

Hood River Glacier.

SATURDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1894.

The town of Stevenson, in Skamania county, Wash., was selected for the county seat, at the election last week, by a vote of 136 to 104.

A great grandson of George IV., king of England, lives in Portland. His name is James L. Ord. He is 24 years old and pursues the humble but honorable calling of lineman for the Western Union.

The gambling houses of Portland were closed by the police Tuesday night. This result was brought about by the Tomahawk, whose editor is the most independent and fearless writer in the city. For months it kept up its warfare against the gamblers, pointing out their places of business and instructing the police in their duties, till at last the enterprising journal was reinforced by the preachers, and then the committee of one hundred assisted. Public sentiment was aroused and the police were compelled to act.

THE DALLES, Nov. 14, 1894.—Editor GLACIER: We have only four (two male and two female) applicants at our quarterly examination this time. I am pleased to announce that President C. H. Chapman of Eugene University will lecture before our county institute on the evening of December 12th. Yours,
TROY SHELLEY.

Belmont.
The Belmont boys are talking of organizing a band, and it is to be hoped their plans will be carried out. Let every one help and encourage them.
The Epworth League of Belmont hold their devotional meetings at the chapel every Sunday evening at 7 o'clock. Friday evening, November 23d, there will be an entertainment given by the league. Musical and literary. Every body invited. Admission free.

The coyotes around Belmont are becoming quite domestic, as several have been seen in the door yards lately. Mr. M. B. Potter has lost between twenty and thirty chickens during the past two or three weeks. This suggests, "bear hunters," get your guns.

Land Transfers.
W. G. Clelland and Minnie E. Clelland to Christian Rand, south half of southwest quarter section 7, township 2 north, range 10 east; consideration, $1500.
Amanda Sears et al to Robert Rand, 12½ acres in sections 6 and 7, township 2 north, range 11 east; consideration, $291.

To Chiel.
In answer to Chiel, would just say that I had no idea that the honest convictions of my old friend "Stranger" would so soon be made into a boot that would fit the foot of a "chiel." But speak right out, sonny; open confession is good for the soul. What? You say "overpraising the valley?" There, that is good; you will now feel better. Now, then, here is some medicine which, if you will take according to directions, you will never have an attack of that kind again:

"Seize on the truth wherever found,
On Christian or on heathen ground;
Among your friends, among your foes,
The plant's divine where'er it grows."

Land Decision.
[Furnished by W. D. Harlan, Land Attorney, Washington, D. C.]
The successful contestant of a timber land entry is entitled to a preferred right of entry under the act of May 14, 1890.
The administrator of a deceased homesteader has no authority under the law to submit final proof for the benefit of the devisees, in the event of the homesteader's death. Final proof may be submitted by any one of the devisees, and if such proof is found satisfactory, the certificate should issue in the name of the devisees of the said homesteader generally.

ASS'T SECY'S SIMS.
Our markets are supplied with fruits and vegetables, and these are of the choicest varieties. The Dalles leads the state in peaches, pears, apples, grapes, etc., and it is only necessary to see the varieties on exhibition to be convinced of this fact. With its natural facilities developed by enterprising citizens, this city should be the second in the state.

The Cincinnati Post speaks in the highest praise of a car of prunes and plums received in that city recently from Oregon.

The question of taxation will be an important one in the next legislature. The Roseburg Review is authority for the statement that a petition containing 3000 names will be presented from Douglas county alone, asking for the re-enactment of the mortgage tax law and the clause allowing exemption from taxation for indebtedness. As there are less than 4000 voters in the county, it would look as though the people of the Umpqua valley were practically unanimous in knowing what they want.

Hon. W. R. Dunbar of Goldendale was in the city yesterday. He states that the farmers of his section of Washington are very much discouraged. They claim, and are willing to prove what they assert to be true, that they raise the best wheat in the world. "Klickitat," he asserts, "will be a hog county from this time on, because the farmers can make more from their wheat by turning it into good, fat hogs than they can by shipping it to market at 25 cents a bushel."—Portland Sun.

to Mr. Sherman's place and manage the work on it next season.
At the meeting of the Frankton Literary society, Friday night, the question, "Resolved, That steam is of greater benefit to mankind than electricity," was debated, and the judges decided in favor of the affirmative by unanimous vote. A short but good literary programme was also rendered. The question for next meeting is, "Resolved, That Napoleon was a greater general than Washington." The leaders in the debate are: Charles Castner, affirmative; F. R. Absten, negative. Debaters—affirmative, Charles Castner, John Castner, H. S. Galigan and Jos. Pußer; negative, F. R. Absten, W. J. Campbell, W. A. Isenberg and Edward Blythe.

The directors of our school did a wise act when they divided the school and employed an assistant. The good effects of this move are already noticeable in the increased attendance and improvement of the pupils. There is some assurance now that a child will improve in his studies. Under the old way, with one teacher for the whole school, it was impossible to get through with all the classes in one day and do justice to all.

In the primary department of our school there are 31 pupils enrolled (including two of Mr. Davenport's boys, who have since gone to Utah, with an average daily attendance of 23). In the upper room 23 are enrolled, and the average daily attendance is pretty near the number enrolled.

