

Hood River Glacier.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 21, 1896.

The New York Lumber Trade Journal says: "To a man who has no money there are several ways to get it, viz: (a) Beg it; (b) steal it; (c) borrow it; (d) secure it by gift; (e) trade something for it. And if all the silver in the world is coined into money you can not get a cent of it except by a, b, c, d or e, above referred to." If this be true, those of us too proud to beg, too honest to steal, with no credit, no rich relations and nothing to trade, are in a bad fix. We will have to go back on free silver if silver money is not to be free—silver for all who ask for it. The sub-treasury plan, with the government loaning out money to all who ask for it, even at 2 per cent interest, is better than this. "Free silver" will for our battle cry.

The name of the Oregon Railway and Navigation Company is now changed to the Oregon "Railroad" and Navigation Company. The old company went out of official existence last Monday at midnight and took on a new name and an improved way of being conducted. Receiver McNeill is now President McNeill. In a short time the affairs of the company in the courts will be cleared up and the new management will be in full charge.

Mr. Fred Wilson has resigned as editor of the Dalles Chronicle, in order, he says, to pay closer attention to other pursuits he has in view. Mr. Wilson has ably edited the columns of the Chronicle for the past 15 months, and his collaborators of his exchange list will regret to learn of his resignation.

Oregon's senior senator has kept very quiet since the national conventions. He has probably been on the fence and didn't know which way to jump. But he has finally come down on the McKinley side. Events will soon prove to him whether or not he jumped on the right side for Mitchell.

The executive committee of the national democratic party has issued an address calling for a national convention at Indianapolis, September 2d. The address defines true democracy and presents good reasons why democrats should not feel bound to support the Chicago nominees.

Li Hung Chang, the Chinese ambassador, with his suite, will arrive in New York Friday, August 28th, and will be received the following day at Governor's Island by President Cleveland. There will be a naval review and great showing of pomp.

A Pennsylvania paper says: "This campaign will be a 'buggy' affair. The 16 to 1 men are silver bugs, the prohibitionists are water bugs, the women suffragists are lady bugs, the sound money men are gold bugs, and the mugwumps are humbugs."

It has been discovered that the numerous free silver orators that have been traveling over the country, and of whom Oregon has had its share, are in the pay of a syndicate of silver mine owners.

The Opinion of a Woman.

EDITOR GLACIER: The more one reads on this money question the less they know. It seems to me that the gold bugs need one crutch and a cane and the silverites need two crutches, if not more—a lameness on both sides. It seems to me that the whole trouble with this nation today is that we have forgotten the very principles upon which this government was founded. We talk with pride about our Pilgrim fathers. Are we their sons? This great financial depression is the effect, not the cause. Now, if we find the cause and remove it the effect will take care of itself. If we want the respect of other nations we must not allow ourselves to be a chess board for them to gamble on. We allow them to come here to build up our lands, which should be held by actual settlers. We allow them to go on our produce, and last, but not the least, we sell our daughters to the sons of these men, and to our shame, we know some are sold too dearly. We have enough roguery and dishonesty in high places in our own country without inviting in the foreigners. We hear the cry of too little money—want more silver, and so on; but if there was more, with the present plan, there would be more for "bulls and bears" to operate with and make more millionaires. We have forgotten that God is a God of Nations. We have proved ourselves unworthy of the trust. We have as a nation failed to walk in His statutes and to keep his law.

Certificates Granted.

The board of examiners for teachers' certificates met at the Dalles last week. Besides the examination of teachers, the board had the work of examining the applicants for certificates at West Point and Annapolis. Twenty teachers were present for examination, of which number 14 were granted certificates, as follows: First Grade—Ida Omeg, Emma S. Roberts. Second Grade—Katie E. Davenport, Rachel Morgan, J. H. Hill, F. H. Isenberg, Lois A. Helm, Mabel Omeg, Mabel P. Riddell. Third Grade—Edith Lindsay, J. W. Britain, Edward D. Baldwin, Mamie A. Driver, H. C. Johnston. A candidate to receive a third grade county certificate, good for one year only in the county where issued, must make a general average of not less than 70 per cent in all branches, and must not fall below 40 per cent in any one branch.

