

Hood River Glacier.

SATURDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1895.

THE MAILS.

The mail arrives from Mt. Hood at 10 o'clock A. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays; departs at the same days at noon.
For Chehalis, leaves at 8 A. M.; arrives at 6 P. M. Saturdays.
For White Salmon, leaves at 8 A. M.; arrives at 10 o'clock P. M.
From White Salmon, leaves for Fonda, Gilmer, Trout Lake and Glenwood Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

SOCIETIES.

Canby Post, No. 15, G. A. R., meets at Odd Fellow's Hall, first Saturday of each month at 2 o'clock p. m. All G. A. R. members invited to attend.
M. B. POTTER, Commander.
C. J. HAYES, Adjutant.

ADVERTISING RATES.

Professional Cards, per month $1.00
One inch space, per month $1.00
Rates on larger space given on application.
Business notices in local columns will be charged 5 cents a line each insertion; under the head of "Special Notices" half these rates will be charged.
Legal advertisements will be charged to the party entering them, at legal rates, and must be paid for before proof is furnished.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Mrs. Jennie Champlin was in Hood River Thursday.
William Buskirk moved to The Dalles Tuesday.
T. C. Dallas went to Portland on Wednesday's local.
M. P. Neff will open his photograph gallery next week.
E. L. Smith has plenty of good hay for sale at $13 a ton.
S. E. Bartness is agent for the Bridal Veil Lumber Company.
Found—a good two-foot rule. Inquire at Columbia nursery.
Miss Mattie Foley took the noon train Thursday for The Dalles.
Hats at cost for six weeks at Mrs. Hunt's. Ja26
Twenty tons of No. 1 wheat hay for sale. Inquire of F. E. JACKSON.
Lou Morse is authorized agent for all newspapers and periodicals.
De G. E. Sanders at the Mt. Hood hotel February 20th and 21st.
Mr. Wright of Seattle and Mr. Inway of Portland are in the valley buying apples.
Miss Emma Shepard of Belmont has gone to The Dalles, where she will remain ten days.
Sample copies of the St. Louis twice-a-week Republic at the GLACIER office. Call and get one.
Lovers of the dance and good music are requested to read the ad. announcing the valentine ball in another column.
W. D. Rogers writes to his father from Salem, that he is much better and that he has had no bad spells since his arrival there.
Send in your orders for trees for spring planting. Prices $40, $50 and $55 per 1000, in 500 and 1000 lots, at Tillet's nursery.
Easter will be late this year, falling on April 14th—a sure sign of a late spring. The digger squirrels and snakes are out—a sure sign of spring.
Dr. Sanders is provided with a dental chair for his Hood River office. Also prepared to extract teeth without pain by the use of narcotized air, called gas.
The ladies' aid society of the Congregational church has appointed a committee to act in conjunction with the board of trustees to purchase a bell for the church.
W. J. Baker, W. A. Slingerland, N. C. Evans, E. L. Smith, H. Prigge, John A. Wilson, M. V. Rand and E. Locke went to Portland Wednesday to attend the horticultural meeting.
J. J. Luckey is doing some good work grubbing on his place. Abe Foley is helping him with his team, and by using four horses and block and tackle they are yanking out the oak gnats and small pines at a satisfactory rate.
The accident that happened to Sam Smith last week, when his hand car was run into by a train, was not so bad as reported. His leg was not broken, but he was used up and frightened badly enough to have had his neck broken.
Owen T. Shepard of Fossil, Gilliam county, has been visiting his mother and sister at Belmont. He reports good weather and very little snow in Gilliam county. He returned to The Dalles on the 6th, where he will locate permanently.
A family named Frost came to Hood River, about a year ago, from the neighborhood of Dufur. The husband was an invalid, and the wife, in caring for the sick man, overtaxed her strength, and Sunday last was paralyzed and died. Her remains were shipped to Dufur for interment.
Thursday morning, while Abe Foley was driving down the Haynes hill with a heavy load of lumber, the ice on the grade caused the wheels of the wagon to slip, and it swung around and went off the grade. The wagon was wrecked and the team so badly injured that he fears his best horse (old Prince) will never recover.
Hon. E. L. Smith shipped some fine apples Monday for exhibition at the fruit growers' meeting in Portland Wednesday. Among the lot we noticed a box of H. Prigge's handsome Spitzbergs, a box of E. Locke's Hyde's King of the West, which were very large and fine, and samples of T. E. Wickens' Northern Spy, C. D. Hayner's Baldwins, and M. V. Rand's Baldwins, Spitzbergs and Newtown pippins.
Prof. P. A. Snyder came down from Wasco Wednesday. The wave of economy seems to have struck the school board at that place, and when Mr. Snyder found that they intended to cut down his term of nine months' school to six, which would throw him out of a job about the 17th of March, too late to look for another spring school, he promptly resigned. Mr. Snyder is one of our most efficient teachers and should not be long without a school.

