

Hood River Glacier

FRIDAY, AUGUST 17, 1900.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Bird cages at Sherrill's. School books at Coe's. Full line of furniture at Sherrill's. Second hand bikes at John Hull's. Harness and bikes repaired by J. Hull. Kitchen treasures, $2.50 at Sherrill's. Sherrill's prices are as low as Portland prices. See them 50c shoes at Bone & McDonald's. Washing machines, $3.75 and $4, at Sherrill's. For Byrket's butter, go to Bone & McDonald. For guns, ammunition and fishing tackle, go to Bone & McDonald. L. D. Boyd is building a barn 30x50 feet on his place on the East Side. John Leland Henderson returned on Monday from a trip to Puget sound. Buy your magazines and periodicals at Bradley's Book and Stationery store. The bell ordered by C. D. Henrich for the Valley Christian church arrived last Saturday. Jerald Blount has moved into his new house on the land he bought of J. H. Shoemaker. Mr. Shere has bought Web Jones' place at Barrett, and intends erecting a new house soon. Harry Mersem has returned to his home at Rainier after spending two months in Hood River. Those Brownie lunch boxes are just the thing for the children to carry their lunches in. At Sherrill's. Hon. J. W. Morton treated the Glacier force to a basket of his luscious peaches, grown on Riverside farm. J. E. Dishman has returned to Hood River after a protracted absence in quest of health. He is much improved. W. P. Watson has a seedling from the Red June apple, the fruit of which is very large and handsome; the color a dark blood red. The Valley Christian church has purchased a new bell and will put it up in place this week. E. L. Rood has the contract for painting the church. Apples for Sale—A fine lot of apples of the best varieties. Would prefer to sell the whole crop on the trees. JOHN SIMA.

L. D. Boyd spent five men to Messer on Monday to work on a contract he has for building for the contractor who is straightening the track of the O. R. & N. railroad. F. H. Stanton marketed 26 boxes of four-tier apples, last Saturday, from three Gravenstein trees 11 years old. The three trees produced 40 boxes of apples, 34 of four-tier and 6 five-tier. Now is the time to move in the matter of holding our horticultural fair. Let the officers of the fair call a meeting. We have the fruit this year to make the best exhibit Hood River has ever held. Lage, Hinrichs & Harbison started their thrasher last week at Harbison Bros. on the East Side. Monday the thrasher went to Chris Dethman's. The thrashing company has about 18 settings for the season. A wonderful growth of egg plums can be seen in the orchard of W. P. Watson. A branch of a plum tree, about 30 inches long, contains so many plums that it is impossible to count them. They hang like bananas and are of good size. Clyde T. Bonney, the busiest man in town, not having enough business to occupy his time, has purchased the Morse Bros' logging outfit below Viento and taken their contract to furnish logs for the Lost Lake Lumber Co. Mr. Bonney is a hustler. Dr. F. C. Brosius has removed to his new residence at the west end of Oak street, midway between the school house and armory, and can be found in his office over Williams & Brosius' drug store between the hours of 10-11 a. m., 2-3 and 6-7 p. m.

O. Johnson of Portland returned home Wednesday after a week's sojourn on his farm on the East Side. Mr. Johnson is a conductor on the City & Suburban street railway in Portland. His young orchard is bearing this year for the first time and will turn off a nice lot of fruit. The following party returned Tuesday from a week's outing at Maple Dell and Lost Lake: Mrs. S. A. Knapp, Agnes Ingelbretson, Nettie Kemp, Grace and Blanch Lane, Minnie Ferras, Levy Bradley, Roy Woodworth, Marsh Isenberg, Fred Coe. The party report a good time. The Glacier office force was treated by W. P. Watson on Tuesday to a good supply of peaches, tomatoes and celery. Mr. Watson finds a ready market for his celery and fruit at the Hotel Portland. His peaches are unsurpassed for size, color and flavor. He thinks the fruit on the tree, never allowing the peaches to hang closer than three or four inches apart. W. H. Bishop arrived here from Warm Springs on Monday. Mrs. Bishop and Perrin have been visiting here for the past three weeks. Tuesday the family started East and will visit relatives and friends in the Dakotas, Minnesota, Wisconsin and Iowa. Mr. Bishop will return to his duties at Warm Springs after a month's vacation, but Mrs. Bishop will prolong her visit for several months. Captain Seth Lee, brother of Mrs. Julia Harvey of Hood River, who died recently at Muskegon, Mich., was quite a noted mariner and successful business man. The Daily Chronicle of Muskegon gives a sketch of his life a column in length. Capt. Lee started as cook on a schooner, and at the age of 19 he was master of the schooner Ellen Kent. Mrs. Harvey had not met her brother for 50 years. H. C. Bateham says he has found a new insect preying upon the larvae of the codlin moth. He uses the customary burial bands around the trunks of his trees for the purpose of catching the worms, and upon examining them once in ten days he finds quite a number of long, lively gray worms with black heads and shiny backs. In nearly every instance where there are one or more of these worms living on a tree, the apple worms are killed either in the larvae or cocoon stage. Commissioner Schanno, who happened to be passing at the time, promised to send a specimen to the experiment station for identification. Emilie Schanno, horticultural commissioner for The Dalles district, was in Hood River during the week. Mr. Schanno says he found traces of the San Jose scale in the orchards along Indian creek, where it seems it was never thoroughly stamped out since it first appeared there seven or eight years ago. Commissioner Schanno says the five-year crop of apples will be immense and of first-grade quality. He thinks the Davidson Fruit Co's cannery is a great institution for Hood River, and that it ought to find canned blackberries an especially profitable product, since the fruit is easily produced here, and is of extra quality.

