Some of the boys in celebrating Halloween carried their "fun" a little too far when they destroyed Mr. Bonney's signs in several places through the country. This is a very serious offense, and under the new law passed at the late special session of the legislature Mr. Bonney could have the boys sent to the penitentiary if he chose to prosecute them. Supervisor Dukes has been repairing the state road at Paradise farm, where the irrigating water was allowed to run out over the road last summer and washed great gullies. The state road inside the corporation was neglected last spring and all the work was put in on the school house hill, which needed it bad enough. Now that the road on the school house hill has been made it is hoped by the farmers who team along the state road that that that that the pales last Friday from an extended visit in the Fast. part of the road lying inside the cor-poration will receive the attention it deserves. In the early morning some boys frightened, the cow and she broke loose and ran down the road and smashed the coverage of the cow and she broke loose and ran down the road and smashed the coverage of ened the cow and she broke loose and ran down the road and smashed the cart all to pieces before she could be rounded up.

The Travers book and curio club is a flourishing institution. At its last meeting a spelling match was on the programme. Misses Fay LaFrance and Gladys Hartley chose sides, and Miss Hartley's side won the bon bons by four points. It was observable that four points. It was observable that the pupils of the public schools were much better spellers than the outsiders. Some of the eighth and ninth grades are hard to turn down. Prof. Allard has in view the holding of a general spelling bee during the coming winter, which will be open to competition by all young folks, and the prize a Webster's International dictionary.

Rev. J. L. Hershner returned from Pendleton last Thursday. Last Sun-day the First Congregational church of Pendleton extended Mr. Hershner a unanimous call to fill its pastorate for an indefinite period. On the same day the Congregational church here, of which he has been pastor for over four years, voted unanimously to make good the reduction made by the missionary society. This cordial action will lead Mr. Hershner to decline the year's course of reading.

Hon. Emile Schanno, fruit commissioner for this horticultural district, was in Hood River last week, gathering data for his report to the legislature. He says Hood River is the only part of his district where the codlin moth is not general. In the Baldwin settlement, at Mt. Hood, he found very little sign of this pestiferous insect. Mr. D. R. Cooper has a fine crop of apples as R. Cooper has a fine crop of apples, as usual, with no sign of codlin moth.
