R. RAND & SON.
The Valley Improvement Co. has contracted to furnish 328 inches of water for the irrigating season of 1898, 104 inches of which are for clover sown this spring. It is estimated that over 100 inches more will be taken for clover. Water for clover is furnished for this season only at $2.50 an inch.
Some time during the past month a stylishly dressed young man calling himself Geo. E. Bates worked Hood River for orders for a Chicago clothing house and for shirts from A. Loeb of San Francisco on the side. He took pay in advance for the shirts, which never came to hand, but the clothing ordered from Chicago was not prepaid and was duly delivered.
Mr. W. J. Smith, proprietor of the Hood River box factory, recently purchased in Portland a 35-horse power engine and a 50-horse power boiler, the latter of which weighs 13,000 pounds. This new machinery will greatly increase the capacity of the factory. It will be delivered this week and set up immediately. All of which looks like the box factory was here to stay.
Mr. C. R. Bone met with an accident last week that came near spoiling his handsome countenance for all time. He was helping his brother put baled hay in the barn loft when the baled hay hook slipped and caught him in the nose, tearing out one nostril. He was patched up by a surgeon and the wound is healing nicely. In the meantime, with his face covered with court plaster and lint, he might be taken for a survivor of the Maine disaster.
Little Jay Wolford met with a serious accident, five weeks ago, which has kept him confined to the house and most of the time in a dark room. He was lying on the floor tossing a sharp stick to the ceiling of the room, when the stick, in falling, pierced one of his eyes. He has been under the doctor's care ever since, and whether the sight of his eye can be saved or not is still a matter of doubt. Jay is one of the nice little boys in town, and everybody feels sorry for him.

Mr. E. E. Savage came to town last Saturday for the first time since he underwent an operation in a Portland hospital for appendicitis. He is much improved in health, but it will be some time before he entirely recovers from the effects of being disembowled and having his insides overhauled. The operation proved that it was done just in time to save his life. Without the operation, the surgeons informed him, he could not have lived over two weeks. They also informed him that fruit seeds had nothing to do with causing the trouble. Dr. McKenzie had treated more than 50 persons for appendicitis and never found a case where seeds had been the cause. Mr. Savage is to be congratulated on his narrow escape and restoration to health.

M. P. Isenberg got in his work at the primaries last Saturday and was rewarded by seeing almost a solid delegation elected from West Hood River precinct for the support of his friends whose names will come before the convention. To an outsider it has looked for some time as if his crowd was in a hopeless minority here in Hood River; but the result of the primaries tells a different story. Pete is no slouch when it comes to politics.

The April meeting of the Traversers club will be held Monday evening, April 4th, at A. O. U. W. hall; Mrs. LaFrance, hostess. Subject, "An Evening in Concord." I. Historic Concord. 2. Sketches of authors and poets who have lived in Concord. Each one present will be called upon to give something of interest relating to the subject.

Mr. LaFrance wishes to inform the public that, if he can get patronage enough for his laundry, he will send every week instead of every other week. Read the laundry price list in another column. This is a good opportunity to get first-class laundry work at Portland prices.

New Dry Goods.—We have just received one of the best lines of dry goods ever carried in Hood River. In dress goods we have the latest in calico, gingham, muslin, dimities, organdies, glosses, creases, alpaca, canvas cloth and bicycling tweeds.

R. RAND & SON.
The fruit has escaped the frosts and promises a full yield of all kinds in Hood River valley. Peaches and cherry trees are in bloom. Apple trees are very full of fruit buds. Strawberries are looking well and in some parts of the valley show an occasional bloom.

A. W. King deserves the thanks of the public for the enterprise he has shown in making good roads at his own expense. He is further improving the piece of road on the north side of his place which he cleared last winter of logs and under brush.

The names of the Hood River delegates to the republican county convention as published in The Dalles papers could hardly be recognized by their owners. It is to be hoped the boys will fare better in the convention.

Last week two fishermen named Mat Nydquist and Swan Swanson left The Dalles in a small boat for Lyle. Their boat was picked up at White Salmon several days later, but the men have not been seen and are supposed to be drowned.

Mr. Clyde T. Bonney gave a general treat last Saturday to celebrate his wedding. He gave orders at LaFrance's store to set 'em up for the boys—cigars, peanuts, candies, etc.

The Baker City Democrat says a big strike has been encountered in the main tunnel of the Golden Eagle, about 200 yards from the Don Juan, and owned by Messrs. Hill and Cradlebaugh.

F. H. Watts, general agent for the Monumental Bronze Co., Dufur, Or., will make periodical visits to Hood River. See his work in the cemeteries and then see him for terms.

Mr. Wait Belding and Mrs. James Granger, brother and sister of Mrs. A. P. Morse, arrived here Saturday from Otisco, Mich. A young man named Ralph Hanks came with them.

"The Awakening of Spring," an Easter cantata, will be given by the ladies of the M. E. church on Saturday, April 9th. Further particulars in next week's paper.

Grant Evans returned last week from a trip to Baker City and Sumpter. He is favorably impressed with that part of Oregon and says it is a great mining country.

E. D. Calkins will be in Hood River in about three weeks with his kit of harness tools, prepared to mend harness and do all work in his line.

Rev. G. R. Archer and bride left Wednesday morning on the steamer Regulator for a trip to Portland, expecting to return Saturday.

