FRIDAY, JUNE 11, 1897.

The strawberry crop of Hood River for this season is about all shipped. For some reason it was not so full as we had every reason to expect during the growing season. The shortage is accounted for in several ways. Some think the cold weather in March caused it, others that the hot weather in May blighted the blooms; others say they should have been watered earlier and oftener, while others think they had too much water. Some are inclined to think the Clark's Seedling is running out, that the berries of this variety are not so large and do not ship as well as formerly. This last view may be the correct one. It is a well known fact in strawberry culture that, to get the best results, sets should be taken only from young plants that have not been allowed to bear fruit. The demand for strawberry sets during the past two years has at times exceeded the supply, and buyers would accept of plants without inquiring how they were grown and cared for. More care will have to be used in selecting plants if we wish to keep up the fertility of the Clark's Seedling as well as the reputation of Hood River for the best strawberries. Plant none but the most vigorous sets from young plants. No time should be lost now in caring for the patch from which you expect to take sets for planting in July and August. The plants should be trimmed and not too many runners allowed to set.

It has always been our aim to raise early berries, but for once we got there too early. This year the California berries were not yet out of market when our first shipments were made to Montana, and when we shipped East in railroad lots we came in competition with the home-grown berries of Missouri and Illinois and even Michigan. The Eastern market would be all right now for the growers of late berries further up the valley if they had enough to continue shipping in railroad lots.

The comptroller of New York City has informed the board of aldermen of that municipality that its expenses for the next year will be $48,229,555. The estimate does not relate to the "greater" city after consolidation, but to the present city of New York, under a "reform" administration. The most that the city cost under Tammany rule was $63,000,000 a year. "Reform" in municipal government comes high but the people must have it.

The presence of Generals Gordon, Buckner and Longstreet at General Grant's tomb and the action of Commander-in-Chief Clarkson of the Grand Army of the Republic in inviting Gen. John B. Gordon, commander in chief of the Confederate Veterans, to deliver an address at the coming reunion at Buffalo of the G. A. R., are calling forth fraternal expressions in the newspapers about the survivors of the blue and the gray.

Mayor Penoyer has removed John Myers, chief of police in Portland, after an incumbency of the office of only three months. John Myers was about the only honest and worthy chief Portland ever had.

The high-water scare is past for this year. But it will come again, every year, so long as the great flood of 1894 is not forgotten and the railroad bed is not raised above high-water mark.

Valley Center Happenings. Strawberry season is drawing to a close, and the crop has fallen short of expectations.

J. E. Scoobe came up from Portland last week and spent a few days with his family, who are visiting at Mr. G. C. Bushnell's. Mr. Scoobe returned home Saturday, accompanied by his little daughter Marie.

Mrs. Jennie Gilmore was called home last week on account of the serious illness of her mother, who resides at Prineville.

Mr. Joe Porter visited Portland last week on business.

Mr. Hennigan and family of Sherman county visited with Mr. Dave Boardman for some time last week.

The closing exercises of the Pine Grove school took place at the school house on Friday evening, June 4th. The exercises consisted of songs, recitations and readings, and closed with a "Mother Goose cantata." Everything passed off very smoothly and in a manner that speaks well for the discipline and drill given by their teacher, Mrs. G. C. Bushnell.

Mr. Albert I. Mason of Portland, who is improving a piece of land in the valley, comes up every week or so to oversee his prospective orchard.

Not a Sheep Herder. The GLACIER was misinformed last week when it stated that a sheep herder had lost his horse by drowning at White Salmon. Mr. Henry Boyen of the Oregon Market, The Dalles, called at the GLACIER office last Friday and stated he was the man referred to in the item, and that he is not a sheep herder but a butcher and was on his way to Camas Prairie to buy beef cattle. He did not like the idea of being classed as a sheep herder. We don't blame him for that and cheerfully make the correction. He said no sheep man would have had the nerve to stay with his horse after being bucked into the river, as he did. The horse bucked for some time before he went into the river, and bucked so hard that Mr. Boyen bled from the lungs all that day from the effects of the shaking up received. The horse was badly used up and also bled internally after being hauled out of the water. Mr. Boyen thinks he was saved from drowning by his big cowboy hat, which was tight on his head, and when his horse went down into deep water he went with him till his big broad brimmed hat touched the water and buoyed him up. He then treaded water till he worked himself ashore. The horse was a thoroughbred and belonged to Deputy Sheriff Kelly.

In Memoriam.

