Hood River Glacier.

FRIDAY, MAY 18, 1900.

The populist convention at Sioux City nominated W. J. Bryan for president and Chas A. Towne of Minnesota for vice president. Towne is a free-silver republican and represents the extreme principles of the Chicago platform. If the democratic convention at Kansas City fails to endorse the nomination of Towne, Bryan will have two running mates again, the same as he did in 1896. The middle-road populists at Cincinnati nominated Wharton Barker for president and Ignatius Donnelly, vice president.

It will be seen by the list of water consumers, printed in another column, that the Valley Improvement Co. has sold over six hundred inches of water for this season at $5 an inch—a gain of three hundred inches in two years. The additional land that is being prepared for clover and strawberries indicate that there will be an increased demand for water, and next year the number of inches required may reach eight hundred, with a steady increase from year to year.

Strange Pension Case.

F. E. Hood, a pension examiner, came up from Portland last Saturday to examine into the case of R. M. Hunt, who has been an applicant for a pension for a number of years. Hunt served throughout the civil war in the Eighteenth Missouri and later in the regular army on the plains. He has lived in Hood River about ten years and has a wife and a large family of children. His record as a soldier is all right. He has disabilities that should entitle him to a pension, but so far has failed to get back upon Uncle Sam's pay roll. One reason of his failure was learned from the special examiner. It seems that back in the state of Missouri, in the town of Weston, where Hunt at one time resided, a woman claiming to be his widow is applying for a pension for herself and seven children. The children are not minors now but were at the time she claims Hunt died, and she asks arrearages for them as well as for herself. A comrade that served in the same company with Richard Hunt, now of Hood River, made affidavit that he attended the wedding in 1867, when this widow in Missouri married Richard M. Hunt. He also swears to having knowledge of his death. Richard M. Hunt claims that he was the only soldier in the company or regiment by the name of Hunt and that the "widow" is a fraud; says he was never married but once and then to his present wife. The soldier named of the Missouri widow's husband tallies with the record of Richard M. Hunt of Hood River, with the exception that she claims that her husband was captured at Shiloh and served in Southern prisons for a considerable time. Richard M. Hunt of Hood River has repeatedly related how he valiantly skedaddled at Shiloh, and if it hadn't been for the Tennessee river and the sloughs he thinks he would be running yet. The pension office is unrelenting when it gets upon the track of a fraudulent claimant and it will certainly prove that the Missouri widow is a fraud or that Richard M. Hunt is dead.

G. A. R.

At the regular meeting of Canby post, G. A. R., last Saturday, the recommendations of the committee of arrangements for Memorial day were adopted and will be carried out. Comrade Calkins will take charge of the ceremonies at Idlewild cemetery at Frankton. Post Commander C. J. Hayes will be in charge of ceremonies throughout the day and at Idlewilde cemetery. The Hood River band has kindly volunteered its services on Memorial day. In appreciation of its past services, the band was voted $5 from the funds of the post. The different lodges of Hood River were invited to take part in the exercises on Memorial day. A report from the ministers, announcing that Rev. J. W. Jenkins had been selected from among their number to preach the memorial sermon on Sunday, May 27th, and that Rev. H. K. Benson would preside, was read. Short addresses were made by Senior Vice Commander Calkins, Commander Isenberg, Comrade Rigby and others in which they feelingly alluded to the duties and responsibilities resting upon the old soldiers in their observance of Memorial day. Chas. E. Cobell, a visitor from Geo. Wright post of Portland, was called upon and spoke at some length. He said arrangements were making by the posts of Portland to charter cars for the trip to LaGrande when the state encampment meets June 19-21. By chartering cars the fare will be reduced to about $6 for the round trip, which will include an excursion to Sumpter and other places in the famous mining districts of Eastern Oregon. These rates will be given to members of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. and their families.

Spanish War Buttons.

When Manila was captured, the Second Oregon was the only regiment to enter the city and receive the surrender of the Spanish army and arms. A number of fine old bronze cannon were captured at that time. One of them was brought home and this splendid old bronze, cast in Spain more than a century ago, is now being made into souvenir buttons by a committee of the volunteers, and the buttons are being sold for the benefit of the fund to erect a handsome and artistic monument to the memory of the soldiers of Oregon who lost their lives in the Spanish and Filipino war. The button is made with a button back for men and boys and a pin back for ladies and girls. This is a valuable souvenir of the war, such as every adult and child in Oregon would be pleased to possess, especially as the entire proceeds of the sale will go to erect a splendid monument to serve as a perpetual object lesson in patriotism to the youth of the state. The buttons sell in any quantity at 25 cents each. The secretary of the committee is Captain H. L. Wells, box 347, Portland, Oregon.

The Dufur Dispatch says Prof. R. R. Allard opened a three months term of school in Ramsey precinct May 7th.

The fifteen survivors of the first republican national convention will be invited guests at the Philadelphia convention.

Rev. F.R. Spaulding delivered a prohibition lecture and also one on foreign missions in Wasco last week. Rev. Spaulding is a man of eloquence and thought, whose lectures are always greatly appreciated.—Wasco News.

Gov. T. T. Geer and Hon. F. X. Matthieu, on Thursday, located the exact spot where Jo Meek stood, on May 2, 1843, on the occasion of the meeting of the Oregon settlers, held for the purpose of organizing a provisional government for Oregon, at Champoeg, when Meek called for a division on the question of organizing, which was carried by the Americans by a vote of 52 to 50. The spot was pointed out by Mr. Matthieu, the only survivor of those stirring days, and was marked with a stake, and it is proposed to erect a suitable monument to permanently mark the spot.—Statesman.

