone is one of the principles of oxygen. Prof. Loew says it is one of the greatest oxidizers known, or, as he once expressed it, "a sublimation of that portion of our atmosphere which supports life, and at the same time helps burn it up." Dr. Julius Edmund Doetsch, who died about ten years ago, claimed to have been the inventor of an ozone-producing apparatus which would "age" any dead or living thing brought in contact with it. He took two gallons of raw spirits fresh from a still and by running a current of pure ozone through it caused the liquor to taste and smell precisely the same as the very same quality of liquor with an actual age of ten years. Dr. Doetsch believed that if living animals lived in an atmosphere of ozone they would become old men and women at the age of ten and twelve years. He proved that to treat animal meat with the pure gas would have the same effect on them as though they had been exposed to the atmosphere we now breathe for as many days as there were half minutes in the artificial process.

Loew and Doetsch are authorities on chemistry. The western writer may be or he may not. At all events he evidently knows more about eating a dinner than he does about "ozone." He or one of his friends can try the effect of it by shutting himself up in a small room and breathing the pure gas for twenty minutes. If the Doetsch theory is correct, a little wrinkled old man, bald headed and decrepit, will come out to announce in piping treble that he has aged forty years in twenty minutes.

TRADE UNIONS IN ENGLAND.

Over a Million Members in 599 Bodies—Their Income and Expenditures.
One of the leading features of a recent issue of the Labor Gazette of London is a brief summary of the statistics of trade unions for the year 1893, given pending the issue of fuller details in the report of the chief labor correspondent, now in the press. The reports of 599 separate unions have been dealt with, 432 of which are registered and 117 not registered, while 105 have branches numbering in all 7,508, making up an aggregate of 1,337,367 members. The total income of these societies dealt with was about $8,500,000 and the expenditures about $75,000 less; 298 societies, with a membership of 745,648, paid unemployed benefit to the amount of nearly $2,000,000; 308 societies, with 1,103,641 members, paid in dispute benefit $2,300,000; 193 unions, with 585,889 members, paid in sick allowances over $1,000,000, and 88 unions paid as accident benefit to disabled members $80,000. For the purpose of comparing 1893 with the previous year only 381 unions are available, that being the number supplying returns for both years. The increase of membership on these 381 unions during 1892 was $2,101, or a little over 3 per cent. upon the membership of 1891. The total income of the 381 societies showed, however, an increase of 21.8 per cent. There was also a very considerable rise in expenditure, amounting, in fact, to nearly 44 per cent. upon the outlay of 1891. The chief share of this increase was due to heavy demand upon the unemployed and dispute benefits, which in 1892 absorbed $1,900,000 more than in 1891.

Particulars are also given with regard to cooperating farming in England and Scotland in 1891 and 1892. Forty-seven societies have made returns, showing that a total of 4,092 acres was being farmed in 1893, an increase of 12 1/2 over 1892. The capital employed in 1893 was $450,000, an increase of $29,000 over 1892, and the net loss sustained amounted to $2,100, as compared with $3,410 in 1892.

England's State Plate.
England's collection of plate for use at state occasions at Windsor castle is something fabulous in value. Its display surprised even Russia's crown prince himself. It is generally reckoned to be worth about $2,000,000, and it is no unusual thing at a state banquet at the castle to have plate to the value of half a million in the room. There are two state dinner services, one of gold and one of silver. The gold service was purchased by George IV., and will dine 120 persons. The plates alone of this service cost over $12,000. On state occasions there are usually placed on the dining table some very beautiful gold flasks, captured from the Spanish Armada, which are now, of course, of priceless value, while the great silver wine cooler, made for George IV., and weighing 7,000 ounces, always adorns one corner of the apartment. As sideboard ornaments there are pretty trifles in the way of a peacock of precious stones, valued at $50,000, and a tiger's head from India with a solid ingot of gold for its tongue and diamond teeth.

Magnetized Side Arms.
A peculiar result of the use of the dynamo on board English warships has been noticed. The marines, when in the discharge of their duty around the dynamo, have worn side arms. These become magnetized, and when the marine as a sentry passed the compass, that also became charged. The consequence has been to forbid the wearing of side arms near the dynamo.

TO FRUIT-GROWERS.
It is very essential that those who have fruit to ship advise us of the kind and quantity they will have to ship as far ahead as possible. The markets are not hunting the fruit, but the fruit must hunt the market this fall. Fine fruit can be sold at a profitable figure if properly handled. Poor fruit must be kept at home, or combed. We will not ship your fruit if we can't make you some money.
