Secretary Alger is getting the blame for everything that has not been considered just according to Hoyle in the management of the troops in camps of instruction and in the field. If we remember rightly the man who was secretary of war during the civil war was abused the same way. But Alger has a heart in him and is so much better than the cruel Stanton that when the records of the two are recorded in history the present secretary's will shine the brightest. General Shafter, the hero of Santiago, hit back at the grand army of military strategists in the rear when he wrote to Alger as follows.

I cannot fully express my gratitude to you for all the opportunities that you have given me, and for the confidence that you repose in me, as shown more strongly than in any other way by leaving me unhampered in my operations against Santiago. I am very sorry to see that some newspapers are attempting to throw blame on your trying to run the campaign from Washington, and I suppose some people believe it. It is one of the things, however, that I suppose we cannot help, although whenever I have the opportunity I have tried to make it plain that I have been left to my own devices.

New questions arising from the war with Spain threaten to play hob with old party lines. Imperialists are not confined to any one party. Annexation of the Philippines has friends as well as opponents in all parties. The democrats of Texas and Missouri in their state conventions declare for territorial expansion. These two great states are in territory that was annexed, but the annexation of any foreign territory lying contiguous to the United States is altogether different from annexing islands on the other side of the world containing a heathen population of millions. If the people of Canada showed a disposition to be annexed it would be an acquisition most desirable, but to annex territory lying 8,000 miles from our shores, so far away that it takes a month to reach it by fast-sailing steamships, looks to many people as ill-advised if there were no other objections.

The war with Spain is over. In less than four months our navy has demolished that of Spain with the loss of only one American sailor; our armies have been victorious in every encounter, and the rich possessions of Spain in the West Indies and the Philippines have been wrested from her and she is glad to sue for peace. Things have happened about as we might have expected, but even though we knew Spain was no match for us in war, no one dreamed of such overwhelming victories. The war has been expensive, but luxuries come high. "A war to a generation" is an historical maxim. Let us hope it will hold good in our generation.

The editors of Oregon, Washington and Idaho will hold joint convention at Spokane next week, commencing on the 25th and holding sessions for three days. It is thought upwards of 500 newspaper men will be in attendance and a hot time in that town may be expected. An extra train will be run on the O. R. & N. to Spokane on the 24th, and the excursionists will return by the Northern Pacific. Albert Tozier of Portland, secretary of the Oregon press association, looks after the transportation and is prepared to give all necessary information in regard to the trip.

When war was declared against Spain cannon boomed from one end of the country to the other and there was great rejoicing. Now that we have whipped the haughty Spaniard and can make our own terms of peace there are no outward signs of rejoicing. Is this an indication that we prefer war to peace?

Admiral Dewey remains the great hero of the war. He fought the first battle, the success of which was the wonder of the age, and it was his good fortune to fight the final battle and achieve a glorious victory in the capture of Manila.

A neat supplement to the Heppner Gazette, in pamphlet form, has been received. It is a work of art typographically and gives Morrow county and its resources and representative citizens a good write up.

The 22d national encampment of the Grand Army will be held at Cincinnati, September 5th to 10th. The railroads are giving a rate of one cent a mile.

J. Henry Brown, Oregon pioneer, soldier, printer and historian, died at Portland, August 16th, aged 61 years.

From every standpoint the war is destined to be a blessing to the nation. It will pay in patriotism, in industry, in labor and in national greatness. Its deeds of valor have shed glory on the American name, and crowned the republic with luster as the proud possessor of such sons—Denver News.

The war is over and the boys will soon come marching home.

From the Boys at Manila.

Dr. F. C. Brosius writes to his wife from Cavite, under date of July 5th. He says many of the boys suffered from diarrhoea, caused by drinking the impure water of the tropics, but that otherwise the health of the soldiers was good. His letter in part is as follows:

