When the Regulator is laid up this winter, during the time the river will be closed, the company intend having two bolts put in the vessel that will stand 240 pounds pressure. This will add much to the boat's propelling powers and will make it one of the swiftest steamers on the river.
Canby post, G. A. R., held its regular monthly meeting last Saturday. On account of the storm, the attendance was light. It was the meeting at which nominations should have been made to fill the offices for next year, but there was hardly enough present to fill the offices, and the nominations were postponed till next meeting. Frank Noble, the old veteran of two wars, is mentioned for commander.

Speaker Thomas B. Reed passed through Hood River last Monday. He went from Portland to The Dalles on the local train, which stopped half an hour at Cascade Locks on the way up to let him view the works. Word was received by telephone from The Dalles that the train on its return to Portland would arrive here at 4 o'clock, and everybody in town expected to be at the depot to see the distinguished Tom Reed. The train left The Dalles 15 minutes sooner than the hour telephoned here, and a good many of our citizens failed to reach the depot in time to see him. But there was quite a crowd collected and got a glimpse of the man who may be our next president after McKinley as he stepped out on the rear platform of his private car. Hon. E. I. Smith sent a bouquet of chrysanthemums and a basket of Chris Dehman's handsome Jonathan apples aboard the train for Mr. Reed.
The rains for the past two weeks have been unusually heavy for this season of the year. We had a long dry spell during the months of September and October, and Jupiter Pluvius seems to be trying to make up for lost time. In Portland high winds accompanied the rain storm. Strawberry growers who have been waiting for rain to set plants now find the ground too wet to work, and most of the planting will be postponed till spring.

The board of directors of the Improvement company appointed H. H. Bailey, L. Henry and J. O. Wilson to go up to the head of the ditch Wednesday and inspect the first half-mile of flume that is now completed, with water running in it. Another half-mile will be completed before the end of the month, unless the weather should be too severe to continue work. The flume was expected to reach the bridge yesterday.

The county court last week granted the road petitioned for by E. C. Rogers and others, from the East Side to the head of Neal creek. Mr. Rogers and his boys and others have been at work on this road and have graded about a mile, including the big hill above Neal creek. This road will open up a fine section of country for fruit and stock, and Hood River is interested in having the road built.

The following Hood Riverites went to Portland Wednesday to help celebrate: Geo. T. Prather and wife, Geo. Rich, Louis Clark, L. M. Miller, J. E. Armor, W. J. Smith and daughter, W. E. Newcomb, A. Winans, M. A. Cook, H. Pugh, W. C. Stranahan, J. E. Rand, Grant Evans, S. R. Reeves, Henry York and W. H. Heffernan. C. D. Moore and J. R. Rankin went from White Salmon.

Hood river was booming last Sunday after the heavy rains of Saturday and Sunday night. There had been a big fall of snow in the mountains, and the chinook winds melting the snow caused a big rise in the river. At the head gate of the Improvement Co's ditch there was a rise of 11 feet in the river, and floating logs threatened the flume, but it escaped uninjured.

Nature has wisely arranged matters so that a man can neither kick himself nor pat himself on the back. But there will be no occasion for kicking, and your wife will do the patting on the back if you just set that bed of asparagus and rhubarb roots that she wants you to. Now is the time to get the plants at the Columbia Nursery.

T. C. Dallas presented the GLACIER office with an ash-bucket of his own manufacture, for which he has our thanks. Dallas is always doing something for the poor and needy, the widows and the orphans. When our ash-bucket wears out and we need a new one, we'll know where to go, and will remember Dallas.

Mr. J. N. McCoy received word Wednesday that his daughter, Mrs. Agnes Jones, living near Boise City, Idaho, was lying at the point of death. Mr. McCoy being in feeble health, could not make the trip to Idaho, but Mrs. Milton Odell left her Wednesday night to go to her sister's bedside.

Emil D. West has officiated as chief salesman in West Bros.' meat market since Henry McGuire has been laid up with a boil on his hand. While Emil can't wield the cleaver and the knife with the "grand flourish" of Henry, he gets there in good shape and is a very efficient salesman.

In the ad of M. Walton of Portland, wanting to trade for Hood River property, part of the properties he has for trade was inadvertently omitted last week. Read the ad again, and if you wish to trade Hood River lands you may find something to suit you in Walton's ad.

D. F. Pierce has purchased a home in San Jose. He writes that he is doubly well content, considering the competition of 15 other shops; that he is making more than a living—double what he made in Hood River.

The Indian creek hill, by Jones', and the Rail creek hill, by Davidson's, have both been badly washed by the heavy rains. The bridge over the latter creek is said to be practically impassable.

