A machine has been patented for use in measuring rope, consisting of a rope-receiving wheel, having a roughened face, which catches in the rope and turns as the latter is pulled through a slot and across the wheel, to operate hands on a dial and ring a bell at certain distances.

Dyspepsia

Makes more people miserable than any other disease. It takes the pleasure out of life. The gratitude of those who have been cured of dyspepsia by Hood's Sarsaparilla is therefore natural. Thousands say they have suffered more than they can tell from this disease, but have felt no symptoms of it since taking

PHILOSOPHY AND THINGS

In your conversation use short words and not too many of them.

Love may be blind, but lovers are often spectacles for other people.

A husband's love is on the wane when he begins to stop kicking his wife's pet dog.

When a man marries a girl for her beauty, he ought not to be surprised or disappointed, either, if he doesn't get much else.

He'd lots of hair upon his chin, but none upon his head—

He always spoke before he thought, so many people said.

An Indiana woman was made to pay damages to the extent of $126 for saying that her neighbor's beauty was artificial.

Foster Brown says that by the year 1950 Great Britain will have used 11-15th of its best resources of coal, and that there will then remain workable at a gradually increasing cost, sufficient coal to last 250 years.

Improved Car Seat.
An improved seat for railway cars has the bottom cushion mounted on a sliding frame to swing out on either side as the back is turned, the movement of the bottom allowing the back to swing down further and permitting the use of a wider cushion than those now in use.

No household is complete without a bottle of the famous Jesse Moore Whiskey. It is a pure and wholesome stimulant recommended by all physicians. Don't neglect this necessity.

If Cervera needs consolation for the cold welcome he receives in his native land, for which he staked life and honor, let him read Schiller's version of the reception given by Philip II to the Duke of Medina-Sidonia on his return with the remnant of the wrecked armada.

In Mexico the family of a dead duelist can claim support from the person who shot him.

NERVOUS DEPRESSION.

[A TALK WITH MRS. PINKHAM.]
A woman with the blues is a very uncomfortable person. She is illogical, unhappy and frequently hysterical. The condition of the mind known as "the blues," nearly always, with women, results from diseased organs of generation.

It is a source of wonder that in this age of advanced medical science, any person should still believe that mere force of will and determination will overcome depressed spirits and nervousness in women. These troubles are indications of disease.

Every woman who doesn't understand her condition should write to Lynn, Mass., to Mrs. Pinkham for her advice. Her advice is thorough common sense, and is the counsel of a learned woman of great experience. Read the story of Mrs. F. S. BENNETT, Westphalia, Kansas, as told in the following letter:

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM—I have suffered for over two years with falling, enlargement and ulceration of the womb, and this spring, being in such a weakened condition, caused me to flow for nearly six months. Some time ago, urged by friends, I wrote to you for advice. After using the treatment which you advised for a short time, that terrible flow stopped.

"I am now gaining strength and flesh, and have better health than I have had for the past ten years. I wish to say to all distressed, suffering women, do not suffer longer, when there is one so kind and willing to aid you."

Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is a woman's remedy for woman's ills. More than a million women have been benefited by it.

THROUGED WITH SPECTATORS

Opening of Final Session of Fifty-Fifth Congress.

INTERESTING CIRCUMSTANCES

A Few Bills Were Introduced in the House—Adjournment Soon After the Reading of the Message.

Washington, Dec. 7.—When the senate convened Monday to begin the closing session of the 55th congress, the chamber presented a notable and beautiful appearance. By 11 o'clock the public and private galleries were filled almost to their capacity with a distinguished assemblage, including many ladies in brilliant attire.

On the floor of the senate the display of flowers was unusually beautiful even for the opening day of a session of congress. The odor of flowers filled the chamber. The memorable scenes enacted in the chamber during the last session, and the momentous events that have occurred since congress last adjourned created a feeling of intense expectancy on the part of the spectators and the members of the senate. This was made manifest by the long lines of people in the corridors anxious to gain admission to the galleries and by the early arrival of the senators on the floor. Through the courtesy of the vice-president, the members of the joint high commission were admitted to the floor of the senate, and were the recipients of much attention.

