The Oregon Lumber Company have built a corral to hold the sawdust from their planer at Haynes Spur.
The Portland Sun is for sale every day at the post office upon the arrival of the noon train from Portland.
It might be well for parties who require the services of Dr. Sanders to make arrangements beforehand, as his time is pretty well occupied.
S. E. Bartness is building a shed in rear of his store in which to store his seasoned lumber. George T. Prather is doing the carpentering work.
When you want any fruit boxes go to the Hood River Box Factory. They also keep all kinds of rough and dressed lumber. Grain hauled any day.
For sale or trade: One team well bred, 1050, mares, for sale or trade for cowwood. Apply to SAM G. CAMPBELL.
M. P. Isenberg has just completed a good barn, with apple-house on one side. His young orchard turned off 60 boxes good sound apples this year.
For Sale! Forty acres unimproved land, east side of Hood river, 4 1/2 miles from town. Will sell 5 or 10 acre tracts cheap. Inquire at GLACIER office.
If you wish to fence your farm or door yard, go to the Hood River Box factory and see their samples. They are agents for the East Portland Fence Works.
If the care of the hair were made a part of a lady's education, we should not see so many gray heads, and the use of Hall's Hair Renewer would be unnecessary.
Miss Minnie Dahl, representing Miss M. Le Ballister, returned to The Dalles Monday. She will be in Hood River again Nov. 3d, at Rand & Dent's store, with millinery goods.
The 50th anniversary of Congregationalism in Oregon will be celebrated by that church in a meeting at Oregon City, Nov. 28th, at which General O. O. Howard will deliver an address.
Saturday and Monday of each week will be our winter days during the fall and winter. Our "Whole Wheat Graham" is for sale at the stores as usual.
HARRISON BROS.
Home-grown trees are best. Don't send for apple trees grown on the wet bottoms of the Willamette when you can get the best here at your own prices. See Tillet at Pilkington nursery.
John Gerdes has rented his bakery to Mike Neff. Mr. Gerdes will remove to California about the middle of this month. Mrs. Gerdes' health is not good, and it is for her benefit that the change is being made.
Harrison Bros. are now making a superior quality of flour from Hood River wheat. Their graham flour is considered the best in market, and the good housewife, after once testing their graham, will have no other.
G. W. Eckenbeek of Bozeman, Montana, writes to the GLACIER that he is in search of a good reliable party that would like to go into the apple business—a party living on land preferred—who will put out the trees and take care of them till they bear, say twenty acres, for one-half interest; he to furnish the trees and land.
Rev. R. E. Kaufman returned Monday from a week's visit in Portland. Wednesday he departed for his old home in Indiana, where he will enter college at New Manchester for a course of study. He will go East by way of Sacramento, where he will attend the state conference of the U. B. church. Mr. Kaufman has had charge of the U. B. church at this place for the past year. He has made many friends here, and we regret that he could not stay with us.
Alfred Boorman recently found a silver piece of money on his place of the date of 1794. The inscription on one side is illegible to the naked eye, but on the side on which is the date the following can be seen: "Carlos IV., God Grant, 1794." The piece is about the size of a Mexican 12c cent piece, and probably that was its worth. By referring to the cyclopaedia, we find there was no reigning sovereign of any country named Carlos in 1794.

Two young men were brought before Justice Soesbe Thursday, charged with an assault upon Eugene Bush. C. P. Heald appeared for the prosecution and L. Henry for the defense. Defendants demanded a jury trial, which resulted in a verdict of guilty as charged, and the boys were each fined $20 and one-half the costs, amounting to $50. It is hoped that this will be a salutary lesson which will tend to prevent further violations of law and order. It is a notorious fact that a number of boys in the community have been in the habit of carrying their sports too far, both in the streets and in our churches, and when boys will assault a poor weak minded, homeless, but honest and industrious individual, and stone him under the cover of darkness and call it sport, it is high time the attention of the law was attracted, and we are glad to know that the officers of the law and the good citizens of this community are determined to see that law and order shall prevail in the future.
J. N. Reynolds went to Cascade Locks Tuesday to work on the locks. Two hundred men are working at the upper part of the works and are making good headway. The gates have all arrived and will be put in as soon as the masonry work is completed. Arrangements have been made for keeping the masons at work until high water again interferes.
Peter Odell, in company with his brother Lee, while hunting Tuesday killed a bear that dressed 200 pounds. The boys have killed and seen a good many bears, but they say they never saw one before like this one. It was a cross between a grizzly and a brown bear.
W. F. Soesbe and wife left Wednesday morning for Marion, Oregon, where they will reside in future. They have lived in Hood River valley fourteen years, and their old neighbors and friends here wish them success and long life in their new home.
The Ladies' Home Missionary society of the U. B. church will give a dinner, commencing at 5 o'clock Tuesday evening, Nov. 8th, at the house owned by O. B. Hartley and formerly occupied by Mrs. Mercer. Dinner, with oysters, 25 cents.
Under the auspices of the ladies' aid society of the M. E. church, Mrs. Geo. Crowell will serve the monthly dinner tea, to which all are most cordially invited to attend. Tea will be served from 5 till 7 o'clock Friday next.
