FRIDAY, JULY 1, 1898.

The war revenue bill, now a law, hits us all one way or another. It gives Uncle Sam the ready money to carry on the war, and if the people had assurance that by doubling the taxes the war would be over that much sooner, the increase would be as cheerfully paid. Tobacco is taxed 12 cents a pound; cigars, $3.60 per 1,000; cigarettes, $1.50; bowling alleys, $5 a year for each alley; bank checks, 2 cents; bills of lading, express or freight, 1 cent; telephone messages, 1 cent; bonds of indemnity, 50 cents; contracts for real estate, merchandise, stocks, etc., 10 cents; deeds, transfers of real estate, etc., for each $100 in value, 50 cents; telegrams, 1 cent; life insurance policies, 8 cents per $100; lease for one year or less, 25 cents, over three years, $1; mortgage, exceeding $1,000, 25 cents, and 25 cents for each additional $500 over $1,500; proxies, 10 cents; power of attorney, 25 cents; protest, 25 cents; medicinal proprietary articles and perfumery, cosmetics and other similar articles, one-eighth of 1 cent for each 5 cents in retail price; chewing gum, for each dollar or fraction of retail value, 4 cents; fire and marine insurance, upon the amount of premium charged, one-half of 1 per cent on each dollar or fraction. A stamp tax of 1 cent is levied on each ticket for a seat in a palace or parlor car or berth. A tax of 4 cents a barrel is levied on "mixed flour," and a tax of $12 a year on manufacturers thereof.

Next Monday is the 122d anniversary of the birth of our nation. Independence day this year means more than it has for many a year. Our country today is at war with an European nation. Our soldiers and sailors are planting the Stars and Stripes on foreign shores. Such a patriotic demonstration will be made by this nation of 70,000,000 of souls as perhaps was never before witnessed during the history of its existence. The nation will celebrate the victories of a war begun for the sake of humanity—that a neighboring people should be given their freedom. Can the sacrifice of human life be offered in a nobler cause? Our nation is but in its youth compared with the countries of the Old World, and a new era is opening before it. Perhaps it will decide the destiny of the republic. Let freedom ring and the eagle scream, America will show the world the idealism of a nation whose government is of the people, for the people and by the people.

The great increase in the strawberry crop of Hood River valley over former years can be attributed to the big ditch of the Valley Improvement Co. Without this ditch our shipments could not have reached half the number of crates shipped this year. The Improvement company sold 459 inches of water this season. This is at least 400 inches more than the Hood River Water Supply Co. could have furnished without putting their regular customers on short allowance. The big ditch cost about $28,000. It is safe to say that the increase in this year's crop of strawberries, blackberries and other fruit, garden truck and clover will bring enough money to pay for the ditch. The fields of clover sown last spring, if properly looked after and irrigated, will be sufficient in a year or two to supply the home market with hay.

Judge W. L. Bradshaw carried every county in the district with majorities as follows: Sherman, 243; Gilliam, 51; Wasco, 275; Crook, 242—total, 811.

Law of Prizes in War.
Very interesting to every citizen just now are the laws regulating the disposition of prizes captured in war. A judicial tribunal called a prize court determines all points in relation to this disposition of captures made from the enemy. Our laws relative to capture made at sea are modeled after the laws of Great Britain on the same subject. According to our law if a capture is made from an enemy's force which is equal or superior to our forces then the prize captured goes entirely to the captors. If the force of the enemy was inferior in numbers and strength to our forces, then one-half of the prize goes to the navy pension fund and the other half to the captors. The commanding officer of the fleet or squadron receives one-twentieth of the prize, the commander of each ship, unless his ship is acting independently, receives one-tenth of what goes to his ship and the rest is distributed among the officers and men. If a ship is acting independent of the rest of the squadron, then its captain receives three-twentieth of the amount allotted to his ship.

It is, of course, international law that a captures made in war shall revert to the benefit of the government making the capture. The giving of the prize or part of it to the captors must be authorized by local law, as it is in no way recognized by international law. It is, however, at present the practice of nearly all governments to give the captors at least a portion of the prize captured. This is done as a reward for services and bravery shown, as well as to stimulate men to the greatest exertion. In the war of the rebellion over 1,200 prizes were captured. The most valuable of all of them was the ironclad Tennessee, which was captured by Admiral Farragut in the battle in Mobile bay. The Tennessee was valued at $595,000.

From the Boys in Blue.
Tuesday's mail brought to Hood River letters from the Oregon volunteers now supposed to be at Manila. The letters were mailed for the United States during the stopover of the transports at Honolulu. Mrs. Geo. P. Crowell, who received a number of letters from her son, Clarence English, has handed the same to us and from which we print extracts.

Clarence writes that he was sea-sick for the first three or four days out, but that the rest of the Hood River boys kept well, except Maltie Dukes, who was sick for a day or two. The weather was perfect, excepting a shower or two, and the boys were given the privilege of sleeping on the decks at night. The ladies of the Red Cross society of San Francisco furnished the soldiers with plenty of reading matter. In speaking of the hospitality shown the boys in blue by the people of San Francisco, Clarence tells of a Red Cross woman who stopped a bakery wagon and ordered pies for a whole company of Oregon boys, she paying for the same from her own purse.

The expedition reached Honolulu on June 1st, and right royally were the boys received and entertained. All the privileges of the city were given them free of charge, the citizens refusing to accept pay for anything the soldiers wished. The entire command, 3000 strong, was given a reception and banquet under the spreading palms of the city plaza, on the second day of their arrival, where they were served to bananas and oranges, cigars and ginger ale galore. Six hundred bicycles were placed at their disposal. The boys simply gave checks for the wheels and were allowed to go where they pleased.