A Good Showing.
Times-Mountain, Nov. 12th.
In a visit to the government work at the Locks this week we were agreeably surprised to see the progress being made by the contractors. Below the bulkhead the excavation is nearly finished, and the masonry for two of the gates is completed. The iron for one of the gates is on the ground, and this will be placed in position soon. There are now forty derricks in operation on the different parts of the works, and a large number of steam drills. The Day Bros. have placed an electric plant in operation, and work is prosecuted with the same vigor night and day.

There are 600 men at work now, and there is no cessation day or night or Sundays. Excavation has been carried on above the bulkhead for the past few days, and masons begun laying stone this morning. This is the canal proper, and the entrance will be much wider than any other portion, to admit of several boats, if necessary, waiting for the passage through the locks. Today workmen began constructing a double track into the pit, and these engines will remove about 200 boxes of dirt every day. About February 1st the gates will be hung, and it is confidently expected that boats may pass through in a year. After the next high water the upper bulkhead will be removed, and water will run through the canal. Twelve days' more work will complete the work for the upper gate, and then the force of workmen will turn their attention to the second gate.

Work is being prosecuted with great vigor, and although only $500,000 have been expended by the Day Bros., they have made an excellent showing. When completed the canal at the Cascades will be second to the Suez canal, and it must be recollected that such a stupendous undertaking cannot be accomplished hastily.

The Union Meat company is bent on all their previous records in the number of hogs they are now killing. There is a marked difference in the Eastern Oregon hogs shipped to Troutdale this year. These whittled hogs come here in splendid condition; in fact, it would be a hard matter to turn them out better. Eastern Oregon hogs are a better breed, and they come to market in a uniform size, and compared with those from the valley, look superior in every particular.—Troutdale Champion.

The enormous profits of the salmon fisheries in that part of the Columbia river lying between The Dalles and Celilo may be judged from this simple fact we have just learned from perfectly reliable authority. All the fish wheels belonging to Seufert Brothers, save one, were washed away by the June freshet. The product of this one wheel, supplemented by the catch from dip nets and seines, furnished to the Eyring & Barrow cannery, footed up, for the month of July, the snug sum of $23,000, or more than $1000 a day for every working day in the month; while the amount furnished the cannery for the season aggregated only $60,000. And this represented full part of the catch, as they always, when the run is heavy, than the capacity of the cannery, ship the surplus to other places.—Klickitat Republican.

We were informed today that Mr. McNeil of the O. R. & N. Co. arrived in the city last Wednesday to close the bargain in the purchase of the boats of the D. P. & A. N. Co., but those stockholders desirous of selling out to the company could not turn over a majority of the shares of stock. A prominent citizen, who owns considerable stock, was unwilling to join with the others in this subtle transaction because, as our informant states, he did not consider it right to place owners of a smaller number of shares in the hands of the railroad company without their knowledge or consent. We shall ascertain the bottom facts, if possible, in this attempted transaction with the O. R. & N. Co., and publish them. This transportation company was formed by the people for the purpose of regulating freight rates between The Dalles and Portland, and, if the facts are as reported, it is a flagrant breach of faith on the part of men who should have the best interests of this region in their keeping, and which merits the lasting condemnation of the community.—Times-Mountain, Nov. 12th.

"For Years,"

Says CARL E. STOCKWELL, of Chesterfield, N. H.: "I was afflicted with an extremely severe pain in the lower part of the chest. The feeling was as if a ton weight was laid on a spot the size of my hand. During the attacks, the perspiration would stand in drops on my face, and it was agony for me to make sufficient effort to utter a word. They came suddenly, at any hour of the day or night, lasting from thirty minutes to half a day, leaving as suddenly; but, for several days after, I was quite prostrated and sore. Sometimes the attacks were almost daily, then less frequent. After about four years of this suffering, I was taken down with bilious typhoid fever, and when I began to recover, I had the worst attack of my old trouble I ever experienced. At the first of the fever, my mother gave me Ayer's Pills, my doctor recommending them as being better than anything he could prepare. I continued taking these Pills, and so great was the benefit derived that during nearly thirty years I have had but one attack of the former trouble, which yielded readily to the same remedy."

Directions for Mixing the Acme Compound.
Weigh out five pounds of the Compound and put it in a barrel or large kettle; then pour on ten gallons of boiling water gradually, until the mixture is of the consistency of soft soap—stirring it all the time. After it is thoroughly dissolved add the balance of the water (forty-five gallons), hot or cold—hot preferred. Do not boil the mixture. It is then ready to apply. Be sure and have your kettles or barrel clean (also your spraying tank) and free from other mixtures, in order to avoid clogging your spraying nozzles. Do not spray when the blossoms drop, then again four weeks after, which will destroy all other insects that may appear. Apply by means of a spray pump or a florist's syringe.

Corallitos, Cal., March 26, 1894.—Watson, Erwin & Co.: I used one hundred pounds of your Acme No. 1, and it had the desired effect; it not only gets away with the insect but it cleans up the tree and leaves it in a healthy condition. I will guarantee it will do just what it is recommended to do. Yours truly,

Niles, March 14, 1894.—I have had six years' experience spraying, and used various washes to quote an extent.
