All who are interested in Christmas goods should remember that Santa Claus will make his headquarters again at M. H. Nickelson's, as usual.

D. C. Herrin, grand lecturer for the A. O. U. W., passed up the road Wednesday on his way to The Dalles, after a six weeks' trip over the state.

Hood River merchants have been doing a good business during the week. Santa Claus don't seem to know any hard times. He is bestowing his presents more lavishly than usual.

Mr. Lyman Smith arrived home from Astoria last Sunday. His severe injuries will confine him to the house for some time and it may be a month or more before he will be able to walk.

H. L. Howe has succeeded in gaining the state agency for the sale of books for the International Publishing Co. He canvassed Hood River about six days in November and received orders for 62 books. He had only to get 40 orders to entitle him to a state agency.

The weather for the past week has been cloudy and foggy, with an east wind threatening snow. Weather prophets have been predicting snow, and everybody will be disappointed if it does not snow. Many weather prophets no doubt wish it would snow to fulfill their predictions.

A. W. King brought to town last Saturday a curiosity in the shape of two carrots grown together. One was a yellow carrot, the other white. Lateral roots of the yellow carrot were clasped around the white one in loving embrace. Mr. King says they represent silver and gold.

E. L. Smith, T. R. Coon, N. C. Evans and Chris Dehman were prospecting Tuesday and Wednesday, for a route for a wagon road along the waters' edge of Hood river, from Tucker's mill to town. Mr. Smith informs us that a road could be made on the east side all the way from Tucker's mill to town, much work except at a point opposite the mouth of Indian creek and at Johnson's Point, with a bridge spanning the river at Winans' Addition. Two-thirds of the way, he says, a wagon could be driven now without any further improvement.

C. M. Knapp got his hand badly cut Thursday morning by the cut-off saw at the Viento planing mill, and came to Hood River on the local to have it dressed by surgeons. He will probably lose one or two fingers.

The most welcome Christmas present you could make the editor of the GLACIER would be to come in and settle all arrearages and pay for a year in advance.

A Stumper.

Mr. H. F. Davidson has had constructed a stump burner, made of sheet iron, in the shape of a stove, that will likely revolutionize the work of clearing ground by stumps. The design was brought here by Mr. Roue, when he returned from the Sucker state last spring. The advantages of this stump burner, like a bob-tail lusk, are all in the draw. It is said that when set round a stump and loaded with pitch wood and fired, it creates a draft that can only be likened to a cyclone.

Davidson sat up with it eight hours the other night, and after feeding it about eight cords of pitch pine, it drew tears to his calloused cheeks, drew blisters on a leg ten feet away, drew all the neighbors within a radius of a mile to see it work, and he thinks, if given full vent, it would draw a mortgage on the farm. He first bored a hole in the stump, and with a sick of giant powder shattered and loosened up the stump to give the mersher a good start. After burning eight hours the stump swelled up, probably with its impregnation of being the first stump experiment with, and the sheet iron burner can't be removed till the stump dries out next summer. A patent has been applied for, and county and township rights will be for sale by Bone & Davidson, proprietors.

Fruit Growers and Dairymen.

Fruit-growers and dairymen should all examine the four week's special course to be given by the Oregon agricultural college, beginning January 11, 1897. It is to consist of lectures on the various phases of horticulture, botany, entomology, chemistry and dairying, especially prepared for practical men in these lines. The college laboratories, libraries and scientific apparatus, including an electric stereopticon for illustrations, will be used in connection with this course. Insect life, fungus diseases, that cannot be seen with the eye, will be magnified two or three thousand times so that their nature and character will be plainly revealed. Several specialists in horticulture and dairying will deliver evening lectures. Such men as M. O. Lowndale, A. H. Carson, Chas. A. Dalley, Dr. James Withycombe, and others, will aid the college with lecture work and make the course of great value to the practical people. The course is designed for men and women who can leave their farms and homes, only for a short time and is planned upon a thoroughly practical basis. No charge whatever will be made for the course and no examination or educational qualifications will be required for entrance.

Farmers, farmers' wives, sons and daughters ought to take advantage of this course. By this course they can become thoroughly familiar with modern thought, scientific investigation, and practical application of the same. There is a complete working dairy at the college in daily operation, and all those attending will have the advantage of the practical work of the operation of modern dairy machinery, including the running of the engine.

