What is Kodol Dyspepsia Cure? It is the newly discovered remedy, the most effective preparation ever devised for aiding the digestion and assimilation of food, and restoring the deranged digestive organs to a natural condition. It is a discovery surpassing anything yet known to the medical profession. Williams & Brosius.

Sliding mountain, 25 miles below Hood River, as a good many know, has for years been literally sliding towards the Columbia. It moved on an average of four feet a year, and the road-bed was continually pushed out of place. With a view to stopping the glacial action of this mighty mountain, several O. R. & N. officials found the peak. Back of it they found a couple of lakes with no outlet. The waters from these lakes undoubtedly seeped through the earth which probably rested on slanting slate rock, and in this manner propelled the earth downward. The lakes were immediately drained, since which time the mountain has not budged an inch.

A fortunate runaway occurred last Friday. Capt. Dukes and C. D. Henrich were loading farm machinery on a wagon at the Champlin building, when the team started and ran over the bluff at the end of Oak street. A mowing machine fell from the wagon, and it looked as if Capt. Dukes would be struck by it, but he escaped. The strange part of this story is that nothing was damaged by going over the bluff. The team, wagon and machinery were not in the least injured. Henrich advertises to sell good machines, and he can now warrant them when they go over the bluff.

Gen. W. McIntosh returned last week from Spokane, where he sold berries for C. L. Cripple. While there he found a pocket-book containing $55. There was no name to identify the owner, but he found a man who could describe the contents so accurately that he gave up the purse. The owner of the pocket-book was Mr. Keith, a young man canvassing for the publication of hotel registers. He was in Hood River Tuesday and hunted up Dr. McIntosh and was glad to see him.

Doug Langille made a trip to Cloud Cap Inn one day last week. He found plenty of snow. The gulch just east of the Inn is filled with snow. Starting at the cottages in rear of the hotel, the coasting down over the gulch is fine. On the way up Doug overtook three strawberry pickers who were on their way to visit the mountain. They didn't reach the hotel till 8 o'clock in the evening and were about played out from wallowing through the snow. One young fellow, with light tan shoes, froze his feet.

Harvey Crapper and wife, in coming to town one day recently, lost a cloak from their wagon. Their dog, while they had tried to drive back when they left home, followed the wagon until the cloak fell out. Mrs. Blaker found the cloak in the road and the faithful dog was lying on top of it. The dog at first refused to let the cloak be picked up, but by soothing the dog Mrs. Blaker finally got him to move away.

G. D. Woodworth's store was closed for several days last week while taking stock. The store is now open again and business seems to be going along as usual. We understand the miller and planer will also be running. We are glad to be able to make this statement, as the business of Mr. Woodworth has been of great benefit to the community, and every one hopes it may continue.

A temperance rally will be held at Pine Grove school house at 8 o'clock Sunday evening, June 18th. Everybody is cordially invited.

Mrs. Berger, widow of Chas. Berger, we learn is married again and now lives in British Columbia. Two of her daughters, Fredrika and Annie, are married. THEY HELPED JIM.

He Was Only a Little Bootblack and Had Been Ill.

The rich men who build hospitals are not the only benevolent ones. The shoeblack of whom Dr. Talmage tells this story showed a spirit of sweet unselfishness:

"A reporter sat down on one of the city hall benches and whistled to one of the shiners. The boy came up to his work provokingly slow, and had just begun, when a larger boy shoved him aside and began the work, and the reporter reproved him as being a bully, and the boy replied: 'Oh, that's all right. I am going to do it for 'im. You see, he's been sick in the hospital more'n a month; so us boys turn in and give 'im a lift.'

"Do all the boys help him?" asked the reporter.

"Yes, sir; when they ain't got no job themselves and Jim gets one, they turn in and help 'im; for he ain't strong yet, you see."

"How much percentage does he give you?" asked the reporter.

"The boy replied: 'I don't keep none of it. I ain't no such sneak as that. All the boys give up what they get on his job. I'd like to catch any feller sneaking on a sick boy, I would.'

"The reporter gave him a 25-cent piece, and said: 'You keep ten cents for yourself, and give the rest to Jim.'

"Can't do it, sir; it's his customer. Here, Jim."

DECAY OF ANIMAL MATTER.

It Is Something More Than a Simple Chemical Change.

A great many proofs, now more or less familiar to most people, show quite clearly that the decay of animal or vegetable matter is not a simple chemical change, inevitable in the nature of things, but a violent interference with the natural course on the part of hostile organisms, says Longman's Magazine. The bacteria, which produce decomposition, are very minute plants, which grow, like mushrooms or molds, upon organic matter, and which reproduce their like with incredible rapidity.

Spindall showed long ago that the spores of these plants exist in myriads in the air, floating everywhere around us; that they occupy all crannies and empty places on the surface of the earth, and that they swarm in their millions in all ponds and puddles. An easy way of proving that these spores alone, and the plant colonies which spring from them, are the cause of putrefaction may be obtained by boiling beef tea in a test tube, so as to kill the bacteria, and then, while the liquid is still steaming, closing up the mouth of the tube with a plug of cotton wool, which admits the air but strains out the germs of the putrefactive organisms. Under these conditions the beef tea will keep good for years, but if you remove the plug it will begin at once to putrefy.