Joe Aleck, the Indian who carries the mail to Chenoweth, uses a whip to propel his cayuse that is somewhat out of the ordinary. The stock consists of a crooked axle handle with about six inches of the lower end cut off, while the lash is a strap something less than the stock in length. It is something like the Sioux horsewhip, which consists of a heavy short stock with a short lash.

Friends and neighbors of D. D. Rogers, to the number of about fifty, assembled at his home on the evening of February 8th to pay their respects, it being his 40th birthday. Prayer meeting by the members of the Belmont M. E. church was conducted at Mr. Rogers' house the same evening, being led by Mrs. M. B. Potter.

Last Saturday a large bowlder rolled from the bluff on the Haynes hill and landed in the middle of the road. Some one coming up the hill with a wagon, not being able to proceed or return, was compelled to leave the wagon on the grade until the obstruction was removed.

Wood bees are the order of the day in the Belmont neighborhood. One day last week the able-bodied men of the neighborhood turned out and surprised Rev. F. L. Johns by hauling up to the parsonage wood enough to last him till next fall.

W. J. Sherman came up from Portland Saturday last and went out to his ranch. Mr. Sherman lost his position as engineer on the railroad through the accident that resulted in the death of Ready, but hopes to be reinstated.

Mr. E. Locke has slashed three or four acres of land and will prepare the same for planting to fruit trees. He has made fence rails of the trees, and the stumps he expects to pull out by his grubbing machine.

W. H. Bishop and family moved to Cascade Locks Tuesday, where they will remain until Mr. Bishop has completed the Catholic church at that place.

Send your name to Secretary J. B. Hunt for membership in the Hood River Rod and Gun club. That is all it will cost you. See notice elsewhere.

Friday, February 9, notice elsewhere. Party was given at the house of Dick Neaigh in honor of Master Rewell Rogers, 8 years old.

E. C. Rogers killed the first snake of the season on Thursday. He brought the snake along to town to prove this snake story.

Mr. Henry Lewis, from Portland, is at his home near Troy Shelley's. He is taking a two week's vacation.
Eggs worth 12 cents in Portland in midwinter! Moral: Don't go into the chicken business.

The Oregon Lumber Co.'s mill at Chenoweth, it is expected, will start up next week.

Harry Gray and family are expected from Snohomish, Wash., in a few days.

M. N. Foley, who has been on the sick list, is much better this week.

The pussy willows are in bloom along the Columbia river.

The Late G. H. Palmer.

Mr. Thomas Harlan of Mosier informs The Dalles Chronicle that he has just returned from Denver, where he sold three carloads of strawberries for June delivery, and at Colorado Springs made a contract to furnish berries during the season at the rate of 50 to 100 crates a day at prices ranging from $6 to $7.20 per crate.
Mr. J. M. Huntington is making rapid progress with his present ownership books. He has about finished tabulating farm property and has discovered something over 60,000 acres of farm lands that have heretofore never been assessed.
Hon. E. B. Dufur shipped by express yesterday thirteen prairie chickens to Judge Waldo. The birds will be turned loose on the Waldo hills, and if let alone should soon stock that country.—Dalles Chronicle.
The Hood River GLACIER says the free-silver republicans seem to be in the majority in that district. Possibly that explains why so many have recently been sent from there to the state lunatic asylum.—Klickitat Republican.

An Entertaining Social.