H. Henn, station agent at the Cascade Locks, formerly of Hood River, who spent his vacation at McCoy creek, helping Jim Langille in his mine, came in Monday from Trout Lake. He says Jim will remain for several weeks yet and try to finish the job of sinking a shaft to bed rock on his claim, to find out for sure whether there is any gold there for him or not. Mr. Henn is a vegetarian and has abstained from the use of meat for the past two years. He stood the trip to McCoy creek and played out on the trip. This year he stood the trip in fine shape, making 25 miles a day over the mountains. He uses pea nut butter as a substitute for meat and is confident now that a man can withstand hard marching and labor better without the use of meat.

Capt. A. S. Blowers and wife returned Tuesday from St. Martin's Springs. The captain went there with a case of rheumatism and came home greatly improved. Mrs. Blowers had been troubled with eczema for years, and in doctoring for it had spent hundreds of dollars. After nine days at the springs she came home completely cured. The new hotel is completed and occupied, and the accommodations are much better than earlier in the season. About 40 persons from different parts of the country are there for health. Inflammatory rheumatism and all kinds of skin diseases are cured by bathing in the waters of the spring. Good effects are obtained by drinking the mineral water.

W. S. Gregory, formerly a resident of Hood River, who left here three months ago for Portland, where he got married, has been placed in rather a disparaging light by his wife. It seems that after his marriage in Portland the couple went to Tacoma and started a restaurant. The business not proving a success the restaurant was closed. The wife went to Portland, and rumor had it that she ran off with a gambler. But she returned to Tacoma, denied the report, claiming that her husband had mistreated her, and even said that her mother had won his affections. Mr. Gregory and wife are well known in Hood River. No one here credits the story of Gregory's wife. They only blame him for marrying the girl.

W. Hutchinson and wife of Tacoma are visiting E. W. Winans and family. They brought their goods with them from Dayton, Wash., and may conclude to relocate in Hood River. Mr. Hutchinson was among the first to run a meat market in Hood River. He bought out Capt. Coe, who was our first regular meat merchant, and built the house now owned and occupied as an office by Judge Prather. Mrs. Hutchinson's health has not been good of late, but since her return to Hood River she is much better.

The statement in the Glacier two weeks ago that it was the breaking of the steering gear which caused the wreck of the Billings was misleading. The information came second hand and was in itself wrong. Capt. Coe says it was the lack of proper steering gear that caused the wreck. The heavy steamer had insufficient hand wheel steering apparatus, which required two men to handle, and when the accident happened one of the men came near being seriously injured by being thrown under the wheel.

The dwelling house of Linnaeus Winans, in Winans' addition, took fire from a defective terra cotta flue, last Sunday, and burned to the ground. The household goods were about all saved except the kitchen furniture. A cook stove that cost $55 and $50 worth of canned fruit were lost. Forty or fifty dollars in money, some jewelry, a lot of tools, Filipino relics and a sewing machine were also lost. The fine old oak shade trees near the house were destroyed. The total loss is about $600, with no insurance.

Mrs. Shannon, who came here from Portland three months ago with a sick boy, aged 14, and has been living in one of Mr. Watson's houses, and later in Winans' addition, will have to go to Eastern Washington for his health which has not improved here. Mrs. Shannon has a new tent, that was never put up, which she desires to sell to help raise funds to care for her sick boy. The tent is 14x16, four-foot walls, extra heavy canvas. It cost $21 and she will sell it for $14.