Gertie M. Nickelsen, wife of Rev. C. D. Nickelsen, and daughter of Rev. J. W. Rigby, was born in Bellmond, Wright county, Iowa, April 3, 1873. Moved to Lewiston, Idaho, in 1879, in company with her parents, where they resided for a number of years. Afterward she came with them to Hood River, in the fall of 1891, where she formed the acquaintance of her husband and was married June 13, 1893, with whom she lived a little less than four years. She leaves a husband, two children, a father and three sisters, with a large circle of friends to mourn the loss of one they dearly loved. To those who knew her she needs no praise to enhance their estimate, she was so true and careful in all her ways. She was a prominent example of what our Christianity is able to do for the young in years. It may be said of her she was always a Christian, for in truth she never seemed to be otherwise. To such a life death comes as the dawning of an eternal day. And as such it truly was to her on the morning of June 6th, surrounded by her immediate relatives, in Hood River, Oregon. She expressed no regret nor shed even a tear. But after bidding each an affectionate good-bye, she said, "Come, Lord Jesus; come quickly," and quietly passed away.

High in yonder realm of light
I wait the raptured saints above;
Far beyond our feeble sight,
Happy in Immanuel's love.

Once they knew, like us below,
Pilgrims in this vale of tears,
Torturing pain and heavy woes,
Gloomy doubts, distressing fears.

But those days of weeping o'er,
Sorrow they shall know no more—
Death is swallowed up in life;
Labor, in eternal rest.

Death of Harry Luckey.

Mr. J. J. Luckey received a dispatch Wednesday evening from his brother-in-law at Tekoa, Wash., stating that his brother, Harry Luckey, in a fit of despondency, had committed suicide at that place by taking laudanum. His age was 32. The remains will be brought to Hood River for interment. Deceased was raised in Hood River, where he had many friends. He was of a jovial disposition and was liked by all who knew him. His business was railroading, but for the past four years he had been out of work most of the time. The remains are expected to arrive here today (Friday), and the funeral will take place from the Congregational church at 2 o'clock. Rev. J. L. Hershey will preach the funeral sermon. Waucoma lodge, No. 30, K. of P., of which his brother J. J. Luckey is a member, will take charge, and the remains will be buried in the K. of P. cemetery.

Special Church Notice.

Dr. Hines has been called by Presiding Elder Warner to hold a quarterly service at Pine Grove next Sabbath, where he will preach at 11 a. m. and at 2 p. m. He will preach in his own church at Hood River at 8 in the evening, on "Ministering Spirits." All cordially welcomed.

Measles are having a big run in the town and valley. During the past week, we learn, the children of E. S. Olinger, George T. Prather, Dr. Adams, J. E. Hanna, W. J. Baker, Dr. Brosius, S. J. LaFrance, Henry Howe, Capt. Dukes, M. N. Foley, B. Warren and Capt. Blowers have been afflicted. Malice Dukes, Fay LaFrance and Clara Blythe were very sick for several days with the disease.

Don't thin your blood with sassafras or poison it with blue-mass; but aid nature by using DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills for constipation, biliousness and stomach and liver troubles. They are purely vegetable. Williams & Brosius.

Trimmed hats at Mrs. Howells' will be sold at a big discount from now until the 1st of July. Call and get prices before purchasing elsewhere.

TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.—It is a terrible accident to be burned or scalded; but the pain and agony and the frightful disfigurements can be quickly overcome without leaving a scar by using DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve. Williams & Brosius.

Miss Niedermark, the milliner, will be in Hood River this week only.

Rev. T. L. Elliot, D. D., will lecture at the Congregational church on Tuesday evening, June 22d, on the subject, "Turkey-Greece." The proceeds of the lecture (25 cents for adults and 15 cents for children) will be added to the re-furnishing fund of the church. The ladies' aid society, under whose auspices the lecture will be given, will furnish ice cream and cake free to every one who attends.

The house of Wm. Scoobe, on the East Side, caught fire Wednesday morning. Mr. Peter Mohr and son John saw the blaze issuing from the roof of the house, half a mile distant, and ran to the assistance of Mr. Scoobe, arriving just as he was about to give up the fight with the flames. They were soon joined by Mr. Feak, and in about fifteen minutes the fire was subdued.

The GLACIER is very happy to be able to take back part of the story it published last week about the strawberry patches of Harry Brown and J. E. Blinn. Mr. Blinn sent us on Tuesday a box of his berries, which were as fine as any we had seen this season. We are informed that the little yellow lice lasted but a day or two, and since then both Mr. Brown and Mr. Blinn have been shipping as good a quality of berries as were grown in the valley.

Mr. F. E. Bailey has decided to leave Hood River in the near future and make his home in California.

Col. W. G. Ronald, supreme representative of Washington and general organizer for the endorsement rank K. of P., visited Waucoma lodge Thursday evening; also, James H. McKibben, publisher of the Senator and P. C. Orpheus lodge, No. 59, Portland.

J. W. Bailey and wife of Portland called at the GLACIER office yesterday. Mr. Bailey is editor of the Rural Spirit. They are looking for a furnished house, which they will want the use of for two or three months.

Home-made bread always on hand at Mrs. Howells' millinery store.

