

Hood River Glacier

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 29, 1939.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Read the conundrum.
Do you want lumber? If so, see TUCKER.
Money to loan on real estate by JOHN L. HENDERSON, agt.
O. P. McFall came up from Portland last Saturday on a business trip.
Hans Lage made a business trip to The Dalles the first part of the week.
A kid glove was lost on the streets Sunday. Finder will please leave it at this office.
M. H. Nickelson is helping Theo.
Dallas during the rush of work he has had lately.
F. M. Wyatt moved to his ranch on Mill creek, 14 miles from The Dalles, last Saturday.
Rev. Frank Spaulding returned home last Friday. His family are still at camp at Mt. Hood.
Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Curtis of Portland spent several days on their place in the Crapper district last week.
Drop a postal card to D. H. Clough and he will deliver his choice tomatoes to you at one cent a pound.
Lands bought and sold and exchanged at Emporium. Keep your eye on the Emporium ad, 2d page of GLACIER.
J. C. Nickelson has a first class piano for sale or rent. It can be seen at Judge Prather's office. Also, other instruments.
Geo. McIntosh and family left last week for Illinois, where they went to visit Mrs. McIntosh's mother, who is in poor health.
A Schiller, who recently bought the Lewis place on the East Side, has ordered about 500 apple trees from the Columbia nursery.
A collection was taken up and $2.70 raised in the U. B. church last Sunday for a sick and destitute widow living in Winans addition.
J. K. Stocking, the old soldier who was sent to the asylum from The Dalles about six months ago, died at that institution recently.
C. G. Roberts and family came up from Portland last Saturday, and on Sunday Mr. Roberts and son James returned to the metropolis.
Mrs. M. F. Shaw, formerly of this county, but now of Hood River, was visiting friends in town the fore part of the week.—Wallowa Chieftain.
Wm. Roberts and wife and J. A.
Greenman, wife and son, who have been guests at Mrs. Alma Howe's, went to their homes in Portland, Monday.
S. M. Baldwin of Mt. Hood was in town, Monday, and treated himself to a new red wagon. He said the weather was warmer here than at his place.
Dr. F. C. Brosius has returned and can be found in his office over Williams & Brosius' drug store, between the hours of 10-11 a. m., 2-3 and 6-7 p. m.
Parties intending to plant fruit trees will do well to see Tulett. He has a fine lot of trees, and has 1,200 Lambert cherry trees, two years old, for 10c each.
D. H. Clough's little ad in the GLACIER brought him more orders for tomatoes than he could fill, even coming from Sherman county. His tomatoes are of extra quality.
Lewis Isenberg brought to this office some fine specimens of German and Japan mill grown on his place by B. F.
Fuller. The heads of the German sallet are 11 inches in length.
Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Wait of Mt.
Hood were in town last Saturday. They were witnesses for Mrs. Ella E. Moore in making final proof on her homestead before U. S. Commissioner Prather.
Mrs. S. J. La France returned from Corvallis Saturday evening. She found good rooms and board for Miss Fay and left her well pleased with her school and her surroundings. She saw the Bartlett boys and little Duke, and her son Walter, to put 14 acres in Parkhurst on the market in half-acre lots. This is choice property.
B. A. Fagade is building a good residence in South Waconda addition on two lots bought of Capt. W. B. McCreary.
Capt. W. A. Gilliam on Wednesday took his steam ferry boat Kiekkat to Vancover, where she will run in place of the regular Vancouver ferry boat while the latter is being repaired.
Mrs. W. F. Gayton of Kent, Sherman county, drowned herself and two children in the Duchutes river, near the fire bridge, last Monday. Temporary insanity is supposed to be the cause.
Rev. H. K. Benson, the new minister of the U. B. church, arrived in Hood River last Saturday. Mr. Benson is a young man and comes highly recommended.
He comes from Lebanon, Pa.
Hon. John Mitchell of The Dalles returned last Sunday from Washington City, where he attended the great council of the Independent Order of Red Men as a delegate.
Mrs. Benton Mays and daughter Gertrude from Wallowa valley are in Hood River seeking medical aid for the daughter, who has been in ill health for some time.
B. J. Moore, a capitalist from Chicago, has been viewing the valley and went to Cloud Cap Inn last week. He is looking for a large body of orchard land.
A birthday party was given to Miss Nellie Erwin last Monday evening. A number of friends were present to wish her many happy returns of the day.
Mrs. Wm. Foss and children are occupying rooms for the winter at Mrs.
Benton Mays' residence, to allow of the children being handy to school.
Mr. Patterson, from near Dufur, has rented the Backus house on Second street and will move here to allow his children to attend school.
The school in Barrett district will open next Monday, Oct. 24, with Prof.
Barnes as principal and Miss Nettie Kemp assistant.
Mr. and Mrs. S. Cople visited their daughter, Mrs. G. W. Fisher, at Chenoweth last Saturday and remained till Monday.
G. E. Williams returned last week from his old home in Nebraska, looking much better for the trip. Fred Goodfellow and family departed on Tuesday morning for Astoria, where they expect to make their home.
Spring calves are in demand. Farmers would rather buy calves than sell hay at the prevailing prices.
Photographs of Robt. Lane's oil painting of Mt. Hood on sale at E. E. Hartman's furniture store.
The O. R. & N. Co. will make another tunnel through a point above Mosier to straighten the road.
S. H. Cox will begin the erection of a barn for Harrison Bros. next Monday.
John A. Wilson made a business trip to The Dalles Wednesday.
Miss Nellie Erwin went to Portland
Wednesday morning.

