

Hood River Glacier.

FRIDAY, OCTOBER 30, 1896.

The republicans have a straight electoral ticket in 44 of the 45 states. In Texas they have effected a fusion with the middle-of-the-road populists and gold standard democrats. The democrats have a straight electoral ticket in 15 states, having effected a fusion with the populists and silver republicans in 29 states. In some cases the populists and silver republicans endorsed the democratic electoral ticket, while in others concessions of electors were made for their support by Bryan and Sewall. In two states, Oregon and South Dakota, the democrats endorsed the populist electoral ticket.

Under the silver standard, with silver dollars worth 50 cents, prices on all foreign goods will double. But will the prices for labor and its productions at home double? Will Hood River strawberries sell for double the price they sold for last season? The first of our crop sold in Montana last spring for $8.40 a crate. Will they sell for $16.80 a crate next spring if we have free coinage? Hood River apples sold last spring for $3 a box. Will they sell for $6 a box, or $18 a barrel, under free coinage?

The Palmer ticket represents the gold standard, pure and simple. Its platform favors the "money of the constitution," gold and silver, which now circulate side by side, one dollar as good as the other. Does any free believe it will circulate thus after free coinage is accomplished, any more than the "money of the constitution" circulated along with greenbacks during the war?

The typographical union of Salem is sending out circulars asking working men to vote against E. Hofer, candidate for presidential elector. He is editor and proprietor of the Salem Journal, and has always run it as a "rat" office, never paying more than $3 per week to compositors and pressmen.

The Indianapolis platform does not ask for a double standard of value. Its adherents do not believe there can be two standards of money. They are the true friends of silver. With the gold dollar for our standard our $600,000,000 of silver are as good as $600,000,000 in gold.

The Palmer ticket will not be the winning ticket, but its platform represents the true principles of democracy. This is a good time for democrats who are not seeking office, and who love their party and country, to keep in the "middle of the road."

In the event of Bryan's election, the democrats and populists will not be pulling together in the next election. It will be impossible for Mr. Bryan to satisfy both parties in giving out the offices and hold to a policy that will be satisfactory to democrats and populists.

Antelope voted 33 for incorporation and 14 against. John L. Hucorinhead was elected mayor. Out of ten officers elected to manage the affairs of the incorporated town for the first year four are democrats.

The national democratic committee has made arrangements to have Candidate Bryan's speech read in every court house in the United States before election.

The mob that followed Carlisle at Covington showed no better training than the Yale students who insulted Bryan.

A Good Social.

The social given by the ladies of the Congregational church at Mr. John Parker's, last Thursday evening, was a decided success in every particular, and the large crowd present enjoyed themselves immensely. The amusements of the evening were under the leadership of Mrs. S. J. LaFrance, who appointed the Misses Alice Cleaver, Cora Cople and Grace Graham to act as judges for the evening, and then selected three gentlemen from those present and asked them to compete for a prize in the art of sewing on buttons.

The competitors were Messrs. W. T. Hubbard, Charles C. Cramer and C. G. Cham. Mr. Cham succeeded in sewing on five buttons—the required number—first, and was awarded the prize, a neat little button basket. Another selection was made by Mrs. LaFrance, who was asked to cut from a newspaper a pattern of the ladies' sleeve now in vogue. The judges decided that Mr. M. A. Cook had come the nearest to cutting a correct pattern. Millinery was the next line for competition, the competitors being Rev. J. L. Hershner and the devil of the Glacier office. The devil carried off the honors. The lady judges were then each given a pocket knife and a shingle and asked to form a miniature ax handle. Alice Cleaver won the prize—a McKinley button. While the judges were preparing their decisions, recitations were given by Misses Agnes Dukes and Theresa Morse, and Mr. M. A. Cook gave a short extract from his noted "silver speech." Mr. C. G. Hershner and Mr. J. N. McCoy favored the guests with a number of songs. Cake and coffee were then served, after which a dish-washing contest was carried on in the dining room. Mr. George T. Prather was decided to be the champion dish-washer. Master Harold Hershner then recited a short piece quite appropriate for the occasion, and Mr. and Mrs. John Parker were thanked for the entertainment and the numerous guests departed.

Distribution of Silver.

