Once upon a time this tailor shop was not so large, but it grew because it gave the people good goods and perfect fits at low prices, and then the people made this tallor shop large, until it is the largest in the country, perhaps in the world.

Perfect fitting is here insured, because this concern uses the famous Bourgeous Fitting System exclusively. By its use every garment is tried on an automatic form, which is an exact duplicate of the customer, being made from the measurements and descriptions given on the order sheet. This makes the
