Sociable at Mrs. Crowell's.

EDITOR GLACIER: The Congregational church sociable held at the res-idence of Mrs. George P. Crowell was largely attended. Mrs. Crowell is a superior hostess and makes every one feel the genial air which pervades her home. She arranged a very entertain-ing programme and was ably assisted by ladies of the church. Mrs. Wood-ward gave a recitation ("The Night of the Charity Ball") and Mrs. LaFrance a reading ("The Widow Piper"). Both ladies were very cordially applauded. Miss Cook of Portland displayed care-ful culture and artistic expression in tional church sociable held at the resful culture and artistic expression in her rendition of "Money musk." Mr. McCoy as an accompanyist would have been excellent if he had not been such a rapt and dazed admirer of the lady before him, who wooed from his violin bow such energetic tones of encouragement. The tableau of the "Old woman who lived in a shoe" was very pretty and the bright children were a whole-some delight to all. Mr. M. Willis met with a painful accident Tuesday. He was up in a pine tree, 50 feet from the ground, engaged in cutting the top, when he made a miss lick with his axe and cut his leg below the knee. When he got to the ground his shoe was filled with blood. Rev. F. C. Krause happened along soon after and acted as surgeon in bind-ing up the wound. Mr. Willis is get-ting along all right, but the injury will keep him from work for several days.

Rev. J. L. Hershner spent a part of last week in Portland and was in the hands of specialists, receiving treat-ment for his eyes. They regard his as a stubborn and critical case, dwing to a pronounced rheumatic tendency. He will have to give his eyes absolute rest for a month or so. If there is not promise of improvement soon he will go to Chicago for freatment. The Con-gregational church has generously granted him a vacation for two months. He will endeavor to secure supplies for his pulpit.

Last week we received a copy of the Portland Illustrated Annual, which this year is in the form of a magnifi-cent souvenir of the public schools of Portland. The annual contains fine half tone portraits of every teacher in the Portland public schools, which are very lifelike, judging from the pictures of those with whom we are acquainted. The book is the work of the printing house of Peaslee Bros., and the type, presses, ink, etc., were supplied by the A merican Type Founders Co. of Port-

A Bachelor's Club.

HOOD RIVER, Feb. 11, 1896.-Editor GLACIER: Two or three years ago, and up to the present time, there have been no less than thirty bachelors residing in the neighborhood lying between Indian creek and Hood river, and bounded by Jones' place on the north and Barrett school house at the other end. Many a high old time have we had together. Two or three houses were considered headquarters, where games and music were indulged where glines and populistic literature was always ou hand. Sleigh rides allowed. The debating society at the Barrett school house was a favorite re-sort. Different names were suggested for the organization, such as "Hood River Spud Boilers' Association" and "Rail Gulch Bachelors' Fraternity," but no one was definitely decided upon.
