apples from the orchards of Capt. H.C. Cook and J. W. Overbaugh of White Salmon. The display made by these gentlemen at the fair would be hard to beat.

Templeton and Lindsay of Belmont had a fine display of corn and vegeta-bles at the fair. Mr. Gessling of Bel-mont exhibited three squashes grown on one vine within twelve inches of on one vine within twelve inches of ance than even the superior quality of committee on fire and water, and were each other that weighed probably fifty Oregon fruit itself. Hood kiver can advised to consider these with such pounds each.

Hon, E. L. Smith went to Portland Tuesday to place Hood River's exhibit in the exposition. He took with him 28 boxes of apples, pears, quinces, etc.; one box of corn; one bale of corn on stalk, tobacco, hemp, sorghum, etc.; and a crate of pepper plants, all of which will fill 100 feet of space in the exposition.

The mail arrives from Mt. Hood at 10 o'-elock A. M. Wednesdays and Saturdays; de-partis 'he same days at noon. For Chenoweth, leaves at 8 A. M.; arrives at 6 P. M. Saturdays. Mr. John Michell, late of The Dalles Times-Mountaineer, has returned from his visit East and taken up his residence in Portland.

O. L. Stranahan is putting up shut-ters to the windows and doors of Blowers' store, to make it a little harder for burglars to get in. We are pleased to note that among the 85 exhibitors of fruit at the fair there are 67 subscribers to the GLACIER. Any of our subscribers having a fresh cow for sale should see G. J. Gessling.

Band Comedy Company.

The Band Comedy Co. will give an entertainment at the armory tonight, with the following programme:

Opening, "We've Come," followed by the comic plays, "Book Agent," "The Tailor," "Twin's Quarrel," "Selling the Elephant," etc., and closing with some neat contortion tumbling and rope-walking feats, by Roy Shoemaker, Lew Isenberg and Walter Isenberg. The programme will be interspersed with band music. The proceeds will be used to purchase much-needed instruments for our band, and we solicit your patronage as much for the object as for the merit of the entertainment.

The preachers and the professor have since been sore and limp from the effects of their long tramp, while Uncle Oliver is as lively as a cricket.

Prather & Coe's real estate and insurance office has been moved one door west in the Prather building, and the room vacated by them is now occupied by the Hood River library. The num-ber of books in the library had become too great for the room at the disposal of Mr. Nickelsen, the librarian, and his store room being connected with the library by a doorway, it will be as con-venient to him as heretofore.

Capt. Blowers has sold the old John Divers ranch, containing 320 acres, to Prof. P. A. Snyder. This ranch con-tains some of the best farming and fruit lands in the valley. The price paid was $15 an acre. Mr. Snyder will put in 25 or 30 acres of wheat this fall, and will also set several acres to apple trees this fall and in the spring. We congratulate the professor in the good selection he has made in purchasing a ranch.

The Dalles Fair.

THE DALLES, October 9 .- Editor GLACIER: We are here and have just finished putting out our display of apples and pears. Have entered 69 plates for $45 worth of premiums, and stand a good show of winning at least enough to pay expenses. The exhibit looks very well and spectators are well ever seen before. It has certainly been a move in the right direction to have the fruit and vegetable and other pavilion exhibits here in town rather than up at the fair grounds. Still, the attendance is not nearly what it should be, with so good an exhibit and such excellent orchestra music.

I drove out with Mr. Schanno to drier, and then stopped and saw the Koontz & Maier's drier. They have a fine dried fruit exhibit at the fair.

Although very busy, I will endeavor to have all orders for premiums ready by Saturday. H. C. BATEHAM.
