It will be an agreeable surprise to persons subject to attacks of bilious colic to learn that prompt relief may be had by taking Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedies. In many instances the attack was prevented by taking the remedy as soon as the first symptoms of the disease appear. 25 and 50 cent bottles for sale by Williams & Brosius.
Two special meetings were held Saturday by the voters of school district No. 4, Barrett district. The first, held at 10 o'clock, was for the purpose of voting on change of location of the school house, which proposition was defeated by two votes. The second, held at 1 o'clock, was for the purpose of bonding the district for $700 to build a new school house, which also was defeated by a vote of 22 to 16.
During the winter of 1893, F. M. Martin, of Long Reach, West Va., contracted a severe cold which left him with a cough. In speaking of how he cured it he says: "I used several kinds of cough syrup but found no relief until I bought a bottle of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, which relieved me almost instantly, and in a short time brought about a complete cure." When troubled with a cough or cold use this remedy and you will find it necessary to try several kinds before you get relief. It has been in the market for over twenty years and constantly grown in favor and popularity. For sale at 50 cents per bottle by Williams & Brosius.

The W. R. C. ladies met at the A. O. U. W. hall Saturday at half past 2 o'clock. The post met at the same hour and place and both had a very pleasant and as well as profitable session. Six new members were taken into the corps and applications for two more. The business being closed, the doors between the two halls were thrown open and a nice lunch was served, to which both post and corps did justice. All will join in saying they had a nice time. Canby corps is increasing in numbers quite rapidly, but still there is room for more. Come and join us, with the expectation of having a good time, and you will not be disappointed. W. R. C.
J. W. Booth of Wasco, an extensive wheat grower of Sherman county, was in Hood River during the week. After seeing some of our apples and interviewing a number of our strawberry growers, he thinks Hood River a good country to locate in. He says he will visit us again in the strawberry season, and if he does, the chances are he will soon afterwards become a citizen of Hood River.

Arbor day was observed at the Frankton school by Miss Iseberg's pupils. The school room was tastefully decorated with evergreens and wild flowers. The programme consisted of songs and recitations, appropriate to the occasion, and was well rendered by the little folk. They planted an elder tree and named it "Bret Harte."
A gentleman named Howell, who recently purchased the Berger place, near the Davenport mills, moved there on Tuesday. Col. Hartley hauled up the family and household goods. He reports that it was snowing lively while he was up on the mountain and continued snowing till he got down below Crappers.
A fire in F. E. Jackson's residence in the Champlin block, caused considerable excitement in that part of town Thursday. The ceiling near the stove pipe caught fire, but timely assistance from the neighbors soon put out the flames.

Mr. W. J. Baker went to Portland last week with 60 boxes of his Newtown pippin apples. He found ready sale for them, and bargained to sell the balance of his crop at $2 per box delivered at the Hood River depot.
The Cradlebaugh party of prospectors have not yet returned to civilization. Their long-continued absence in the mountains would indicate that they had struck something worth staying with.
The city treasurer on Wednesday paid off all the city warrants held by our citizens. Two men were kept busy in the treasurer's office—one to pay out and the other to receive.

There will be preaching in the Valley Christian church Sunday, both morning and evening, by Elder J. W. Jenkins. Sunday School and Christian Endeavor as usual. All are invited.

See Will Langille and sign the remonstrance against re-opening the Cascade reserve.

Populist convention tomorrow at The Dalles.
Light frost this morning.
East Side Items.
Saturday evening last, the officers of the library club, for the coming quarter, were inaugurated and took their places.
Road making is in progress. The wagon bridge at Ordway's has been raised four feet and the hills on either side graded down. Between the bridge and Sears' place the road has been straightened, but will not be opened until fall.
There is encouraging talk of opening a road from town south on the township line, following the river, obtaining an easy grade, shortening the distance and avoiding the long steep hill near town, where the road now is. Two offers have been made to do the surveying free of charge. This is a matter that will stand pushing. Good roads are the principal factors in a farmer's business and mean his success or failure.
There has been a number of large orchards set this spring on this side. Among the number are those of Messrs. Borchs, Kearns, Kopke, Johnson and Scobee.
The school house near Lage's will be rebuilt as soon as possible.
Council Proceedings.
Council met Tuesday evening, April 14th, at 8 o'clock p. m. Present—Mayor L. N. Blowers, Recorder G. T. Prather and Councilmen Bartmess, Henry, Watson, Dukes and Davidson.
The petition of H. C. Coe to lay water pipes in the streets was laid on the table, indefinitely.
The mayor called the attention of the council to the fact that there was money in the treasury which should be applied on indebtedness. On motion it was ordered that the recorder take up warrants outstanding and issue in their stead warrants on general fund.
Councilmen Davidson introduced an ordinance amending ordinance No. 7, raising license on dray and livery teams from $5 to $20 on first team and $1 for each additional team thereafter. On motion, ordinance was ordered enrolled.
Committee on streets and public property was instructed to prepare a suitable place to impound dogs. Adjourned.

