

Hood River Glacier.

FRIDAY, APRIL 3, 1896.

Judge L. Henry returned Saturday night from the populist convention at Salem, which he attended as a delegate. The convention was composed of 300 members. Joseph Gaston was nominated for supreme judge. For congressman in the first district, W. S. Vanderberg of Coos; second district, Martin Quinn of Portland. Presidential electors—Harry Watkins, W. D. Hare, W. H. Spaug and M. L. Olmstead. The platform declares for free coinage; favors direct legislation; demands protection of American labor, the reduction of official salaries to correspond with the reduction of wages of labor, the abolition of fish traps and wheels and the re-enactment of the mortgage tax law, and favors the establishment of the initiative and referendum.

In about six weeks from this date, unless unusually cool weather intervenes, strawberries will begin to ripen and the work of picking and shipping to market will commence. There will be plenty of work for large families of half-grown children during the picking season, which lasts for about six weeks. Good pickers earn from $1 to $1.50 a day.

The Mountaineer learns that certain people of Dufur have determined to not allow the discussion of questions pertaining to Catholicism or A.P.A. in their city during the coming campaign, hence Mr. Gourlay will not lecture in that place as announced, he having been refused the use of a hall.

Now that the populists in state convention at Salem have declared for free silver and protection, if the free-silverites capture the republican convention next week, it will not be hard for the two parties to fuse. The populists then can endorse the populist platform and nominations and go home.

Hon. W. R. Ellis succeeded in getting the senate resolution appropriating $20,000 for immediate use at the Cascade Locks to pass the house, and when signed by the president this sum will be available for the completion of the locks.

Mr. W. H. Butts, who heads the republican county ticket, should have been satisfied with a nomination lower on the ticket—say for sheriff. His many friends would delight to vote for him for the latter office.

The county ticket nominated by the republicans is generally considered a good one. The democrats will nominate next week, then will come the populists, and we will have three full tickets in the field.

Senator Call Wednesday introduced a resolution in the senate proposing the immediate use of a United States naval force to protect Americans in Cuba from atrocities and for humane reasons in general.

The wedding of ex-President Harrison and Mrs. Dimmick is announced to take place next Monday, at St. Thomas' church, New York city.

During February the arrival of immigrants at New York aggregated 11,822, an increase of about 65 per cent over the arrivals for February, 1895.

April 1st there was a complete snow blockade on many railroads in Wisconsin, with drifts from 10 to 20 feet deep.

Good Advice in Tree Planting.

How true is the statement of experienced men that on general principles it is not good policy to plant more trees than one can care for properly. A much smaller number managed in the best manner would be a better investment than twice or thrice as many which cannot for any reason be well cared for in all respects. To furnish the ground, prepare it for planting, purchase the trees and plant them—and by so doing so far exhaust one's resources as not to be able to give them the proper necessary cultivation and fertilizers—will only result in failure, or such a moderate degree of success as to furnish very little profit or satisfaction.—Pacific Farmer.

Gold Production.

Mr. L. O. Smith, formerly a member of the Swedish parliament, has sent to the director of the mint a letter which gives some remarkable figures as to the prospective increase in the gold production of the world, dealing more particularly with its increase from the South African gold fields. Mr. Smith is a student of political economy, and is also regarded as a mining expert. He says that by the end of the century the production of the mines at Witwatersrand will amount to $125,000,000 yearly, and that the quantity which can be taken out during the coming fifty years will be $3,500,000,000, or about as much as the world's stock of gold at the present time.

This statement, confirming previous estimates, possesses an unusual degree of importance, as affecting future economic conditions. Some writers on the subject, of more or less note, have declared that the quantity of gold had been gradually used till the earth would in short time yield up no more. The argument was based on the theory that wherever gold is to be found, there civilization is to be found also, and that the existence of gold was readily discovered, since it is a treasure for which all men hunt.

With this additional increase in the supply, the question will arise whether or not the effect may be to cause silver and gold to come closer to each other in value, and this would most assuredly be the result if silver were to become all scarce. Whatever be the result, the increase of gold production in all parts of the world is remarkable and important.—St. Louis Republic.

Republican County Convention.

