

Hood River Glacier

FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 17, 1899.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Regular meeting of O. E. S. Saturday evening.

Money to loan on real estate by J. M. H. HENNINGSON, agt.

R. M. Hunt is building a good-sized house on his place south of town.

C. DeWitt Knapp of South Bend, Wash., visited his brother, S. A. Knapp during last week.

Judge Prather and Judge Kent have been attending court in The Dalles during the week.

Lost—A child's gold ring, with moonstone set. Finder will please leave at S. E. Bartmess's store.

J. F. Cole and family have moved into the upper story of the Rand building, over Broder's store.

Lands bought, sold and exchanged at Emporium. Keep your eye on the Emporium ad, 2d page of GLACIER.

The annual meeting of the stockholders of the Valley Improvement Co. will be held Monday, November 20th.

J. F. Arnold sold all his surplus hay to C. T. Bonney, and is now feeding 25 head of Mr. Bonney's cattle on his place.

Leslie Burke got his foot hurt at the planter last week by a circular saw falling upon it, and he has since been laid out of duty.

E. D. Calkins received word on Monday that his brother, Wallace D. Calkins, was very low with typhoid fever at his home in Colorado.

The Ladies' Aid society of the Congregational church will meet with Mrs. James Graham on Friday afternoon. A full attendance is desired.

Dr. F. C. Probst has returned and can be found in his office over Williams & Brosius' drug store, between the hours of 10:41 a. m., 2-3 and 6-7 p. m.

Letters remain unclaimed for in the post office as follows: J. H. Cox, R. A. Babson, F. O. McCutley, Thos. Putz (in care Mr. Romane), Mrs. Harry Thornburg.

John L. Henderson received his surveyor's transit last week from New York. He is very proud of the instrument, as well as he may be, for it is a beauty.

Joe A. Wilson, C. A. Bell and D. R. Cooper were among the Hood River citizens at The Dalles on Monday. H. Lage, Capt. M. F. Jackson, Peter Mohr and Alfred Boorman are on the circuit court jury.

H. H. Bailey went fishing up on Hood River Thursday. He brought home a fine string of fish, the smallest measuring sixteen inches. Tomorrow he contemplates going deer hunting. Thanks; we'll not refuse a piece of venison.

Mrs. W. L. Bradshaw left Sunday night for Asheville, North Carolina, where she goes with the hope that the southern climate may prove beneficial to her health. Her many friends hope that she may return fully recovered.—Mountaineer.

The weather continues warm and spring like, with occasional showers of rain. There has been no frost since the 14th of October. Though it seems like we have had considerable rain, the rainfall so far is not yet up to the average. The winter creeks are still dry.

The monthly business meeting and C. E. social of the Congregational church will be given this Friday evening at the residence of Mrs. and Judge G. T. Prather. Refreshments will be served. All the members and friends are urgently requested to be present.

Theo. Smith, who is looking after F. Perry's place, says he discovered a seedling strawberry plant last spring that kept bearing all summer. The berries were not highly colored but were of good flavor, and he believes he has a new kind of berry well worth propagating.

J. F. Wynn was down from his home-stead on Upper Neck creek on Friday. Mr. Wynn says crops have been good in his neighborhood. The potato crop especially is good. The soil in this neighborhood seems to be excellent for the growing of potatoes as well as for wheat, barley and oats.

It is said that a well-known German citizen of our sister city, White Salmon, telephoned the other day, to the Wasco Warehouse Co. at The Dalles, asking them to send him half a ton of barley. The man at the other end of the phone inquired "Who for?" "For the horse, you blank fool; don't get gay," quickly came the response.

Uncle Oliver Bartmess turned out on Monday and scaped. He was seen on Oak street, between Third and Fourth streets. The town authorities should now see that the piles of manure and leaves are hauled away. It would make good compost, and any one wishing to enrich a garden spot with straw-berry bed would do well to haul it off.