A candidate to receive a second grade county certificate must pass examination in all branches required for a third grade certificate, and must make a general average in all branches of not less than 80 per cent, and must not fall below 60 per cent in any one branch. The candidate for this grade shall have taught successfully not less than three school months, and said certificate shall be good for two years.

A candidate to receive a first grade county certificate shall make a general average of not less than 90 per cent of all branches required, and shall not fall below 70 per cent in any one branch. This certificate is in force for three years.

Any person having received a first, second or third grade county certificate in this county shall not be granted a second paper of the same grade in the state, and said county certificates are good only in the county where issued.

A person having received a third grade county certificate and going to another county to teach, must pass examination for the next higher grade, or, second. Teachers are required to advance in the grade of certificates.

A teacher may teach one year under a third grade, two years under a second, and by failing to gain the required standing for a first grade, be dropped from the list of authorized teachers.

Oregon Industrial Exposition.

The exposition will open September 19th and close October 17th. B. S. Pague, chairman of the committee on state and county exhibits, is sending out the following circular:

PORTLAND, Or., August 18, 1896.—Dear Sir: The success of the exposition of 1895 was in a large degree due to the public spirit manifested by the citizens of the state and of Washington, shown in their contribution of products, which were so extensive as to almost bewilder all who saw them. The management of the exposition this year is practically the same as it was last year, and we feel that even greater success will attend our efforts this year than was obtained last. We cannot make it a success without the aid of the people of Oregon and Washington, and this is addressed you to ask for your co-operation.

We have five distinct departments and the one that you can help in is the one that you can help in. The department on mineral, which includes gold, silver, iron, copper, tin, lead, zinc and other ore, coal, building stone and articles manufactured out of the natural products of Oregon. The forestry department includes wood of all kinds and articles of any and every description made out of wood. Grain and grass department including everything under this head, including vegetables, hops, flour, corn, and all growing things and articles manufactured from the same. Fruit department, which will consist of fruits green, dried, canned, and fruits of all kinds in all forms. Fish department will include an exhibit of canned fish, fresh and dried fish, a hatchery of salmon, fishing tackle, etc. There will be a miscellaneous department of articles not mentioned in the above. Can we have your assistance and co-operation? We will transport all exhibits free of charge to this city, and such as you wish will be returned at the close of the exposition free of charge. Kindly write me, a postal or a letter, if I can expect your co-operation, and if you will co-operate, I shall further communicate with you and give directions for shipments of exhibits.

B. S. PAGUE, Chairman Com. State and County Exhibits.

Hood River's Wealth.

Times-Mountaineer. "Hood River valley" is the garden spot of the Northwest" is a common expression heard from everybody who visits that section, and this idea is certainly justified by the output of that wealth-producing and fertile valley. T. M. P. Isenberg explained to the T. M. reporter how the fruit products of Hood River serve as a sort of "endless chain" to draw money from the outside world. First comes the strawberry in May and June, being of a superior quality it goes to the remotest part of the country and commands fancy prices. Next the prunes and plum crop is harvested and adds another link to the chain; following this comes the blackberry, which is superior to any like berry in the world and is a source of additional revenue; the pear crop then comes in for attention and brings a whole lot of money to the producers; and last of all is the Hood River apple, which stands pre-eminently as the best seller on the market and draws money even from the "four hundred" of New York. Thus it is that the harvest season begins in May and lasts till November, and draws money from the entire country to the little valley in the mountains. The crop this year has been a little short in almost all lines, but it is sufficient to draw some $100,000 from the fruit consumers of the nation.

A Good Cherry Tree.

Several statements in regard to the value of the cherries produced by single trees this season have been published of late. And now comes Mr. Glafke, who resides in the outskirts of town, on the East Side, and deposits and saith, that from one Royal Ann tree on his premises, he, this season, picked and sold for shipment East, cherries for which he received $50.40, and further, that thereafter he sold more cherries from the same tree to the value of $8, making the value of the cherries produced by this tree, $58.40. The man who tells the first never did stand any show in the Williams valley.—Oregonian.

Senator Thurston publishes a card accepting the denial of W. J. Bryan that he was ever in the pay of the syndicate of silver mine owners.

