Dr. F. C. Brosius has removed to his new residence at the west end of Oak street, midway between the school house and armory, and can be found in his office over Williams & Brosius' drug store between the hours of 10-11 a. m., 2-3 and 6-7 p. m.

It's McKinley. Well, let us begin the four years in the right way, and there is only one way to enjoy prosperity or end adversity—have a "Full dinner pail." Use our market as your assistant. Our prices are low enough to please the man with the small purse, while those who carry a full purse will find the quality and price of our meats to their liking. Reciprocity Corner.

Winnie Olinger is driving the delivery cart for Reciprocity Corner.

L. E. Morse and family celebrated Thanksgiving at C. E. Markham's. Extremes (politically) meet.

Letters remained in the Hood River post office, Dec. 3d, for Ocal Baker, Jno Olsen and Mrs. A. S. Steel.

The extension of Chas. N. Clarke's drug store building is progressing, notwithstanding the wet weather.

Fred. Eggert, brother to J. H. Eggert, arrived here Friday and will spend the winter with his brother at Wyeth.

H. J. Frederick was called to Goldendale on Sunday by the serious illness of his brother-in-law, A. W. Bhorter.

Hans Lage found a pocket book containing money and left it at the Glacier office for the finder to pay for this notice, prove his property and take it.

Attorney A. A. Jayne moved his family from The Dalles to Hood River last week, and is occupying the house recently vacated by Postmaster Yates' family.

A Christmas tree festival will be held in the Crapper school house on Christmas eve, with the usual exercises. Jasper Wickham is superintendent. The usual good time is expected.

Geo. Alcock, Indian, was arrested last week, charged with stealing a couple of horses from Indian Slim Jim. In default of $400 bonds he was taken to the county jail by Constable Olinger.

D. L. Harris, minister in charge of the state of Oregon, is reorganized church of Latter Day Saints, arrived in the valley last week. He is stopping with the family of Thos Chapman.

J. T. Nealeigh has named his new location at Frankton the West Hood River Electric Light and Box Factory. He has a fine location for his factory, with sixty foot water fall in Phelps' creek.

J. H. Eggert was in town Saturday. Mr. Eggert has charge of Bonney's wood camp at Wyeth. He says the camp will employ 25 wood choppers this winter. Mrs. Eggert has charge of the boarding house.

Miss Van Wyck of the Portland Library is stopping with Mrs. Canfield at the Bradford brothers' residence. Miss Van Wyck has come to Hood River for the purpose of resting her eyes and expects to remain three months.

O. G. Chamberlain came down from Athens on Saturday for a few days on a business trip. Mr. Chamberlain is weigher at Athens warehouse, taking the place of his brother, who was elected county clerk at the June election.

R. M. Hunt has been hauling gravel for the street in front of the business houses of Chas. N. Clarke, S. E. Bartness, Hanna & Hartley, T. C. Dallas, E. E. Savage and the Glacier office. A load or two of gravel covers a multitude of mud.

At the Crapper school, on Wednesday, the closing hour of the school was devoted to a programme of exercises for Thanksgiving, consisting of recitations and songs. A number of the patrons of the district were present, and all appreciated the choice selections that had been prepared by the teacher. It was of a higher order than would be expected in a back woods country school, and the presence of so many of the parents is an indication of the esteem in which Mr. Arneson is held in the district.

Among the tens of thousands who have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy for colds and grippe during the past few years, to our knowledge, not a single case has resulted in pneumonia. Thos. Whitfield, Co., 240 Wabash ave., Chicago, one of the most prominent retail druggists in that city, in speaking of this remedy, says: "We recommend Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in many cases, as it not only gives prompt and complete recovery, but also counteracts any tendency of the grippe to result in pneumonia." For sale by Williams & Brosius.

J. F. Kertchum, member of the firm of W. N. Sayre & Co., commission merchants of Portland, was in town last week. He went to White Salmon and bought Capt. Cook's and Mr. Overbaugh's apples, and also bought several lots of apples in Hood River. Mr. Kertchum, about eight years ago, shipped the first carload of apples that ever went from Hood River. It will be remembered that he caused lots of trouble. He required several of the boys who sold him apples to repack their fruit after hauling it to town before he would accept it. To one man, whose packing he said was all right, he paid five cents a box more than he agreed to. Mr. Kertchum did more than any other man towards teaching Hood River how to pack apples. One man whom he made unpack his fruit has since won a prize for best packed box of apples.