The celebration of McKinley's election which was to have taken place in Hood River last Saturday night was postponed until tomorrow night on account of the weather.

Rev. J. W. Rigby ran a fir-silver into his fore-finger, which caused a very painful sore for a few days. The doctor probed for the silver, but could not find it.

Arrangements are being made for a public meeting to be given by the advanced pupils in Prof. Miller's department at the close of the present school term.

No opposition line of boats on the river so far. The Regulator line has too many friends to make a competing line profitable.
Mr. John Kroeger brought in two big hogs Wednesday, which were bought by West Bros.
Mrs. W. Deyer of Portland, was in Hood River during the past week visiting her friend, Mrs. J. M. C. Miller.
Work in the Hood River schools is moving along pleasantly. The present term will close December 4th.
E. E. Savage was excused from jury duty by Judge Bradshaw and returned home Monday.
A girl wishes housework to do. Wages $10 a month. Inquire of C. H. Rogers.
Geo. T. Prather went to Portland Wednesday to be treated for a tapeworm.
No. 1 wheat is selling at 70 cents in The Dalles.

A big land slide occurred on the Washington side of the Columbia, between the Knapp place, last Monday. The loud report of the avalanche was distinctly heard at Frankton, where it seemed as if the slide had occurred on this side of the river.
Who will be our candidates for town councilmen and how will they be nominated? The coming year will give work for the council. The big ditch will be completed and the question of providing for protection against fire will come up.
The grand jury of the present term of court are: Polk Butler, foreman; L. N. Blowers, John W. Dickens, Patrick Bolton, Marshall Hill and W. McCrum. The court buildings are J. B. Crossen and J. H. Jackson.

There has been no kicking among the members and patrons of the Lateral Ditch Co. about "hogging" water for the past two weeks; at least no complaints have reached headquarters.

Carson C. Masiker of Sherman county has bought 40 acres of Asa Straight on the East Side.
Mr. John C. Wheeler went to Portland Wednesday to remain for the winter.

Mrs. M. A. Cook arrived home from her trip to Killekitt county, Monday. Pine cordwood, which has been selling at $2.25 a cord, has fallen to $2.
Miss Bess Isenberg's school at Frankton will close its term today.

Removal of the Monday. The O. R. & N. Co. on Monday took up the side track at Davenport's planer. Mr. Davenport says the cause of this was on account of the boys, in piling ties, got them too close to the side track, and in switching out cars, the door of a stock car struck the ties and was broken off. This will probably cause the flume company to move their planer to E. C. Rogers' place, at Belmont. It will be a great saving to them in delivering local lumber as it can be done for about half the price it now costs to haul it back up the Haynes hill. This will not damage the business of the flume company as much as at first expected, as most of their lumber is shipped to The Dalles, and the cost of loading onto scows will not exceed 35 cents a thousand the cost of loading it onto cars. By moving the planer to Rogers' place, the company will have 150 inches of water to sell for irrigation.

Course of Lectures. Dr. H. K. Hines will commence a course of Sunday evening lectures in the M. E. church of Hood River next Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The first of the course will be on "Society and Social Forces." The course will be on live and practical subjects, and Dr. Hines will endeavor to make it the equal of any course presented to any congregation in the state this season. A cordial invitation to old and young, rich and poor, learned and unlearned, religious and irreligious, is extended to attend the entire course. All equally welcomed.

Tribute to Stephen Price. Stephen Price was born in Indiana, November 5, 1832, and died at Hood River, Oregon, September 25, 1896.
After leaving the old home at Blooming Grove, he learned the trade of millwright. In 1852 he came to Oregon by way of the isthmus of Panama and worked at his trade at Silverton, Salem and other places. He was married to Mrs. Polly L. Coon at Silverton, Sept. 27, 1855. An only son, Eugene, now resides at Bonner, Montana. He became step-father to Cornelia and Thomas Coon. Besides these children, their cousin, Ida Hutton, became, in infancy, a member of the family, and all shared equally his affection and consideration.
He was a charter member of Chemeketa lodge, I. O. O. F., at Salem, and for many years took an active part in temperance work, being a charter member of Capital lodge, No. 11, I. O. G. T.

It was unassuming, it was his habit to perform every duty with the utmost faithfulness. He was governed by his sense of duty. He practiced virtue, and his virtues were many. A more honest man never lived. In his exercise of self-sacrifice, of patience, forbearance and charity, he was a remarkable man. He was generous to the extreme, and in all things which he got to make up true manhood he had few peers.
A grateful step-son would pay this just tribute to a good man.
THOMAS R. COON.