Serials Accident.
A serious accident happened to Mrs. Rich on Wednesday. While driving to town with her son George and Mrs. T. A. Templeton and daughter, the back seat of the hack in which she and Mrs. Templeton were seated gave way and the two ladies were thrown out of the buggy. Mrs. Templeton was only slightly injured, but Mrs. Rich was seriously hurt and we learn has since been paralyzed from the hips down.

The Cascades Reserve.
To the President of the United States:
We, the undersigned, after years of observation and experience in the matter hereinafter referred to, desire to make protest against the reopening of the so-called Cascade timber reserve. The time has come when the preservation of the forests are of vital importance, and we believe that the reservation should be maintained, and that the government should take steps to prevent intrusion thereupon, especially by sheepmen. By retaining the moisture in the earth and by shading the snow and protecting it from the too free access of sun and air, the underbrush plays a more important part than even the larger trees. The large trees and the dense growth of forest plays an important part in the condensation of the moisture in the atmosphere and preserving the temperate and equal climate for which Oregon and Washington are noted. Experience shows that after the hills of any locality have been denuded of timber, the streams draining from those hills are subject to sudden rises and freshets upon every rainfall, and if small, are apt to go dry entirely during the summer, whereas, within the memory of many now living, it was formerly not so. The rainfall would produce only a gradual rise of the stream, and it would be maintained as a running stream to a certain extent throughout the entire year. The greatest enemy to the forest is undoubtedly forest fires, which destroy miles of timber annually and are utterly beyond control. If sheepmen are admitted into the forest, the risk of fires from accidental causes will be greatly increased by reason of the camp fires of the herders, and the indiscriminate use of matches for lighting their pipes and other purposes. After one of the great forest fires, the sun and air being admitted freely to the soil, grass and other succulent vegetation springs up throughout the burn, which becomes of easy access to the herds of sheep. So far as the mere selfish interest of the sheepman is concerned, it is not to his interest to check and discourage forest fires.
On general principles, we protest against opening the Cascade timber reservation to any one, because if one interest is admitted, another will clamor after the same right, and the greatest interest of the greatest number requires that no further or additional risks be taken of the destruction of the forest on these mountains, and we urge that either the department of the interior or the department of agriculture create a forestry commission with sufficient force to protect the forests on the public lands. Sheepmen admit that their flocks destroy undergrowth.
[The above remonstrance is being generally signed by citizens of Hood River and will be sent to President Cleveland. If any one desiring to sign it does not have the opportunity to do so, let him cut out the above, paste or pin it upon a blank sheet of paper, sign his name and get his neighbors to sign their names to it, and mail the same to W. A. Langille, Hood River, Oregon. Every citizen of the valley is deeply interested in this matter. Let every one sign the remonstrance.—Ed.]

A Sycamore Legend.
I have told you, you have heard it, in the shape of old traditions.
What the Indian does in winter, when the frost is in his whiskers, when the gas balls loom like mountains, when the furnace eats the coal up; months before the Easter carols, come to take the frightful cross off; when the Indian is in the cutting; just looks peevish at the big shows—shows of everything that cycles; but doesn't like to see a horse.
Years he for the bloody warpath, wants to whoop and roar and tear things—He is savage to the backbone.
When he spies the Easter lilies, catches glimpses of the cowslips, hears the merry redoubt piping, yokes of oxen cannot hold him; Peif and ornaments he's after, scalps enough to start a hair store, He's fishin' out of water.
His soul full of nameless woes, bidding him to deeds of daring, crying, "sick 'em, sick 'em more!"
Sycamore in the East and Sunday Republic; Sycamore will do his darndest.
Honest Injun! Honest Injun!
Williams & Brosius can show you a "Red Bird" in the Cascade mountains. A crimson rim "Sycamore" wheel. Also, Empires, $80, and Crawfords, $65. Every one fully warranted.

Keep Posted.
It behooves every citizen in city, town and country to keep posted on the stirring events that will occur in this country and the Old World within the next nine months. The results will affect all, personally, directly or indirectly. The election is the eye of the most exciting presidential campaign in its history. European politics are in a very complicated state, and the result will affect their discoveries to many lines that will produce startlingly new things.
To keep abreast with the world one should read, in addition to the local or county paper, a five metropolitan newspaper, such as the Twice-a-Week Republic of St. Louis. It is the most progressive journal in the United States, and in each issue it gives the latest political news of all parties in the field, the latest general news of the world and many valuable special features besides. This model newspaper is delivered twice a week by mail for only $1 a year, or less than one cent a copy.
The price of the Daily and Sunday Republic has recently been reduced to only 85a year by mail.