Frankton Commencement

The graduating exercises of the Frankton school were held in the Belmont church last Saturday evening. A large audience filled the church. The church was neatly decorated, the class motto, "Excelsior" forming a prominent part in the decorations. The graduates were the recipients of very elaborate floral gifts and all were well remembered by their friends. The Hood River band interspersed the programme with selections. After the opening prayer by Rev. Benjamin Davidson, a number of the pupils rendered a quartette. Then came the rendition of the essays. Miss Maude Noble eulogized the life of Frances E. Willard. "Landmarks" was the subject of a well composed essay by Miss Nana Gerking. The only oration was spoken by M.J. Foley on the "Turning Point in the Civil War." In well chosen words and good delivery he described the interests at stake on the field of Gettysburg. Miss Tina Cramer, in a clear voice, spoke on the topic "The night Brings out the Stars," in which she emphasized the discipline effected by trouble, hope and experience. Miss Idelle Woodworth read the prophecies, which will appear next week in the Glacier, after which Miss Mabel Boorman spoke the valedictory. Her essay showed careful preparation and was rendered with good effect. The address to the graduates was delivered by H. K. Benson, pastor of the United Brethren church. He took as his subject the question, "What are you going to do with youth?" He enumerated three essential elements in striving after success: (1) Assume responsibility. (2) Be honest. (3) Work. Justus T. Neff, principal of The Dalles High school, presented the class with diplomas, and after a few fitting remarks by the principal, F. E. Barnes, the exercises were concluded. The graduates were heartily congratulated upon the successful completion of their studies, and all the exercises were very interesting.

[Articles appearing in the GLACIER under the above heading from week to week will be furnished and edited by the board of directors of the Hood River Fruit Growers' Union.]

The O.R.&N. Co. has granted the Union a permit to use the present warehouse during the present season. The other shipping concerns have moved toward the jail, but we will try to serve the co-operative shippers at a good distance from the jail.

The Union stands ready to do its part toward preventing the glutting of our principal markets, and have a man in Montana who has had fifteen or twenty years experience in marketing fruit, and who is selling the strawberries outright to the jobbers, and who is not there as a figurehead. This insures us prompt returns and no chance for the commission men to beat us.

The Union is running its own affairs, and no competitive concern has any control over it. Any so-called combination it may enter into to prevent glutting of markets will certainly not hurt the shipper.

Any man who has ever been in Montana during shipping season knows that if Hood River growers would get together in some way and each ship his share of berries and have one man distribute them there to the various houses at a fixed price, the price would be fixed in Hood River instead of by irresponsible commission houses whose motto is "25 cents per crate less than any one else."

School Report.

Following is the report of Mt. Hood school for month ending May 4, 1900:

Number of days taught, 20; number of pupils enrolled, 17; total number days' attendance, 214; average attendance, 13.7. Those who were neither absent nor tardy during the month are: Zelma Mayes, Clyde Fredenburg, May Cooper, Joseph Hess, Floyd Hess.

JENNIE PARSONS, teacher.

F. H. Barnhart, editor of the Sheridan Sun, died at his home in McMinnville May 13th. Mr. Barnhart conducted the Yamhill Reporter for 12 years. He was a practical printer and one of the most successful country newspaper publishers in the state. He was universally esteemed and respected.

Harry C. Liebe of The Dalles has been placed upon the democratic ticket for joint representative for Wasco, Crook, Lake and Klamath counties, in place of S. P. Moss, who declined on account of ill health. Mr. Liebe, if elected, will make an able representative.

The Union shipped five crates of berries Saturday to Spokane and Sunday received a check for $11 for the five crates.

It is suggested that fruit growers who use the Bordeaux mixture should remember that it is used stronger for winter spraying than for summer. Read your bulletins on the subject.

The class prophecy of the eighth grade of Frankton school is unavoidably crowded out this week but will appear next.

"It is with a good deal of pleasure and satisfaction that I recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy," says Druggist A. W. Sawtelle, of Hartford, Conn. "A lady customer, seeing the remedy exposed for sale on my show case, said to me: 'I really believe that medicine saved my life the past summer while at the shore,' and she became so enthusiastic over its merits that I at once made up my mind to recommend it in the future. Recently a gentleman came into my store so overcome with colic pains that he sank at once to the floor. I gave him a dose of this remedy, which helped him. I repeated the dose and in fifteen minutes he left my store smilingly informing me that he felt as well as ever." Sold by Williams & Brosius.

Mule Race.

The mule is one of the best birds that ever flew, and he is appreciated in Heppner. He it was who packed big loads all over the North Pacific coast when there were no wagon roads here, and he packed the arm ammunition and what little food they had for the soldiers when they were on their wild rides after hostile Indians in the early days. Most any pioneer will lift his hat to the mule, for he knows what the mule legally has done for the northwest.

Spring races in Heppner almost always come off, but generally horses do the racing.

This year there is a change, and the mule has had his inning.

A. M. Bunce the sheepbuyer from Wyoming, matched his pinkish mule against Waldon Rhea's sky blue mule for fun and $10 a side, and the event caused great sport. A big crowd went down to the depot grounds Monday afternoon, and the race came off, and Waldon's mule won by half a mule length.

It was a 250-yard dash and as even and pretty a race as ever was run. Both were good riders and did their best. Tom Matlock and C. E. Redfield were the judges. Mr. Bunce was full of race, and ready to run again, footrace or anything else.—Heppner Gazette.
