RATENERT MARCH AND A THE AND A

One Grocer has been found who says he will not handle

Royal Baking Powder!

And the reason he gives is of interest to every housekeeper. It is that he can make more money selling the other baking powders! He says he can buy all other powders at from 20 to 50 per cent. lower price than Royal, while he sells them at the same price. That means when the housekeeper buys some powder other than the Royal she pays the same price, but gets a powder costing to make and worth only half as much.

It is a fact that the Royal Baking Powder is made from more highly refined, purer, and more wholesome ingredients than any other baking powder. Most of the others are made from alum. All of them contain adulterants or impurities. Absolutely pure cream of tartar and soda, as used in the Royal, cost more than im-pure cream of tartar and alum; hence the greater cost, as well as greater value, of the Royal. The grocer who says he will not handle Royal Baking Powder because he can make more profit upon other powders proves to the consumer, most conclusively, the superior value of the Royal over all other brands.

BY PHILLIPS BROOKS.

[The following poem, never before published, was found in one of Phillips Brooks' early notebooks, in which he jotted down thoughts and memoranda,-Boston Transcript.]

Along the noisy city ways And in this rattling city car, On this the dreariest of days, Perplexed with business fret and jar,

When suddenly a young, sweet face Looked on my petulance and pain And lent it something of its grace And charmed it into peace again.

The day was just as bleak without, My neighbors just as cold within, And truth was just as full of doubt, The world was just as full of sin.

But in the light of that young smile The world grew pure, the heart grew warm, And sunshine gleamed a little while Across the darkness of the storm.

I did not care to seek her name. I only said "God bless thy life, Thy sweet young grace be still the same,

Or happy maid or happy wife.' 1858. -P. B.

GRANDMOTHER.

She Does Not Keep Pace With the Ad-vance of Medical Science.

We all know just what adorable creatures all grandmothers are, and how they cannot do enough for the little ones belonging to their sons and daughters. Now, without wishing to appear ungrateful for these attentions, there are some mothers who think themselves quite capable of caring for their own babies, and the continual and persistent contrary opinion of grandma becomes after a time vexatious rather than helpful.

Even though grandma has brought up

TO MEET AT THE HUB

THIS YEAR'S CONVENTION OF THE SOCIETY OF CHRISTIAN ENDEAVOR.

The Historic Old City Is Preparing to Receive Its Guests In Great Style-Some of the Innovations That Will Characterize the Gathering.

The Society of Christian Endeavor will this year meet in Boston, Mechanics' hall and two immense tents being used for the gatherings. The convention proper will gatherings. be held in Mechanics' hall, which has all the regular features of a convention auditorium and possesses the further advan-tage of connecting directly with Machinery hall, in which there will be established during the convention an immense restau-rant capable of seating nearly 2,000 persons at one time.

The convention will begin on Wednesday, July 10, and will conclude on Monday, July 15, and it is believed, both by the local authorities in Boston and the general officers of the organization, that the gathering will be one of the largest and gener-ally most successful in the history of the society. Not all the arrangements have yet been completed, but enough has been done to, fully warrant this statement Some of the features to be first introduced at this convention are here enumerated. There will be disposed throughout the central portion of Machinery hall a large number of tables for the sale and distribution of missionary literature and religious rs, and all the denominational boards will be asked to furnish their missionary publications for that purpose. The space in Machinery hall to be devoted to the special state headquarters will be portioned off among the various state unions, and each will be asked to decorate and fit up its own space in some characteristic and individual fashion. Undoubtedly this innovation will add greatly to the attractiveness of the state headquarters, since if the plan is well realized it will be possible for any delegate to spend an entire day in Ma-chinery hall with profit and pleasure. In addition to these state headquarters in the hall, each state will have some one of the Boston churches for a rendezvous, and as soon as the delegates arrive in Bos-ton they will register at these churches and be billeted without delay. As far as possible, the delegates from each state will be located in the immediate vicinity of their church headquarters, and no assign-ments of individuals will be made in advance of their reaching Boston. Some of the state delegations will be sent into the beautiful suburbs of the city. This has been decided upon, because it will be im-possible to comfortably locate all in attendance within the city limits, but no doubt those located outside will consider themselves very fortunate, since the suburbs of Boston are among the most desirable sur-roundings of any city in America.

The observances of the occasion will be-gin on Wednesday evening with meetings at a score or more of the city churches. The next morning, and every morning during the sessions of the convention, there will be sunrise prayer meetings, at the same churches at half past 6 o'clock. The list of speakers who will take part in the morning and evening meetings will include the names of many of the most widely known clergymen in the country,

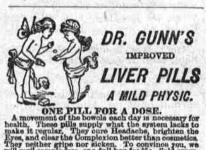

SUMMER ACTIVITIES.