Just before the senate was called to order, several well-known members of the diplomatic corps appeared in the diplomatic gallery.

Promptly at 12 o'clock Hobart rapped for order. Mr. Milburn, the venerable blind chaplain, in a profoundly impressive manner, returned "devout and reverent thanks for God's goodness to us as a nation and for his care of us since last gathered in the chamber."

The call of the senate developed the presence of 67 members. The usual resolutions were offered and adopted. Cullom of Illinois offered one to appoint a committee to inform the house that the senate was ready to transact business; Hale of Maine, one fixing the hour of daily meetings at 12 o'clock noon, and Morrill of Vermont, one to appoint a committee to notify the president that the senate was awaiting any communication he might desire to make. Morrill of Vermont, and Cookrell of Missouri, were named by the vice-president to join a like committee of the house to call on the president.

McBride of Oregon, presented the credentials of his colleague, Simon, to whom the vice-president administered the oath of office.

The reading of the message occupied two hours and 18 minutes. Many persons remained in the galleries throughout the reading, but, as is usual, little attention was given to the presentation of the message, either in the galleries or on the floor, after the first few pages.

The senate adjourned shortly after the reading of the message.

In the House.
Washington, Dec. 7.—The opening session of congress Monday was a spectacular occasion, animated and brilliant. There were more than the usual number of distinguished personages in the thronged galleries, including many representatives of foreign governments, high officials, and ladies and gentlemen conspicuous in social and political life. The greetings of the members were most cordial, and there was no outcropping of partisan rancor to mar the occasion. One of the most striking incidents was the cordial meeting between the floor leaders of the respective sides, Messrs. Dingley and Bailey. In view of the gossip about the possibility of Mr. Bailey being deposed as the minority leader, it is significant that the speaker named Mr. Bailey as the minority member of the committee to wait upon the president, an honor always bestowed upon the recognized leader of the minority.

Speaker Reed received a warm welcome from both sides of the house when he ascended the rostrum to call the house to order, but perhaps the greatest personal ovation to any member was that given Major-General Wheeler, of Alabama, who has not been seen by many of his old colleagues since he went to the front at the head of the cavalry division of General Shafter's army. Mr. W. A. Stone, of Pennsylvania, McMillin, of Tennessee, and Mr. Sayers, of Texas, who have been elected governors of their respective states since congress adjourned, were also overwhelmed with congratulations.

The floral tributes today were unusually numerous and made the hall a veritable bower of beautiful flowers. The proceedings themselves were dull, all interest centering in the reading of the president's message. For over two hours the clerk droned through the long document, but the interest of members and spectators never flagged. With rapt attention they followed the president's recital of the war and listened eagerly to every suggestion or recommendation he had to offer. No expressions of approval or disapproval interrupted the reading.

Chicago Theater Burned.
Chicago, Dec. 7.—Fire badly damaged the Lincoln theater at 485 North Clark street tonight. The evening performance had been concluded and the audience had left the building but a few minutes, when the fire broke out. The members of the "Dawn of Freedom" company, which is at the theater, were still in the building, and they were compelled to make a hasty exit, none of them saving any considerable portion of their clothing. The loss is about $60,000.

Railroad Trains to Run Slower.
Railroad officials claim that it is very expensive to run their express trains, and are talking about reducing the speed. It is likewise expensive to the health to struggle and compete in business affairs as men do nowadays. The whole system gives out. For restoring strength Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the proper remedy.

The December Century.
In the first installment of his story of the "Merrimac" in the December Century, which is to be an unusually attractive number, Lieutenant Hobson lays no claim to having originated the idea of blocking the channel at Santiago. The sinking of the collier had been ordered by Admiral Sampson, but the commanding officer of Santiago had not executed the maneuver when the flag-ship arrived, and the working out of the plan, as well as its execution, was intrusted to Lieutenant Hobson. The preliminary steps are detailed in this number of the magazine, and in later issues the story of the sinking of the ship and the capture and imprisonment of her crew will be given at first hand. This is the only account of his exploit that Mr. Hobson has written for publication.
