

Hood River Glacier

FRIDAY, MARCH 10, 1899.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

That 50 cent shirt. Attend the water meeting. Onion sets 10c per lb. at Blowers'.

Miss Irma Coe is up from Portland visiting her father. Mr. Nicholas Billings has been quite sick for the past two weeks.

A slide on the river road above Tucker's has made the road impassable for teams. See the new ads of Wm. Tillett, H. F. Davidson and Hood River Trading Co.

Thos. McDonald has been sick and confined to his bed with the grip, but is better. Miss Lucy Shattuck came up from Portland, Monday, and is visiting Mrs. Alva Howe.

Mr. O. C. Mortenson of Monkland, Sherman county, visited Charles Hayner a couple of days last week. W. A. Morehead returned to Hood River on Monday after spending a week or more in Sherman county.

The primary department of Frankton school begins next Monday, March 13th, Miss Kate Davenport, teacher. Wm. Tillett is agent for the Bean spray pump. Those interested should examine the pump at Blowers' store.

There will be a dance at W. M. Copples', Hood River, on the night of March 11th. Mr. Hood talent will furnish music. E. H. Pickett, painter and decorator, estimates plaster, moderate; satisfaction guaranteed. Leave orders at Glacier pharmacy.

John Taylor, from Starbuck, Wash., has rented a place near Frankton school house and will move his family there in about a month. Before the discovery of One Minute Cough Cure ministers were greatly disturbed by coughing congregations. No excuse for it now. Williams & Brusius.

Charles Hayner has sold his farm in Sherman county and bought a home in Yamhill county. He expects to move there with his family this spring. "Give me a liver regulator and I can regulate the world," said a genius. The druggist handed him a bottle of Dr. Witt's Little Early Bitters, the famous little pills. Williams & Brusius.

At a meeting of Hood River citizens held to discuss means of procuring water for the protection of the city from fire, the sense of the meeting was to see what terms could be made with the present water company, and C. A. Bell, G. D. Woodworth and D. McDonald were elected on a committee to get written terms. Monday evening their report was submitted with a written proposition from the Spring Water Co., as follows: That the Spring Water Co. will sell to the city, at the expiration of two years, all property, real and personal, connected with the water system, including the spring and three acres of land, for $10,000, and to lease said property to the city for 2 years from April 1, 1899 for $1,000 per annum, payable semi-annually in advance.

A sad accident occurred on the 4.37 train from Portland, Monday. While the train was going at a rapid rate, about five miles below Viento, a piercing shriek from a female in the chair car startled the rest of the passengers. A lady had been fondling her pocket dog, and the dog, jumping on the window sill in a playful manner, had its paw caught in the window frame. The conductor was notified, but the lady appealed to him in vain to stop the train. The best he would consent to do was to order a hand car sent back from Viento to look for the unfortunate pup.

A free lecture on secret societies by Rev. P. B. Williams, an ex-soldier of the civil war, of Salem, Or., field agent of the National Christian association, at Campbell school house, March 13th, at 7.30 p. m., and at the Valley Christian church, March 14th, at 7.30 p. m. Everybody cordially invited. A collection will be taken to defray expenses.

Capt. Blowers says it pays to advertise in the GLACIER. Last week his firm announced in four lines of copy that they had low priced shoes for sale. There was something over 60 pairs, and before noon on Monday the shoes were nearly sold. The four line ad cost 20 cents.

The school census shows 258 children of school age in the town district — a gain of 18 over last year. In the Crappier district there are 68 — a gain of 14 in the Frankton district, 128 — a gain of 24. John Eberhart bought three roosters in Portland at $2.30 apiece. They are Plymouth-Rock, Wyandotte and Brahma; the Wyandotte weighs 12 pounds.

Mr. E. E. Savage's 18 Bull Wyandotte chickens, during the month of February, 24 dozen and one egg. Charles Rogers is fitting up the old mill property at Frankton for a man, which will be convenient for meetings of all kinds. Miss Hester Howe will commence a three month term of school at Viento, Monday, March 13th, and have her classroom in the school house.

Two more manholes in the Second Oregon are reported from Atlanta. Privates Harry L. Stanton and Albert A. Edge of Co. G were awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor for gallantry in the battle of Gettysburg. Capt. J. H. Ferguson and F. J. Wright bought their partners in the Mountain partnership with Capt. Dukes, who bought out his partner, Fred Howe. The new firm has purchased the big barn of Judge Henry, located by the Davidson Fruit Co. The GLACIER was in error a couple of weeks ago in stating that Capt. Dukes had bought this barn. Judge Henry was the purchaser at that time.