H. C. Bateham has completed his canvass of the town of Hood River for the sale of bulbs, roses and ornamentals. He reports a much larger trade than last year. Hood River is proud of their natural beauty, but their beauty can be greatly augmented by a judicious planting of roses, shrubbery and ornamental trees.

E. D. Calkins is still adding improvements to his poultry yards at Frankton. He recently completed a scratching house for his chickens, but they seem to have all the latest conveniences and improvements. Mr. Calkins has thoroughbred Black Langshans and Light Brahmas and will add Buff Plymouth Rocks.

E. B. Clark, the efficient station agent for the O. R. & N. at Hood River, has accepted a government position at Fort Stevens, near Astoria, and resigned his position here. Mr. Clark regrets to leave Hood River, but he finds the duties of his office here too onerous, and makes the change for the benefit of his health. He is universally esteemed by the people of Hood River for his social qualities and accommodating qualities, shown in the line of his official duties.

John A. Bartmess, who has been working at Davenport's mill during the past summer, left for Portland on Monday, where he will engage as a government teamster to go to the Philippines. A short time before leaving here he became acquainted with S. E. Bartmess and family, and while they all agreed that there was a family resemblance, they could not prove relationship. The young man was born and raised in California, while S. E. Bartmess came from Indiana.

When Commissioner Sherman inspected the nursery stock at Columbia Nursery, last week, he not only granted the certificates which certify that the plants were in good, marketable condition and clear of any serious insect pest or disease, but took occasion to say that he had seen of the trees grown in Hood River from year to year, this is the best place in the state to grow fruit trees. Those grown further east do not grow so well, and those grown west of the Cascades too immature, and this year badly affected with canker, which has never been seen here.

The dime social given by the ladies of the W. R. C. Tuesday evening was well attended and a good programme rendered. Mrs. Agnes Cuning presented. First on the programme was a piano duet by Mrs. Bartmess and Miss Anne Smith, followed by M. P. Isenberg, who gave a condensed history of the battles of the civil war. Doll Band sang "The Oregon Volunteer." T. J. Cunningham told a war story and gave a recitation in the death of Grant. Chas. N. Clarke sang a solo. Lunch time then arrived and the multitude sat down to a good repast prepared by the Relief Corps and its friends. Receipts $10.75.

A surprise birthday party was given Mrs. B. F. Shocuncker last Monday. It was a very pleasant occasion and those present were: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Shoemaker, Mrs. Sturtevant, Mr. and Mrs. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Chandler, Mr. and Mrs. Markham, J. L. Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. Canning and Mr. and Mrs. King. The dinner was prepared by the ladies and a present of nice dishes given in which Dr. and Mrs. Barrett were represented with the rest of the visitors. Socially the affair was a success as also was the dinner.

Norman Williams of Mt. Hood was given six or eight copies of the special edition of the GLACIER of July 14th by S. J. LaFrance. He mailed the papers to parties in the East. Saturday he called upon Mr. LaFrance and stated that he had handed six families of newcomers to Mt. Hood district who had been induced to come here from reading the GLACIER he had sent out, and that he expected two or three more families to follow. He is not unwise as to remark here that the special edition of the GLACIER well paid those who subscribed to it.

Hugh Gourlay of The Dalles was in town on Wednesday. He is engaged in gathering data for an article descriptive of Wasco county, its manufactures, agricultural and horticultural production, and general resources, for the New Year's Oregonian. Mr. Gourlay is the right man for this work, and Hood River may expect favorable mention within the pages of Wasco county.

A change has taken place in the livery firm of the Mt. Hood Stage Co. H. D. Langille and Bert Stranahan have purchased the interests of E. S. Olinger and Abe Foley. The firm consists now of Langille, Stranahan, and Bert Stranahan, who is the pioneer liveryman in Hood River. We have not learned what business he will engage in.

Sam C. Smith, foreman at the planer, met with what might have been a very serious accident on Tuesday last week. He fell from a log, a distance of 12 feet, and struck his neck on a snag. He received injuries to his throat and was unable to converse until last Monday. He is now recovering and will resume his duties at the planer in a few days.

