Mrs. P. G. BARRETT.

F. W. Loughery and family, who have been visiting with Mr. Hershner, returned to their home near Monmouth, on Monday. Mr. Loughery is Mrs. Hershner's brother.

On the 26th, at Mr. Cotton of White Salmon, who is working at mill B of the Oregon Lumber company, was caught between two logs and severely crushed about the abdomen and pelvis.

Alva Coate, only brother of Mrs. E. D. Calkins of Hood River, died at his home near Astoria, Kansas, last week from a paralytic stroke. He was 50 years of age. He leaves a wife and eight children.

A letter received from Dr. Hartley, at Moro, last week, stated that she was treating 28 persons afflicted with the malarial fever epidemic in that town, and which no physician has been able to name.

B. H. Drake and family arrived here last week from E. Stafford, Arizona. Mr. Drake is former, from Tennessee. He would like to rent a ranch, but while looking out for one, he has gone to work in the saw mill.

John McCoy came down from The Dalles Saturday morning and will spend a week visiting his folks in Hood River, and at his ranch at White Salmon. Mr. McCoy is now back at his old business of running an engine on the O. R. & N.

Three families of newcomers left Hood River last Saturday for Portland because their old city suits were too small to live in here. A family named Bird moved into Rev. J. W. Rigby's house in Williams addition on Saturday, making three families on in that house.

Prof. S. P. Barrett of Salt Lake, brother to the late Dr. P. G. Barrett, has been here since the funeral but expects to visit a daughter in North Yakima before his return to Utah. He has followed his profession as teacher for 42 years. He taught at The Dalles ten years and at Baker City eight years. He has been journeying with a daughter in Salt Lake, where he went for his health, and which he seems to have entirely regained.

Joe Wilson did a good turn for the public last week. The ditch on the upper side of State street had been neglected long enough, he thought, and he put in a day and a half cleaning it out all the way from A. Winans' residence to Mrs. Oiler's, at the foot of the street. This will save the streets below from being flooded with water from the hills above every time it rains. Joe is a public benefactor. The GLACIER will recommend him to the mayor for appointment to the office of street superintendent. May his shadow never grow less.

Dr. Brosius was called to Viento last Thursday to attend the four-year-old boy of A. J. Hamilton, who had sustained a broken arm by overturning a heavy slab that fell upon him. Mr. Hamilton's family has been sorely afflicted lately. Last summer this same four-year-old boy broke his arm; in the fall, an eight year old daughter was treated in a Portland hospital for hip-joint disease; in December, a five-year-old daughter died of appendicitis after a sickness of only a few days; now the mother of the children is in a Portland hospital being treated for an abscess in the head; and last Thursday the four-year-old boy broke his arm.

Several fruit dealers and commission men from the East, who were in attendance at the Northwest Fruit Growers association, which was held here last week, stopped over in Hood River, Oregon, on their way home, last Saturday. Among them were: Mr. Stacey of E. P. Stacey & Sons of Minneapolis; W. J. Molton of the Stacey Fruit Co., Fargo; S. J. Vidger of Fargo; Mr. Nash of Nash Bros., Grand Forks, N. D.; Mr. Fitzsimmons of the Fitzsimmons Dairy Co., Duluth. All of these gentlemen have handled Hood River strawberries. H. F. Davidson took them out over the valley and showed them some of our berry plantations. From the interest these gentlemen take in our valley there is evidently a good market ahead for our fruit.

S. C. Sherrill resigned as principal of the Frankton school, and his resignation was accepted by the board of directors at a meeting held Friday evening, Jan. 19th. It looks like there had been a preconcerted plan by some of the older pupils to worry the principal and break up the school. Mr. Sherrill had prohibited dancing on the school grounds, but some of the pupils persisted in dancing whenever his back was turned. On Wednesday, Jan. 17th, half a dozen or more pupils engaged in card playing near the school house door, where they were sure to be seen by the principal. All who had engaged in card playing were told to collect their books and go home. All obeyed except one young man, who said he wouldn't take his books and is expected to be back again in a few days. Mr. Sherrill at first refused to allow him to go without taking his books, and here is where the trouble occurred when it was reported that the principal had been kicked and so badly used up that he had to adjourn school. There was no kick—nothing more than that Mr. Sherrill tried to prevent the young man from leaving the house without taking his books, and some scuffling ensued. It is bad business for pupils to show such flagrant disregard of the rules of the teacher. The Frankton school needs a Snyder to straighten it out. Rev. H. K. Benson has accepted the principalship of the school, and it is safe to say there will be no funny business while he presides. He is a man who can correct unruly pupils in plain languages and is not to be trifled with.