A bad accident happened at the Nicola-Cameron saw mill last Saturday.
Workers were engaged in raising the big smoke stack, when a guy rope broke and two men fell from the windlass about thirteen feet and struck the cement floor in front of the boilers.
Frank Knapp was struck on the head by the windlass as he fell, and "X" Roberts fell on top of him. Knapp was fearfully bruised about the head and breast and was picked up for dead. Roberts escaped with slight bruises. Dr.
Shaw was called and dressed Knapp's wounds, but it was Monday morning before he showed signs of returning consciousness. He is being cared for at the house of Mr. Nicola. His wife was sent for and came up Saturday night.
The O. R. & N. Co. will have about 400 men at work for the next six months straightening the railroad between Hood River and Mitchell's Point. The first gang commenced work Wednesday morning near the ice house. The big ice house will have to be moved or cut in two, and a Portland contractor was here, Wednesday, figuring on the job.
The ice house contains about 170 tons of ice, and it will be a big job to move it.
A large force of graders with teams will find employment all winter on the job of straightening the road.
Dr. Eliot's lecture at the U. B. church, last Friday evening, was listened to by an appreciative audience. The lecturer talked for an hour, in his easy manner, telling of the qualities of Benjamin Franklin, and reading many anecdotes of this self-made man who, it is claimed, was the first distinguished American created that way. The sum of sum of nearly ten dollars was turned over to the librarian of the Hood River library as the proceeds of the lecture, and the friends of that institution owe Dr. Eliot a debt of gratitude for his kindness in giving the lecture.
It is a common thing to hear of a clock being taken to the jeweler's because it will not run, but not until Tuesday evening did we ever hear of a clock being taken to the jeweler's to have it stopped.
In moving, the pendulum of Mrs. Foss clock was broken off. It had been recently wound up, and after losing its pendulum ticked at such a lively rate that it was very annoying. The man who is said to be ugly enough to stop a clock didn't happen to stop Mrs. Foss clock, but after two days of its increasing tick, she took it to Chas. Temple.
Dr. Watt was called to Astoria last Friday to attend his brother-in-law Perry Trullinger, who is dangerously sick. Dr. Watt returned home Monday.
He found Mr. Trullinger very low from an attack of typhoid fever, with complications of a gripe and lung trouble, and the chances for his recovery are slender.
Remember the Travers' Book and Curio club tonight, (Friday.) Election of officers on the programme and all members are requested to be present.
The GLACIER was misinformed last week in stating that the Travers' sent $12 to the club, it should have read $40.
J. H. Gordos and family returned from their outing in the hop fields Monday.
They spent several days visiting relatives in Portland, on their way home. They did their hop picking at Champoux and found very pleasant surroundings and accommodations.