Frank Angel, while at work at the ice house last Monday, accidentally struck his foot against the point of a pair of logs, and the point penetrated clear through his foot. It made an ugly wound. The young man was carried to Dr. Shaw's office where the wound was dressed. He may be laid up for a few weeks.

John L. Henderson has completed his map of Hood River and surroundings, with the exception of placing the names of the owners of real estate thereon. He asks land and lot owners to call at his office and see the map and give him the names of owners of dead lands.

The new store at Prather's corner is no longer a mystery. S. H. Cox is the proprietor. He is now opening out a well selected stock of dress goods, millinery, stationery, school supplies, canvas and other notions. His 3 and 4 cent counters will be special features.

The C. E. Society of the U. B. church appointed a committee, consisting of Rev. Benson, Miss Ida Foss and Miss Grace Howell, to collect reading matter for the railroad camps. The committee furnished a good supply to the camps on Monday.

Frank Knapp, the man who was so badly hurt at Nicolas-Cameron mill about six weeks ago, has recovered sufficiently to report for work again, and returned to the mill last week. The mill is now cutting lumber for its own use.

Some time between the 1st and 15th of December the ladies of the M. E. church will hold a sale of aprons and other useful articles. Meals will be served during the time. Full particulars will be given later.

Ralph Savage went to Portland last week to attend the football game between the University of Oregon team and the Multnomahs. He says the university boys played a good game but were beaten by a score of 5 to 0.

Miss Carrie Byerlee accompanied Mr. Shere to Portland to spend a week or so visiting her sister, Mrs. C. H. Byerlee, at Raleigh, Oregon. She will also visit the schools in Portland with the view of attending school.

The Oregon state poultry association will hold its annual meeting in Albany from January 22d to 27th. E. B. Clark is one of the poultry fanciers of Hood River expect to attend.

Omar Hawkins, a contractor on the railroad work being done at Hood River, is an old soldier of the civil war and served in the 19th Iowa. He will join Canby post at its next meeting.

C. E. Hollenbeck, lately from Wisconsin, is visiting F. H. Batton. Mr. Hollenbeck is a veteran of the civil war, having served in the 11th Wisconsin.

Abe Foley, who has been logging with his team at Stevenson, spent Sunday at his home in Hood River. Tuesday he brought home his team on the boat.

Sam Campbell was engaged Monday and Tuesday in moving the household effects of Messrs. Robison and Bowers to their new home on the East Side.

Miss Stimpson, who had been spending a couple of weeks on her place near Barrett school house, returned to her home in Portland, Monday.

Lucy Shattuck, after two or three weeks pleasantly spent in Hood River, returned to her home in Portland last Thursday.

Geo. P. Crowell has started a good precedent by having gravel walks laid across both streets from the entrance to his store.

Amos Underwood presented his friend H. Pugh on Saturday with a head of cabbage that weighed 27 pounds.

The Nicolai-Cameron mill received their first raft of logs from Biengen on Monday, consisting of 50,000 feet.

R. Kirbyson has contracted to clear an acre of land along the cliff for D. N. Byerlee for early straw-berries.

The Davidson Fruit Co. advertise fertilizers, something berry growers are interested in. Read their ad.

Gay Ward of Colfax, Wash., is visiting his cousins, Henry and Walter McGuire.

A brother of O. G. Chamberlain visited him last week from Athens.

W. W. Nason is building a brick fire at the residence of Dr. Brosius.

Elmer McCoy of Seattle is visiting at the home of Mrs. Rose McCoy.

Butter is selling at 60 cents a roll and eggs at 30 cents a dozen in Hood River.

M. P. Isenberg, in his address at the dime social Tuesday evening, made the statement that at Island No. 19 the Union army dug a ditch 12 miles long and 15 miles wide. Upon being called down by some of his comrades after he had left the platform he said that if he had the ditch was 15 miles wide (instead of 12 feet, as he meant to say), he would stick to it. Some of the audience thought this was the wildest ditch for its length they ever heard of. It must have been that "last ditch" that Jeff Davis used to talk about.