The dinner given by Canby post to the ladies of the Relief Corps, last Saturday, was a very enjoyable affair. Among the invited guests in attendance were: Assistant Surgeon F. C. Brosius and Sergeant Howard Isenberg of the Second Oregon; John Dimmick of Troop F, Fourth cavalry; and Capt. F. M. Jackson, late of the Confederate army, who fought under Gen. Joe Wheeler and belonged to a Tennessee regiment. The Philippine veterans and the old gray haired veterans of the "lost cause" were cordially greeted by the members of the Grand Army. An excellent oyster dinner was cooked and served under the directions of Mrs. Langille, the landlady of the famous Cloud Cap Inn, who has catered to the epicurean tastes of tourists from all parts of the world. Two tables reaching the length of the east room were twice filled by the guests. An hour or two after dinner was spent in social converse, and with singing and music on the organ. The dinner was voted a success by all present.

Miss Bertha Prather gave a birthday party to a large number of friends last Friday evening. A very enjoyable time was spent in games and music, and an excellent luncheon was served. Miss Bertha was the recipient of a number of nice birthday presents. Those present were: The Misses Bertha Prather, Jessie Rogers, Ethel Woodworth, Grace Howell, Belle Howell, Gladys Bartley, Grace Campbell, Idel Woodworth, Vera Jackson, Nellie Erwin, Pearl Cox, Ollie Springs, Blanche Blowers, Carrie Copple, Nellie Olinger, Avis Watt, Georgia Prather, Grace Frather, Clara Blythe, Messrs. Chas. N. Clarke, D. E. Rand, Rev. H. K. Benson, Chas. Testevin, Roy Woodworth, Earl Prather, Benty Rand, Clinton Parsons, Guy Woodworth, S. M. Blowers, W. E. Sherrill; Mr. and Mrs. Geo. P. Prather, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Davidson.

A number of young folks of town spent last Monday evening at the residence of C. G. Roberts. In a game of progressive hearts, Miss Fay LaFrance received first prize, and Chas. N. Clarke received first prize in a geographical game. The remainder of the evening and part of the morning was enjoyed in dancing, interspersed with songs by Mrs. Reed, Chas. N. Clarke, C. G. Roberts and recitations by Ralph Savage and C. G. Roberts. Bountiful refreshments were served. Those who were present: Mrs. M. Reed, Mrs. Wm. Hadley, The Misses Elizabeth Roberts, Anne C. Smith, Virginia Marsden, Fay LaFrance, Clara Blythe; Messrs. H. D. Langille, Ralph Savage, Chas. N. Clarke, Wm. Davidson, C. G. Roberts.

G. J. Gessling, secretary of the Hood River Fruit Growers' Union, brings encouraging reports from the meeting of the Northwest Fruit Growers' association at Tacoma. He met men from all sections of the country who are strawberries are shipped, and all spoke highly of our berries and said they would want increased shipments the coming season. Hood River fruit is known far and wide, and where ever it goes, it can go again in increased quantities. Mr. Gessling, while in Portland, made arrangements to get all the money necessary to carry the union along and pay pickers till returns come in.

Henry K. Benson, who will take charge of the Frankton school as principal, beginning next Monday, is highly recommended. He had charge of advanced work in teaching for four years in Pennsylvania, and has a high school, normal school and college education, holding the degree of A. B. Mr. Benson will find a bright lot of pupils in the Frankton school, and we predict he will have no trouble in managing them to the satisfaction of the patrons of the school.

The following named members of Waucoma Lodge, K. C. P., attended the Friendship lodge at The Dalles, under invitation Monday night: C. E. Markham, C. P. Ross, Geo. Stranahan, M. H. Nickelsen, F. H. Stanton, Geo. T. Prather, J. R. Nickelsen, Grant Evans, Bert Stranahan, Wm. Graham, Howard Isenberg, W. E. Sherrill, Geo. Colman. Quite a delegation from the Cascade Locks and other places were present, and a banquet given.

Real estate transfers continue in Hood River. Geo. P. Crowell on Tuesday purchased the building in which his store is located, and two lots, of E. L. Smith. This is one of the choice business properties in town. Chas. N. Clarke and Grant Evans also bought lots during the week, purchasing of the townsite company just south of the old school house.