The ladies' aid society of the Congregational church gave a very entertaining social at the residence of Mrs. Geo. P. Crowell last Friday evening. The spacious apartments of Mrs. Crowell were filled to their utmost capacity, and after a sumptuous meal, a most entertaining programme, consisting of music and recitations, was presented. The neat sum of $10 was secured. This will be added to the bell fund of the church, which now amounts to about $100. Every one who attended this social pronounced it a genuine intellectual treat, with a splendid regime for man's bodily needs.

The Flouring Mill.

W. E. Chamberlain arrived in Hood River during the week. He has not given up the idea of locating his flouring mill here, and has been prospecting for a site on F. H. Button's land on the east side of Hood River. To get a mill site on the Button place it will be necessary to tunnel through the bluff and strike the river far enough above the county bridge to get a good fall of water from the river. Wednesday, assisted by several of our citizens, he made a survey of the proposed tunnel and found it practicable. If the cost of the tunnel is not too much, Mr. Chamberlain will go ahead with the work and build his mill.

Just Received at Tucker's Store.

New clothing direct from manufacturer. Have about fifty suits that must be closed out. Try 'em. Will sell working suits at $3.50 and upwards, to $20. Worsted at $15, formerly sold for $30. Try us once for clothing; you'll never regret it. Consult your pocket and your own interests.
B. R. TUCKER, Tucker, Or.

Dr. E. T. Carns, Dentist.

Has returned to Portland. He will be in Hood River again about the first of March, prepared to do all kinds of dentistry work—examine, fill, extract, regulate and make new teeth; also, crown and bridge work.

Glee Club Concert.

The Glee Club will give a concert at the U. B. church on Friday evening, Feb. 8th, at 7:30 o'clock. Following is the programme:

1. Hark! 'tis the Bells.....Glee Club.
2. Moonlight Sonata (2 movements).....Beethoven Mrs. Heald.
3. That Traitor, Love.....Roeckel Mr. S. J. LaFrance.
4. Turkish Rondo.....Stiebel Miss Clara Blythe.
5. Tell Her I Love Her So.....DeFaye Glee Club.
6. Overture to Poet and Peasant.....Suppe Mrs. Heald and Miss Mabel Hodgson.
7. Song and Chorus.....Crandell Messrs. Nickelsen, Brosius, Bartmess and Ferguson.
8. Convent Bell.....Spindler Miss Fay LaFrance.
9. (a) For a Dream's Sake.....Cowan (b) Spanish Serenade.....DeNevers Miss Anne Smith.
10. A Merry Round.....Marschnee Glee Club.
11. Sonatina (Rondo).....Kuhlau Miss Mabel Hodgson.
12. The Three Chaffers.....Glee Club.
13. (a) If I were a Bird (Etude in 6 flats) Henselt (b) C sharp min. Impromptu.....Chopin Mrs. Heald.
14. The Trumpet's Voice.....Beiry Glee Club and Mr. H. B. Langille.

On the Warpath.

A colored lady from Cascade Locks was in Hood River last Friday, looking for a tramp who, she claimed, had robbed her nephew of some clothing, a half dollar and other articles of value. She called at the meat market of Hartley & Langille and asked Doug Langille if he had seen the tramp she described. Doug asked if the tramp was accompanied by a white bull dog with the hair scalded off its back. "Dat's his home! dat's his!" she said; "he allus goes to de butcher shops to git meat for his dog. Fo' de lawd, if I ketch dat white man I'll teach him better'n to steal from 'spectable culled folks who had 'friended him. Tell me whar he is." But Doug didn't know anything further about the tramp, and she called at West's butcher shop and interviewed McGuire. He happened to be out when the tramp called and couldn't give her any information. She thought McGuire was trying to shield the tramp, and so gave him a piece of her mind. The colored lady left for The Dalles, vowing she wouldn't go home till she "cotched dat low-down white man!"

