FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 18, 1898.

Letters received from the soldiers at Manila recently begin to tell the truth about the mistreatment undergone by the privates and non-commissioned officers. Heretofore their loyalty and patriotism has caused them not to mention their officers except in praise. It is the old story of "man's inhumanity to man" when man is clothed with a little brief authority. When the boys get home they will speak out more freely, and the true history of official overbearance in the Oregon regiment will be given in full.

The republicans will control both houses of congress, and the entire government will be in that party's hands after March 4th. It is well that the administration will have full control of the machinery of government while it is entering upon a colonial policy, which seems to be the inevitable outcome of the late war. If expansion is as popular two years hence as it seems to be today, McKinley will succeed himself.

Archbishop William Hickley Gross, of the Oregon Roman Catholic church, died at Baltimore, November 14, 1898, aged 61 years. He came to Oregon in 1885, and was universally esteemed for his many good qualities. He was a Union chaplain during the civil war and always had a warm greeting for members of the Grand Army of the Republic.

Senator Mark Hanna, in a recent interview, stated that many features of the war tax measure would have to be retained, since the Dingley bill can not produce revenue enough to meet the expenses of the government. He has gotten back on the old democratic doctrine that a tariff must be for revenue, and wants to put a tax on tea and coffee.

The special election in Multnomah county for state senator resulted as follows: S. E. Joseph, 4108; J. C. Flanders, 1737; C. K. Henry, 841, and I. H. Amos, 128. The total vote cast in the city was 6812. The result of the election being a foregone conclusion, not half of the voters in the county cast their ballots.

In the county court, last week, in the matter of declaring Hood river a public highway, condemnation proceedings was commenced for the purpose of condemning all real property along said river through which right of way has not been obtained. Attorney W. H. Wilson was instructed and employed to commence condemnation proceedings against the Hood River Lumbering Co.

The Oregon state university will mark the celebration of the fortieth year of statehood by preparing a history of the commonwealth, to be distributed free to all schools. The idea commends itself as worthy of being adopted throughout the union. Impartial annals of our state would point out the mistakes of government, and by informing the minds of the young, lead in time to the purification of the politics of the country. — New York Herald.

Another Medal for Hood River.

Hon. E. L. Smith sent a box of apples from his Beulah Land orchards to the Omaha exposition, asking Mr. Doesch to see how they would compare with apples from other parts of the country, not thinking of competing. Mr. Smith was very agreeably surprised by receiving the following letter:

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 12, 1898.—E. L. Smith Esq, Hood River, Or.: It affords me great pleasure to report to you that we succeeded in capturing a medal and diploma for your apples. We had much larger specimens than yours, but none finer in flavor and texture. Upon this the medal was won. Will see you soon. Cordially yours,
HENRY E. DOSCH.

The Best Plaster.

A piece of flannel dampened with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bound on the affected parts is superior to any plaster. When troubled with a pain in the chest or side, or a lame back, give it a trial. You are certain to be more than pleased with the prompt relief which it affords. Pain Balm is also a certain cure for rheumatism. For sale by Williams & Brosius.

The Union Meeting.

The stockholders' meeting of the Hood River Fruit Growers' Union, called for last Saturday, failed to have a quorum present and no business could be transacted. Ninety odd shares were represented, 45 less than a quorum. Under the laws of Oregon governing corporations, the present board of directors will hold until their successors are elected and qualified. Considerable discussion of questions relating to the marketing of strawberries was indulged in and short speeches were made by T. R. Coon, J. W. Morton, G. R. Castner, E. E. Smith, G. J. Gessling, E. E. Savage and N. C. Evans. All seemed desirous of uniting all the growers in one union. But, if this can not be accomplished, it was the general sentiment of the speakers and those present that one year's trial without a union would bring the strawberry growers together. Mr. Savage made a motion, which was adopted, that a meeting of the stockholders be called for Saturday, Nov. 20th, at 1 o'clock, to hear the reports of officers read and to transact such other business as may come before the meeting. It is understood that several propositions in the interest of the fruit growers of the valley will be advanced at this meeting. Hon. E. L. Smith suggested that a paper be circulated among the stockholders asking the present board of directors to serve during the coming year and pledging the signers to whip through the union. The suggestion will be acted upon at the meeting Nov. 20th.

A Returned Klondiker.