Robt. Leasure of Mt. Hood was in town last Saturday. He had just returned from a trip to Lost lake, where he and his wife had been camping and gathering huckleberries. The berries were plentiful and they secured 20 pounds.
Wm. McNutt, recently from New Brunswick, is looking over one valley with a view to locating in the saw mill business. He was a neighbor of C. A.
Bell before the latter came west to grow up with the country.
The new school house in the Pine grove district is about completed but will not be altogether finished before school opens. School will begin about Oct. 9th in the old building, with Prof.
Sisson as teacher.
Tuesday, Mrs. Koplin sold block 8 in Parkhurst to Wm. Thompson for $300.
The intention is to build a house on Walter, to put 14 acres in Parkhurst on
the market in half-acre lots. This is choice property.
B. A. Fagade is building a good residence in South Waconda addition on
two lots bought of Capt. W. B. McCreary.
Capt. W. A. Gilliam on Wednesday
took his steam ferry boat Kiekkat to Vancover, where she will run in place
of the regular Vancouver ferry boat
while the latter is being repaired.
Mrs. W. F. Gayton of Kent, Sherman
county, drowned herself and two children
in the Duchutes river, near the fire
bridge, last Monday. Temporary insanity is supposed to be the cause.
Rev. H. K. Benson, the new minister of the U. B. church, arrived in Hood River last Saturday. Mr. Benson is a young man and comes highly recommended.
He comes from Lebanon, Pa.
Hon. John Mitchell of The Dalles returned last Sunday from Washington
City, where he attended the great council of the Independent Order of Red
Men as a delegate.
Mrs. Benton Mays and daughter Gertrude from Wallowa valley are in Hood River seeking medical aid for the
daughter, who has been in ill health for
some time.
B. J. Moore, a capitalist from Chicago, has been viewing the valley and
went to Cloud Cap Inn last week. He
land.
A birthday party was given to Miss Nellie Erwin last Monday evening. A number of friends were present to wish
her many happy returns of the day.
Mrs. Wm. Foss and children are occupying rooms for the winter at Mrs.
Benton Mays' residence, to allow of the
children being handy to school.
Mr. Patterson, from near Dufur, has
children to attend school.
The school in Barrett district will
open next Monday, Oct. 24, with Prof.
Barnes as principal and Miss Nettie Kemp assistant.
Mr. and Mrs. S. Cople visited their daughter, Mrs. G. W. Fisher, at Chenoweth last Saturday and remained till Monday.
G. E. Williams returned last week
from his old home in Nebraska, looking much better for the trip. Fred Goodfellow and family departed on Tuesday morning for Astoria, where they
expect to make their home.
Spring calves are in demand. Farmers
would rather buy calves than sell hay
at the prevailing prices.
Photographs of Robt. Lane's oil painting
of Mt. Hood on sale at E. E. Hart-
man's furniture store.
The O. R. & N. Co. will make another tunnel through a point above Mosier to straighten the road.
S. H. Cox will begin the erection of a barn for Harrison Bros. next Monday.
John A. Wilson made a business trip to The Dalles Wednesday.
Miss Nellie Erwin went to Portland
Wednesday morning.