Judge Prather made the sale of the Van Arman place to Robison and Bowers.

No shooting stars have been seen from this neighborhood so far.

Mrs. C. J. Hayes is visiting in Portland.

East Hood River. V. Winchell's new house will soon be ready for occupancy.

Mrs. A. L. Mason has quite recovered from her late illness.

Hanging a dead snake on a tree will bring rain in a few hours.

Wheat continues to make an amazing growth. The blades in some fields are 20 inches in length.

The number of those qualified for membership in the Mazama's club would become as great as that of the sands on the seashore if a gin mill were to be erected on the top of Mt. Hood.

A typographical error in the last GLACIER makes Perry Cox a party to a land deal with F. Egger. Our well-known citizen Perry Cox was the person intended. He will have the care of Egger during the coming winter.

Henry Lage fills the position of foreman on Hon. M. A. Moody's Meadow Brook farm.

Mrs. L. C. Davis started for her home in Maine last week, after a two-weeks visit with her mother, Mrs. E. Feak, and other kindred. She was much pleased with Hood River and the golden West and hopes some day, with her husband and family, to make her home on the Pacific slope.

Warren Wells trapped two coyotes last week, on the mountain side east of his place, and found the toe of a third in the trap.

Wm. Cople has rented the Harwood place and is now occupying the house with his family.

Our excellent school, which promises great improvement in the near future, is a growing inducement for those with families to purchase land in our midst.

Messrs. Robison and Bowers, from Kansas, have bought the 40-acre tract from Mrs. Harn, situated on Little creek. The land is well improved, and for the coming year they will live on and operate Mrs. Kate Lacy's farm.

Planer Notes. Items from this quarter were knocked out last week by the serious accident to our foreman, Sam C. Smith, and the writer having his hands full.

S. C. Smith was going out on the trestle in Morton's field, Tuesday evening of last week, to pick out a jam of posts to let the water through to run into the creek, when he stepped on a slab which turned and threw him from the walk to the ground, 18 or 20 feet below. He struck on his breast and shoulder and would not have sustained very serious injury but for the stump on which he had been cut off squarely across and caught Sam upon his Adam's apple and mellowed it up much to his discomfort. Had the stump been "cut biased," as is usual, it would most certainly have cut his throat.

The railroad company have made a new stone box under their bridge to carry off the water from the lumber dune, and are at work grading along our track. They will put in an overhead bridge where the state road crosses the track, greatly increasing the safety of travel at that point.

W. L. Ellis commenced work at the planer last week and is an Al man, the kind we like to have join the gang.

Warren Miller's name went on the payroll last week. He has been working at Viento, but this point is nearer home for him.

J. O. Eastman's two boys have been very ill with typhoid fever, but are improving. Out is still off duty, however.

Peter Cordes received a slight injury Tuesday morning. A stick of cordwood fell from the chute and rolled end over until it fell from the platform, striking Pete on the head and arm and knocking him down. He was laid off a couple of days.

Perry McCroly while turning the feed gear of the planer to oil it caught the thumb of his right hand between the cogs, crushing it quite bad.

D. H. McCutcheon has quit the planer and moved back on the ranch.

Two more new houses nearly completed. We will have to petition the post office department for a post office and the railroad company for a station and "incorporate" pretty soon.

Clovered Neighborhood. M. M. Davenport is now occupying his new dwelling, which he has treated to the first coat of paint. He has also erected a commodious barn.

Richardson Bros. have nearly completed a new residence on their late property back on the ranch.

H. E. Blocher has begun the erection of a new house on his Strawberry ranch, formerly known as the C. R. Bone place.

H. J. Hibbard has just completed a combined cellar and ice house.

Rev. J. W. Jenkins and son Wilford are expected home soon from a two-months sojourn in Ohio and Michigan.

Jack Scroggins and family moved into the Baker home last week.

H. J. Hibbard has just returned from a business trip to Goldendale.

March Morse is still quite sick with fever.