If one were to attempt to enumerate and classify the sports of summer, he would have a large job on hand, but at a glance we know that thousands are engaged in these pastimes of land and water. The use of physical and muscular exertion is immense, and as a result the rough usage brings about sprains, hurts, bruises wounds and cuts, for which the greatest and surest cure is St. Jacobs Oil. Al sportsmen know and acknowledge this, as also raisers and trainers of fine horses, and breeders of fine cattle. It is the sports-men's best reliance and is kept on hand accordingly.

a dozen children, and this is her daughter's very first experience in that line, it is just as well not to give overliberal doses of advice, nor is it good policy to empty out the medicine the doctor prescribes for baby's cough and substitute sirup of squills, because sirup of squills was all that the youngsters of another generation were dosed with.

The latter medicine may be regarded by grandma as the most perfect cough remedy in existence, but the prescribed drops or pellets may be quite as effective, and it is but natural that the young mother and the physician in charge should feel a bit annoved at the assumption of superior knowledge, however well founded it may be.

Babies need as varied treatment as plants do. What may have answered splendidly for grandma's dozan might prove quite the Teverse of beneficial for the fin de siecle youngster, and even though a baby is a novelty to the young mother nature will be her best teacher as to its wants and cares. Grandma must remember that she had to be initiated in her superior baby training before she could pose as an oracle, and would she have been pleased to have had her authority wrenched from her by a wiser somebody who scorned her methods and ridiculed her lack of wisdom?

When the young mother asks for advice, it is time enough to give it to her. She is certain to do so and will appreciate most kindly the valuable hints the more experienced mother can give her, but her feelings will be quite the reverse if advice is thrust upon her and the care of her own precious baby taken peremptorily out of her hands.-Louisville Post.

How the Money Goes.

It is unsafe to allow any ordinary woman to enter a store with money. She has such a craving for luxuries, such a contempt for mere necessities, that she almost invariably purchases the former and is constantly in need of the latter. She goes forth to purchase an opera bonnet because she is going to the opera that very night, but her eye is caught by a tea gown, a bargain tea gown, and she buys it. That night some man seated behind a Gainesborough with many plumes swears. She goes out to buy a jacket, needing one sorely, but her erratio fancy is caught by lace trimmed underwear, and before she realizes it she is reveling in new nightgowns and corset covers. She has even been known to go out to buy writing paper and to return with nothing but a blue and white cup and saucer.-Philadelphia Times.

among them being Dwight L. Moody, Dr. Harper, Dr. Talmage and others. Among the speakers who will be heard in Me-chanics' hall are Dr. P. S. Henson of Chicago, who will also preside at the Saturday meeting, beginning at 9:30 a.m., for the purpose of inculcating patriotic senti-ments. This meeting and two others for the same purpose, to be held at the same time in the two tents, will together form one of the most important features of the entire gathering. Hon. Elijah Morse, one of the representatives in congress from Massachusetts, will be among the prominent speakers at the Mechanics' hall meet-ing, and he will be followed by Bishop Walters of the A. M. E. Zion church, whose topic will be "The Responsibility of the African Church in America." At this meeting also good citizenship banners and diplomas will be presented to the societies and local unions that have done most work for good citizenship. Rev. William Patterson of Toronto will make the presentation address. An open parliament on the subject, "What Are You Doing For America?" will be led by Rev. William C. Clarke of Chicago, who was at the fore-front of the crusade against the gambling dens of that city. President Clark of the society will preside at the patriotic meeting in tent No. 1, where a feature will be the hearing of volces" from different sections of America. Thus a prominent representative of the west will give a "volce from the west," one from the east will give "a voice from the east," one from the south "a voice from the south," one from the Dominion "a voice from Canada," and so on. The principal address will be delivered by Bishop Arnett of Mississippi. In tent No. 2 Dr. Burrell of the city of New York will preside, and there, too, will he heard five "voices" from different parts of the con-tinent. Hon. Neal Dow, the veteran temperance man, will also speak. At the close of the session in the main auditoriums, the delegates will gather on Huntington avenue and march with flying banners and streaming flags through the streets to historic Boston Common, where a monster open air demonstration will be made. The mayor of the city, the governor of the state, Dr. Donald McLauren of De-troit and other leading men will deliver addresses of a patriotic nature, and Dr. S. F. Smith, the venerable author of "America," will read the words of his noted ode which will be sung by the multitude, led by a chorus of 3,000 voices and an immense orchestra. As a souvenir, each delegate will be presented with a handsomely illuminated copy of "America" from Miss Helen Gould, who has made the committee of 1895 a gift of 50,000 copies for this pur pose. Nothing so important as this demonstration has occurred on Boston Common since the days of the Revolution. On Saturday evening there will be receptions and rallies by the state unions, in which the patriotic idea will have a prominent place. On Monday there will be pilgrimages to a number of places made famous in the early history of Boston.