Hon. Emilio Schianno, fruit commissioner of this district, a wife, mother and two children, were in Hood River, Wednesday, and gave the GLACIER a pleasant call. During the day they drove out through the valley and inspected several orchards. Mr. Schianno says this long spell of wet weather will cause the codlin moth to be at work and that fruit growers should be on the alert and keep the spray pump going. He found some orchards in good shape, where there will be little or no loss from the work of the codlin moth, while other orchards, he finds have been neglected. He cites Judge Bennett at The Dalles to show how it pays to care for trees. Former proprietors of Judge Bennett's fruit farm always lost money, while the judge has made it pay and hires all his work done. The present season he shipped three carloads of peach plums and prunes and received 50 cents a crate on board the cars. Judge Bennett's place has cleared for him so far the present season about $2,000, and he has part of his prune crop and his winter apples yet to market.
H. A. Tawney met with a serious accident Wednesday. After unloading his wagon of wood by the railroad track he drove to the mill road, and in attempting to make the turn at the intersection of the road his team backed off the bluff and wagon, horses and a fell on the boulders below. Mr. Tawney received an ugly wound in the head. He was picked up, unbleeding and carried to Dr. Shaw's office, where the doctor dressed his wounds. Oscar Stranahan took him home in his carriage, and while driving to his home, about two miles south of town, Mr. Stranahan says the wounded man did not seem to realize where he was nor what had happened. Mr. Tawney is one of the most industrious of Hood River citizens and has labored hard to make a home for his family of wife and three children.
The first number of the Hood River Sun appeared Wednesday evening. It is bright and newsy and neat typog-raphically. Mr. Shutt, in his salutatory editorial, defines his position politically as follows: "In national politics we are and will be, republican. We both worked for and voted for McKinley at our last election. We believe in sound money—the gold standard. We are in favor of national expansion and holding the Philippines." Here's our advice. Though we do not agree together agree in politics, yet we successfully labor for the upbuilding of Hood River till the question of whether there is room enough for two of us will not be in doubt.
W. A. Baird and R. M. Hunt met in the streets at Reciprocity Corner Wednesday, and both having belonged to the 18th Missouri in the civil war, they got to talking about the battle of Shiloh and became so enthusiastic over old times that they didn't notice that their teams were causing a blockade of the street in that vicinity. The two teams several teams came near running into them. Both agreed that the first day at Shiloh was better than it was here Wednesday.
Congregational Church.—The pastor will conduct services next Sunday at 11 a. m. and 7:45 p. m. The Lord's Supper will be observed at the morning service. The theme at the evening service will be "Pivot Battles of Life." All who do not worship elsewhere will be given a warm welcome. Sunday school at 10 a. m. Junior League at 4 p. m.
Christian Endeavor society at 7 p. m.
Wm. Thompson brought in from Davis Divers' place a bill of beans of the Kentucky Wonder variety. Two bean stalks had wound round a pole to the height of 14 feet and are filled with peas from the top to the bottom. The peas are from 8 to 12 inches in length.
A. K. Burt, representing the marble and granite monument works of Portland, was in Hood River during the week and set up a handsome monument in the cemetery to mark the last resting place of the late J. N. McCreary.
The marble shaft is 12 feet high.
Wm. Boorman and wife and his son Alfred and wife and Miss Helen returned last week from their trip to Salem.
They took in the state fair and visited the different state institutions and called on the governor at Salem.
Warren Cooper brought down a load of apples Wednesday from his father's place at Mt. Hood and shipped them to Portland. He is shipping none but fall apples now.
There will be special exercises at the Congregational Sunday school next Sunday, it being rally day. All Sunday school pupils are requested to be present.
Mrs. W. H. Allen and four children are still quite sick with typhoid fever contracted while Mr. Allen and family were in the upper country.
Capt. Blowers sold three lots in Blowers addition during the week to B. Warren, who will build on them this fall or next spring.
Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Bone will go to Wasco next Sunday, where Mr. Bone will be engaged buying wheat for the next three months.
The brick building of Blowers & Son is about ready for the fire walls, and if the fine weather keeps up next week will be the roof on.
Ernest Rand will start in a few days for Corvallis where he will attend the agricultural college.
Miss Emily Palmer will attend the Portland university this fall and winter.
Mrs. S. A. Knapp of the People's Store returned from Portland Wednesday.
N. Tostevin is building a residence on his lots in Blowers addition.
Wm. K. Cole of Bingen is visiting his son, W. Cole and family.
Miss C. Cole is teaching the Vienna school.
A New Water Supply.
Lynan Smith has recently been prospecting his well on the land formerly owned by Dr. T. L. Eliot. He has a well 18 feet deep that shows a wonderful strong vein of water. He put in three force pumps, which drew a steady stream of eight inches from the well for one hour and only succeeded in lowering the water was at its old depth. Mr.
Smith will dig a ditch that will lead the water out on the surface of the ground about 400 feet from from the well. This well, or rather spring, will furnish water enough to supply all the places along the road to town, and the Parkhurst addition, with the best water of Hood River water. Mr. Smith has known for several years that he had a strong spring but never got it to give it a fair test until last week. Parties who own lots in Parkhurst and other places along the line to be watered by this spring can consider themselves fortunate, as the price of these lands has always been affected by the lack of water. The land lying along the county road leading from Lynan Smith's place east to E. C. Mooney's corner is now occupied by well cultivated fields and good buildings, and in the near future will be expected to see more improvement along this road. This piece of road should now have a name, and as Lynan Smith is the oldest settler here having made his home here for 25 years, the GLACIER, in referring to this part of road hereafter, will call it "Lynan Smith avenue."

