A full line of gent's wool overshirts and wool underwear at the Racket Store. George McIntosh and H. N. Watt are taking down the big barn at Paradise farm.

Miss Grace Keywood of Cascade Locks visited Miss Grace Belding at L. E. Morse's last week. J. R. Galligan has about completed a two-story residence on his farm three miles southwest of town.

Mr. Joseph Frazier, who is an old hand at plastering and masonry work, is now ready for a job at his old trade. Friday evening, September 20th, the Crapper school will give a supper and entertainment to raise funds for a library.

Special meeting of Canby post, G. A. R., tomorrow at 3 o'clock. Business of importance and a full attendance requested. Any thing you need in the line of doors, windows, window glass, mouldings, thresholds, casings, etc., you will find at the Box Factory.

Mr. H. Prigge last week found a purse in the road containing money. Owner can have the same by calling at his house and proving property. Correspondents and others please remember that items of any length should be sent in Thursday morning, and not later than Thursday evening.

After the rain Thursday myriads of little toads about an inch in length were jumping about in the streets and yards of Hood River, all going southward. Tillett has 100 Lambert cherry trees for sale; every one having the stamp of the horticultural society, showing their genuineness. Also, all varieties of standard apples.

Miss Mary Frazier, who was visiting relatives at Hood River for two weeks, returned to Portland Tuesday. She will soon begin another term in the Fall school, with increase of salary to $75 per month. Stop and think one minute! Is it not reasonable that without rent to pay, I can sell doors, windows and all kinds of building material, paints and household furniture, and compete with any dealer in any city or town? S. E. BARTMESS.

The O. R. & N. Co., always alert to the welfare of their patrons, have placed on sale at principal stations a 1000-mile ticket at the rate of three cents per mile; good one year from date of sale, and good for passage over the rail and water lines of their system. O. C. BARTMESS was down on the sand bar Tuesday morning and helped to draw in a seine for the fishermen, in which were 100 large salmon that would average, he says, over ten pounds. They had made three hauls equally as good before his arrival.

The heavy rain and mud of Wednesday showed the necessity for a sidewalk leading from the town to the new school house. It would be a hardship on the pupils from town to be compelled to wade through the mud of the state road all winter on their way to and from school. Lumber is cheap, and a good plank sidewalk could be built without much expense.

The Belmont Comedy company will give an entertainment at the Crapper school house, Friday night, September 13th. The programme will consist of farces, comic lectures, songs and instrumental music. The Belmont band will also furnish music. Of the proceeds, part will go to pay for the Crapper school organ and balance for the benefit of the band. Admission, 15c. Wm. J. Smith had an experience while at work in his box factory, the other day that he does not wish to repeat. He got caught in a shaft, and his clothing, with the exception of his shoes and socks, was ripped off of him in a twinkling. He managed to get hold of a post just in time, and held fast while the machinery did the rest. A few very slight bruises in several places on his body were received. After being "through the mill," Mr. Smith now sports a new suit of clothes.

Mr. A. V. Underwood passed through Hood River Monday on his way from Portland to his home on the John Day river. He is traveling by bicycle and is correspondent and solicitor for the Pacific Farmer. Mr. Underwood had with him samples of the Pacific prune and Golden prune. The first named is about double the size of the Italian prune, and he says it has a good flavor. The tree is not hardy in the Willamette valley, but is said to do well in Eastern Hewitt.

J. P. Hewitt, insurance adjuster for the Home Mutual of San Francisco, came to Hood River Monday and after inquiring into the loss of Mrs. G. E. Woodward, whose residence was burned the Monday before, allowed her the full amount of insurance—$800. This company is represented here by L. E. Morse, our postmaster. The quick adjustment is a good recommendation for this old and reliable company.

By reading ordinance No. 13 in our another column, it will be seen that on city duns have made it unlawful for chickens and other fowls to run at large in the night time, and during the winter months they must be kept up in the daytime. This will protect related pedestrians from fowl attacks at night and our city gardens from the ravages of the hens while the snow is on the ground.

Peter Kopke last week brought to town several samples of prunos simoni, of which fruit he has several trees. Mr. Kopke does not think much of this fruit, and advises others to plant sparingly of it. The fruit does well on his land, but he considers it worthless for use. It might do to sell on its looks, but judging from the sample given us to taste, it is not as good as the peach plum, which we consider about the poorest fruit raised in Oregon.

Captain J. H. Dukes met with a painful accident last week. While feeding a circular saw in the box factory, a knot flew from a board and struck him in the eye. He did not experience much pain at the time and expected his eye would be all right in a day or two, but the other eye then became affected and was so painful that he was obliged to quit work for a few days.

Miss Della Reed came down from Heppner Wednesday and will visit for a couple of weeks with her relatives in Hood River. She has been attending school and teaching in the Heppner neighborhood for two years past.

The Mountaineer says the sale of property for delinquent taxes for the years 1892 and 1893, which was to have taken place last Monday, was postponed till next Monday on account of lack of bidders.

Joseph Frazier, jr., has bought five acres of his uncle, Simon Frazier, at Belmont. He is now engaged, with his father, in planting one acre and a quarter of it to strawberries.

The Umalla House, at The Dalles, celebrated its 32d anniversary last week. Col. Simont, its founder, who probably enjoys a more extensive acquaintance than any man in the north-west, is still at the desk.

The big rise in the price of nails, stoves and other iron goods has not affected the price of stove pipe at Dallas'. He is putting up stove pipe for 20 cents a joint.

Will Langille of Cloud Cap Inn is in town. The fall salmon run commenced Monday. Steel enameled ware at the Racket Store. School in district 2 will begin Monday. Dr. Elliot went to Portland Monday.

Unpaped, unknown or new varieties of fruit to be sent to the nursery-men's exhibit at Salem to be named should be left with E. L. Smith before Sept. 21st. All such fruit will be sent or taken to Salem free of charge and given its right name. Six specimens of each variety are sufficient.

H. N. Wait has received from his ranch at Mt. Hood several heads of cabbage, some of which measure nearly 12 inches across. They were grown within six miles of the snow line of Mt. Hood.

It commenced raining in this valley Wednesday morning, and there was a steady down pour for 24 hours. The ground is now wet to a sufficient depth to start the plow and make good fall pasturage.