Here we are on captured foreign soil. We landed here and took possession of the fort and barracks the day after arrival, and have been shifting from pillar to post ever since. We have moved our quarters three times, and are now back where we first located, in a large roomy stone barrack, about 30 feet wide and 100 feet long, divided into a larger and smaller part by stone partitions, with large arched door in the center. The smaller room we use as dispensary and hospital, the larger one for hospital corps, band, three surgeons, and non-commissioned staff quarters. We have 10 patients in hospital, none critical. Our boys are all well and work hard every day, though not so hard as on ship board. Sickness has decreased since landing, and now we have diarrhoea, probably from fruit and bad water. Orders have been issued to company cooks to keep boiled water on hand constantly, and to the men to drink nothing but boiled water, but many people are devoid of self control in such matters and we cannot appoint a body-guard for each man. There is a great deal of duplication of work by different men, for lack of adequate organization of the surgical and hospital corps. I find myself absolutely busy 16 hours out of 24. War! war! and rumors of war! That is simply our condition. I have ceased to believe anything but what Acas happened, and I don't much care to hear that. We are in a continual turmoil of rumors of this or that. * * * Our barracks are furnished with bamboo and rattan mats, in frames, and these frames set up about 18 inches from the floor, on iron and wooden posts. We sleep very comfortable. Orders were issued today as follows: Reville or rising, call by bugles, 5 a. m.; breakfast, 5:45; sick call at 8; dinner at 12; supper, 5 p. m.; retreat (flag lowering) 6:30; tattoo, 8; quarters, 8:30, and taps (lights out) 9 p. m.

I've just had dinner—the first satisfactory one for several days. We have been getting short rations for some reason, but have more than we could eat today—baked beans, tomato soup, baked pork, bread and coffee. We had three large flap jacks, with brown sugar syrup and coffee, for breakfast. It is wonderful how the members of the corps keep so well—not more than one off duty on an average, and then only for slight complaints. We had 131 patients at sick call, including all, this morning. Have 16 patients in hospital, all doing well. * * * The natives think we are a race of giants. 200 Spanish soldiers gave themselves up yesterday. They were a lot of boys, slight and young. The poor devils were starved out.

I enclose you a piece of the raiment of the Virgin Mary, from the cathedral in Cavite. The cathedral was looted by the insurgents and the priests killed. It was built in 1643, and though very antiquated is in good external condition. I have some Spanish buttons and general's chevrons in silver and gold, but they are unbandy to mail.

Not Good Shippers.

NEWPORT, Or., Aug. 6, 1898.—Editor GLACIER: I netted $1 a crate on my Magoons, sold at Grand Forks, Omaha, Helena and other places. I believe they are a failure for the Hood River country. The Magoons are off color and spongy at their destination. I put in time and took out experience. I have had the pleasure of the experiment and am satisfied. My lesson is well learned. CHAS. H. DARLING.

Written for the GLACIER.

The Tale of a Jackie.

Heave hearty, my lads, and cheerily.
Our good ship is stout and trim;
And every man Jack
With coal dust in black,
Till the bunkers are filled to the brim.

Then up come the chains with a rattle,
The ship points her nose to the sea;
While out of her stack
The smoke rolls back
In a grewsome cloud on our lea.

Ah, never ye mind, my hearties;
What matters it where ye away?
Just shut up yer quik,
'Tis none o' yer biz,
A Jackie knows naught but obey.

Out o' the land-locked harbor
O' the placid Puget sound;
From the harbor's mouth
We turn to the south
And over the blue waves bound.

Across the scorching equator,
And around the ice-bound Horn,
Through dark and through light,
Through day and through night,
The Oregon plunges on.

And every man Jack aboard her,
From captain down to the kid,
Is anxious to meet
The whole Spanish fleet
And to do as Dewey did.

The whole of the circuit is ended
And nary a don we've met,
When off o' Key West
We come to a rest,
An' the anchor watch is set.

'Tis only a rest for a day, lads,
When down from Washington
A message is sped—
Don't know what it said,
But it started the Oregon.

Once more our engines are blowing,
And our ship is plowing the main;
We've entered the race
At a twelve-knot pace,
Pointing straight for the island o' Spain.

Off the harbor o' Santiago,
With Cervera shut up in the bay;
At Sampson's command
We take our stand
'Twixt the New York and Iowa.

'Tis a beautiful Sunday morning,
The Jackies are up for parade;
We have sung a song,
A prayer a yard long
By the chaplain has just been made.

When a voice rings out from the mainmast,
And every Jack hears it say:
"Aho there, below!
Let Captain Clark know
The fleet's comin' out o' the bay!"

A signal is flashed to the Brooklyn,
The flagship of Commodore Schley.
The answer comes quick—
"That fleet we must lick;
Now close in and win, or die!"

There's a sharp rat-tat to quarters,
And each man jumps to his post—
The big gun speaks,
A flying shell shrieks
Like a human thing, almost.

The dons, accepting the challenge,
Are not at all slow to reply—
They open up wide
With a port broadside,
An' their shells around us fly.

Our ship, with a snort, a quiver,
And a gallant bound, is away
Like a racing steed,
She is after the lead
Of the flying Spanish prey.

