

Hood River Glacier.

FRIDAY, MARCH 27, 1896.

Mr. Henry Prigge of Hood River valley has an apple orchard of one and one quarter acres, mostly Spitzenbergs and Baldwins, planted out in 1887. His net returns from this orchard for 1895 were $417. Last fall he was offered $1.25 a box for his whole crop by a Portland firm. Knowing that apples were a full crop everywhere last year, he thought favorably of the offer and commenced to ship his apples to the Portland firm. It was not long till complaints began coming that his apples were not properly packed, too many little ones, etc. Mr. Prigge knew he had the best of apples and that the packing was all right, as he had done the work himself, and concluded to make a small shipment to the commission house of J. M. Hixson & Co., Seattle. His returns from the latter house were so much better than those received from Portland that he kept on sending his apples to Seattle, and he says the kick of the Portland merchant was worth $75 to him. During the season of highest freight he shipped 69 boxes of his apples to Seattle, which netted him $107 45. His last check was received last Saturday, when the firm took occasion to write as follows:

Mr. H. Prigge, Hood River, Or.—Dear Sir: We hope the above will prove satisfactory. I must say I have never handled the same amount of apples from one man that was more universally good and honestly put up than yours, and I am only sorry you have no more. Buyers are coming constantly for more, and when we tell them there are no more for this year, they are hardly willing to take any others for fancy. We are getting as high as $5 for four-tier Oregon pippins. Accept our kindest regards.

J. M. HIXSON & Co.

Senator Carter and his free-silver adherents in the senate have had a conference at Washington with representatives from the Manufacturers' Association, and it is said the latter are disposed to ally themselves with the free-silver element of the republicans and try to force the nomination of free-silver candidates at St. Louis, or, if not successful, to bolt and nominate Don Cameron for president and Senator Teller for vice president. This threatened combination is said to be causing no little uneasiness among the leaders of the party in the East. President Dolan of the Manufacturers' Club of Philadelphia favors the scheme. Dolan, it is said, furnished more than 75 per cent of the campaign fund of 1892. The platform of this combination will declare for protection and free silver. Protectionists of Pennsylvania seem ready to follow Don Cameron, and defend their advocacy of free coinage on the ground that it is a logical conclusion of the theory of protection.

Malcolm Moody of The Dalles seems to be the strongest man outside of Portland for the nomination for congress on the republican ticket in the second district. The returns from the primaries show that he is the choice of his party in Wasco county. In addition to a solid delegation in the district convention from this county, he is expected to have the support of those from Crook, Sherman and Gilliam counties. The 48 votes of Multnomah county in the convention will likely be divided between John F. Caples and Charles H. Carey, the latter the candidate of the free-silver republicans.

By courtesy of Secretary of State Kincaid, we have received a copy of the state census of Oregon, giving the enumeration of the inhabitants and industrial products, as taken by the county assessors last year. A comparison annex shows that the population of the state has about doubled since the last census was taken by the assessors in 1885. The population in 1885 was 187,096, and in 1895 it was 362,513.

The Hood River friends of J. H. Cradlebaugh are talking of him for the nomination for county judge on the democratic ticket. If nominated and he accepts, his name will not be last when the returns come in.

If the republicans turn down Ellis and Hermann and elect a legislature favorable to Mitchell, there will be no gain for sound money. The lower house of congress is safe for sound money; it is in the senate that the silver-mine owners hold the balance of power.

"The Blue Mountain Eagle" is the new heading of the paper once known as the Long Creek Eagle.

Wasco county populist convention will meet at The Dalles April 18th. Primaries on the 11th.

Letter from Alaska.

Mr. A. B. Jones of Hood River received the following letter from his son Frank, dated at Juneau, Alaska, March 15th:

Well, I am here in Juneau at last, after being six days on the road. The Alki is a very slow boat and was heavily loaded with freight and passengers, besides having to make three long and tedious stops. We left Seattle at 12 m. on Sunday and got here at 11 a. m. Saturday. We were forced to take steamer and the fare was very coarse and rough, and there was of course a lot of kicking done. Juneau is quite a place, built on a slope at the foot of a very high, steep mountain. The streets are not regular nor the building anything to speak of, as a rule, although there are a few three-story buildings in town. They are not fancy buildings. Every business nearly is represented here—two opera houses, numberless saloons, stores, three newspapers, two banks and a number of hotels and restaurants go to make up the town. At first sight the town does not appear to be any larger than Hood River, but there is such a large floating population that the streets present a busy appearance all the time. Sunday is not observed here; everything being open on that day.

We found a good deal of snow here, and they say they have had a very hard winter, the snow being four feet deep and the thermometer 15 degrees below zero. Of course, 15 below does not seem to be very cold, but Juneau being at sea level, they feel it more here than they do 50 miles inland. Today is as fine a spring day as one would wish to see, the sun shining warm and pleasant and the snow going fast down here at sea level. Some here say there may be six weeks of snowing and raining yet.

