who assemble.

In view of the approaching visit of Santa Claus, the people of the Methodist church have been at work during the past week making preparations to receive him with the accustomed regal splendor. A short programme will be rendered, after which they will join with him in giving the little ones a happy evening. They cordially invite all to come and join with them. Remember the time, Christmas eve, at 7 o'clock.

The Teachers' Institute.

The Wasco county teachers' institute closed Saturday. A large attendance remained to the close. The work of the institute was satisfactory to all concerned. On the last day of the session the change in text books was discussed. Leading teachers spoke on the subject, and the sentiment seemed to prevail that the present text books were satisfactory, with the exception of the grammar, and that no further change was expedient.

The following resolutions were adopted at the close of the session: Whereas, We feel that all of us have derived much benefit from the exercises in connection with the several valuable papers read during our session; therefore, be it

Resolved, 1st, That we tender our thanks to the citizens and pupils of The Dalles who have contributed to the success of our meetings; 2d, That the county press be thanked for the publicity given to our programmes and proceedings; 3d, That it is the desire of this institute that our county superintendent and all our teachers who may attend the Oregon state teachers' association at the next session that they earnestly invite the state association to meet at Hood River, in this county, during the summer of 1895.

IRENE CALLISON, LURA WELCH, ASA STOGSDILL, Committee. The Accident to Austin Wilson.

Austin Wilson, who has been working at the Morning mine for several y empty at that time, and he dropped linety-five feet perpendicularly to the lottom of the chute onto a pile of rocks. He struck squarely on his feet, the fearful shock breaking both bones of the left leg at the ankle and one of the right leg. In addition to this the bones of the feet about the ankle were considerably splintered or forced out of position, constituting quite a serious injury. He was brought down to Wallace as soon as possible and taken to the Sister's hospital, where Dr. Sims rendered him the necessary surgical attention. Considering his terrible fall and his fearful injuries, he seems to be suffering less physical disturbance than might be expected. He has the advantage of youth and nerve on his side, and his numerous friends hope for his .... Sextette full and speedy recovery.

> George M. Wilson of Mullan writes to his brother here, John A. Wilson, father of Austin, under date of Dec.

"Yours of the 3d just received. The accident to Austin is fully as bad as reported in the Miner, but Dr. Sims says he will come out all right but will be laid up all winter. Dr. Sims is the best surgeon and physician in the state, and thinks as much of Austin as if he was his own son; besides, Austin has lots of warm friends in Wallace who will see to it that he lacks for nothing. So far as care is concerned, you need feel no anxiety."