Hood River, Oct. 27, 1896.—Editor GLACIER: You will pardon me for trying your patience and using so much of your valuable space, but I will promise you this will be the last time I will impose upon you or try to straighten out "Gold Standard" from the tangle he has got himself into. He seems to have got somewhat mixed up and got off the original question. He essays to say that I have scales over my eyes and that one operation from him would have the desired effect of removing them. I can say that the effect of the operation is phenomenal, and that with my new-born sight I see my friend stumbling along, blinded with the "wool" pulled over his eyes and staggering under the weight of party prejudices and gold standard deception. Poor man! how tired he must feel. No wonder he gets off the argument and fails to touch on the question during the whole of his talk (through his hat). He seems to think I am like himself—everything I see in the papers that advocate my principles I take for granted as "gospel" truth and drink it in as he would gold-bug (juice) argument, which he would like to present to me to poison and prejudice my mind, marry me to party and ask me to vote against my own interests. But no, my friend, I am not yet so case-hardened that I will take newspaper talk for fact instead of government statistics and the laws of our country.

I am glad that "Gold Standard" admits my authorities are beyond dispute and that silver is not free yet. Kind friend, you have admitted more than any gold-standard man has done yet. Now, if I prove to you that I believe in the veracity of Uncle Sam, and that he means just exactly what he says, I will feel proud of what I have accomplished. To illustrate, suppose I have a five-dollar silver certificate in my hand, and turning it over, read as follows: "United States will pay bearer on demand five silver dollars." I will swear upon my honor that I do not interpret it to mean five gold dollars, as one who writes under the nom de plume of "Gold Standard" intimates it does. I have no doubt his friends in Wall street and Lombard street only wish it did read that way.

"While we are a mighty nation, yet we do not constitute the whole earth." Yet we come near constituting more than one-half of the producing part of it, and when the balance of trade is in our favor of the enormous amount of millions of dollars per annum, we ought to come near dictating to the rest of the world what kind of a monetary system they shall use and have a monetary system in our own country that will be a benefit to us and not a benefit to foreign capitalists.

We've worried along for many a year, still trying the same old plan. That brings have tried on the other side. Since time and the world began, we've tried out with ways of doubt—Now listen to what I say: We'll throw the tea all over again, and try the American way.

Now, in conclusion, let me ask my friend to consider these questions which are of such vital importance to the American people, and vote for his own interests and in the interests of his posterity, and not in the interests of foreign capitalists, and in November we will have elected William Jennings Bryan as president of these United States. FREE SILVER.

Got Big Damages.

Judge Bennett has returned from Dayton, Wash., where he has been conducting a suit for damages against E. McNeil, as receiver of the O. R. & N. Co. The case was brought by the widow and children of Robert Walker, an engineer in the employ of the road, who was killed in a wreck between Botes Junction and Starbuck in Columbia county, Wash., and was for damages caused by his death. The verdict of the jury was that $40,000 damages were awarded the largest damages ever awarded in the United States in a similar case. The case will be appealed to the Washington supreme court.—Mountaineer.

The Mayses Hybrid dewberry is said to be the best and most profitable of the blackberry species grown. It originated in Texas, and owing to its great value, has not been widely disseminated as yet.

Election next Tuesday.

History Repeated.

HOOD RIVER, Oct. 27, 1896.—Editor GLACIER: The following, clipped from an Eastern exchange, is a fair illustration of history repeating itself. I respectfully ask space in your columns for its publication.

From McAnally's History of Kansas, A. D. 1896, p. 5, page 95, A. D. 1895. Those politicians whose voice was for delay gave less trouble than another set of politicians who were for a general and immediate recoinage, but who insisted that the new dollar should be worth only 50 or 55c. At the head of this party was William Jennings Bryan, formerly member of congress from Nebraska, but now candidate for the office of president of the United States, a most respectable public servant, but much more versed in the details of office than in the higher parts of political philosophy. He was not in the least aware that a piece of metal with the pin's stamp on it which the price was governed by the same laws which govern the price of a piece of metal fashioned into a spoon or a buckle, and that it was no more in the power of parliament to make the kingdom richer by calling a crown a pound than to make the nation larger by calling a furlong a mile.

He seriously believed, incredibly as it may seem, that if the ounce of silver were divided into five shillings instead of five foreign nations would send their wines and silks for a smaller number of ounces. He had a considerable following, composed partly of dull men who really believed what he told them, and partly of shrewd men who were perfectly willing to be authorized by law to pay $100 with $50.

Johnsing—Don't understand why a silver dollar isn't just as good as a gold dollar, hey? Let me lucidate. Now, s'pose I bought a gold dollar of you one day and a gold dollar of you 50 cents, what would you say? Jacksing—Golly! I'd say I never expected any of it back!