NOT A FRESH CONUNDRUM.

At a certain Kansas City club, not long ago, a half dozen men were discussing the death, life and teachings of the late Robert G.
Ingersoll; telling what they each thought; quoting quips and sayings and commenting on his lecture of five words to some young men some twenty years ago—"be temperate in all things." From that the discussion went to the Bible and to the knowledge of it, when one man who had been quiet twisted his Dickey around, fixed his necktie and remarked: "You're all well read and deep students; can any of you tell me of a noted Bible character whose name has never been mentioned, who died a death that no one has ever died before or since, from a cause that is the title of a well-known book, and whose shroud is in every household?" Nobody could tell. They gave it up. They agreed to think it over, and that conundrum caused some men to brush up on their Bible reading who hadn't looked at one for a year.
They met again. One man had guessed it—"Lot's wife." Her name was never mentioned. She was always Lot's wife. She was turned into a pillar of salt. Nobody before or since got so fresh that this had to be done to 'em. It was done because of her "Looking Backward," and salt is always shrouded in a sack in every household. It isn't well, even at this day, to go on Looking Backward. You're apt to lose out and not keep up with the parade. Look forward, plan ahead, keep moving. That's the way to keep alive to the good things of life.
What you bought last year has nothing to do with this year. You want to do better this year. You can. You're making more money, working steadier. You can afford better things. We're ready with the better things. New hats for men in black, brown, pearl and olive, from 75c to $3.50. New shoes for men and ladies, $1.50 to $3.75.
New line of the Royal Tailor's Suit Samples, most elegant colorings.
New fall and winter millinery next week. Look forward to getting good, liberal value. We will give you "Lots" of it—"fresh."

THE PEOPLE'S STORE.

Cascade Bachelor's Retreat.
I live on my claim, in the region deep, Where the cinnamon bears under the vine naples sleep.
Where the cougar crouches on a limb quite high,
Watching for prey with its piercing eye.
Where a tiny stream with its miniature roar, Winds a silvery thread through the rocks near its shore.
Where the mountain trout, with their silver glide gracefully through the water so cold.
Where Nature in abundance her treasures unolds,
Filling the great well springs of a thankful soul;
Where the fir boughs warble a sweet lullaby Upon the wings of the winds passing by.
Where the chipmunk sneaks through a crack in the wall
And cuts up my bread with its consummate gnaw.
Where the blenny frills its discordant note, And the meek bird steals the last piece of my old billy goat.
Where the coyote howls through the dismal night;
Where the pheasant and grouse roost way out of sight;
Where the peaky black ant, in numbers a million, Promenade up your pants leg to get a fresh bite.
Where the digger roams at will, a bold robber galot,
And the owl awakes the echoes with his hooot, hooot!
Where the homesteader cultivates his vast estate,
And the rabbit climb over his garden gate.
Where the log jack in the water falls to his knees,
Where the cut-off man sneers at the big burly Finn;
Where the ties and the lumber go helley scoot
Down through the flame to the big planer chute.
Where the girls from the valley come to the hills so high
To gather baskets of ripe blackberries on the steep; Where the mail boys through their fingers take in the sights, Peeping at the sweet things in their rambling flights.
Where an old bachelor lives in a single state, But is not averse to having a mate.
She can't never be the pants, as there's only one pair,
And she must quite agree not to pull out his hair.
We have laws in Oregon for about everything. We have laws covering the practice of medicine, the business of blacksmithing and barbering, the profession of dentistry, and now it is demanded in some quarters that we have a law that will designate the newspaper worker. No wonder, as reported by a Salem paper, an old farmer in Marion county was afraid to pull a tooth out of a harrow until he had ascertained whether it was against the dental law or not. There is too much law, and too much government of the kind that don't govern, because in making laws we have lost sight of the principle of the minimum of restraint. We do not need legislation as much as we need delegation.—East Oregonian.

Yates Wanted.
Postmaster Yates receives a good many letters of inquiry. He doesn't always have time to give these letters the attention expected of him by the writers.
Last week he received the following letter, addressed "Hood River Post Master Oregon," which we print to save Mr.
Yates the trouble of running around to find a business man who will accommodate the writer:
"Sep. 22 1899 J. Kischer Walla Walla Wash Mister Post Master Please give this to one of your Business Men Who Will Most Likely to give What Want "Please Mister if you can furnish Me eggs at 18c Per Doz Please Send Me 3 or 4 crates any time Between this and the 27 if you can furnish me a good variety at What Price cod Send By freight if at all."
"They are simply perfect," writes Robt Moore, of La Fayette, Ind., of DeWitt's Little Early Risers, the "famous little pills" for constipation and all liver ailments. Never gripe, Williams & Brosius.