F. W. Angus has lumber on the ground for a two-story dwelling, to be built in the spring.

Church Notices. Congregational Church—The pastor will preach at 11 a. m. on "Worldly Excuses." The C. E. service will be held at 7 p. m. Lender, Mrs. Georgia Bone. At 7:45 p. m., a service out of the usual order will be held. Different persons will read their favorite hymns, giving reasons why they are their favorites. Those who wish to participate are Mrs. J. F. Arnold, H. C. Bateham, C. J. Hayes, Miss Emma Bonney and Miss Carrie Cople. The pastor will give a short address on Hymnology. A cordial invitation is extended to all who do not worship elsewhere to attend these services.

U. B. Church—Preaching at 11 a. m. and 8 p. m. Sunday School at 10 a. m. The Christian Endeavor at 7 p. m. will be held by Mr. Willis. A prayer service is held every Wednesday evening. You are cordially invited to all of these services.

Well, How About Those Shoes?

If they are getting old, and rain will want in and will get in, then you will wish you had a drug store in your vest pocket. Better see some of our wet weather, heavy dress shoes, double soled, leather lined, men's "Wear Resisters," at $2.50. Heavy chrome calf, double soled, men's "Wear Resisters," 3.25. District 76 School Shoes, best we know of for the money, youths and misses, 1.65. Heavy kang. calf, best oak soles, children's same, 1.35. Our prices indicate what they are worth to us; you will find them worth much more to you.

And, about Rubbers—we sell at regular prices; best we can do on account of trusts; but we do not deceive you in quality. If we sell them for first quality, that's what they are.

In MILLINERY we make a special study of styles, quality and appropriate fitting. Another thing, our prices are not too high.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE.

The Companion for the year of 1899. During the remaining week-end 1899 the Youth's Companion will maintain its fresh and varied interest for young and old by presenting articles from the pens of eminent men and women and stories by the most gifted writers of fiction.

Among these contributors will be Frank E. Brown, who presents a droll story, "The Wolf and the Wheelbarrow"; James Bryce, author of "The American Commonwealth," who offers "Hints on Reading"; W. D. Howells and Jane Barlow, each of whom contributes a serial story; Bret Harto, who recalls an early California experience in "How I went to the mines"; Mary E. Wilkins, who tells of "Serena Maria at School"; and Henry M. Stanley, who under the title, "For Life and Liberty," relates a thrilling adventure of his travels in Darkest Africa.

The November and December numbers containing these features are given to every new subscriber for the volume free from the time subscription is received, in addition to the Companion's exquisite calendar for 1900—the last calendar of the century and the most beautiful one ever given to Companion subscribers.

Illustrated Announcement Number containing a full prospectus of the volume for 1900, will be sent free to any address. The Youth's Companion, 203 Columbus Avenue, Boston, Mass.

The Forestry Meeting at Wamic. The semi annual meeting of the Wasco County Forest Protective association held at Wamic last Friday was well attended. Members of the association from all parts of the territory interested came to show their appreciation of the work done and doing.

After the regular routine of business, committee reports, etc., Hon. W. H. Dufur, forest supervisor, who was present by invitation, was called upon and delivered an able address upon the work of the forestry officials and the results already obtained and prospective.

In the evening a large crowd gathered at the hall and a pleasant dance until late in the night followed.

The annual meeting of the association will be held at Dufur in May next year.—Dufur Dispatch.

On a Rainy Day. The land is gloomed in darkness, The sun shines out no more, While over these humid regions The rains incessant pour.

'Tis autumn in this Eden, This land so truly bliss, With six months rainy summer And snow months during the rest.

Yet paradise some call it— With me that cannot go, And I won't baffle my reason In trying to think it so.

If this were flowery Eden, The climate's changed, indeed; The birds have flown to hedges, And the flowers have gone to seed.

Married. In Plainview, Ore., Nov. 15, 1899, at the home of the bride's parents, Orange G. Chamberlain and Miss Lucie Brandon.

This is a great surprise to the people, as they did not think he had such serious intentions. Nevertheless we all applaud and extend our hearty congratulations.
