

Hood River Glacier.

FRIDAY, AUGUST 10, 1900.

That part of the Samoan islands decided by international agreement last summer to be property of the United States has been officially turned over to the U. S. government. Commander Tilley, in charge of the naval station at Tutuila, recently transmitted to the state department at Washington, an "instrument of cession" executed by the chiefs of Tutuila and the United States government. This document is in the Samoan language and is accompanied by a translation in English. It cedes and transfers to the government of the United States of America, the islands of Tutuila and Manua, and all other islands, rocks, reefs, foreshores and waters lying between certain described degrees of latitude and longitude. The government of the United States shall respect the individual rights of all people to their lands and other property, and if the government require lands, shall take the same on payment of a fair consideration. The chiefs of the towns shall be entitled to retain their individual control of the separate towns, if that control be in accordance with the laws of the United States and not obstructive to the people and the advancement of civilization. The instrument is signed by twenty-two chiefs.

The apple crop of Hood River is the best we have had for years. The spray pump has been kept going, and very little damage has been done by the codling moth so far. The next thing is to look out for the market for our crop. Not one-half the growers are prepared to keep their winter apples for a winter or spring market but will be obliged to sell at picking time. Some of them would prefer to sell their crops on the trees. These growers will feel the necessity of advertising Hood River's big apple crop and will be interested in the holding of our biennial fair. If the fair is held and well advertised it will bring apple buyers. It may be too early to hold our fair before the Portland street fair and carnival, but we should not fail to have an exhibit in Portland as well as at home.

Virginia was awarded first prize on apples at the Paris exposition, June 27th. Twenty-five barrels of Virginia apples were kept in cold storage by the government at Washington until forwarded to Paris in time for the contest. The varieties in the collection consisted of Ben Davis, Winesap, Yellow Newtown and York Imperial. The Ben Davis and York Imperial were very ripe when opened June 25th. The Winesap was quite sound, and both lots of Yellow Newtown were in excellent condition. The fruit was bright and clean and attracted favorable attention, both from the jury and the general public.

The Blue Mountain Eagle, published at Long Creek for the past 14 years, has moved to Canyon City, the county seat of Grant county. The Eagle is an up-to-date country newspaper.

Remarkable Precocity.

Hood River, Aug. 4, 1900.—I had a brood of chicks come off February 5, 1900. June 22d one of them began to lay. She laid twenty eggs and went to setting. I put seven eggs under her, and today (August 4th) she came off with several little chicks. I also have a number of pullets laying.

Paris Exposition Awards.

The fine showing of American manufactures at the Paris exposition this year is likely to win a number of awards from the international juries selected to pass upon the exhibits. According to section 88 of the general regulations governing the exposition, the French government will grant the following rewards: 1st the Grand Prix, sometimes called the diploma of honor, which is granted for exceptional merit only; 2d, gold medal; 3d, silver medal; 4th, bronze medal; 5th, honorable mention.

A Big Contract.

The O. R. & N. has let a large contract to N. D. Miller of St. Paul, Minn., for "improvements and betterments of its main line from mile post 60, east of Hood River, to mile post 77, near tunnel No. 3. Several hundred thousand yards of rock and earth will have to be moved to make the fills, and a new tunnel is also in the specifications. The work will require 1,500 men for a period of two years, but the contractor is to bring his own force and outfit from Minnesota. A great deal of work has been done along the main line west of Hood River within the past two years, and the contracts were finished only a few weeks ago, since which time work has been suspended. These improvements are costly, but they tend to lessen the operating expenses of the road, insure greater safety and make additional speed practicable. The line is to be straightened and well ballasted, and new bridges and trestles will replace old ones. The work is to begin as soon as the contractor can get his forces on the ground, and will continue, regardless of weather, until the improvements are completed.

Don't Offer Wormy Apples for Sale. The Oregon state board of horticulture will enforce strict quarantine against infected fruit and have issued the following circular quoting the law:

Section 5. It shall be unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to import or sell any infected or diseased fruit of any kind in the state of Oregon.

Sec. 6. Every person who packs or prepares for shipment to any point without the state, or who delivers or causes to be delivered to any express agent or railroad agent or other person, or to any transportation company or corporation, for shipment to any point without the state, any fruit or fruits, either fresh, cured or dried, that is infected with insects, pests or diseases injurious to trees, shrubs, plants, fruits or vegetables, is guilty of a misdemeanor.

Sec. 7. Any person, firm or corporation violating any of the provisions of this act shall be deemed guilty of a misdemeanor, and upon conviction thereof shall be punished by a fine of not less than $25 nor more than $100.

Sec. 8. It shall be the duty of the commissioner of the state board of horticulture for the district in which a violation of this act occurs to present the evidence of the case to the district attorney, whose duty it shall be to prosecute any person guilty of a violation of this act, which prosecution may be brought in any of the justice courts of this state.

Took his own Life.

Walter Green, who had been in town two weeks, committed suicide, Sunday noon, by shooting himself through the heart. He left a crowd at C. L. Rogers' cigar stand, corner Second and Oak streets, stepped out into the street some ten paces, opening his vest as he went, whipped out a revolver from his hip pocket, and placing the weapon to his left side fired the fatal shot.