Out from the forward turret
Leap the angry flames o' the gun—
The shell, with a crash,
Hits the Quendo, smash—
First blood for the Oregon!

The Brooklyn and Indiana,
The Iowa and Texas, too,
Have joined in the chase,
And a merry race
We will give the dons to do.

The Vizcaya and Maria Teresa,
We deliver a shell to each—
They pull down their flag,
Run up a white rag
And sink in the sands o' the beach.

Now, up with a cheer, lads, hearty;
Hurrah for the Oregon!
The big battleship,
With a hip and a skip,
Is after the fleeing Colon.

Oh, the pride of the Spanish navy,
The swift-sailing cruiser Colon,
You will prove too slow
When you try to go
Away from our ship Oregon.

When seventeen leagues from the harbor
We get her in range of our gun;
We drop her one shot,
She flunks on the spot,
And the great sea battle is done.

Oh, hurrah for the Yankee navy!
Hurrah for the captain and crew!
Who showed the coal,
And the jolly old admiral, too.

Hurrah for each ship o' the squadron,
There's a signal for all, "Well done!"
The ship that did best
Came out o' the West,
And her name is THE OREGON.

NO-TO-BAC FOR FIFTY CENTS.

Guaranteed tobacco habit cure, makes weak men strong, blood pure. 50c, $1. All druggists.

Harvest hands are scarce now, but the work is so far along that men can not afford to come for the balance of the season. It has been but a few days since there were half a dozen men for every job, advantage being taken of this fact to reduce the wages, and in addition some of the owners of machines would not treat men looking for work with ordinary civility. Men would not stay under such conditions and a scarcity is the result.—Wasco Republic.

Don't Tobacco Spit and Smoke Your Life Away.

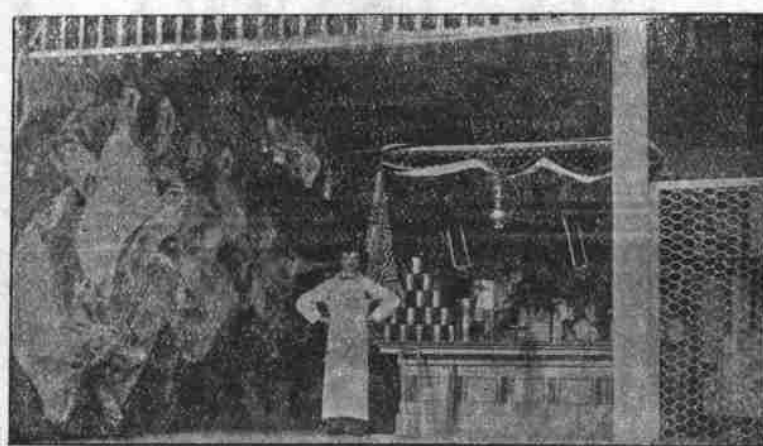

To quit tobacco easily and forever, be nag netic, full of life, nerve and vigor, take No-To-Bac, the wonder-worker, that makes weak men strong. All druggists, 50c or $1. Cure guaranteed. Booklet and sample free. Address: Sterling Remedy Co., Chicago or New York.

On Sunday last the steamer Sarah Dixon ran into a sail boat at Strait's Point, near Mosier. The boat was occupied by three men from White Salmon, who were returning from The Dalles, where they had purchased a new wagon and harness. Mr. Jacobson, who was managing the small boat, was thrown under the steamboat and came up on the other side and was rescued. Parker Hanson was also drawn under the steamer and was drowned. His body has not been recovered.

HOOD RIVER EMPORIUM.

Reciprocity is the Life of Trade.

We want the public to know that we believe in

Reciprocity,

And we want the public to meet us half way. We pay best market prices for all SALABLE country produce, and we expect those of whom we buy to trade with us. We keep all food stuffs for man or beast, and we defy any one to sell regularly at lower prices than we do. At the Emporium you can sell your cattle, hogs, chickens, eggs, butter, berries, apples, and all such produce, and at the same time you can buy groceries of all kinds, flour, hay, feed and the best meats in the state. We sell only first-class goods, and we buy the same kind. So do not bring us poor and wormy fruit, stale butter, rotten eggs and live stock that has gone to seed, because they will not be received at any price. We also want first choice of your produce. Do not peddle your goods all over town and bring us the refuse to rot because not salable. We refuse to take such stuff from such parties. We want a fair, square deal from you, as you want from us. THIS IS RECIPROCITY. Now come on and try it at