Clarence thinks the people here, who are opposed to the annexation of the Hawaiian Islands, to be "crazy or ignorant. They have the wrong impression," he says, "of the character of the people. Of course the Japs are not very desirable, but they know how to manage them here. The Chinamen raised $6000 for the soldier boys, and the rest of the citizens raised $4000 for us, a total of $10,000.

The Hawaiian congress adjourned upon the arrival of the soldiers and threw open the congress halls to the boys in blue, where they were supplied with writing materials and postage stamps at the expense of the Hawaiian government. The following is a copy from a letter written by Mr. English while in the hall of the house of representatives:

I know you will be surprised to get this letter written in the senate chamber of the house of representatives of Hawaii, but the people here have thrown the place open to us. This is in the palace which used to be the royal palace. We just partook of a banquet served to us in royal style in the palace grounds under the beautiful shade trees and palms. We were served by the finest ladies and gentlemen of the land to all the delicacies of a tropical paradise and also plenty of good substantial food.

I had the honor of a personal introduction to President and Mrs. Dole, and had quite a chat with the president, who is one of the finest men in the world. He told me he was born here and so you see he is the one man who could have accomplished without great bloodshed what he did in dethroning the queen. The natives all seem to think the world of him.

It is a sight long to be remembered to see 2500 blue coats banqueting under the palms in a palace grove. I am sitting at one of the senator's desks now and the boys are sitting all around, writing to their mothers and friends.

Don't Tobacco Spit and Smoke Your Life Awar.
To quit tobacco easily and forever, be magnetic, full of life, nerve and vigor, take No-To-Bac, the wonder-worker, that makes weak men strong. All druggists, 50c or $1. Cure guaranteed. Booklet and sample free. Address: Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago or New York.

To Cure Constipation Forever.
Take Cascarets Candy Cathartic, 10c or 50c. It C. C. C. fails to cure, druggists refund money.

A strawberry grower at Falk Station is bragging about his crop of 250 crates from four acres. There are four-acre patches in Hood River where 250 crates were left on the vines after shipping several hundred crates this season. A fair average in Hood River for two-year-old plants is 200 crates an acre.

Beauty is Blood Deep.
Clean blood means a clean skin. No beauty without it. Cascarets, Candy Cathartic clean your blood and keep it clean, by stirring up the lazy liver and driving all impurities from the body. Begin today to banish pimples, boils, blotches, blackheads, and that sickly bilious complexion by taking Cascarets—beauty for ten cents. All druggists, satisfaction guaranteed, 10c, 25c, 50c.

Restored to the Public Domain.

There being some dispute as to whether the part of a township petitioned to be withdrawn from the Cascade reserve by the settlers at Mt. Hood was ever thrown out or not is settled by the following letter:

"General Land Office, Washington, D. C., May 27, 1898.—Hon. W. R. Ellis, House of Representatives—Sir: Referring to petitions recently filed by you for the restoration to the public domain of the west half of township 1 south of range 10 east, Willamette meridian, Oregon, included within the Cascade range forest reserve, I have the honor to inform you that, by executive order of April 29, 1898, the same is restored to the public domain after sixty days notice of order, by publication, as required by the act of June 4, 1897 (30 Stat., 36); and to further state that the local land officers of The Dalles, Oregon, have been this day given the necessary instructions to carry said order into effect. Very respectfully,
BINGER HERMANN,
Commissioner.

A Bounteous Bill of Fare.

Copies of the Honolulu Advertiser of June 3d and 4th were sent by Clarence English to his mother. From the paper of June 3d we copy the bill of fare furnished at a banquet given the U. S. troops on the palace grounds June 4th, as follows: "Potato salad, one ton; roast beef, 2,500 pounds; roast mutton; milk, 300 gallons; turkeys; ham sandwiches, 10,000; chickens; coffee, 150 pounds equals gallons; pineapples, 500; watermelons, 500; mangoes, 20,000; oranges, 5,000; various meats; bread and butter; etc., etc.; cigars and cigarettes; soda water and ginger ale, 12,000 bottles; etc., etc.; pie, 2,000; cake, 20 bushels. The dinner will be a good one, with lots of it. Tables will be spread, but there will be no seats. The troops will come to the grounds in column of fours, and if necessary will be carried away on stretchers."

Show Your Patriotism.

The citizens of Hood River and vicinity will meet at the grounds selected for the 4th of July, at 8 o'clock, at or near the reservoir of the Springwater company, in the east corner of the enclosure, for the construction of stands and seats. The committee of ladies will meet at 7 o'clock Monday morning, the 4th, to arrange for decoration. Everybody come and show your patriotism.
W. P. WATSON,
President of the Day.

Educate Your Bowels With Cascarets.

Candy Cathartic, cure constipation forever. 10c, 25c. If C. C. C. fails, druggists refund money.

Bad management keeps more people in poor circumstances than any other one cause. To be successful one must look ahead and plan ahead so that when a favorable opportunity presents itself he is ready to take advantage of it. A little forethought will also save much expense and valuable time. A prudent and careful man will keep a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the house; the shiftless fellow will wait until necessity compels it and then ruin his best horse going for a doctor and have a big doctor bill to pay, besides; one pays out 25 cents, the other is out a hundred dollars and then wonders why his neighbor is getting richer while he is getting poorer. For sale by Williams & Brosius.

WANTED—TRUSTWORTHY AND ACTIVE gentlemen or ladies to travel for responsible, established house in Oregon. Monthly $65 and expenses. Position steady. Reference. Inclusive self-addressed stamped envelope. The Columbia Company, Dept. Y, Chicago.