All persons attending the course are requested to bring with them specimens of insect pest or diseases of any kind affecting their orchards, for examination.

Reduced rates will be given on the O. R. & N. Those attending the course coming on the East side will buy a ticket to Albany and ask the agent for a receipt for the amount paid for the same. On returning, this receipt, with the signature of the president of the college, will entitle the holder to return home at one-third the regular rate.

For further particulars, write to H. B. Miller, the president of the college.

Christmas Tree and Supper.

There will be an Xmas tree at Belmont M. E. church on Christmas night. A very interesting programme is being prepared for the occasion, and a very enjoyable time is expected. All are cordially invited. Those wishing to place presents on the tree for friends will bring or send same at any time during Christmas day. Doors open at 5 p. m., programme commencing at six. After the exercises are over and presents distributed, all will repair to the residence of M. B. Potter, where there will be a basket supper. Each lady is expected to come prepared with a pretty basket containing lunch for two. The baskets will be sold at auction by one of the finest auctioneers on the Pacific coast. Every body come and have a grand good time.

Union Watch Night Meeting.

The Congregational, United Brethren and Methodist churches of Hood River will unite in watch night services at the Methodist church on the night of Dec. 31, 1896. The services will begin at 8 o'clock, and the following programme will be carried out: 8 o'clock—Introductory services. 8:30—Sermon by Rev. J. T. Merrill. 9:30—Rev. J. L. Hershner will take charge of the services and deliver a discourse. 10:30—Dr. H. K. Hines will preach. 11:30—A union testimonial meeting will be held, closing with a thanksgiving and consecration prayer service, to close at 12:05, January 1, 1897.

The pastors of the churches cordially unite in urging all the members and congregations of their churches and congregations to be present from beginning to end of this memorial, and they hope, memorable occasion, and cordially invite all the people of Hood River and vicinity to unite with us in our service of gratitude and consecration to Him who "groweth the year with His goodness." J. T. MERRILL, J. L. HERSHNER, H. K. HINES.

Annual Meeting.

The annual meeting of the Congregational church was held Wednesday, with a good attendance. Reports submitted showed balances in the treasuries of the church, the Sunday school, the woman missionary society, and the ladies' aid society. The harmonious and helpful feeling shown promises well for future growth and vigor in church work.

A resolution was passed thanking the choir preceptor, Dr. Brosius, the organist, Mrs. Brosius, and all the members of the choir for their faithfulness and efficiency in their work.

Officers were chosen for the ensuing terms: D. G. Hill, deacon; G. T. Prather, clerk; J. F. Armor, treasurer; J. H. Dukes, George H. Castner and R. E. Harrison, trustees.

The Sunday school was reorganized, as follows: Superintendent, C. J. Hayes; assistant superintendent, G. T. Prather; secretary, H. C. Bateham; treasurer, Mattie Dukes; librarian, Harold Hershner; organist, Fay LaFrance; chorister, Agnes Dukes; illustrator, Prof. H. L. Howe.

Frankton Notes.

The Frankton school closed Wednesday for the holiday vacation.

There was a big dance at Wm. Tillett's last Friday night, 25 couples dancing.

Supervisor J. J. Luckey is doing some good work on the roads in this neighborhood.

The Frankton literary society disposed of the strawberry and apple question last Saturday evening, deciding that the strawberry was a more profitable crop to the Hood River farmer than the apple, though the decision isn't likely to cause our orchards of apple trees to be immediately replaced by strawberry plants. At their next meeting, Saturday night, the following question will be debated: "Resolved, That the United States should recognize the Cubans as belligerents." It is hoped that congress will not settle the question before the members of the Frankton debating society have a chance to air their statesmanship.

In Loving Remembrance of Bessie Miller

We watched her breathing through the night, Her breathing soft and low, As in her breast the wave of life Kept ebbing to and fro.

So silently we spoke her name, So softly moved about; As we had lent her half our powers To eke her being out.

But when the morn came, still and sad, And chill with early showers, Her quiet eyelids closed, and she had Another morn than ours.

Sleep sweetly, Bessie, dear, in your haven of rest Where all is peace and love; And though the body slumbers here, The soul is safe in heaven above.