The seven-year-old son of W. M. Copple, living at Danbury's mill, was seriously scalded Sunday morning by falling from a box near the creek stove and upsetting a pot of boiling water on his chest. He was scalded on the arm and chest. Mr. Copple hurried to town and procured necessary remedies, and the boy is getting along all right.

Mrs. Julia Knapp has been appointed by Mrs. Dunniway to look after the interests of the woman suffragists in Hood River valley. If any of the outlying school districts need the services of a speaker to help along their cause they should apply to Mrs. Julia Knapp, at the People's Store in Hood River.

Mrs. Mariah Underwood died at Chenoweth, Wash., Jan. 23, 1900, aged 80 years. She had been a helpless invalid for 14 years. She died at the house of her son, Mr. J. H. Underwood, who had been a long invalid. Remains were buried at Chenoweth on Wednesday.

The grand ball by the Hood River Band tonight at the new building of the M. Hood Stage Co. promises to be a success. There will be plenty of room and a good floor on which to trip the light fantastic. Good music is promised. Tickets only 50 cents—within the reach of all.

Mrs. J. H. Dukess is in receipt of a letter from Mrs. H. E. Gitt, asking that some Oregon grape be sent to a friend in New York city for wedding decorations. The Gitt family are now residing at Minneapolis, and wish to be remembered to all Hood River friends.

H. S. Soles, of the well known and reliable firm of Soles Bros., piano tuners and repairers of Portland, is in Hood River and assures the most careful and painstaking attention to all work entrusted to him. Please leave orders at the Glacier office.

Chas. Temple went out to his home-stead Sunday evening, and making a late stay, got lost on the way home after dark. He borrowed a lantern of a friend's rancher, which lighted him home all right.

The W. C. T. U. will meet at the residence of Mrs. S. E. Bartmess, Thursday Feb. 1st, at 2:30 p. m. A good attendance is desired.

Hon. E. L. Smith returned Sunday evening from the meeting of the Northwest Fruit Growers' association at Tacoma, Wash.

Mrs. L. Henry started last Saturday for Colfax, Wash., where she will visit for a week or two with relatives.

A drove of fat cattle came down on the boat Wednesday for C. T. Bonney.

See the new additions to W. A. Singlerland's real estate list.

East Hood River.

A special school tax meeting will be held at Pine Grove, Saturday at 10 o'clock, Jan. 27th.

Miss Elizabeth Roberts returned from San Francisco last Monday for an extended visit at home.

Our new school bell was hung in its place last Monday and so adds one more note to the valley chime. Tardiness at school will henceforth be less excusable than in the past.

The citizens of Odell district are making an effort to build a union church, and about $130 have already been subscribed. The building is estimated to cost about $200. It will be built near the school house.

Miss Minnie Pansel, who was so severely injured by being kicked by a horse, last week, has regained her senses and will recover. Much sympathy is felt for the family in this serious trouble, and as constant watchfulness is needed in the case, the ladies of the neighborhood are taking nightly turns at the bedside of the injured girl.

Patrons of the rural mail system frequently find their mail somewhat soiled on rainy days, but any scattering person can easily see that it is no easy matter to sort over several hundred pieces of mail matter in a pouring rain without some damage being done. Winfield Olinger, the carrier, attempted to use a large umbrella hoisted over his cart on a few trips, but on account of limbs of trees overhanging the road in many places he found this impracticable. Those living along the route, as well as the supervisors, could do a great deal to relieve the situation in this respect. Information concerning the location of these obstructions would no doubt be given cheerfully by the carrier.

Mount Hood Notes.

Ziba and Joseph Dimmick and their sister, Mrs. Belle Coffenburg, started for Walla Walla last Saturday.

Norman Williams made a trip to Portland week before last and returned home Monday. He found the bridge that was built by the settlers washed out. The settlers had just sent in a petition to the county court asking that a county road be granted from the base line over their bridge, but the bridge is now washed away.

The recent high water did more damage to property along the river in the upper settlement than any high water in many years. Considerable damage was sustained by the mail company. Their mill race was filled with drift, sand and boulders.

Considerable prospecting has been done up here by some of the boys of late, but they don't bring in many specimens. You & Me.

Wm. Graham has bought an interest in Cole's confectionary and under the firm name of Cole & Graham this popular home will retain its share of trade and popularity.