Mr. Thomas Harlan of Mosier informs The Dalles Chronicle that he has just returned from Denver, where he sold three carloads of strawberries for June delivery, and at Colorado Springs made a contract to furnish berries during the season at the rate of 50 to 100 crates a day at prices ranging from $6 to $7.20 per crate.
Mr. J. M. Huntington is making rapid progress with his present ownership books. He has about finished tabulating farm property and has discovered something over 60,000 acres of farm lands that have heretofore never been assessed.
Hon. E. B. Dufur shipped by express yesterday thirteen prairie chickens to Judge Waldo. The birds will be turned loose on the Waldo hills, and if let alone should soon stock that country.—Dalles Chronicle.
The Hood River GLACIER says the free-silver republicans seem to be in the majority in that district. Possibly that explains why so many have recently been sent from there to the state lunatic asylum.—Klickitat Republican.

CHURCH NOTICES.

Elder J. W. Jenkins will preach in the Valley Congregational church on Sunday, February 10th, at 11 a. m. and 7:30 p. m. Subjects of discourses, "Christ's Prayer for His Disciples," John 17:15, and "Lessons from the Mount of Transfiguration," Luke 9:28-36. All are invited to attend.
The pastor, Rev. J. L. Hershner, will conduct services at the Congregational church next Sunday. Subject at the morning service will be, "The Children and the Church."
Preaching at Belmont M. E. church Saturday evening by Elder Moter. Services Sunday morning; preaching by Elder Moter.
Sunday school at the Valley Congregational church each Sunday at 10:30, except on church days, when it meets at 10 o'clock. "Come, now, let us reason together, saith the Lord."
Regular services are held at the M. E. barracks morning and evening of the first Sunday of each month; in the evening the remaining Sundays of the month. The fourth Sunday evening occupied by T. D. Gregory.
F. L. JOHNS.

When Democracy's Dead.

In reply to repeated assertions that the democratic party is dead, some unknown Hoosier democrat has put in the confessions under which, and in the time

WHEN DEMOCRACY WILL DIE.

When the lions eat grass like an ox
When the fish-worm swallows the whale,
When the turpentine knot wooden socks
And the haw is out run by the snail;
When serpents walk upright like men
And doobidbugs travel like frogs,
When the grasshopper feeds on the hen
And feathers are found on hogs;
When Thomas eats swim in the air
And elephants roost upon trees,
When insects in summer make people sneeze;
When fish creep over dry land
And makes on velvet pedes ride,
When foxes lay eggs in the sand
And women in dress take no pride;
When Dutchmen no longer bear drink
When girls get to church on time,
When the brilly goats butt from the rear
And trellis no longer is crime;
When the humming-bird traces an arc
And plumber smells like cologne,
When blowers travel like men
And hearts of Indians made out of glass
And heads of Indians made out of stone;
When ideas grow in populus' heads
And wool on the hydraulic ram,
Then the democratic party will be dead
And this country not worth a d—n.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Pure blooded Pekin Duck eggs for $2 per dozen. These are the most profitable birds to raise on the farm; they will lay from March 1st to July 15th. Eggs large.
W. R. WINANS, Hood River, Or.
Ask at the stores for our old-fashioned Rye Graham. It will make you stout. Also notice the new brand on all our breadstuffs. It is a warranty of purity and excellence.
Jail9 HARRISON BROS.

First class timothy hay for sale by Ferguson & Loy at $15 per ton. Jail9
Black harness oil, 35 cts a quart, at Pierce's Harness and Shoe Store.
HAY FOR SALE.—Best quality baled timothy hay for sale at any place, one mile west of Belmont. [Jal2] G. E. CASTNER.

Wm. Tillet is still in the nursery business, with a good stock of home-grown trees. If he is out of what you want, he can supply you with the following varieties from one of the largest nurseries in Oregon: All kinds of cherry trees; Spruce, Gano, Ben Davis, Red Delaware, Hyde's King of the West, Tompkins King, and other leading varieties of apples. Would be glad to quote prices on lots of 500 and 1000 trees. Drop him a postal for terms.
The Hood River Box Factory has plenty of apple boxes on hand.
For sash, doors, mouldings, brackets, combination fencing and to the Hood River Box Factory.

Wm. Tillet has order for 2500 feet of the following varieties of lumber: 2000 Baldwin, 1000 Northern Pine, 500 Gravenstein. Apple trees, 5000, will be scarce in the spring, and does planters to order early.
For Sale—Forty acres of improved land, east side of Hood river, 1/2 mile from town. Will sell 5 or 10 acre tracts. Inquire at Glacier office.
The Portland Sun is for sale every day at the post office after the arrival of the train from Portland.

