Merrill and wife have been called to De Moss Springs, Sherman county, by the serious illness of Mrs. Merrill's father. E. H. Pickard, painter and decorator, estimates gratis; prices moderate; satisfaction guaranteed. Leave orders at Glacier pharmacy. Little Eva Yates was hurt on Wednesday by being pushed from the roof of S. E. Bartness' wood shed by other children with whom she was playing. Her injuries were not serious. Uncle Oliver Bartness' had fisherman's luck twice last week and fell in the river both times. At one time he got in over his head, but as he is a good swimmer he wriggled to shore all right. There will be no preaching services at the Congregational church next Sunday. Sunday school will be held at 10 a. m. Junior society at 3 p. m. Christian Endeavor meeting at 7 p. m. with Mr. J. F. Armor, leader. Notice.—I have engaged Mr. Wilson, the old-time harness maker, to do my harness work, and am now prepared to make new harness at such prices that any body can afford to buy. Send in your order at once, to keep us busy. At Denzer's new store. Dr. Benjamin, dentist, is one of the leaders in the first regiment band of Portland. He is a first-class musician, and we are pleased to learn that during his professional visits to Hood River he will give the Hood River brass band instruction. Telephone connection is now established with the upper and middle valleys with instruments at the Mt. Hood post office and at the residence of Mr. C. G. Roberts. This will prove a great convenience to residents of these neighborhoods. Mr. Samuel Cochran and wife arrived here last Saturday from La Grande, on a visit to their daughter, Mrs. C. L. Copple, and family. On Tuesday they went to Portland to see the exposition and visit for a few days. On their return home they will stop at Hood River for about ten days and visit Mr. Copple's family and other old acquaintances who are here from Grand Ronde valley and get acquainted with Hood River people in general. If the weather is favorable they want to spend a good part of their time in driving over the valley. Mr. Cochran says everything is booming at La Grande and in the valley on the strength of the sugar factory that was built at that place last summer. There was a big wheat crop, and farmers are holding for a better price than 40 cents. There is also a big crop of fruit, and farmers generally are prosperous.

Dr. and Mrs. E. T. Carns started on their journey to McCune, Kansas, last Monday. The trip will consume four days, but the doctor has gained in health so rapidly for the last week or two that he felt strong enough to undertake the journey. His many friends here hope to hear of his safe arrival at his old home and his speedy recovery.

Hon. E. L. Smith gathered 525 boxes of apples from his young orchard at Beulah Land. This is a good showing for the first crop, and his orchard may be expected to double these returns next year and keep on doubling for several years. Mr. Smith kept the spray pump going during the growing season and of course has a fine lot of apples.

Mr. M. P. Isenberg returned on Sunday from Salem, where he had the honor to be doorkeeper of the house of representatives, at the special session, a six-dollar-a-day office to which he was unanimously elected. He reports that Wagon's deligation was all right and made a good record for economy and for the good of the state.

Mr. B. R. Tucker is again around with his book of samples of fall and winter clothing. He represents the well known American Woolen Mills Co., and can take your measure and give satisfaction in men's suits from $7 or less up to $10 and $15.

Mr. Edward Green, the Missouri apple buyer, has purchased about 4,000 boxes of apples in the valley. He has them all delivered and shipped but about 1,200 boxes. Where he does not buy the orchard he pays 75 cents a box delivered.

Mr. Frank McFarland was in town on Monday. Mr. McFarland is now special agent for the Equitable Life Assurance Co. and makes his home in Portland, where his three boys are attending the Bishop Scott Grammar school.

An Example for the Boys. Salem Journal.

The election of so young a man as Hon. Jos. Simon to the United States senate, and the opening to him of a career of high official honor, ought to be a lesson to the boys of Oregon in some respects that should not be overlooked and ought to be impressed even on parents more than on young people. Joseph Simon is a man who does not use liquor or tobacco. He is a man who uses no profane language nor engages in telling snuff stories. He is a man who has no time to spend in betting, playing billiards or cards, and he is not a baseball or football expert. Like Benjamin Doremill, he does not think it necessary for a gentleman to talk about his religion, but he has been devoted to his parents, faithful to his own family, and his word is as good as his bond. Mr. Simon places a high value on his time, and he is so plain that every minute in conversation must be an old friend or have something important to confer about. These are some of the secrets of his wonderful success, and yet they are so plain that every one could follow them if he had the determination and character and persistence and continuity to adhere to them. If those who are inclined to sneer at a man because he is a Hebrew and of German birth would learn some of these traits and follow them they might achieve the same success that Mr. Simon has.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE.