The republican county convention at The Dalles last Saturday drew a large attendance, and the nominations, except for coroner, were all warmly contested. J. M. Patterson, chairman of the county central committee, was made temporary chairman and L. N. Blowers of Hood River secretary, and after the reports of the committees, these officers were made the permanent officers of the convention. The convention declared for M. A. Moody for coroner by adopting a motion that the chair appoint a committee of four to confer with Mr. Moody and select the delegates to the district convention. The chair appointed J. G. Day, M. J. Anderson, M. P. Iseuberg and John Grant, who selected as delegates to the district and state conventions the names of J. G. Day, M. T. Nolan, J. M. Patterson, E. L. Smith, F. W. Jones, George Johnston and A. E. Lake. The report being adopted, these men were declared duly elected. In accordance with the report of the committee on order of business, the nominations commenced with the office of coroner, and the ticket was completed in the following order:

- Coroner, W. H. Butts of The Dalles.
 - Surveyor, J. B. Galt of Tygh.
 - Assessor, W. H. Whipple of Dufur.
 - School Superintendent, C. L. Gilbert of The Dalles.
 - Treasurer, C. L. Phillips of The Dalles.
 - Sheriff, T. J. Driver of Wamlie.
 - Clerk, A. M. Kelsay of The Dalles.
 - County Judge, Robert Mays of The Dalles.
 - Commissioner, D. S. Kimsey of Antelope.
- Hood River asked only the nomination for county judge, but got nothing, except that Hon. E. L. Smith was selected as delegate to the state and district conventions. There were several candidates for county judge. Capt. Blowers kept the lead for the first two ballots, when T. A. Hudson and Wm. Floyd withdrew their names, leaving Robert Mays and Capt. Blowers in the field. The third and last ballot resulted: Robert Mays 33, Capt. Blowers 34, Floyd 3, and Mays was declared the nominee. No other Hood River name was placed in nomination for any office, unless we can claim Mr. C. L. Gilbert as a Hood River citizen. Mr. Gilbert received a handsome vote in the convention and was elected over two competitors on the first ballot.
- Saturday evening the McKinley club of The Dalles held a ratification meeting in the court house, at which M. P. Iseuberg and M. A. Cook were called upon to speak. Mr. Cook was introduced by Chairman Fred Wilson as "Col. Sinnott of Hood River" and gave the audience his speech on the silver question. It was the best speech of the evening. M. P. Iseuberg was at his best and made a rousing speech. He pictured the horrors of "free trade" under the present administration and dwelt upon the beauties of protection to come in the next under McKinley in such glowing terms that even democrats in the audience almost forgot for the moment that the manufacturer is protected under the present tariff above the rates afforded him under the war tariffs. But the best speech we listened to during our trip to the convention as spectator was delivered in the cars Sunday morning to the returning Hood River delegates by Mr. Dick Fisher of Mosier. Mr. Fisher seemed to have a large-sized knife for the ticket, from corner down to congressman. It was his proud boast that during his voting career of twenty years he had never scratched a republican ticket. This was the first time we ever attended a republican convention in Wasco county. We found that things went off about the same as when the unfettered democracy meet in convention at The Dalles. The Umatilla house was the headquarters for the wire-pullers, and the saloon did a rushing business, just the same as when democrats hold forth.

Willis Brown's Circular.

HOOD RIVER, Or., March 31, 1896.—EDITOR GLACIER: My attention is called to a circular letter of Willis Brown's, entitled "A few facts for Hood River berry shippers—A few comparisons made without fear of successful contradiction." Like most people who undertake to know all about other people's business, he "knows a great many things which are not true."

As to all the facts concerning the Hood River Fruit Growers' Union and its business, the local growers here are invited to examine all records and files, which are complete, and see for themselves whether my report was correct or not. I have not sufficient cheek to ask you to review Mr. Brown's thirteen misstatements. But I would like to have any one who is foolish enough to believe any of the stuff contained in Mr. Brown's circular to come to me, and I will attend to this eminent liar as he deserves. Our growers here have had some chance to get acquainted with Mr. Brown's wonderful success as a manager and would-be savior of all the poor, ignorant fruit growers of the Northwest. I quote from a letter received from Cove, Oregon: "The Oregon fruit union of Portland played the deuce with us here last season; but, thank the Lord, they can't do so again." T. R. COON.

There was a rush at the sheriff's office in The Dalles Tuesday to pay taxes, to prevent them from going delinquent. The receipts were about $12,000. The taxes of the O. R. & N. Co., amounting to $9184.97, were received.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house, and his family has always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it if procurable. G. A. Dykeman, druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at the Hood River Pharmacy. Regular size 50c and $1.