A Legislative Comment
Provokes more newspaper comment than almost any other subject of public interest. The last two Oregon law-making bodies afforded much material for interesting discussion, and the next generally will be no exception to the rule. Whatever occurs the public knows that the Daily and Weekly Capital Journal of Salem will give correct reports of its work as well as intelligent discussion of the same. If you want to know what is done, how it is done, and why, you should read the Capital Journal. It is the first One-Cent Daily published on the Pacific coast, and is conducted in the interest of the people. The Daily will be sent you a year for $4, four months for $1, or one month for 25 cents. The Weekly is payable cash in advance, and no paper will be sent after your time expires. Positively "no pay no paper." The Journal is a modern newspaper run on modern methods. It is conducted in the interest of the people editorially as well as in a business sense. Its editor being a member of the lower house, his editorial work will be doubly interesting this winter. Order it at once.
HOVER BROS., Editors, Salem, Or.

The Big Little Paper.
We have just received the last issue of the big little Farm Journal, the well-known and popular monthly farm paper, edited by Wilmer Atkinson. The Farm Journal is now in its eighteenth year, with over 200,000 subscribers, giving it a round million of readers. It circulates everywhere from Maine to Washington and from Michigan to Texas. Its editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space. The editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space. The editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space.

For Sale—Forty acres of improved land, east side of Hood river, 1/2 mile from town. Will sell 5 or 10 acre tracts. Inquire at Glacier office.
The Portland Sun is for sale every day at the post office after the arrival of the train from Portland.

A Legislative Comment
Provokes more newspaper comment than almost any other subject of public interest. The last two Oregon law-making bodies afforded much material for interesting discussion, and the next generally will be no exception to the rule. Whatever occurs the public knows that the Daily and Weekly Capital Journal of Salem will give correct reports of its work as well as intelligent discussion of the same. If you want to know what is done, how it is done, and why, you should read the Capital Journal. It is the first One-Cent Daily published on the Pacific coast, and is conducted in the interest of the people. The Daily will be sent you a year for $4, four months for $1, or one month for 25 cents. The Weekly is payable cash in advance, and no paper will be sent after your time expires. Positively "no pay no paper." The Journal is a modern newspaper run on modern methods. It is conducted in the interest of the people editorially as well as in a business sense. Its editor being a member of the lower house, his editorial work will be doubly interesting this winter. Order it at once.
HOVER BROS., Editors, Salem, Or.

The Big Little Paper.
We have just received the last issue of the big little Farm Journal, the well-known and popular monthly farm paper, edited by Wilmer Atkinson. The Farm Journal is now in its eighteenth year, with over 200,000 subscribers, giving it a round million of readers. It circulates everywhere from Maine to Washington and from Michigan to Texas. Its editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space. The editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space.

For Sale—Forty acres of improved land, east side of Hood river, 1/2 mile from town. Will sell 5 or 10 acre tracts. Inquire at Glacier office.
The Portland Sun is for sale every day at the post office after the arrival of the train from Portland.

A Legislative Comment
Provokes more newspaper comment than almost any other subject of public interest. The last two Oregon law-making bodies afforded much material for interesting discussion, and the next generally will be no exception to the rule. Whatever occurs the public knows that the Daily and Weekly Capital Journal of Salem will give correct reports of its work as well as intelligent discussion of the same. If you want to know what is done, how it is done, and why, you should read the Capital Journal. It is the first One-Cent Daily published on the Pacific coast, and is conducted in the interest of the people. The Daily will be sent you a year for $4, four months for $1, or one month for 25 cents. The Weekly is payable cash in advance, and no paper will be sent after your time expires. Positively "no pay no paper." The Journal is a modern newspaper run on modern methods. It is conducted in the interest of the people editorially as well as in a business sense. Its editor being a member of the lower house, his editorial work will be doubly interesting this winter. Order it at once.
HOVER BROS., Editors, Salem, Or.

