LATEST WAR NEWS.

NEW YORK, June 8.—A special from Kingston, Jamaica, reports that the Spanish cruiser Vizcaya and the torpedo-boat destroyer Furor were badly damaged during the bombardment of Monday. A shell from the Brooklyn is said to have burst under the Vizcaya's port quarter, dismounting a gun, injuring the cruiser's rudder and wounding several soldiers.

MADRID, June 8.—The following semi-official report was published here today, purporting to give an account of the bombardment of Santiago by the American fleet on Monday last:

"The American navy under Sampson fiercely attacked Santiago, and a bloody encounter resulted. The Americans made three attacks on the Spanish marine and land batteries, which replied. As a consequence the Americans were repulsed with heavy losses, estimated at 1500 men. The American projectiles, however, sank the Spanish cruiser Reina Mercedes, and one officer, five sailors and 24 marines on board were killed."

A dispatch from Havana from Spanish sources says:

"The Americans were again repulsed at the last bombardment of Santiago." According to official Spanish dispatches the exact loss of the Spaniards at Santiago, Monday, was as follows: Five officers, one soldier killed and five officers wounded, including Colonel Ordonez, slightly wounded. Seated, second officer in command of the Reina Mercedes, five sailors and 24 marines killed, and one officer and 11 sailors wounded.

The state has gone republican by an increased majority. Wasco county elects the full republican ticket. Sherman county ditto. Fickett has failed once more and we may never see it tried again in Oregon. Free silver has received a set back from which it will never recover. As Oregon goes so goes the Union.

Miss Fay Fuller, a reporter on the Pendleton Tribune, was some time ago appointed harbor master at Tacoma, Wash. It is said that thus far she has done good work, keeping all records pertaining to the extensive shipping business of the city in perfect shape. She has made out the harbor master's report for the year, the first report of the kind ever made out by an American woman.—Evel Journal.

A Law that Can Not be Repealed.
The price of wheat has fallen. Reports of good crops in foreign countries where there were poor crops last year are affecting the market price. The law of supply and demand establishes the price of products, and this law cannot be amended or repealed by any legislative body. Legislation does not make either business good or prices good or add one whit to prosperity. Legislation, however, can make the business of some people good at the expense of others. So can a thief be prosperous if allowed to take what belongs to others.—East Oregonian.

The Election.
The election Monday was the quietest held in Hood River for years. The usual crowds around the polls were not to be seen. Many voters did not come to town, while others hurriedly loaded up strawberry crates and pulled for home without voting, and some even forgot that it was election day. The falling off in the vote of West Hood River precinct was about 100. Following is the vote of Hood River valley:

He Tortured Himself in Order to Get Placed on the Sick List.

A case showing great cunning and perseverance, as well as tolerance of much self-inflicted pain continued for many months, is worth telling, says Chambers' Journal. The convict was most determined and resourceful in his efforts at malingering. He began by running a piece of copper wire into his knee, by which he nearly lost his leg. He then produced a number of sores round the knee joint, and kept up a great degree of swelling and inflammation by means of a rag and thread pushed into the wounds. Upon the discovery of this he took to introducing lime below the skin. On another occasion a bandage was found firmly bound round the man's thigh, so the result being in the medical phraseology, "extensive swelling and lividity of the thigh."
The doctor ordered his limb to be enveloped with a large piece of gutta-serena so as to checkmate the prisoner's malpractices. The latter, however, by means of a strip of sheeting, and the skewer to which part of his dinner was attached, formed a tourniquet, and by it compressed his leg so much during the night as to quite neutralize the medical treatment it had received during the day. The imposture was at length detected by an order of the doctor to expose the limb outside the bedclothes to the view of the officer day and night, and from that hour progress was toward complete recovery.

INCREASED COTTON PRODUCT.

Improvement in Agricultural Methods in Twenty Years.
Some recently published figures and other data with regard to the growth of cotton production are interesting, says the Savannah (Ga.) News. In 1875 the average yield per acre was 260 pounds. During the 20 years the acreage devoted to cotton cultivation increased 128 per cent., while the production increased 183 per cent. That is to say, the farms of the present day are much more productive than were those of 20 years ago. The reason is, as every practical farmer knows, that agricultural methods have been greatly improved during the time. Investors and chemists have labored with the farmer to the end of bringing the lands up to a higher state of productivity. The former have produced new implements for the cultivation of the soil in an improved and at the same time labor-saving manner. The latter have instructed the farmer as to the chemical elements needed for the enrichment of his soil, and the fertilizer manufacturer has provided those elements in convenient form for utilization. Rule-of-thumb farming has to a great degree given way to scientific farming. Those farmers who have not their own test tubes and text books are readers of good agricultural periodicals, which supply useful and accurate information with regard to soils, fertilizers, etc., to take the place of guesswork. The farms, like everything else, is progressing.
