

Hood River Glacier

FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 14, 1900.

BRIEF LOCAL MATTERS.

Bird cages at Sherrill's. First line of furniture at Sherrill's. Second hand bikes at John Hull's. Bargains at Denver Clothing Store.

Miss Nellie Wickham is visiting in Salem. For Eyrkett's butter, go to Bone & McDonald. Washing machines, $3.75 and up.

Geo. P. Crowell's store building has been treated to a new sign, the work of J. B. Hunt. Miss Bertha Sunderland came up from Portland Saturday and is visiting with Miss Nellie Clark.

H. J. Frederick has opened a carpenter shop on state street in the rear of Blowers' new building. New market, new meats, new people, new prices. Remember the Hood River Meat & Produce Co's boxes.

Warren Miller brought to the Glacier office some corn of the Yellow Dent variety, measuring 8 feet in height. Yuh Yun mattresses, $2.25; common woven-wire mattresses, $1.50.

Clarence Gilbert was in Portland last week. He is being treated by a specialist for deafness, and is getting along nicely. Miss Hester Howe expects to leave next week for Monmouth, where she will continue her studies at the state normal school.

Dr. J. B. Clark and daughter, Beulah, of Fort Stevens are in Hood River, visiting with Mrs. Clark's mother, Mrs. Everhart. J. Bagley, after nearly a year's steady work as O. R. & N. agent at Hood River, is taking a three week vacation.

See Bartness' reduced prices. Also note the articles marked "same old price" and see if you have not purchased these cheaper elsewhere. Miss Arvilla Poore left Wednesday for Monmouth, where she will enter the normal school.

For Sale—Two lots in Hood River, each 50 by 150; $90 for the two. Fine view of Columbia and Hood rivers; beautiful building site. Must be sold in ten days—at the Emporium.

Mrs. J. W. Connell and children arrived Thursday morning last week, from Port Norfolk, Va. It has been three years since the Connells left Hood River, but Mrs. Connell says she wished often times to be back here, for the sultry summer climate of the Atlantic states is unbearable to people who know there is such a place as Oregon.

The Glacier was unable to get a complete list of Hood River fruit growers who had fruit on exhibition at the Portland carnival. Among those who helped to make the Wasco county exhibit a success were: Harbison Bros., August Paesch, M. V. Rand, E. L. Smith, Bailey & Son, H. Prigge, E. E. Savage, G. H. Castner, Alfred Boorman, E. Locke, H. C. Batesman, H. J. Hibbard, Frank Caddy, C. E. Markham, H. Hanson, Geo. Booth, J. J. Gibbons, T. Bishop, W. P. Watson, and others.

The new side walk along Geo. P. Crowell's store property on Oak street is a great convenience on muddy days. The public would appreciate a few more sidewalks and cross walks on our business thoroughfares.

One of the best farms in Hood River valley, West Side, containing 94 acres; well improved; plenty of water; 1 1/2 miles from town. Price $50 per acre.—A fine farm, 160 acres, three miles from White Salmon landing, Wash. Well improved, and goes at a bargain. Close to school house. Call on or write to Geo. T. Prather.

The new market will open tomorrow in the building formerly occupied by the Mt. Hood Stage Co., but which has been remodeled and made almost entirely new by its owner, Capt. Blowers. F. E. Denzer of Hood River and H. F. Davis of Portland are the proprietors of the new market.

The Glacier humbly acknowledges that the Dalles can beat Hood River this year on big peaches, but we are ahead on big apples. We ask the Chronicle editor to wait reports from the Wasco county fruit exhibit at the Portland carnival and see if Hood River doesn't make the better showing.

Capt. Coe has had surveyed and plotted an addition to the town of Hood River, which he names Waucoma Park addition. This property is above and near the public school building, in a most desirable location for residence property.

Inquiring the news of a Belmont citizen, the Glacier man was informed that Belmont is to have another church, and that the amen corner will be at the Ferry place. The fact that F. G. Church had bought the Savage place and F. H. Amen the Perry place explained the assertion of the Belmonter.

Dr. J. B. Pilkington died at Baker City, Sept. 5th, aged 66 years. Dr. Pilkington was at one time a resident of Hood River, and owned the old Smith farm at Frankton, where he started a nursery. He was a skilled physician and an enthusiastic horticulturist.

A meeting of the executive committee of the Hood River Fair will be held Saturday afternoon at the A. O. U. W. hall. It is important that there be a full attendance. The election of a president will be necessary in the illness of H. F. Davidson.

Wm. Kennedy's fruit dryer took fire Tuesday night, at 12 o'clock, and one end of the dryer was burned out. The damage was soon repaired, and the dryer is again at work. Thos. Chapman and E. T. Foltz are employed in running the dryer.

More pride should be taken in keeping the streets of our town free from rubbish of all kinds. People are often seen opening their mail on the way from the post office and scattering the envelopes and wrappers to the winds. The roads leading to town are often impeded by stumps and brush heaps that are allowed to remain eyesores for years.

F. H. Blagg brought to the Glacier office four ears of corn of the Yellow Dent variety that are very large. The largest ear measures 11 inches in length, and they are all well filled out. Mr. Blagg has only half an acre in corn but it will bring him 50 bushels.

A. C. Helms, who has been harvesting in Morrow county, was in Hood River during the week. About a month ago, he contracted blood poison in his right hand and had to go to a Portland hospital for treatment. He left Saturday for his home in Indiana.

A year ago, our townsman E. R. Bradley was a resident of Texas, living between Galveston and Houston, the scene of Saturday's awful horror. He was personally acquainted with some of the victims of the frightful disaster.

Sam Blowers secured a pair of ferrets in Portland last week which he will use to rid the brick store of rats. The evil odor of the ferrets alone ought to be enough to drive rodents of all kinds out of town.

Judge Prather made sale of the property owned by Dr. Carns to W. H. Perry. He also sold to G. E. Kellogg 23 acres known as the Jenkins tract, adjoining John Sweeney's place, East Side.

Mrs. Helen D. Harford of Newberg, president of the Oregon W. C. T. U. will lecture at the U. B. church in Hood River next Thursday evening, Sept. 20th. Civilization is gaining ground at Belmont. The Savages have left the neighborhood and the community is to have another church.

The funeral of little Clifford Metcalf took place Wednesday from the U. B. church. Rev. C. A. Wyman preached the sermon. Fred DeBord of the Glacier tonsorial parlors took in the carnival at Portland, last week.

Mrs. Perry McCrory made a visit to The Dalles Tuesday, returning next day. Miss Florena Gideon of Chicago is visiting Mrs. G. E. Williams. Regular meeting of the Eastern Star, Saturday night. Harvey Rand is drummer boy at the public school.

J. H. Gerdes is janitor at the school house. The Dalles will hold a street carnival. Henry McGuire is at McMinnville. Hood River Public School. The Hood River public school opened Monday with an enrollment of 180 pupils—an increase of 58 over the opening day of last year.

With the crowded condition of some of the rooms it was thought necessary by the board to either drop the ninth grade and give the principal the seventh and eighth grades, or hire an additional teacher. The hiring of another teacher would make an additional expense of $400 and necessitate the borrowing of that amount from the board of directors.

SCHOOL SHOES

We are well supplied with and can fit out your children at most any price you want, but we always keep an eye on QUALITY, only some are cheaper than others, principally on account of style, finish, etc.