The steamer was so long delayed that Packard got tired waiting for us and started on Saturday. If we have good luck we will overtake his party of five. Our party here is now nine strong, and some more talking of starting with us. We are trying to get a small schooner, but may take Indians. The Indians have boats that will carry from five to ten tons. If the wind should blow out of the Taku, we will have to wait till it stops, for when it blows out of there it is like a hurricane, and large steamers can not cross the mouth of the river. If we do not go tomorrow, some of us are going over to see the Treadwell mine, which is across the bay and a little farther down, but in plain view of Juneau. It runs 240 stamps, and the Mexican, a few hundred yards below the Treadwell and south of the same company, runs 80 stamps and are putting in 60 more, which came up on the same boat we did, making 380 stamps for this company. There are mills on this side of the channel, running 150 stamps; so a good many men find employment here. Wages run from $2 a day for shovellers up to $3 and $4 for experienced men. This includes board. A man can get a job at Treadwell at most any time.

Everybody is going either to Cook's Inlet or the Yukon country over Chilkoit Pass. If you come up, don't start with less than $300, for you will need it; and don't buy anything, clothing, grub or anything unless it is tent and sleds, for you can get everything almost as cheap here as you can in Portland. Dried fruit is $1 per sack, bacon 10 and 11 cents, flour is cheap, and you can get just exactly what you want here in the clothing line. The only thing that is high here is whisky, 25 cents a drink; shaving is 25 cents and hair cutting 50 cents. Otherwise, prices here are much the same as in Portland. We are staying at a restaurant here for 25 cents a meal, and they furnish a bunk for us to spread our blankets in free of charge. We get the best meals for 25 cents I ever got in my life anywhere. Today (Sunday) we had oyster soup and a fine chicken dinner.

We have nearly everything bought and packed and will try to get away the 16th or 17th, if the wind is favorable. We have to go down the coast seven miles, then up the Taku Inlet to solid ice, probably about 25 or 30 miles. Some going in have outfits weighing 900 pounds and are taking blocks and tackle to haul them up the Chilkoit mountains. My outfit will weigh less than 600 pounds. I have 400 pounds of grub, and we will try to haul in our own outfit.

Now, I don't think there will be any use of your trying to get a letter to me, for if you write the letter will only lay here in Juneau until a messenger goes in or the party comes out in June. If you should write, be sure to direct your letters in care of Koelber & James, and they will send them in at the first opportunity. We will probably not be able to send any letters out for at least two months; so if you do not hear from me, do not worry about me. If anybody asks how I like the country, tell them I like the looks of it fine. It looks like there was plenty of mineral here, and there is plenty of game. We passed thousands and thousands of ducks and other water fowl. I forgot to mention that Juneau has water works, electric lights and telephones. I will mail this letter the last thing before leaving and may add more. You will find it rather mixed up, but I have been interrupted about forty times. I am now in a great hurry and have no time to give any more particulars. We go in an hour (16th).

Good Words for J. W. Morton.

Klickitat Republican.
Mr. J. W. Morton of Hood River, a former schoolmate of the editor of the Republican, has announced himself as a candidate for representative from Wasco county. "Joe" is a sound republican. He possesses unusual ability in debate, for we have tried him. By the by, we discussed the tariff question once up in McMinnville, when it seemed "Joe" wanted a duty to the skies, while the writer pleaded for a horizontal reduction. Since, we have learned better things, and now believe "Joe" was right. This is going to be a good year for Morton republicans. The time has come when political cowards will not be tolerated. The men who speak out boldly, announcing where they stand and may be found, are the ones who are going to represent the people. Mr. J. W. Morton has recently defined his position in the Hood River GLACIER in no uncertain tones. The Legislature of Oregon composed of such men as J. W. Morton would be an honor and great credit to the state.

Col. and Mrs. N. B. Sinnott arrived home Monday, after a visit of two months in California. Both are much improved in health, and report having spent a most enjoyable winter in Los Angeles. The colonel's health is so much improved that it will be surprising indeed if he does not spend his future winters in California.—Mountain-ewe.

Not to Be Trifled With.

From Cincinnati Gazette.
Will people never learn that a "cold" is an accident to be dreaded, and that when it occurs treatment should be promptly applied? There is no knowing where the trouble will end; and while complete recovery is the rule, the exceptions are terribly frequent, and thousands upon thousands of fatal illnesses occur every year ushered in by a little injudicious exposure and seemingly trifling symptoms. Beyond this, there are today countless invalids who can trace their complaints to "colds," which at the time of occurrence, so concerned, and were therefore neglected.—When troubled with a cold use Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. It is prompt and effective. 50 cent bottles for sale by William & Brosius.