Robt. Lesauere, while in town Friday, stated that in company with J. R. Bird, he has been prospecting on the East Fork of Hood River for a dam location. He found a place where a dam could be constructed that would cover 30 acres and hold enough water to flood the river below twice a day and float logs at the rate of 80,000 feet a day. High walls of rock on each side of the river make a dam easy of construction. Mr. Bird thinks it an ideal place to build a dam. In a haul of half a mile 10,000,000 to 15,000,000 feet of logs would be available, and in a haul of a mile double that quantity could be reached.

Frank Lee, editor and proprietor of the Pacific Farmer, was in town Wednesday. Mr. Lee has one of the largest job printing establishments in Portland. His presses print more than a dozen other papers besides the Pacific Farmer. He now claims for the Farmer the largest circulation of any paper of its class north of San Francisco. Mr. Lee had been called to The Dalles by the death of a sister-in-law, Mrs. Pearl Binford, whose death occurred Tuesday. Her remains were brought down on the boat Wednesday to White Salmon and taken to Camas Prairie for burial. Her maiden name was Pearl Diamond.

The residents and property owners along the state road, between Paradise Farm and Haynes' hill, have waked up on the road proposition. Volunteers under the superintendency of Warren Miller, the supervisor, have been at work for the past week blowing out rocks, grading and hauling gravel. A good box culvert has been put in at Laufenberger's place. The citizens along the road meant to reverse the order of things and make what has been for years the most wretched piece of road in the lower valley one of the best and prettiest driveways in Hood River.

Among the many blunders that occurred in setting the type for last week's Glacier was the item that sent Mrs. Harry Bailey and S. E. Bartness to Portland. After writing an item for the paper, Mrs. Bailey signed her name and immediately following her signature she wrote a personal about Mr. Bartness and little Aldine going to Portland. The intelligent compositor set her name in with the personal. It is very dangerous to write for a country paper if you don't see the proof.

John Wilson, a blacksmith working for Johnston's railroad camp, the first camp east of J. H. Koberg's ranch, came to town Sunday and filled up on whisky. On his way to camp Sunday evening he laid down on the railroad track and went to sleep. He was run over by a freight train that cut him in two; at the same time the engine and four cars were thrown from the track, obstructing the track till morning. His home was in Helena, where he leaves a wife and two children.

Robt. Lesauere of Mt. Hood came down Thursday to attend his local meeting Thursday evening. He brought with him Mrs. Ann Perkins, who was en route to a Portland hospital for treatment. Mrs. Belle Coffeyburn also came along. She will take charge of the board of the Oregon Lumber Co. at Chenoeth, and will be assisted by her brothers John and Joe Dimmick.

Davenport Bros. have about completed a sale of their big mill to be delivered about June first. Mr. Davenport thinks there is more money in raising hay and stock than running saw mills without water. His supply will be short next season on account of not being able to use the feeders on Phelps' creek. The mill is to be shipped to Glendale, Oregon.

Relations and friends of John Hakel to the number of six from Montana, spent Thanksgiving with him and his wife at their home 7 miles south of town. Friday afternoon they went to Astoria. The other a sister of Mr. Hakel and a brother-in-law, will make their home in Hood River probably for the winter.

Dallas constructed a peanut warmer for Geo. F. Coe & Son. The peanut trade of this firm has become so great, that the firm for the latest improvements and conveniences in serving customers. No old stock of roasted peanuts ever accumulated at Coe & Son's.

A spectator at the union services on Thanksgiving day at the Methodist church was somewhat disappointed at the size of the audience and wishes to say that all who do not attend are missing an interesting discourse by Dr. Hines.

Hon. E. L. Smith Tuesday received a letter from his old college mate, U. S. Minister E. H. Conger, at Pekin, China. His letter was dated Oct. 23, 1900. His wife, daughter and niece are with him. He says he sees no hope of getting away from Pekin this winter.

Apple butter made by the Davidson Fruit Co. is now being sold by Hood River stores. This is a notable product, absolutely pure, rich, and of finest flavor. The Glacier in testifying that it was made by experts.

Mrs. W. H. Bishop and son Perrin returned to Hood River on Tuesday and left the same day for the Warm Springs Agency. Mrs. Bishop reports having had a delightful visit with relatives and old friends in the East.