A Good Price for Apples.

Mr. Warren Wells, who has charge of Jas. Lacey's place on the East Side, made the best sale of apples of any we have heard of this season. His six-year-old orchard bore its first crop this season. The apples are mostly Spitzbergers, and 238 trees came into bearing. He bought the apple crop early in the season of Mr. Lacey, who is employed on the railroad and had no time to attend to it. Mr. Wells did not want the apples, but Mr. Lacey insisted on his making him an offer, and he did so and got them very cheap. As the apples grew and matured the orchard was visited by a good many fruit growers and others, and several bids were made for the fruit. Mr. Wells at first offered to sell the apples in the orchard for $200. He then went up to $300, when he was offered $250 by a local merchant. When the apples had fully matured and had colored so beautifully, he went up in his price to $500.

Mr. Edward Green, the Missouri apple buyer, then came along and offered Mr. Wells $450 for all good apples free from worms, and the offer was accepted. Mr. Wells picked the apples and hauled them to town, and the packing was done by Mr. Green. From 268 young trees Mr. Wells picked 344 boxes of sound Spitzberg apples, making the price he received a fraction over $1.30 a box. Mr. Green is well pleased with his purchase. To prove that he is well pleased, he was asked to sell 10 boxes by a man who desired to purchase that many choice apples, and he fixed the price at $3 a box. The wormy apples, of which there is about 200 boxes, Mr. Wells is selling at 50 cents a box. And for second class apples they are cheap enough at that price to the lovers of the Spitzberg apple. Mr. Wells has 50 acres adjoining the Lacey place, and he will set out Spitzberg apple trees on his own land as fast as he can get it cleared. The land is a heavy clay subsoil, with an oak growth of timber.

Clark-Mercer.

The marriage of Mr. Frank S. Clark to Miss Nannie Mercer, one of Hood River's most esteemed young ladies, at the M. E. church on last Sunday evening, was a matter of general interest to the community. The church had been beautifully decorated with flowers, vines and autumn leaves, and immediately after the close of the evening service, while a march was played by the organist, the bride and groom entered. The audience room, though ample in size, was unequal to the accommodation of the many friends and acquaintances who had gathered to witness the ceremony and bid the young couple bon voyage through life. The bride was dressed in taste appropriate for the occasion, and after the words were spoken by the pastor which made them one, they retired without delay. A number of intimate friends followed to the home of the bride's mother to tender their congratulations. A little later at the depot another crowd awaited the east-bound train. There was pleasure, there was rice, there was good wishes in abundance, but the train bore away all the interest and the crowd scattered to their homes. Young Mr. and Mrs. Clark are to make their home in Stevenson, where he has business interests. Life opens fair before them. May the future fulfill all that the present promises is the heartfelt wish of their many friends.

How to Prevent Croup.

We have two children who are subject to attacks of croup. Whenever an attack is coming on my wife gives them Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and it always prevents the attack. It is a household necessity in this county, and no matter what else we run out of, it would not do to be without Chamberlain's Cough Remedy. More of it is sold here than all other cough medicines combined.—J. M. Nickle, Nickle Bros., merchants, Nickleville, Pa. For sale by Williams & Brosius.

"To Him Who Hath Not it Shall be Taken Away."

KLONDIKE, Or., Oct. 19, 1898.—Editor GLACIER: I lost my noble brown mare last evening. The disease is hard. I like to warn others to look out. The head seems to stop up. Ears lopped. Then the hind parts get so weak that the animal falls down and dies. I call the disease pneumonia (lung fever). I was poor, but now I am poorer. I was down to Astoria all summer fishing. Made nothing. Just got enough to get home. Now my best horse is gone. I raised the horse with my children. There was a cry from wife down to the smallest one. My small black colt was sick. I doctored him up. He was not good enough to die; too much Indian. J. P. HILLSTROM.

Three Doctors in Consultation.

From Benjamin Franklin. "When you are sick, what you like best is to be chosen for a medicine in the first place; what experience tells you is the best, to be chosen in the second place; what reason (i. e., friends and acquaintances, and a copy of the paper. But if you can get Dr. Inclinatum, Dr. Experience and Dr. Reason to hold a consultation together, they will give you the best advice that can be taken."

When you have a bad cold Dr. Inclinatum would recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy because it is pleasant and safe to take. Dr. Experience would recommend it because it never fails to effect a speedy and permanent cure. Dr. Reason would recommend it because it is prepared on scientific principles, and acts on nature's plan in relieving the lungs, opening the secretions and restoring the system to a natural and healthy condition.