The Big Little Paper.
We have just received the last issue of the big little Farm Journal, the well-known and popular monthly farm paper, edited by Wilmer Atkinson. The Farm Journal is now in its eighteenth year, with over 200,000 subscribers, giving it a round million of readers. It circulates everywhere from Maine to Washington and from Michigan to Texas. Its editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space. The editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space.

For Sale—Forty acres of improved land, east side of Hood river, 1/2 mile from town. Will sell 5 or 10 acre tracts. Inquire at Glacier office.
The Portland Sun is for sale every day at the post office after the arrival of the train from Portland.

A Legislative Comment
Provokes more newspaper comment than almost any other subject of public interest. The last two Oregon law-making bodies afforded much material for interesting discussion, and the next generally will be no exception to the rule. Whatever occurs the public knows that the Daily and Weekly Capital Journal of Salem will give correct reports of its work as well as intelligent discussion of the same. If you want to know what is done, how it is done, and why, you should read the Capital Journal. It is the first One-Cent Daily published on the Pacific coast, and is conducted in the interest of the people. The Daily will be sent you a year for $4, four months for $1, or one month for 25 cents. The Weekly is payable cash in advance, and no paper will be sent after your time expires. Positively "no pay no paper." The Journal is a modern newspaper run on modern methods. It is conducted in the interest of the people editorially as well as in a business sense. Its editor being a member of the lower house, his editorial work will be doubly interesting this winter. Order it at once.
HOVER BROS., Editors, Salem, Or.

The Big Little Paper.
We have just received the last issue of the big little Farm Journal, the well-known and popular monthly farm paper, edited by Wilmer Atkinson. The Farm Journal is now in its eighteenth year, with over 200,000 subscribers, giving it a round million of readers. It circulates everywhere from Maine to Washington and from Michigan to Texas. Its editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space. The editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space.

For Sale—Forty acres of improved land, east side of Hood river, 1/2 mile from town. Will sell 5 or 10 acre tracts. Inquire at Glacier office.
The Portland Sun is for sale every day at the post office after the arrival of the train from Portland.

A Legislative Comment
Provokes more newspaper comment than almost any other subject of public interest. The last two Oregon law-making bodies afforded much material for interesting discussion, and the next generally will be no exception to the rule. Whatever occurs the public knows that the Daily and Weekly Capital Journal of Salem will give correct reports of its work as well as intelligent discussion of the same. If you want to know what is done, how it is done, and why, you should read the Capital Journal. It is the first One-Cent Daily published on the Pacific coast, and is conducted in the interest of the people. The Daily will be sent you a year for $4, four months for $1, or one month for 25 cents. The Weekly is payable cash in advance, and no paper will be sent after your time expires. Positively "no pay no paper." The Journal is a modern newspaper run on modern methods. It is conducted in the interest of the people editorially as well as in a business sense. Its editor being a member of the lower house, his editorial work will be doubly interesting this winter. Order it at once.
HOVER BROS., Editors, Salem, Or.

The Big Little Paper.
We have just received the last issue of the big little Farm Journal, the well-known and popular monthly farm paper, edited by Wilmer Atkinson. The Farm Journal is now in its eighteenth year, with over 200,000 subscribers, giving it a round million of readers. It circulates everywhere from Maine to Washington and from Michigan to Texas. Its editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space. The editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space.

For Sale—Forty acres of improved land, east side of Hood river, 1/2 mile from town. Will sell 5 or 10 acre tracts. Inquire at Glacier office.
The Portland Sun is for sale every day at the post office after the arrival of the train from Portland.

A Legislative Comment
Provokes more newspaper comment than almost any other subject of public interest. The last two Oregon law-making bodies afforded much material for interesting discussion, and the next generally will be no exception to the rule. Whatever occurs the public knows that the Daily and Weekly Capital Journal of Salem will give correct reports of its work as well as intelligent discussion of the same. If you want to know what is done, how it is done, and why, you should read the Capital Journal. It is the first One-Cent Daily published on the Pacific coast, and is conducted in the interest of the people. The Daily will be sent you a year for $4, four months for $1, or one month for 25 cents. The Weekly is payable cash in advance, and no paper will be sent after your time expires. Positively "no pay no paper." The Journal is a modern newspaper run on modern methods. It is conducted in the interest of the people editorially as well as in a business sense. Its editor being a member of the lower house, his editorial work will be doubly interesting this winter. Order it at once.
HOVER BROS., Editors, Salem, Or.