P. F. Bradford is sick with the grip. Dr. R. W. Benjamin, dentist, will be at Mt. Hood hotel on Saturday, March 18th, prepared to do all kinds of dental work. Miss Tracy has kindly consented to the publication of some of her recipes for cooking, which will appear in the GLACIER. Miss Emily Husbands recently graduated as a trained nurse from the Children's Home in San Francisco. Mrs. Sarah Langille, who has been visiting in Hood River for the past two days, went to the ladies Thursday.

Come out to the water meeting tonight. Mrs. M. E. Shaw, who has been quite sick, we are glad to learn is better. Rev. A. W. Ackerman, pastor of the First Congregational church, will be preaching at the Congregational Church, services at 11 a. m. and 7.30 p. m. The pastor will preach at the morning service on "Difficulties to Christian Faith." At the evening service a Union Christian Endeavor service will be held. The C. E. societies of the United Brethren and Congregational churches will participate. The worthy League of the M. E. church could not accept the invitation.

Columbia

Standard of the world, 1899 chainless, $45. Chain, $50, made by the Pope Manufacturing Co. Columbias only excel the Hartfords, 1899 pattern, $35. Vedettes, best low-priced wheel made, $25. A few genuine bargains in 1898 Hartfords, $25. These prices will last but a very short time. Order now.

All tubing and bars made of 50 per cent carbon steel, 75,000 lbs test, and every wheel guaranteed 90 days from any defects. You can afford a Columbia or Hartford now. Prices are low, and quality considered, they are the cheapest wheels made today. The Pope Manufacturing Co. has always been at the top in bicycle making in America. If you get a product of their factory you have the satisfaction of knowing your wheel is not equalled by any at the price, and if a Columbia Chainless, it is not equalled by any at any price.

Call and get a catalogue and see the $25 Hartford at THE PEOPLE'S STORE. Agents for Pope Mfg. Co.

In the near future a lecture will be given, under the auspices of the Society of Christian Endeavor, in the Valley Christian church. The proceeds to be used towards painting the church. The lecture on Jamaica will be delivered by the pastor of the church and will be illustrated by views made to order from pictures taken or collected by him while a missionary on the island of Jamaica in the West Indies. The Juniors are selling tickets for the lecture at ten cents each. The date of the lecture has not been decided upon, but will be duly announced about the last of this month.

E. D. Calkins procured a thorough bred Light Brahma rooster in Portland. Letter from Howard Isenberg, contended from second page. If you remember, our expedition was the first to sail and set off before they had completed fitting out the vessel, and therefore the poor cooking. I suspect I did as much "kicking" as any one on the boat, but that is part of a soldier's regular routine and of course must be done, but should be done at camp only. The facts of the case were, that no one was starving and did not need to go hungry as there was plenty for all. If you notice, the Oregon boys are the most kicking and have the most to eat. A few, such as being called out a few all hours of the night to take orders to some of the further points of the camp, or going for a week or ten days with wet feet, and when I got into Maula, going for several days with little to eat and having to sleep on the floor. But I was not the only one. "There were others" and not only enlisted men. I know that my commanding officer, Major Cardwell, fared as bad as I did and in some instances worse. When I compare the worst of these incidents to those passed through by our forefathers during the Revolution and our fathers during the Civil war, or even by our comrades in Cuba, I cannot help but call them exceedingly light. I have been in a position, since the first of August, to know what the officers have tried to do for them, especially the Medical officers, and they seem to be the ones most written about. I know for a fact, that the Medical department has done everything in their power for the comfort and good treatment of the sick. You remember that a great many of the hospital corps were men of previous experience, and what instructions they had received, prior to coming here, were for field work and not for hospital work. Instructions, consisting chiefly of litter drills and first aid work, so, of course it took some little time for the officers to pick out the men best fitted for nurses; but now you can go into any of the hospitals and will find them equal to any of our home hospitals. I hope you will rightly understand this letter, for I do not want to do any an injustice and neither, I think, do any of the boys, but as I have said before, "volunteers are poor hands for garrison duty," and that is what they have been doing. They soon get discouraged and during idle moments the Devil gets in his work and prompts them to write, making a mountain out of a mole hill. As to patriotism I know none of them have lost any, judging from the way they desert the hospital and make for the front at the first intimation of trouble with the natives. Our death list has been very light when you take into consideration that there are some who were 22,000 men in this corps, and the list up to the first of the month numbered only 158 from all causes. I am getting along nicely and as far as I know the other boys are, also. Mallice is still at Cavite, and I don't get to see him very often. I am going to send some money home in this letter for I do want to be able to go to school when I return. With love to all, I remain, your son and brother, F. H. ISENBERG.