Since 1878 there have been nine epidemics of dysentery in different parts of the country in which Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy was used with perfect success. Dysentery, when epidemic, is almost as severe and dangerous as Asiatic cholera. Heretofore the best efforts of the most skilled physicians have failed to check its ravages. This remedy, however, has cured the most malignant cases, both of children and adults, and under the most trying conditions, which proves it to be the best medicine in the world for bowel complaints. A young man named Mark Vanbiber was drowned in the Columbia at The Dalles, Thursday of last week.

Captured the "Bear" Alive.

WINANS, Or., Aug. 18, 1896.—Editor GLACIER: Last week a Dalles man was out hunting, and hearing an unusual noise in the brush in a canyon, crept up cautiously and satisfied himself that he had discovered an immense bear breaking the hazel brush and eating the nuts; but the man being afraid to shoot at the bear alone, hurried to camp to get a friend to come and shoot it. The friend happened to be out hunting in another direction, and W. Ross Winans was accidentally met with, who, knowing that his 14-year-old son was digging an irrigating ditch near where the man said he saw the bear, took his gun and went along to see that no harm befell the boy. Another one of the campers also went along to see the bear fight. All approached cautiously, and when the man pointed out the bear, which could easily be seen moving about among the bushes, Mr. Winans readily recognized his son working in the irrigation ditch, unconscious of his peril of being shot for a bear. The noise the man had heard was the boy throwing rocks out of the ditch with his hands, the rocks falling among the brush. Part of the time the boy was stooped over, working, and while in this position, and seeing his black hat and brown shirt, the Dalles man concluded he was a bear, and no doubt would have killed him had he had the nerve to shoot at a bear. Mr. Winans considers it more than luck that he went back with the man instead of the other party, for they would not have known that the boy was there, and being fully convinced that it was a bear, this bear story would have had a more serious sequel, probably one or more funerals.

Many forest fires are raging in the haunts of the campers and trout fishermen. The sheep men are not in it; no fires showing in their ranges. I think it is all mistaken idea that sheepmen fire the woods, there being plenty of feed for the sheep without it and too much danger of burning up their entire bands. Sheepmen should not be allowed to eat up settlers' crops and ranges with their sheep, but ought to be allowed to make use of the tens of thousands of acres of waste lands. The reserves should and will be thrown open to the stockmen, and if closed to any one, better exclude the few tramp tourists and fishermen, and thereby have less forest fires. W. R. W.

Wild Camels in Spain.

Camels have domesticated themselves in Southern Spain—the only spot in Europe where they may be seen in a wild state. Some forty years ago a herd was brought over from Africa, and as no use could be made of the creatures they were turned loose to shift for themselves. The camels flourished and increased, and now seem quite at home in the district between Seville and Cordoba. It will be observed that Spain has had a similar experience with camels to that which Arizona experienced, and the fate of the Spanish drove may ultimately be like that which has been roaming these many years along the eastern borders of the Colorado desert—to furnish beef for the mining camps.—San Francisco Examiner.

Free Pills.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklin & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of constipation and sick headache. For malaria and liver troubles they have been proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels, greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c per box. Sold by the Hood River Pharmacy.

He Was for Silver.

A respected citizen of Nortonville, Kansas, died a few days ago. At the funeral, after the minister had finished his discourse, he called for remarks from friends of the deceased. After a brief silence a neighbor arose and spoke of the many excellencies of "our departed friend." He told of his kind, unassuming character, of his advocacy of temperance, his charities and his church work, and finally alluded to "his zeal in the cause dearest to the people, the free coinage of silver at 16 to 1."

Oregon's Game Law.

Game and fish can be killed only during the following seasons: Grouse, Mongolian pheasant and quail, September 1st to December 1st; prairie chickens, July 1st to October 1st; wild ducks and water fowls, September 1st to March 15th; deer, mountain sheep, etc., August 1st to September 1st. Killing for hides or part of carcass only is prohibited; killing spotted fawn is prohibited. East of Cascades it is unlawful to kill at any time, Chinese pheasants, quail or Bob White. Trout, April 1st to November 1st; salmon, December 1st to November 1st. Explosives to kill fish are prohibited.

Cadets Appointed.

In the competitive examination of applicants for appointment to West Point and Annapolis, held in The Dalles last week, Ed W. Johnston won the West Point honors and his brother, Huntington Johnston, the appointment at Annapolis. Both are residents of Portland. Those receiving the second highest standing were Clarence B. Searcy of Portland for West Point and Darcey C. Bard of Piedmont for Annapolis.