The Big Little Paper.
We have just received the last issue of the big little Farm Journal, the well-known and popular monthly farm paper, edited by Wilmer Atkinson. The Farm Journal is now in its eighteenth year, with over 200,000 subscribers, giving it a round million of readers. It circulates everywhere from Maine to Washington and from Michigan to Texas. Its editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space. The editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space.

For Sale—Forty acres of improved land, east side of Hood river, 1/2 mile from town. Will sell 5 or 10 acre tracts. Inquire at Glacier office.
The Portland Sun is for sale every day at the post office after the arrival of the train from Portland.

A Legislative Comment
Provokes more newspaper comment than almost any other subject of public interest. The last two Oregon law-making bodies afforded much material for interesting discussion, and the next generally will be no exception to the rule. Whatever occurs the public knows that the Daily and Weekly Capital Journal of Salem will give correct reports of its work as well as intelligent discussion of the same. If you want to know what is done, how it is done, and why, you should read the Capital Journal. It is the first One-Cent Daily published on the Pacific coast, and is conducted in the interest of the people. The Daily will be sent you a year for $4, four months for $1, or one month for 25 cents. The Weekly is payable cash in advance, and no paper will be sent after your time expires. Positively "no pay no paper." The Journal is a modern newspaper run on modern methods. It is conducted in the interest of the people editorially as well as in a business sense. Its editor being a member of the lower house, his editorial work will be doubly interesting this winter. Order it at once.
HOVER BROS., Editors, Salem, Or.

The Big Little Paper.
We have just received the last issue of the big little Farm Journal, the well-known and popular monthly farm paper, edited by Wilmer Atkinson. The Farm Journal is now in its eighteenth year, with over 200,000 subscribers, giving it a round million of readers. It circulates everywhere from Maine to Washington and from Michigan to Texas. Its editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space. The editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space.

For Sale—Forty acres of improved land, east side of Hood river, 1/2 mile from town. Will sell 5 or 10 acre tracts. Inquire at Glacier office.
The Portland Sun is for sale every day at the post office after the arrival of the train from Portland.

A Legislative Comment
Provokes more newspaper comment than almost any other subject of public interest. The last two Oregon law-making bodies afforded much material for interesting discussion, and the next generally will be no exception to the rule. Whatever occurs the public knows that the Daily and Weekly Capital Journal of Salem will give correct reports of its work as well as intelligent discussion of the same. If you want to know what is done, how it is done, and why, you should read the Capital Journal. It is the first One-Cent Daily published on the Pacific coast, and is conducted in the interest of the people. The Daily will be sent you a year for $4, four months for $1, or one month for 25 cents. The Weekly is payable cash in advance, and no paper will be sent after your time expires. Positively "no pay no paper." The Journal is a modern newspaper run on modern methods. It is conducted in the interest of the people editorially as well as in a business sense. Its editor being a member of the lower house, his editorial work will be doubly interesting this winter. Order it at once.
HOVER BROS., Editors, Salem, Or.

The Big Little Paper.
We have just received the last issue of the big little Farm Journal, the well-known and popular monthly farm paper, edited by Wilmer Atkinson. The Farm Journal is now in its eighteenth year, with over 200,000 subscribers, giving it a round million of readers. It circulates everywhere from Maine to Washington and from Michigan to Texas. Its editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space. The editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space.

For Sale—Forty acres of improved land, east side of Hood river, 1/2 mile from town. Will sell 5 or 10 acre tracts. Inquire at Glacier office.
The Portland Sun is for sale every day at the post office after the arrival of the train from Portland.

