The Most Attractive of Hood River Suburbs,

Is now for the first time placed on the market. In laying out this new addition the proprietors have given to the man of moderate means an opportunity to make himself a home in the loylicst portion of our beautiful village. The inducements to locate are many. It is healthy; no dust, mud or wind; it is close to one of the best regulated public schools in Wasco county; the great public highway from the city to the country passes on the west side of this addition, but not through it, so the streets will not be muddy in winter nor dusty in summer. Several wells have been bored and fine water found at about 16 feet. An abundance of water for irrigating purposes can be had at small cost to reach every lot. This is an ideal snot. The home-sceker that neglects this opportunity is not wise. You can get a lot now from first hands cheaper than you ever can again.

Hood River property has never retrograded in price. Don't believe the croakers when they tell you that the town is done growing, that there is nothing for the town to grow on. It has been sung ever since the first store was built, still if has kept on growing and will continue to grow long after every lot in Waucoma Park is sold. There are rumors in the airhave you heard them?--that mean this: A great hotel close to Waucoma Park, another at Mt. Hood; a rail line to connect them, and which will bring out the tens of millions of feet of magnificent timber that line the hillsides and valleys. It will bring out train loads of ice from the everlasting glacier storehouses of old Mt. Hood. It will bring home-seekers that will buy lots in Waucoma Park Addition as long as there is any to sell. Buy now on your own terms; they will cost more soon. For full JOHN LELAND HENDERSON. information apply to

The Prison Missionary is a monthly publication edited and printed by L. J. Sprague, prisoner No. 2409 in the Oregon state penitentiary, at Salem. The endeavor of the Prison Missionary, as the editor states, is to "Christianize the inmates of the institution." A worthy object, indeed. As the publisher is not allowed to do job work, and as advertising is out of the question, he is compelled to rely upon subscriptions for expenses. Small sums for subscriptions sent to box 338, Salem, would be effective home missionary work.

Method of Forest Preservation.

The question of forest fires is one that becomes more troublesome every year during the outing "season, and is a question that has and will .continue to attract the attention of legislatures. In an article in reference to this question the Scientific American says:

In Pennsylvania we are able to report substantial progress in the way of sup-pression of forest fires. Ten years ago it was estimated, and not over-estimat-ed, that the annual loss to that state by ical buyer insists on low prices. It is easy to get good groceries at some stores, and low prices at others, but it is not often that you can find both at the same store as you will at ours. For instance:

Groceries