Miss Katie Sweeney of Stevenson, Wash., visited Miss Nellie Clark during last week and returned home Saturday.

Robt. Foley started last week for Crook county, where he expects to remain during the coming summer.

Mr. J. C. Wheeler came up from Portland last week and will remain here for a spell for his health.

Mrs. R. Kirbyson, who has been quite sick for the past two or three weeks, is now convalescent.

Mrs. C. L. Morse started yesterday on a trip to Kansas, to visit relatives in her old home.

Canby post, G. A. R. and W. R. C., will hold regular meetings tomorrow, at 2 o'clock.

Lost—A white poodle dog. C. L. Morse would like to learn of his whereabouts.

J. H. Eggert is building a substantial barn on his place on the East Side.

Dr. Shaw has let the contract for building a cottage to W. H. Bishop.

Button Hole Contest Party.

March 25th, Mrs. L. Henry, assisted by her daughter, Mrs. J. B. Hunt, entertained a few of Hood River's little fairies. Each one brought her doll and all had quite a visit with each other. Before the contest began the house was full of gaily until Mrs. Hunt passed around the pieces of cloth for each one to work a button-hole on. Then all was quiet, each worked with a will, and when they had finished their work went out on the lawn while the judges examined their work. Two prizes were given, one for the best button hole and one for the poorest. All seemed to enjoy themselves, and the button holes worked would be a credit to far older persons. Mrs. Fred Howe, Mrs. Laura Baldwin and Miss Mellie Rigby were the judges. After a careful examination of their work the first prize was awarded to No. 5, Miss Geneva Wolford, and consisted of a spool-holder; the booby prize, a thimble, was given to No. 3, Miss Maud Bateham. The prizes were given just before the little ones went in to luncheon. The table was spread with all kinds of goodies, which all seemed to thoroughly enjoy. The center of attraction during the afternoon was Baby Hunt dressed up as a little angel, who caused much amusement among the little girls. Those present were Misses Blanche Howe, Ruth Rigby, Lulu Watson, Nettie Allen, Vera Allen, Dott Watt, Anna Jackson, Maggie Nickelsen, Mary LaFrance, Belle Wolford, Geneva Wolford, Maude Bateham.

Principal Hood River Schools.

Delegates Elected.
The republican primaries last Saturday called out a full vote in Hood River. The following were elected delegates to the county convention:

West Hood River—W. M. Yates, Wm Isenberg, H. Bailey, T. J. Cuning, W. J. Norton, E. E. Savage, T. J. Cuning, G. J. Gessing, J. F. Watt.

East Hood River—N. C. Evans, Sam Harrison, J. H. Dukes, Chris Dethman, W. J. Smith.

Mt. Hood—O. H. Rhoads and George Wishart.

Married.
In Hood River, March 24, 1898, at the M. E. church, by H. K. Hines, D. D., in the presence of a few invited guests, Mr. Clyde T. Bonney and Miss Martha C. Mays.

The bride is one of Hood River's most estimable and accomplished young ladies. The groom lately succeeded to the business of the Columbia Packing Co. in Hood River and gives promise of a successful business career. The popular and happy couple have the congratulations of their numerous friends.

The wedding of Miss Ethel Rigby with the Rev. George R. Archer, at Belmont M. E. church, Tuesday evening, March 29, 1898, was in every particular a success. The decorations in the building were in the best of taste. The arch and gates at which the bride and groom entered were of evergreen, and the bell in the arch was a unique affair. The angels at the gates were two daintily dressed little maidens. The grooms were Messrs. Wm. Isenberg and Claud Wetherell; the bridesmaids, Misses Mellie J. Rigby and Edith Potter. The dress of the groom was the full ministerial; that of the bride, white silk, with veil and wreaths. The crowd was simply immense. The officiating clergyman were Revs. Warner P. E. Dalles district, H. K. Hines, D. D., and J. W. Rigby. All members of the church and specially invited guests went to the Potter house for lunch after the ceremony.

Regular services will be conducted at the Congregational church next Sunday. The quarterly communion service will be observed at 11 a. m.

Pleasant Surprise.

A very pleasant surprise was given Rev. J. T. Merrill by his friends last Friday evening, about sixty being present. The entertainment of the evening was an impromptu programme of recitations by Mrs. A. H. Alari, Maude Cushin, Ethel and Ruth Rigby, Grace and Belle Howell. Music by a boys' quartette, composed of Mill Foley, Percy Logsdon, Earl and Meigs Bartmess. The exercises were of a character that any one not informed would have thought had been especially prepared for the occasion. The old folks forgot their age, and all together, old and young, joined in having a good time. Lunch was served after the evening's entertainment closed. Mr. and Mrs. Merrill desire to thank their friends for such an expression of regard.

"A word to the wise is sufficient" and a word from the wise should be sufficient, but you ask, who are the wise? Those who know. The oft repeated experience of trust-worthy persons may be taken for knowledge. Mr. W. M. Terry Chamberlain's Cough Remedy gives better satisfaction than any other in the market. He has been in the drug business at Elkton, Ky., for 12 years; has sold hundreds of bottles of this remedy and nearly all other cough medicines manufactured, which shows conclusively that Chamberlain's is the most satisfactory to the people, and is the best. For sale by Williams & Brosius.