The Glacier was misinformed last week as to the origin of the smallpox in Underwood. The Skamania Pioneer says: "A man living near White Salmon had been to Portland and brought his little girl with him, who, it is reported, was already broken out, and gave a dance and many were present, so that all who attended were exposed."

Dr. Shaw has removed to his former residence on school house hill. He has made considerable improvement on the house and surroundings. Prof. Barnes moved into the W. H. Bishop house. Chas. N. Clarke moved to his new house on Sherman avenue. Leslie Butler has rented the new house of Dr. Shaw.

The small pox patients at Underwood and White Salmon are under close quarantine, and as no other cases have appeared the quarantine against White Salmon and Bingen has been raised. Underwood's quarantine will be under quarantine until danger is past.

E. Morse was up from his logging camp at Stevenson. He reports that his men will begin to put logs in the river by today, and next Monday they will be working a full force.

The family of E. S. Olinger desire to thank their many friends for their kindness and help extended during the late illness and burial of G. W. Backus.

The Glacier's 40-page pamphlet on Hood River will be ready next week. Orders for the same are arriving already from the East from home-seekers.

Mrs. Mariah McGuire has an exhibition of reciprocity corner two tomatoes to tell the scales at three pounds. They are beauties.

J. I. Miller and two daughters of Hood River were visitors in Sherman county last week, according to the Observer.

Mrs. N. Toestev, daughter Lillian and son Charles returned last week from a trip to Portland and the coast.

Mrs. C. R. Bone went to Seaside on Monday. She expects to remain there for six weeks.

Miss Minnie Elton took the examination at The Dalles last week for a state diploma.

Charley Toestevin has resumed his position as "hello girl" at the telephone office.

Strayed—A little black Jersey cow, with a short horn. Mrs. ATTERBURY.

Uncle Oliver Bartmess was in Portland last Friday taking in the sights.

Miss Clara Gatchet of Woodlawn is visiting her sister, Mrs. E. T. Carns.

School tablets, etc., at Coe & Son's.

Morse Bros., who have been logging near Viento for some time, came down on Saturday's boat with part of their camp outfit and five or six men and opened a camp on Cate's land near the chute, about two miles west of this place. At the present time they have eleven hands employed. Morse Bros. will get out logs for the Lost Lake Lumber Company—Pioneer.

Williams-Graham.
A very pretty and happy wedding was solemnized Wednesday, August 15, 1900, at 10:30 a. m., at the residence of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Graham, when they gave away their young daughter, Miss Alice J., in marriage to Mr. G. E. Williams. The brief and impressive ceremony was pronounced by Rev. J. L. Hershner.

The rooms were beautifully decorated with Oregon grape and sweet peas. The bride was richly attired in white Persian lawn and lace and carried a bouquet of white roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Lillian Toestevin, cousin of the bride, looked beautiful in a gown of pink lawn. The groom was attended by Mr. L. M. Davidson.

After the ceremony, a dainty wedding breakfast was served, the table decorations being amiable and cut roses. Mr. and Mrs. Williams left on the 1:30 Chicago special for Portland, whence they departed on the State of California for San Francisco, where they will spend ten days. Upon returning to Hood River they will conclude their wedding tour by accepting the kind invitation of Mrs. Langille to spend a few days at Cloud Cap Inn.

The wedding presents were choice and valuable, among them being a check for $100 from the groom's parents.

The bride is one of Hood River's most charming daughters, and the bridegroom is a successful business man, affable and well liked, and manager of the firm of Williams & Brosius.

Those present at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. James Graham, Mr. and Mrs. N. Toestevin, Dr. and Mrs. F. C. Brosius, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Graham, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Hershner, Mrs. Grace Bartsch, Mrs. J. Binns, L. M. Davidson, Miss Lillian Toestevin, Charles Toestevin, Masters Esty Brosius, Robbie and Roy Binns and Clarence Brown, Misses Florence Brosius and Grace Binns.

Mr. and Mrs. Williams will be at home in Hood River after Sept. 10th. No cards.

Back from Nome.
James Parker returned last week from Cape Nome, Alaska. Mr. Parker says things at Nome are greatly overdone. There is not enough gold in the country for the miners and not enough work for the laborers. He says there never was more than 15 miles of beach land which contained pay gold, and that this was all worked over. He says that five thousand people came down from Dawson early last spring and worked over the same ground, consequently there is little of the precious metal left in the sand. What mining there was along the creeks has been stopped on account of the unlimited number of contest claims yet unliquidated. There is a typical mining town with a population of from 25,000 to 30,000. The city is overstocked with business and establishments of all kinds, there being an over-supply in every business line at which money can be made. Prices are falling. A fair meal may be obtained for 50 cents and 50 cents for 50 cents a dozen. Mr. Parker worked at the sluice boxes on the beach, receiving 60 cents an hour in wages. He returned with a vial of retort gold that he had panned out himself. The summer climate of Nome is something like it is here. There is no night time, the sun dropping below the horizon for but a few moments. Newspapers can be read at any time in the 24 hours.

