The complete fusion of the democrats, populists and silver republicans at their conventions in The Dalles last Saturday makes a strong combination. The fusion ticket is headed by I. D. Driver, brother of our present sheriff, who is a solid farmer of Wamie. M. J. Anderson, candidate for county clerk, is the "village blacksmith" of Dufur, and will prove to be an exceptionally strong candidate before the people. Hood River asked only the commissioner and was given the candidate of its choice by nearly a unanimous vote in the convention. It will be hard to find a more competent man for this important office than Capt. F. M. Jackson. He has been a resident of Hood River valley for the past 29 years and is well and favorably known throughout the county. P. P. Underwood, for school superintendent, is a minister of the Christian church at Dufur. J. H. Aldrich of Cascade Locks, for assessor, will make a good run. W. H. Arbuckle, for treasurer, is a merchant of The Dalles. J. H. Jackson, for coroner, is an old resident of The Dalles. No nomination was made for surveyor. It was left to the three county central committees to nominate a candidate from each party for this office, thus to test the relative strength of the three parties in the county.

We are in receipt of a communication advising fruit growers to raise more apples and not depend so much upon strawberries, which have to be entrusted to others to find a market. The advice is good so far as it goes. Farmers and fruit growers of Hood River should also raise more clover and hogs, beef cattle and poultry. There is no excuse now not to plant timothy and clover, corn for fodder, and other forage crops. We have plenty of irrigating ditches, and if water is considered too expensive at $5 an inch, we can build reservoirs and learn to economize in the use of water. The communication referred to contains other matter that is not calculated to harmonize differences now in the way of the strawberry grower's success, and we decline to publish it.

Hon. W. R. Dunbar of Goldendale has been appointed register of the U. S. land office at Vancouver, Wash. His appointment gives general satisfaction within his party, as it will with every person who knows the new appointee. Mr. Dunbar has been a resident of Goldendale for the past 19 years and is at present U. S. land commissioner for the district of Washington. He is already conversant with the work of the land office, and no better appointment could have been made.

The use of the California apple box in place of the standard Oregon apple box is being recommended by fruit growers. It is a little longer, a little narrower and not quite so deep as the Oregon box. It does not hold quite so much fruit and does not require as large apples for four-tier packing as the Oregon box. The trade does not distinguish between the boxes, and the advantage is therefore on the side of the California box.

The Rural Northwest of March 15th gives notice that in its next issue the subject of evaporating prunes will be taken up for discussion and continued through the issues of the summer months. Any prune grower who is not familiar with what has already appeared in that paper on the subject of curing prunes will surely find these articles worth more than the cost of a year's subscription.

Open to Settlers.
WASHINGTON, D. C., March 16, 1898.
Mr. A. S. Blowers, Hood River, Or.—My Dear Sir: I presented the petition yesterday which you forwarded me, together with the maps and illustrations, as to the necessity of having a township of land therein specified excluded from the Cascade forest reserve. After a conference with the commissioner of the general land office, and going carefully over the whole matter, he decided to exclude the west half of the township, which will take in all of the settlers. I really believe this will be better for them than to have the whole township excluded, as under the rules promulgated by the department, they will be permitted to use the other half for pasturing without any restriction, and as it cannot be taken up for settlement it will remain their subject to their use. I am very glad indeed to have accomplished this, as I feel that it is something that will very materially aid in the settlement of that section of the territory referred to were surely entitled to be excluded from the reservation. Yours very truly, W. R. ELLIS.

Assessment for 1897.
HOOD RIVER, March 21, 1898.—Editor GLACIER: During the last few days I have frequently been informed, "You must have made a mistake in my assessment of last year." Let me make a few statements in justice to myself, as well as explain the matter. No assessment was changed by me after leaving the person or persons assessed, and was returned by me to the county assessor, Mr. Whipple, in this condition. Nearly all were satisfied with their assessments and informed me to this effect. I had the assessments of 1896, and with but few exceptions, the assessments were the same. When nearly through my work as assessor, I compared my work with Mr. Whipple, the county assessor, who said, "You have assessed about the same as I have, and I think it is a fair listing." I am informed some of the taxes are more than one-third higher than 1896. This upward tendency in taxes comes from "the powers that be," the equalization board, and to them must the overtaxed look for redress or explanation and not to me. I well know some of the taxes are unreasonable and unjust.

C. J. HAYES.

The Three Conventions.
The three conventions held in The Dalles last Saturday agreed to fusion. A conference committee of three from each convention apportioned the county offices, and nominations were made as follows:
Democrats—For sheriff, I. D. Driver of Wamie; commissioner, F. M. Jackson of Hood River; coroner, J. H. Jackson of The Dalles.
Silver Republicans—For clerk, M. J. Anderson of Dufur.
Populists—For assessor, J. H. Aldrich of Cascade Locks; school superintendent, P. P. Underwood of Boyd; treasurer, W. H. Arbuckle of The Dalles.