Don't neglect a cough because the weather is pleasant; before the next storm rolls around it may develop into a serious difficulty beyond repair. One Minute Cough Cure is easy to take and will do what its name implies. Williams & Brosius.

Col. L. V. Moore, Pacific coast representative of the Kimball piano and organ factories, is here with a sample line of their celebrated instruments. For further details see his notice in this issue.

"They are dandies," said Thos. Bowers of the Crockett, Texas, Enterprise, while writing about DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the famous little pills for sick headache and disorders of the stomach and liver. Williams & Brosius.

Mrs. W. J. Campbell is again in poor health. At one time, last week, she was very low but has since improved, and her friends have hope that she will soon be restored to health.

Mr. Thos. McDonald is visiting in Sherman county.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Adams of Portland visited Hood River Saturday and Sunday.

Government Will Aid the Mazamas.

Mr. William G. Steel has returned from the East, where he went some weeks since to promote the interests of the Mazamas in connection with their proposed expedition to Mount Rainier this summer. While in Washington he succeeded in inducing a number of government scientific men to join the mountain excursion. Everything that the agricultural and geological bureaus can do for the benefit of the Mazamas will be done. Instruments have been lent from the weather bureau for making experiments. During his visit East Mr. Steel experimented extensively in the making and flying of the new and scientific form of kites commonly known as parakites, with a view of sending up a number of kites from the summit of Mt. Rainier. Instruments furnished by the weather bureau will be sent up, attached to the kites, and others will be used for taking observations on the summit of the mountain. A large American flag will also be sent up attached to a team of kites, and it is expected will reach a higher elevation than the flag has ever before attained. To some of these kites cameras will be attached for taking photographs of the summit of the mountain. The expedition will leave Portland July 19th and return August 7th.

After Many Years.

John Simon, better known as "One-armed John," left yesterday for Philadelphia to see his wife and children. John relates a peculiar story: Thirty-five years ago he left his wife and babies in Philadelphia, coming west to seek his fortune, intending to return to them and bring them to the "land of the setting sun," when his means would permit. Drifting down into Arizona he hired out as a government teamster, and to make a long story short, John lost his right arm from an Apache's rifle. John is a peculiar man and he reasoned that he would be a burden to his folks, and he resolved to make his own way in the world and so turned sheep herder. And now, an old man, he goes to see his family before he dies. He said that perhaps his wife had married again—he could not blame her if she had.

Born.

In White Salmon, May 31, 1897, to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Grushing, a ten-pound daughter.

Married.

In The Dalles, June 8, 1897, Mr. D.A. Turner and Mrs. Laura E. Frost.

Mr. Turner is one of the pioneers of Hood River valley and a well-to-do farmer. His bride has been a resident here for a number of years. The GLACIER congratulates the happy couple.

Died.

In Hood River valley, June 8, 1897, Amy Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Rogers, aged 12 years.

Paris Green

Is chiefly arsenite of copper. The insecticide efficiency of Paris green depends upon the amount of arsenious acid present, which is somewhat variable, ranging from 54 to 61 per cent in an analysis of five samples obtained in the market. The chemist of the Maine state college found 54, 55, 54, 55 and 40 percent arsenious acid respectively. It is a very stable compound, does not readily suffer deterioration and may be safely kept in ordinary containers, in a cool, dry place.

London Purple

Is chiefly arsenite of lime, a residue obtained in the manufacture of aniline dyes. It does not contain quite so much arsenic as Paris green, and by being a by product, it is not so constant in its constitution. According to an analysis by the chemist of the U. S. department of agriculture, it has 43 per cent arsenious oxide. A later analysis by the chemist of the Vermont agricultural experiment station, it has:

Arsenic (arsenous oxide) parts.....	46.73
Lime.....	24.35
Iron and alumina.....	1.21
Sulphuric acid.....	1.46
Nitrogen.....	1.55
Moisture.....	3.57

Paris green and London purple are both dangerous poisons and are peculiarly in the province of the pharmacist, for he is the person retailer and usually the only one having the facilities for guaranteeing their quality. We keep only the best qualities.

Paris Green..... 1 lb. 75c, 10 lb. 5.00
London Purple..... 25c, 25c, 25c
London Purple..... 25c, 25c, 15c.

WILLIAMS & BROSIOUS, Druggists.

Mr. Isaac Horner, proprietor of the Burton house, Burton, Va., and one of the most widely known men in the state, was cured of rheumatism after three years of suffering. He says: "I have not sufficient command of language to convey any idea of what I suffered, my physicians told me that nothing could be done for me, and my friends were fully convinced that nothing but death would relieve me of my suffering. In June, 1894, Mr. Evans, then salesman for the American Drug Co., recommended Chamberlain's Pain Balm. At this time my foot and limb were swollen to more than double their normal size, and it seemed to me my leg would burst, but soon after I began using the Pain Balm, the swelling began to decrease, the pain to leave, and now I consider that I am entirely cured. For sale by Williams & Brosius.