Tom Wickens has a seedling apple tree on his place that is worth propagating. The fruit is a beautiful yellow and of fine flavor, and sweet. Those who like a sweet apple will like this seedling.
Henry Wilson, who was reported in last week's GLACIER as being quite sick with dropsy, is improving, and his friends have strong hopes of his recovery. He is being treated by Dr. Brosius.
Whole-root, non-irrigated fruit trees at the Columbia nursery; right on the road home. Digging has begun. Leave your orders early at H. C. BATEMAN'S.
Some of the school-mates of Miss Clara Blythe gave her a pleasant surprise by calling on her Wednesday evening on the occasion of her 14th birthday.
Hanna & Wolfard are receiving a fine line of shoes, hats and caps. Also, a carload of Henrietta flour, made of blue-stem wheat—the best flour in the market.
Dr. Sanders is provided with a dental chair for his Hood River office. Also prepared to extract teeth without pain by the use of anæsthetic air, called gas.
The Frankton literary society opened up business for the winter season at Smith's school house, Saturday night, with W. J. Campbell as president.
A. P. Bateham, who is visiting his brother at Columbia nursery, is laid up with a severe attack of sciatic rheumatism.
A valuable cow belonging to E. Locke was run over and killed by the cars Wednesday evening.
The show that was billed for Wednesday night failed to get an audience, and there was no show.
There has not been frost enough this season to kill the tomato vines in the gardens about town.
W. B. Perry made a trip to Sherman county last week, where he traded apples for wheat.
Ladies' misses' and children's merino underwear at the Racket Store.
C. E. Markham is preparing ground to plant 3000 winter apple trees.
E. L. Smith has No. 1 wheat hay for sale by the bale, ton or carload.
The family of F. H. Button returned Wednesday from California.
A good milk cow and furniture for sale, cheap, by J. H. Gerdes.
Santa Claus will have his goods at M. H. Nickelsen's store.
Bargains in wool hose for children at the Racket Store.
Mittens for ladies and children at the Racket Store.
Cure for Crippled Children.
The National Surgical Institute, Pacific branch, 319 Bush street, San Francisco, successfully treats all cases of orthopedic surgery, diseases of the spine, hip and knee joints, paralysis, piles, fistula, nasal catarrh, bow legs, knock knees, all deformities and chronic diseases. Their success in treating these cases is shown by thousands of references from trustworthy people all over the country. Persons having afflicted children or friends should convince themselves of the excellent results of the system of treatment by this institute. One or more of these surgeons will be at the Unatilla house, The Dalles, Tuesday, Nov. 13th, one day, to examine cases. Send for circular. Reference may be had to Ben Snipes, Seattle; Sarah A. Bunnell, Columbus; Geo. Snipes, Wasco county; S. Blackley, Wapinitia; Gov. E. P. Perry, Olympia, and hundreds of others.

Belmont.
The Juvenile Temple, under the superintendence, Mrs. M. B. Potter, is in a flourishing condition and doing good work. It is a credit to Belmont to have so many promising young men who abstain from the use of tobacco and alcoholic drinks. There has been a question in the minds of the superintendents and chief temple as to the best way to procure wood for the church use during the winter. Finally this decision was reached: The boys, members of the temple, were to deliver at the church one-half cord of wood each, and the ladies of the temple would give them a supper. The wood was to be on the ground by the evening of the 16th of October, and supper served at the home of Mrs. Rich, who kindly offered to furnish coffee and "Boston baked beans." And the way those beans did go would know that Mrs. Rich was from a Yankee state. The tables were especially attractive, with their pretty flowers and refreshments, which consisted of roast chicken, baked beans, salads, pies and cream cake, like your mother made, with doughnuts and coffee. Everything even to the weather favored the occasion. The moon shone in all her splendor and we were carried back to the ideal Indian summer evenings. At 11:30 p. m. the young folks were loth to say good night. Those in attendance were: Rev. Johns, Mrs. Johns, Rev. Gregory, Mrs. M. B. Potter, M. P. Isenberg, H. Galligan, Chas. Wallace, Oliver Richardson, Miss Lillie Templeton, Walter Isenberg, Marshall Isenberg, Mr. Castner, Will Isenberg, Miss Rogers, I. T. Nealeigh, Ed Benson, George Rich, Miss Pearl Templeton, Howard Isenberg, Miss L. Templeton, Miss Ella Isenberg, Charles Miller, Joe Frazier, Lee Wilson, Wilmer Galligan, E. Boorman, H. Hansbury, Elton Hayden, Miss Laura Wilson, Mrs. Rich, Mrs. Shepard, Mrs. Lyman, Mrs. Sutherland, Miss Emma Shepard.
Two well-known gentlemen have just returned from a very exciting (?) bear hunt. The writer was promised a "porter-house" from the first bear killed, but has failed to receive the same, and has concluded that the hunters cannot "bear" an interview.
A Sad Affair.