The platform was submitted by a joint committee and adopted by each convention. It calls for, first, financial reform; second, direct legislation through the operation of the optional form; third, reduction of expenditures.
Mr. J. L. Henderson of Hood River offered the following resolution, which was adopted by unanimous vote of the joint convention:
Resolved, That this convention of the silver forces of Wasco county does hereby express deep sympathy with the liberty loving and persecuted inhabitants of the island of Cuba in their heroic effort to throw off the cruel and inhuman yoke of Spain. That we believe the time has come when "old glory" should float along side with the banner of the patriots, and that the freemen of these United States should rally under dual folds for the purpose not only of placing Cuba upon the firm basis of a republic, but for the further purpose of demanding of Spain reparation for the lives of our American seamen lost at the blowing up of our battleship Maine. That we expect of our national government a strong foreign policy in the premises, and to this end we pledge our undivided support, whether with ballots or bullets, if demanded at the call of the president and congress of the United States.

NOTES.
The ticket contains two Confederate and one Union soldier.
Capt. Jackson received all the votes of the convention for the nomination for commissioner except 5.
The Hood River delegations to the populist convention contained some of its most efficient workers.
Mr. H. S. Turner, editor of the Dufur Dispatch, was the most jovial as well as useful member in the populist convention.
Geo. Tyrell, delegate at large to the triple convention, was the only Palmer and Buckner gold-bug populist in attendance.
Mr. John L. Henderson of Hood River took a leading part in the democratic convention and was rewarded by being sent as a delegate to the state convention.
Mr. S. E. Van Vactor, who presided over the temporary organization of the democratic convention, is a young man who gives promise of becoming a leader of his party in the county and state.
When democrats, populists and silver republicans can sleep together their union is complete. This was done in the Umalla house when the delegates stayed up all night to catch the early train and dozed in their chairs around the office stove.
Hon. Thos. Harlan of Mosier was a silver republican delegate and as such was sent to the state convention. He openly expressed himself as a candidate for congress and was promised the support of his party delegates from Hood River.

The work of the democratic and silver republican conventions was concluded with dispatch. The populists were long-winded and kept the other conventions waiting on their movements every time. The orators seem to have left the democrats and gone to the populists.
It was generally remarked that it was the soberest crowd that ever assembled in convention in The Dalles. One reason for the sobriety so noticeable was that there were large delegations from the apple-growing districts, while the southeastern end of the county was poorly represented. Apple-eaters have no craving for ardent spirits.

The democratic delegate from Viento left orders with the clerk at the Umalla house to wake him for the early train Sunday morning. When he was roused up at 3 o'clock he asked his room-mate to accompany him on the early train, but the latter declined and turned over for another nap. The train was fast in the sand and didn't reach The Dalles till nearly 11 o'clock.
A delegate from Wamie who came to the democratic convention to help secure the nomination of his neighbor, I. D. Driver, for sheriff, during a lull in the proceedings heard the rumor that the conference committee had given the sheriff to the populists. He went out to "see a man," and during his absence the conference committee reported and the work of nominating candidates immediately began, commencing with the sheriff. He returned just in time to hear his old neighbor thank the convention for the nomination.

Republican Primaries.
The republican primary for West Hood River precinct, for the election of eight delegates to attend the county convention at The Dalles on April 7th, will meet in A. O. U. W. hall on Saturday, March 26th, at 2 p. m.
M. P. ISENBERG, Committeeman.
The republican primary for East Hood River precinct will meet March 26th, in the Mt. Hood hotel, at 2 p. m., for the election of 5 delegates to attend the county convention at The Dalles, April 7th.

Cordwood is steadily advancing in price. Last fall it was $1.25 per cord and no demand for it even at that price, but now the steamer is paying $2 on the dock here and saws are paying from $1.50 to $1.75. The price paid for cutting in the woods has also advanced and is now 80 and 90 cents per cord. There is a good demand for wood east of the mountains now and not very much being cut.—Skamania Pioneer.

Some Plain Truths.
Pacific Farmer.

There is a great hue and cry raised by the press of this country because the orchardists of Germany have compelled their government to exclude American fruit, trees and shrubs, because of the San Jose scale. In looking over these papers we find them to be among the most outspoken during our own campaign for a high protective tariff and the exclusion of everything foreign, some of them even by a prohibitive duty. The newspaper fraternity should have a little more consistency about it. We do not blame the Germans in the least for this move. Every one knows that the scale is being scattered to every little corner of the country, and that it is only controlled by the most persistent efforts of the best skilled horticulturists. They also know that to quarantine against it is of but little use as it has entered into every State in this union, no matter how strong and strictly enforced the horticultural regulations. The German government probably does not care to establish and maintain a quarantine station to disinfect every pound of fruit that crosses their border. It is sufficient for them to know that the pest is here and that it is getting worse year by year, and that if it once gets a foothold with them it will do the same thing. This government draws a dead line around a city affected with small pox, a district affected with Texas fever, or for other cause that necessarily seems in demand, especially as long as the cause is on the increase. The American people as a rule are entirely too careless and dishonest in many matters for their own good. When they will quit butchering their hogs to save them after they see cholera is in the herd; when they stop shipping to foreign markets oleo for butter; when they sell filled cheese for filled cheese instead of full cream; when they pack and ship clean fruit instead of pest and fungus covered fruit; in fact when they stop the "wooden nutmeg" business and always deal honestly with their neighbors, they can expect consideration, and not till then.