A Legislative Comment
Provokes more newspaper comment than almost any other subject of public interest. The last two Oregon law-making bodies afforded much material for interesting discussion, and the next generally will be no exception to the rule. Whatever occurs the public knows that the Daily and Weekly Capital Journal of Salem will give correct reports of its work as well as intelligent discussion of the same. If you want to know what is done, how it is done, and why, you should read the Capital Journal. It is the first One-Cent Daily published on the Pacific coast, and is conducted in the interest of the people. The Daily will be sent you a year for $4, four months for $1, or one month for 25 cents. The Weekly is payable cash in advance, and no paper will be sent after your time expires. Positively "no pay no paper." The Journal is a modern newspaper run on modern methods. It is conducted in the interest of the people editorially as well as in a business sense. Its editor being a member of the lower house, his editorial work will be doubly interesting this winter. Order it at once.
HOVER BROS., Editors, Salem, Or.

The Big Little Paper.
We have just received the last issue of the big little Farm Journal, the well-known and popular monthly farm paper, edited by Wilmer Atkinson. The Farm Journal is now in its eighteenth year, with over 200,000 subscribers, giving it a round million of readers. It circulates everywhere from Maine to Washington and from Michigan to Texas. Its editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space. The editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space.

For Sale—Forty acres of improved land, east side of Hood river, 1/2 mile from town. Will sell 5 or 10 acre tracts. Inquire at Glacier office.
The Portland Sun is for sale every day at the post office after the arrival of the train from Portland.

A Legislative Comment
Provokes more newspaper comment than almost any other subject of public interest. The last two Oregon law-making bodies afforded much material for interesting discussion, and the next generally will be no exception to the rule. Whatever occurs the public knows that the Daily and Weekly Capital Journal of Salem will give correct reports of its work as well as intelligent discussion of the same. If you want to know what is done, how it is done, and why, you should read the Capital Journal. It is the first One-Cent Daily published on the Pacific coast, and is conducted in the interest of the people. The Daily will be sent you a year for $4, four months for $1, or one month for 25 cents. The Weekly is payable cash in advance, and no paper will be sent after your time expires. Positively "no pay no paper." The Journal is a modern newspaper run on modern methods. It is conducted in the interest of the people editorially as well as in a business sense. Its editor being a member of the lower house, his editorial work will be doubly interesting this winter. Order it at once.
HOVER BROS., Editors, Salem, Or.

The Big Little Paper.
We have just received the last issue of the big little Farm Journal, the well-known and popular monthly farm paper, edited by Wilmer Atkinson. The Farm Journal is now in its eighteenth year, with over 200,000 subscribers, giving it a round million of readers. It circulates everywhere from Maine to Washington and from Michigan to Texas. Its editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space. The editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space.

For Sale—Forty acres of improved land, east side of Hood river, 1/2 mile from town. Will sell 5 or 10 acre tracts. Inquire at Glacier office.
The Portland Sun is for sale every day at the post office after the arrival of the train from Portland.

A Legislative Comment
Provokes more newspaper comment than almost any other subject of public interest. The last two Oregon law-making bodies afforded much material for interesting discussion, and the next generally will be no exception to the rule. Whatever occurs the public knows that the Daily and Weekly Capital Journal of Salem will give correct reports of its work as well as intelligent discussion of the same. If you want to know what is done, how it is done, and why, you should read the Capital Journal. It is the first One-Cent Daily published on the Pacific coast, and is conducted in the interest of the people. The Daily will be sent you a year for $4, four months for $1, or one month for 25 cents. The Weekly is payable cash in advance, and no paper will be sent after your time expires. Positively "no pay no paper." The Journal is a modern newspaper run on modern methods. It is conducted in the interest of the people editorially as well as in a business sense. Its editor being a member of the lower house, his editorial work will be doubly interesting this winter. Order it at once.
HOVER BROS., Editors, Salem, Or.

The Big Little Paper.
We have just received the last issue of the big little Farm Journal, the well-known and popular monthly farm paper, edited by Wilmer Atkinson. The Farm Journal is now in its eighteenth year, with over 200,000 subscribers, giving it a round million of readers. It circulates everywhere from Maine to Washington and from Michigan to Texas. Its editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space. The editors and contributors are sleeves-rolled-up men and women, and it is surprising how so much valuable and helpful information can be crowded into so small a space.

For Sale—Forty acres of improved land, east side of Hood river, 1/2 mile from