London Purple

Is chiefly arsenite of lime, a residue obtained in the manufacture of aniline dyes. It does not contain quite so much arsenic as Paris green, and by being a by-product, it is not so constant in its constitution. According to an analysis by the chemist of the U. S. department of agriculture, it has 43 per cent arsenous oxide. A later analysis by the chemist of the Vermont agricultural experiment station, it has:

Arsenic (arsenous ox.) parts	48.73
Lime	24.50
Iron and alumina	1.51
Sulphuric acid	.41
Nitrogen	1.5
Moisture	3.37

Paris green and London purple are both dangerous poisons and are peculiarly in the province of the pharmacist, for he is the poison retailer and usually the only one having the facilities for guaranteeing their quality. We keep only the best qualities.

WILLIAMS & BROSIUS.

The Discovery Saved His Life.

Mr. G. Cailloutte, druggist, Beaversville, Ill., says: "To Dr. King's New Discovery I owe my life. Was taken with la grippe and tried all the physicians for miles about, but of no avail and was given up and told I could not live. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in my store, I sent for a bottle and began its use, and from the first dose began to get better, and after using three bottles was up and about again. It is worth its weight in gold. We won't keep store or house without it." Get a free trial at the Hood River Pharmacy.

Republican Primaries.

The republican primaries were largely attended. There was a lively contest over the election of delegates to attend the county convention tomorrow. The A. P. A. entered into the fight for the first time in Hood River and were successful, it is said, in electing 7 out of the 9 delegates in the two precincts.

In West Hood River precinct the meeting was held by M. P. Isenberg, who made a neat little speech before calling for nominations for chairman of the meeting. E. E. Hayes was chosen chairman and C. J. Savage secretary.

The following candidates were placed in nomination and received votes as follows:

L. N. Blowers, 58; M. P. Isenberg, 54; E. Locke, 47; O. L. Stranahan, 50; J. A. Soesbe, 41; J. A. Wilson, 42; T. A. Templeton, 42; W. A. Langelie, 31; M. F. Sloper, 27; M. B. Potter, 30; Fred Bailey, 20; C. E. Markham, 28; E. E. Savage, 22.

Blowers, Isenberg, Locke, Soesbe and Stranahan were declared elected, and there being a tie between Wilson and Templeton, another ballot was taken and resulted: Wilson, 40; Templeton, 35.

In East Hood River precinct the meeting was held in the Mt. Hood hotel and was called to order by Committeeman E. S. Olinger. N. C. Evans was elected chairman and M. H. Nickelsen secretary. The following candidates were placed in nomination and received votes as follows:

E. S. Olinger, 27; J. S. Harbison, 20; F. H. Button, 24; T. R. Coon, 22; W. J. Smith, 16; P. Nesson, 18.

Hood, last week, to determine the exact distance from the depot to the Inn and points along the route. An aneroid barometer was carried and the elevation of each mile above sea level recorded. Distances and elevations were noted as follows:

The boys report the snow in the vicinity of the Inn about seven feet deep and quite soft, with good prospects of an early season.

The Frankton Literary.

The Frankton literary society debated the following question at their meeting last Friday night: "Resolved, That the commission men are a detriment to the fruit growers of Hood River valley." The subject was well handled by the speakers on both sides. Mr. W. J. Campbell led the affirmative and Mr. E. Locke the negative. The judges decided by a vote of 2 to 1 that the negative had made the best argument. The debate was very instructive, as the able leaders on both sides presented many new facts of interest and instruction to the fruit growers.

At their next meeting, the society will debate the question, "Resolved, That the fruit growers of Hood River have reached the limit of progression in their line." Mr. Wm. Isenberg will lead the affirmative and W. J. Campbell the negative.

Mrs. Reis of Mt. Hood was the guest of Mrs. H. W. Watt, Sunday, and left for Portland on Monday to visit her daughter and son.

All last winter Mr. Geo. A. Mills of Lebanon, Conn., was badly afflicted with rheumatism. At times it was so severe that he could not stand up, straight, but was drawn over on one side. "I tried different remedies without relief," he says, "until about six months ago I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Pain Balm. After using that for three days my rheumatism was gone and has not returned since." For sale by Williams & Brosius.

The New Consumption Cure.

During the past ten years scientific investigators in the medical profession have been endeavoring to discover a specific cure for consumption. Among the active European workers, Pasteur, Koch and Behring have taken the lead, and though the absolute specific has not yet been discovered, certain facts concerning this baneful disease have been established, which has enabled the profession to take a long stride in advance of the old methods of treatment. The most important fact, which is now established beyond dispute, is that consumption or tuberculosis is caused by a specific germ, a minute form of animal life, which, having taken its habitat in certain tissues of the human body, most commonly in the lungs, causes the destruction of those tissues. The products of this destruction, when absorbed into the blood, are intensely poisonous and the train of symptoms which have become but too well known—cough, fever, night sweats, wasting away of the entire body, and finally death.

All diseases, when firmly established, has always been considered incurable. It is causing more deaths annually among the human family than any other cause. Consumption more for its victims the shining lights of the girl just budding into womanhood, the man beginning his business career, the young wife and mother. The strong men of the medical profession have been fighting this monster for ages. But they have been fighting in the dark. Not knowing the cause of the real disease, they have been only combating the symptoms.

The cause is now known. Along the lines laid down by Koch, Pasteur and Behring, decided advance toward victory is being made. Within the last few months Dr. Cyrus Edson, a prominent regular physician of New York, has presented to the profession a remedy which he has by painstaking investigation found to be decidedly effective in the treatment of consumption.

Dr. Edson discovered as a constituent in some of the natural secretions of the body a substance called phenol—a substance long known to the profession to be an active disinfectant. He discovered further that this constituent was enormously increased in consumption and other forms of wasting disease. This led him to conclude that phenol is selected by nature itself as an antidote to bacterial poisoning.

By further investigation and experiment, Dr. Edson has produced a preparation containing phenol, which may be injected into the tissues of the body, where, becoming absorbed into the blood, it augments the effect of nature so effectively to destroy the germ, check the disease, and in many instances promote a rapid and positive cure of the patient. No harmful effects follow the injection. The operation is painless. In cases where the disease has not advanced too far, relief of cough, fever and night sweats is noted almost from the first injection. Improvements go on rapidly to a permanent cure.

Dr. Edson does not claim that his preparation is a positive specific for consumption, but he does claim that many cases of the disease have been already cured by himself and others using his new remedy.

Asptolin, as Edson's preparation is called, is assuredly the most effective remedy for consumption in the hands of the medical profession. It is also a positive cure for Dr. Edson to be a positive specific for the cure of la grippe and malaria.

How to Keep Posted.

To be kept thoroughly well posted on the news of such an eventful year as 1896 promises to be, a person should read the columns of a live, wide-awake metropolitan paper besides the county or local newspaper. Now is the proper time to begin a yearly subscription, which will cover the presidential campaign, the great outcome of all the wars and the outcome of the national and international news. If intending subscribers will send a word of advice they will send $1 to the Twice-a-Week Republic. They will receive in return twice every week for a year a copy of the spiciest, newest and most entertaining newspaper in the country. The Twice-a-Week Republic will make a specialty of giving all the political news and speeches on both sides and at the same time keep up the very entertaining departments it has always contained. A big interest in the news is also becoming so interested that only a daily metropolitan paper will meet their wants. The Daily and Sunday Republic has been reduced to only $4 a year or $3 for six months.
