Struck It Rich.
Captain Coe has struck it rich. Last week he employed a man to dig into the hillsides at the upper side of his land, and after going down about fifteen feet, he was rewarded by a fine stream of water, which flows out of the hillsides in quantities sufficient to supply the town of Hood River. The captain's theory is, and he has been of the opinion for some time, that an old lake bed extends from the brow of the hill above town back to Hood river and west nearly across the west side of the valley. The drainage from the hills and mountains keep this lake supplied with water, and it is the source of the many springs along the Columbia river front, and along Hood river and Indian creek. The captain has demonstrated that the water is there. He will for the present use the water to irrigate his strawberry lands, which are about as extensive as any in the valley.

A Veteran Sailor.
A. H. Tieman of Mt. Hood was in Hood River Saturday. Mr. Tieman is an old sailor and when a young man served in the U. S. navy. In 1852 he was on the war ship, Saratoga, off the coast of Japan. The Japs were then a barbarous people and ill-treated American sailors wrecked on their coast that year. This caused the expedition to be sent under Commodore Perry, who opened Japanese ports under treaty. The ports were opened for the protection of American seamen more than for trade. Mr. Tieman says he little thought when in Japan 43 years ago that he would ever see these, then blood-thirsty people, in America competing with Americans for every-day labor.

Base Ball.
A lively game of base ball was played here Sunday between the Hood River and Portland nines. It seems among the strawberry pickers here from Portland are some base-ball players, who challenged the Hood River boys for a game. The Portland nine played a rattling good game, but their pitcher was not an expert. The Hood River nine knocked them out with a score of 28 to 7. The names of the Portland nine are as follows: Shields, Cannon, Raider, Collins, F. Gates, Black, Bailey, C. Gates and J. Hunt. Hood River nine—Ivons, Wendorf, Castner, Rand, Stranahan, Luckey, Hansberry, Loy and Chase.

The case of Ed Martin, ex-deputy county clerk, charged with over-issuing county scrip, was called by Judge Bradshaw this morning. At the last term of court Mr. Martin's attorney, A. S. Bennett, interposed a demurrer to the complaint which was overruled. Today the judge withdrew that ruling, and announced that on Friday next he would hear argument upon the motion. Should the demurrer be not sustained it is thought the trial of the case will proceed forthwith.—Mountaineer.

There is some talk of the Third regiment holding an encampment at Hood River during one of the summer months. Nothing has been definitely settled however. Hood River would be an ideal place to hold an encampment, but we doubt whether the finances of the state will permit any encampment this year. Such an occasion would be of great benefit to the organization.—Chronicle.

DON'T STOP TOBACCO

IT'S INJURIOUS TO STOP SUDDENLY and don't be imposed upon by buying a remedy that requires you to do so, as it is nothing more than a substitute. In the sudden stoppage of tobacco you must have some stimulant, and in most cases the effect of the stimulant, be it opium, morphine, or other opiates, leaves a far worse habit contracted. Ask your druggist about BACO-CURO. It is purely vegetable. You do not have to stop using tobacco with BACO-CURO. It will notify you when to stop and your desire for tobacco will cease. Your system will be as free from nicotine as the day before you first took your first chew or smoke. An iron-clad written guarantee to absolutely cure the tobacco habit in all its forms, or money refunded. Price $1.00 per box, or 3 boxes (30 days' treatment and guaranteed cure), $2.50. For sale by all druggists, or will be sent by mail upon receipt of price. SEND SIX TWO-CENT STAMPS FOR SAMPLE BOX. Booklets and proofs free. Eureka Chemical & Mfg. Co., La Crosse, Wis.

Office of the Pioneer Press Company, C. W. Hornick, Supt. ST. PAUL, MINN., Sept. 7, 1894.
Eureka Chemical and Mfg. Company, La Crosse, Wis.—Dear Sirs: I have been a tobacco user for many years, and during the past two years have smoked fifteen to twenty cigars regularly every day. My whole nervous system became affected, until my physicians told me I must give up the use of tobacco for the time being, at least. I tried the so-called "Keely Cure," "No-To-Bac," and various other remedies, but without success, until I accidentally learned of your "Baco-Curo." Three weeks ago today I commenced using your preparation, and today I consider myself completely cured. I am in perfect health, and the horrible craving for tobacco, which every inveterate smoker fully appreciates, has completely left me. I consider your "Baco-Curo" simply wonderful, and can fully recommend it to you very truly,

Arlington—E. P. Green.
About 25 lay members, representing nearly every charge in the district, were present. Reports received show a good growth in membership in most of these charges. Despite the hard times, two churches have been built since the annual conference. Another is under way, while in several charges improvements in church and parsonage, of from $1 to $150 valuation, were reported. Besides the routine business of the conference a number of papers of greater or less ability were presented. The one receiving the greatest commendation was from our former fellow citizen, Criss Nickelsen, on "The Needs of a Young Preacher." Dr. T. B. Ford of Seattle gave four able and instructive lectures on the different phases of a preacher's life. The case of W. W. Gregory, the preacher at Lexington, came up on the report of the committee on complaints. He was allowed to resign.
Resolutions were passed expressing gratefulness to the chairman, R. C. Moter, P. E., and the secretary, E. P. Green, for their faithfulness; to T. B. Ford, D. D., whose lectures found a warm place in the hearts of the members of the conference; also, to Rev. S. Davis of Seattle; to the good people of Hood River, whose homes were open and hospitality shown; to the pastor and his people of the Congregational church for their kind hospitality shown; and to the pastors of Hood River for their untiring efforts to provide entertainment for the conference. The evening sessions held in the Congregational church were devoted to preaching services led by different members. The conference adjourned Thursday evening to meet at The Dalles next year.
