the Oregonian unkindly remarks: went to Portland Thursday for a short soil and dry "Men like Breckinridge have better chances before a legislature than before the people."

In an address in Birmingham, England, October 17, 1877 (as recorded by John Russell Young), General Grant made the following remarks in nature of prophecy: "I think we are rapidly progressing in the way of establishing manufactories ourselves, and I believe we shall become one of the greatest free trade nations on the face of the earth, and when we both come to be free-traders, I think that probably the balance of nations had better stand aside and not contend with us at all in the markets of the world."

at or which one of the boys he is. public. Nathan Straus, the Tammany candidate for mayor of the city of New York, has withdrawn from the ticket because he would not be dictated to by Hill. Tammany is willing to sacrifice the state ticket for victory in the city, and sufficient room at the present location. Hill is willing to sacrifice everything in sight if it will inure to his own candidacy. Ex-Mayor Grant will fill the vacancy caused by the withdrawal of Straus, and it is said will require some inally run into typhoid fever. changes to be made in the legislative and congressional tickets. The understanding is that Mr. Grant will require that Representatives Warner, Cockran and Dunphy, whom Tammany had turned down for the reason that they had voted for the Wilson bill, be placed on the Tammany congressional ticket. Only one of the nine representatives who voted for the Wilson bill was given a renomination by the Tammany democracy. Warner's district was given to Amos J. Cummings and Cockran's place to George B. McClellan. This is probably some of the fine work of David B. Hill. Hill worked against the passage of the Wilson bill in every way he could in the senate, and Cummings aped his actions in the house. It is a queer kind of democracy they have in New York. It is scarcely three months since Hill disgusted his party all over the country (outside of New York) by his maneuvers in the senate against the income-tax feature of the Wilson bill and all other legislation demanded by the democratic platform that was being attempted by the democratic majority. He was then considered to be out of the party and did not take part in the caucuses of the democratic senators. How any good democrat (outside of New York) can so soon forget these things and endorse Hill is beyond our comprehension. This is the off year in New York, and if Hill is defeated it will be the best bakery. thing that can happen for the democratic party. It would kill him off as a presidential possibility and save the party lots of trouble in '96.

A Stranger's Opinion.

He seemed to be a plain, commonsense man of the world; he had thoroughly done our valley, had no town lots or other real estate to dispore of, and did not care to purchase any.

In answer to my questions as to what he thought of our valley and community, he said: "Your valley is a very nice place to live in, in summer; not so good in autumn and winter. The excessive rains of late autumn are bad for rheumatism and lung and throat troubles; and the deep, wet snows of winter render that season also very disagreeable.

"You have here a rather light but loose and friable soil, not very rich in humous or vegetable mold, but possessing certain mineral properties that render it exceptionally well adapted to fruits and vegetables. Much of your natural scenery is grand, especially the high mountain peaks and the Columbia river. Your people seem to be sociable, industrious and enterprising, though some of them do seem to be General Compson, Colonel Thomp- gifted with very lively imaginations, son and Captain Butterfield were in especially when describing to a stranger manual of arms and company drill and work more harm than good to a counafterwards complimented the men try. Concerning School Money.

As there has been considerable inquiry concerning the small appropriation made by the state school superintendent, says The Dalles Chronicle, Superintendent Shelley referred one of the letters to State Superintendent F C Brosius, McElroy and received the following OLStranahan, answer, which, as the people have a HA York, well-defined opinion of their own, will LE Morse, not prove entirely satisfactory. The M H Nickelsen, letter, dated October 10th, is as follows:

Replying to your favor of the 5th, in which you inclose a communication from the board of directors of district No. 3 of your county, I beg leave to say that I have made inquiry relative to the matter and reply as follows: First—You understand that I am not a member of the board of school land commissioners. The governor, the secretary of state and the state treasurer comprise the board.

Second—I have made inquiry of the state treasurer relative to the matter, and Mr. Metschan gives me the following information: He made an apportionment of all funds on hand in August last, the amount per capita at that time being 87 cents. This money was forwarded to the several county treasurers, and I presume you have distribing loaded with lumber, which will be used in replacing the fish-wheels carried away by the June flood. All their wheels will be replaced, both those on this side of the river and those in Washington.—Dalles Chronicle.

uters, and I presume you have distributed this money to the schools of your county long ago. Mr. Metschan tells me that owing to the extreme stringency of the times, it is impossible for him to collect the interest due on the school fund notes now held by people in all parts of the state. You under-stand that this fund arises from the interest on the irreducible school land fund, and the school land fund arises from the purchases of school land by people in all parts of the state. The principal itself cannot be distributed to the children of the state, but interest only. The state treasurer finds it, as I stated above, quite out of the question to collect interest to any appreciable amount, and it would be useless to foreclose 'he notes held against the people, for the shrinkage in real estate values has been so enormous that it would be practically of no avail for the state board to foreclose. He states that many persons whose notes the state many persons whose notes the state now holds and who heretofore have been very prompt in paying their interest on this fund are now pleading for further time in which to pay their delinquent interest. The above are the reasons why a large amount of the school funds has not been distributed Hd. 9271, for the southwest 1/2 southwest 1/2 southwest 1/2 soct on 3, and west 1/2 nor h, range 10 east.

Directions for Mixing the Acme Compound. Weigh out ten pounds of the Compound and put it in a barrel or large kettle; then pour on five gallons of boiling water gradually, until the mixture is of the consistency of soft soap—stirring it all the time. After it is thoroughly dissolved add the balance of the water (forty-five gallons), hot or cold—hot preferred. Do not boil the mixture. It is then ready to apply. Be sure and have your kettles or barrel clean (also your spraying tank) and free from other mixtures, in order to avoid clogging your spraying nozzles. Do not spray when the trees are moist. For Codlin Moth use No. 2, and spray immediately after the blossoms drop, then again four weeks after, which will destroy all other insects that may appear. Apply by means of a spray pump or a florist's syringe.

Testimonials.

Coralitos, Cal., March 26, 1894.—Watson, Erwin & Co.: I used one hundred pounds of your Acme No. 1, and it had the desired effect; it not only gets away with the insect but it cleans up the tree and leaves it in a healty condition. I will guarantee it will do just what it is recommended to do. Yours truly,

J. E. MORTIMER. Niles, March 14, 1894.—I have had six years' experience spraying, and used various washes to quite an extent. For the last two seasons I have used Acme Insecticide, and find it the best wash, and that it gives the best results of any I ever used. It is a very pleasant wash to use, and easily prepared.