East Side Cannery.
Wm. Kennedy of the East Side is in the fruit canning business quite extensively this summer, and so far the demand for his products exceeds the supply. He has a $200 order for tomatoes. Comatoes, he says, are a scarce article in the valley, and he is doubtful if he can find more than enough of the fruit to fill the order. He put up 9,000 quarts of strawberries, 5,000 quarts of cherries, and expects to put up the same amount of Bartlett pears. He put up 1,000 tumblers of choice crab-apples, which were sold for $1.25 a dozen—cheaper than a housekeeper can put up the same fruit. He is also putting up Gravenstein apples, which make an excellent canned product, holding their flavor till late the following spring. This year he tried an experiment in canned peas and has an excellent brand, which he is offering for $1.50 a dozen for 2-pound cans. Mr. Kennedy's cannery is quite an enterprise. It has a capacity of 1,000 quarts of fruit per day, and during the strawberry season he has twenty hands employed. It requires a force of ten persons when canning apples and pears. In manufacturing his jelly he uses only the pure sugar and no adulterous glucose.

G. A. R. Camp Fire.
At the regular meeting of Canby Post, G. A. R., last Saturday, it was decided to hold a camp fire and basket picnic on Saturday, Sept. 8th. The ladies of the Relief Corps were present and took part in making arrangements for the camp fire. A prominent G. A. R. man and able speaker has been invited to deliver an oration, and the old soldiers of the civil war, as well as the younger ones of the war with Spain, will be given a chance to speak. The place selected by the committee, consisting of Comrades Rigby, Calkins and Phelps, for the camp fire is the park in Blowers' addition recently fitted for picnic purposes. It will be a regular basket picnic, and everybody is invited. The executive committee consists of S. F. Blythe, A. L. Phelps, E. D. Calkins, J. W. Rigby, L. H. Hershner, J. H. Bailey, G. P. Crowell, L. Henry, J. H. Dukes and A. S. Blowers. This committee will appoint all sub-committees that may be needed to make the camp fire a success.

THE PEOPLE'S STORE.

Columbia and Hartford Bicycles.

Prof. F. G. Young, secretary of the Oregon Historical Society, and Joseph Schafer, the recently elected instructor in history at the University of Oregon, start from Omaha, August 20th, for Oregon, and propose to identify points especially rich in historic associations on the old Oregon trail. They will take views of spots on the route from Grand Island and Kearney, in Nebraska, to the Columbia river, going up the North Platte, through the South Pass, and touching the trail where the California route branches from it at Fort Hall, Boise and conspicuous points in Eastern Oregon.

Prof. Young is especially desirous to have suggestions from Oregon pioneers as to spots to be identified and photographed. Letters containing information about the trail should be addressed to Mr. Young at Omaha, Neb., and should be sent so as to reach that place by August 20th.

Capt. Whitcomb of the Central Navigation company tells a Telegram reporter that the report to the effect that the Billings was to be stripped was without any truth whatever. He reports that without doubt the Billings will be floated, and beyond several small holes in her hull, will be as good as ever. Capt. Whitcomb went to Portland for material wherewith to construct ways by which the Billings will be "skidded" off the reef. Her position is peculiar. Both her bow and stern are lying over deep water, the depth of the water under her bow being thirteen feet and under her stern eleven feet. It is only the middle part of the hull that is embedded on the rocks. There are two reefs running diagonally across underneath her, with a depth of water of nine feet between them. She is lying in a slanting position on one side, the water covering the keel, being at a depth of four feet and at the other side only one foot. The holes, five of them in number, are all patched up, and all that remains to be done is to launch her from the ways.

Played Out.
Dull headache, pains in various parts of the body, sinking at the pit of the stomach, loss of appetite, feverishness, pimples or sores are all positive evidences of impure blood. No matter how it hangs over deep water, the depth of the water under her bow being thirteen feet and under her stern eleven feet. It is only the middle part of the hull that is embedded on the rocks. There are two reefs running diagonally across underneath her, with a depth of water of nine feet between them. She is lying in a slanting position on one side, the water covering the keel, being at a depth of four feet and at the other side only one foot. The holes, five of them in number, are all patched up, and all that remains to be done is to launch her from the ways.