Mr. Chris Bartsch, a former resident of Hood River, who at one time conducted a meat market here, returned from Dawson City last week and spent a few days visiting old friends in Hood River. Mr. Bartsch is a young man, but 29 years old, and is one of the fortunate ones who went to Alaska two years ago. He is engaged, with a partner, in the butchering business in Dawson, and is doing well. The cash receipts of the firm run from $2,000 to $4,000 a week. He has sold beefsteak as high as $2.50 a pound. At present the prices range from 25 cents a pound for a soup bone to $1.50 for porter-house and loin steak. He sports a handsome $8 nugget as a scarf pin that cost him four pounds of beefsteak, and for which he has been offered $40. Another and much larger nugget is his watch chain. There is no loss in the butchering business in that cold country. Every part of the refuse of an animal is ground up and sold for dog feed at 20 cents a pound. Just before he left Dawson his firm had bought up all the turkeys in the market at $5 and $6 apiece and will coin money when the boys want a Thanksgiving or Christmas dinner. After cold weather sets in it costs nothing to feed turkeys; they are killed and hung up and would keep till the thaw comes again next June. It is the same of course with beef, mutton and moose. At one time his firm paid a man $1,500 for five head of moose all of which he killed in less than half an hour. Mr. Bartsch has several valuable mining claims. He says the difficulty of receiving and sending letters by mail still exists. At one time he paid a man $4 to stand in line at the post office when a mail arrived to get his mail. The man brought him four letters, but none proved to belong to him. He has many wonderful tales to tell of that wonderful country. He will start back to Dawson in a short time. From Skagway he will travel on a dog sled, with six or eight dogs, and will reach Dawson in about 34 days.

"Blooded Stock" for Sale.

HOOD RIVER, Nov. 12, 1898.—Editor GLACIER: I wish to advertise a pig we have for sale through your valuable paper. The pig was purchased 6 or 8 weeks ago by W. H. Perry from Joe Parson of Harborside. It was then 8 months old and weighed 30 pounds. After being brought home he was given a bath of soft soap and kerosene and well rubbed with a scrubbing brush, and came out so beautiful and curly that he was forthwith named Joe Harborside. He was carefully placed in a pen prepared for him, and from that time on for several weeks was given the best that Boscobel could produce. But the change from Harborside to high living did not improve him a great deal, as he still held his own. Now, Mr. Perry, being a large hearted, generous man, always ready to do a kind act, presented the pig to his son-in-law. So Joe Harborside was brought to Mt. Hood's calf and installed in a comfortable pen and given such care that a few pigs receive. Being very proud of my new curiosity, no one was allowed to leave the place without taking a look at it, and various were the opinions in regard to its teeth, and in doing so found six black decayed ones, which, with hammer and nails, we extracted, and then watched for the long-looked-for improvement, but it failed to come. Then, to even up matters, we cut its tail off. So now, with tail cut short and teeth knocked out, no fat on its ribs, weighing 30 pounds, this fine nine-month old pig will be for sale cheap from now until Thanksgiving. Come early and avoid the rush. E. E. LYONS.

Rules for Longevity.

Keep the following 19 commandments, and Sir James Sawyer, an eminent English physician, sees no reason why you should not live to be one hundred:
1. Eight hours sleep.
2. Sleep on your right side.
3. Keep your bedroom window open all night.
4. Have a mat to your bedroom door.
5. Do not have your bedstead against the wall.
6. No cold tub in the morning, but a bath at the temperature of the body.
7. Exercise before breakfast.
8. Eat little meat; see that it is well cooked.
9. (For adults) drink no milk.
10. Eat plenty of fat, to feed the cells with the decay disease germs.
11. Avoid intoxicants, which destroy these cells.
12. Daily exercise in the open air.
13. Allow no pet animal in your living room. They are apt to carry about disease germs.
14. Live in the country, if you can.
15. Watch the three d's—drinking-water, damp and drains.
16. Have change of occupation.
17. Take frequent and short holidays.
18. Limit your ambition.
19. Keep your temper.

Beauty is Blood Deep.

Clean blood means a clean skin. No beauty without it. Cascarets, Candy Cathartic clean your blood and keep it clean, by stirring up the lazy liver and driving all impurities from the body. Begin to-day to banish pimples, boils, blotches, blackheads, and that sickly bilious complexion by taking Cascarets—beauty for ten cents. All druggists, satisfaction guaranteed, 10c, 25c, 50c.

Toledo Weekly Blade.

Every intelligent family needs, in addition to their local paper, a good national weekly. The greatest and most widely known general family newspaper is the Toledo Weekly Blade. For more than 30 years it has been a regular visitor in every part of the Union and is well known in almost every post office in the United States. It is edited with reference to a national education. It is the favorite family paper, with something for every member of the household. Serial stories, poetry, wit and humor, the household department (best in the world), young folks, Sunday school lessons, the graminet, the question bureau (which answers questions for subscribers), the news of the week in complete form and other special features. Specimen copies gladly sent on application, and if you will send us a list of addresses we will mail a copy to each. Only $1 a year. If you wish to raise a club, write for terms. Address The Blade, Toledo, Ohio.

Effect of Whitewashing Peach Trees.
The experiment station of Missouri has been testing the effect of color on the blossoming of peach trees, and has found that white washed trees did not bloom as early as those not whitewashed by 22 days. This is an important discovery. If, by the simple act of whitewashing, the bloom can be delayed two or three weeks, the period of late spring frosts can often be passed and a crop assured.