Green arrived here two weeks ago Sunday from Bridal Veil, where he had worked for two Swedish fishermen. One, G. E. Carlson, claimed Green extracted $240 from his person while asleep on a scow. Carlson and partner found Green's whereabouts and followed him to Hood River last Sunday morning. The men met Green and demanded that he pay the $240 or go to jail. Green had spent his money lavishly in a protracted spree and had but $120 left at the time. The men followed Green around town all morning trying to get back the money. Carlson accosted Marshal Olinger and started him to the street to Olinger's office, with Green and the other man following. On reaching Rogers' corner, Green said Carlson enter the marshal's office, and he immediately stepped to the middle of the street and shot himself.

Green was well connected in the East, coming from a wealthy family at Buffalo, N. Y., and had recently returned from a trip to Japan, where he had gone on a deck hand aboard the merchantman St. Paul. He had been denied admittance to his father's house, and when notified of his death, his father refused to have anything to do with the corpse. The body was sent to Portland, Monday, for burial by an uncle of the deceased.

The young man was about 26 years of age. He procured his revolver the next day after arriving in town. He was noticed by a troubled look, and remarked once that he was apt to leave someday via the Smith & Wesson route.

Of Interest to Property Owners.

John Leland Henderson recently made a careful survey of the lots on the south side of River street, between the west side of Irving street and west line of Waucoma. He finds that the Townsite Co. has platted and sold ten feet more land than the company owned. He locates the error along the west line of blocks 16, 17, 18 and 19, and is confident that the east line of the street should be about ten feet east of its present line through all said blocks. This error has been carried into the street, and the west line thereof is ten feet too far west. All the lot lines west of this are correspondingly or thereabouts. Waucoma addition was surveyed and platted and partly sold before the Townsite Co. acquired title to blocks 16, 17, 18 and 19, as platted by said company. Hence the lines of Waucoma must prevail over the lines of said blocks 16, 17, 18 and 19. The distance from the west line of Irving street to the west line of Waucoma, up River street, is 800 1/2 feet by actual measurement. The distance as platted by Waucoma dedicating and Townsite Co., taken together, is 900 feet, or 100 feet more than there is land to plat. Mr. Henderson thinks that perhaps the simplest way out of the difficulty would be to vacate the east ten feet of First street, Waucoma, and for the Townsite Co. to deed to owners of blocks 16, 17, 18 and 19. But this will not help the lot owners to the west, all of whom must move fences.

H. H. Riddell, postmaster of The Dalles, was arrested Saturday morning by Deputy United States Marshal Roberts, on a charge, it is understood, of opening and detaining letters addressed to county officials and prominent attorneys in The Dalles. His bondsmen, Robert Mays, Jr., W. H. Wilson and A. M. Kelsey, took charge of the office and appointed Forrest S. Fisher, who has been acting as chief clerk for Mr. Riddell, as postmaster. Mr. Riddell furnishes bonds in the sum of $500 to appear before the United States court at Portland. He has refused so far to make a statement of his side of the case in the controversy.

The second annual convention of the eastern division of the Oregon state teachers' association will hold a three days' session at Baker City, beginning Wednesday, Sept. 5th. A number of the prominent educators of the state will be present to take part in the programme. The principal speaker will be J. M. Greenwood, superintendent of the public schools of Kansas City, Mo. Supt. C. L. Gilbert will address the assembly Thursday morning on "Relation of Society to School."

J. H. Jay of Clark county, Wash., a successful gardener, says when he sets out cabbage and tomato plants he sprinkles a little lead plaster in the hole and over the plants then and again later if necessary, and this keeps off injurious insects.

Pie Has no Virtues.

Mrs. S. T. Rorer writes, in the August Ladies' Home Journal, on "Why I am Opposed to Pies," making it clear that they are not healthful, supply but little nutriment and call for much work in the making. "Inside the pie is a complex mixture is frequently found," she says. "If it be a mince pie, especially one containing liquor, added to preserve the mass, and it does so not only in the jar, but in the stomach also, it is doubly bad. If it be a fruit pie, such as cherry or other acid fruit, the cane sugar has been inverted, both by the heat and the acid, and we have 'invert' sugar of two sorts, one most prone to fermentation. If this inversion of the sugar had been prevented by the ferments of the digestive tract according to Nature's plans, we could get from it a greater amount of true food with less expenditure of vital force. Taking into consideration that the heating of the fat by the baking of pie has robbed it of easy assimilation, the surrounded starch grains are more difficult of solution, the 'invert' sugar prone to fermentation, we certainly have wasted our energy and a tremendous amount of food in the digestion of these materials from which we have gained little."

"My baby was terribly sick with the diarrhoea," says J. H. Donk of Williams, Or. "We were unable to cure him with the doctor's assistance, and as a last resort we tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. I am happy to say it gave immediate relief and a complete cure." For sale by Williams & Brosius.

When wit is kind as well as playful, when information knows how to be silent as well as how to speak, when good will is shown to those who are absent as well as to those who are present, we may know that we are in good society.—August Ladies' Home Journal.

"I had a severe attack of bilious colic, got a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, took two doses and was entirely cured," says Rev. A. A. Power of Emporia, Kans. My neighbor across the street was sick for over a week, had two or three bottles of medicine from the doctor. He used them for three or four days without relief, then called in another doctor who treated him for some days and gave him no relief, so discharged him. I went over to see him next morning. He said his bowels were in a terrible fix, that they had been running off so long it was almost black flux. I asked him if he had tried Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy and he said "No, I went home and brought him my bottle and gave him one dose, told him to take another in 15 or 20 minutes if he did not find relief, but he took no more and was entirely cured."