William L. Shoemaker, the 17-year-old son of B. F. Shoemaker, was found dead in the woods about 2 o'clock Sunday. About two months ago, while at Yakima, he was overcome by the heat, and has since been in poor health. Sunday morning he took his gun and started for the woods. His father, as soon as he learned where the boy had gone, started after him, and after a search of several hours found his lifeless body. He had succeeded in placing the gun against his breast and pushed the trigger with a notched stick. Coroner Butts was notified and came from The Dalles Monday and held an inquest. The jury impaneled returned a verdict in accordance with the above facts. The funeral services were held Monday, at which M. P. Isenberg made a short and very impressive and touching address at the home of the parents of deceased, after which the burial took place at Idlewild cemetery. The boy, before his sickness, was unusually bright and liked by all his associates. The public schools were dismissed Monday afternoon to allow his school-mates to attend the funeral, which was largely attended by the neighbors and friends of the deceased family.
Dr. E. T. Carns, Dentist.
Dr. Carns arrived from Portland on the 1st and is prepared to do all kinds of dentistry work—examine, fill, extract, regulate and make new teeth; also, crown and bridge work.

NAPOLÉON ODYSSEY OF HOMER.
He Thought the Poet Was the Encyclopedia of His Time.
The emperor, says Fignaro, admired Homer in every way, and thus expressed himself on the subject:
"The Iliad, as much as Genesis and the Bible, is the sign and token of its time. Homer in his work is poet, orator, legislator, geographer and theologian; he is the encyclopaedist of his time. Homer is imitable. Father Hardouin had the temerity to impugn this sacred monument of antiquity and to attribute it to a monk of the tenth century, an impertinent imbecility. Never have I been struck with his beauties as now (1816), and the sensations which he aroused in me confirm the justice of the approbation accorded to him by the whole world. What strikes me especially in reading the pages of his work is the grossness of the onomastics as compared with the elevation of the thought of the epoch. We see heroes killing their own beef, preparing it with their own hands, and yet pronouncing discourses of rare eloquence and worthy of a high civilization. In the Odyssey I greatly disapprove of the combat of Ixus against Ulysses on the threshold of his own palace, both disguised as beggars. I consider this episode wretched, coarse, unbecoming and unworthy of a king."
* * * And then, after having eliminated everything that I find objectionable, I feel what still affects me, I put myself in his place, I am seized with the fear of being beaten by a common fellow. It is not given to every prince, to every general, to the shoulders of his guards or of his grenadiers, to convert himself into a street porter at will.
"The good Homer remedies all this by making his heroes so many colossi; but this is not the case with us. What chance would we have if we still lived in the happy days in which physical strength was the real scepter? It would come to this, that Novarras, my valet, who waits upon us, would be king over us all. We must agree, then, that civilization does everything for the mind, and favors it exclusively at the expense of the body."
ANNOUNCING A KING'S DEATH.
How the News Was Spread That Death Was Queen.
Some quaint and delightful glimpses of "Old Windsor" are given by Lady Elvey in her "Life and Reminiscences of G. J. Elvey, Knt." Here, for instance, is an announcement of the death of King William, which probably is a unique delivery by one of the men to whose lot it has fallen "to tell sad stories of the death of kings."
Roach, the belfry keeper, says the Westminster Gazette, seems to have received a broad hint that the king was near his end, and waited about until he received the news that all was over, when with haste he repaired to the deanery, arousing the inmates by ringing the bell at the cloister entrance with all his might and main. It was useless for the butler to ask him, "What do you want here at this time of night?" His business was with the dean and no one else. This distinguished person, aroused from his slumbers and clad, not in his surplice, but in another garment which should be "always white," called from the top of the stairs: "What is the matter, Roach?" "Billy be dead. Is it to ring the bell?" "What Billy?" "The king, to be sure." "Oh, yes, Roach; you may tell the bell." Thus was the news spread that the king was dead, and that the young Princess Victoria was queen.
STAIRS IN SAMOA.
How a Little Islander Carried Water to a Second-Story Room.
In Samoa, where he makes his home, Robert Louis Stevenson has done much in the way of instructing the natives in European methods of work. He tells an amusing story in this connection. A new house boy had been engaged, and on his arrival was lost in awe and admiration of the magnificence of the mansion.
He was given a large bucket of water and told to take it to the bedroom up above. He looked it up and, pointing, asked if it was there. On being answered in the affirmative, he seized the bucket in his teeth, and before anyone could remonstrate he had rushed up one of the posts of the veranda. The whole family ran up the stairs, and when they showed him that that was the usual method of getting to these rooms, he was overpowered with delight, and for two or three days could do absolutely nothing but race up and down stairs, clucking and cawing in an ecstasy of joy. And when detachments of his friends came to visit him they were always taken to see the stairs the first thing.

A FRIEND
Speaks through the Boothbay (Ms.) Register, of the beneficial results he has received from a regular use of Ayer's Pills. He says: "I was feeling sick and tired and my stomach seemed all out of order. I tried a number of remedies, but none seemed to give me relief until I was induced to try the old reliable Ayer's Pills. I have taken only one box, but I feel like a new man. I think they are the most pleasant and easy to take of anything I ever used, being so finely sugar-coated that even a child will take them. I urge upon all who are in need of a laxative to try Ayer's Pills. They will do good." For all diseases of the Stomach, Liver, and Bowels, take
