FRIDAY, JUNE 15, 1900.

The little scare in town, last Thurs-day, when the fire occurred in Williams each twenty-four hours. In that strick-2. & Brosius drug store and the whole town was threatened, caused many people to think and talk about protection against fire. The town is badly in need of a system of matter than the street of food and water. Severe and the street of food and water for a system of matter than the street of food and water. we have a confisgration that will cost more than the preventive. Then, we worst. Last Saturday a log on Morse Bros.' logway, 13 miles below Hood River, got off the ways and knocked a bent out of a bridge on the O. As a consequence, the railroad company has sued Morse Bros. for $100 damages, and asked that they be forever enjoined from running logs on their chute. This logway has just been constructed at a cost of $3,000, and it reaches a body of timber in which there is 20,000,000 feet of lumber. The Hood River Fruit Growers' Association has proved itself to be a valuable organization for the farmers of that valley; this is proved in 245 crates of strawberries which were shipped on May 22d, and sold in Fargo, N. D., and a check received in payment therefor of $712.42, or, at the rate of $2.91 net per erate; on the day the car was shipped, local buyers were paying $1.75 per crate; thus making a profit of $1.16 in favor of the organization. We are at a loss to understand why any fruit grower in Hood River, or, as far as this is concerned, in any other part of the state, is not more than anxious to go into the association that will help to regulate prices, instead of doing as most of them do, stay a way from all horticultural meetings, howling that organization is always a failure.—Pacific Farmer.