J. B. Hunt finds he will not have time to finish the drop curtain for the entertainment next Wednesday evening. He wishes to thank those who gave him aids.

Mrs. and Mr. J. F. Haworth, Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Haworth and Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Mann of The Dalles took Thanksgiving dinner at C. M. Sison's. The ladies are sisters of Mrs. Sison.

Chas. T. Early will present to the council at the next meeting a proposition to furnish electric lights for the town. All he will ask is the right to erect poles in the streets.

Klose Tillicum debating society meets every Friday at Nicola's instance of at Frankton. Fred Smith is president and Miss Lulu Absten secretary.

C. Rosenkranz has moved to his home at Underwood. He has a fine piece of land for fruit adjoining Ed. Underwood's ranch.

Sam Blowers went to Portland, Monday, to attend business college. Chester A. Shute takes his place in the store of A. B. Blowers & Co. will have everything in the line of Christmas goods at Santa Claus' old headquarters, Prather's corner.

Miss Alvina Hoadey went to Portland yesterday. She will attend business college.

Dorance Smith found a package addressed to S. A. Pearson, 655 Sherman street, Portland. It is at the Glacier office for the owner.

Go to C. L. Rogers & Co. and get your boy one of those nice hats selling at cost. They must make room for Christmas goods.

Canby Post, G. A. R. and W. R. C., meet tomorrow at 2 o'clock. Inspection and election of officers.

The entertainment for the benefit of the public school library will be held Friday evening, Dec. 14th.

The pile driver went over to White Salmon on Tuesday to drive piles to repair the dock.

The Woodmen will give a dance at Lauterbach's hall, White Salmon, Christmas eve.

Horace Strong and wife of Moro spent Thanksgiving with J. I. Miller and family.

Lyman Smith of Astoria came up Thanksgiving day and returned Friday.

Light wagon for sale. Inquire of H. Pugh.

Miss Carrie Butler is visiting in Portland.

Jones, the tombstone man, is in town. Eggs 35 cents a dozen in Hood River.

Poultry Notes.

Do not wait until you have hatched your pure bred eggs before making preparations to take care of the young chicks. If you do, the rush of spring work will cause you to neglect making the necessary coops, feeding and watering troughs, etc., and this will mean a serious loss to you. If you have been letting the scrubs rough it in the pines and firs or in an old, tumble-down house, build a good, new, comfortable house and have it ready for your new stock. That is, if you wish to make the best of your opportunities; if not, if you wish to see which will stand the most abuse, the scrub or the pure bred fowl, don't improve their quarters as you improve your stock. But why not be content with what you have? If your neighbor came to you and tried to work some game on you and get something from you for nothing, you would think him a deadbeat and have no confidence in him in the future. How much better are you than he when you allow your fowls to roost out in the rain or in a leaking foul-smelling excuse for a house, and let them find their own living or starve, at the same time, looking for eggs and fat fowls for the table? Be honest with your hens. If you must defraud some one, cheat your neighbor, he can get back at you, but don't try to swindle your hens. Their house need not be a pretentious one, but should keep out the cold and damp and every suspicion of draft. Leave no cracks or holes for the wind to blow through. A nail hole permitting the wind to blow directly on a fowl's head, once caused a severe case of roup in my flock. There is no use in buying expensive eggs and getting a start of the best fowls to be had if proper care is not taken of them. It is natural for all kinds of domestic animals to expand to the limit of their capacity, and judgment is exercised in handling and propagating, the fowls will follow their natural tendency and return to the original gallus bankiva or sonneratii of prehistoric times. Some of our scrubs look as though they were not more than two or three generations from that stage of excellence now. We need a hundred more good, active members in our club, and I will be very glad to write a receipt at any time or place for your membership fee. Remember the meeting Saturday, Dec. 8, and come in as early as you can and help us make this valley what it should and can be, the best poultry district in the state.

D. N. BYRLES.

Hood River Public School.

The following-named pupils were neither tardy nor absent during the month ending Nov. 30, 1900.

C. D. THOMPSON, Principal.

How to Care Croup.

Mr. R. Gray, who lives near Amenia, Duchess county, N. Y., says: "Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best medicine I have ever used. It is a fine children's remedy for croup and never fails to cure." When given as soon as the child becomes hoarse, or even after the croupy cough has developed, it will prevent the attack. This developed, it kept in mind and a bottle of the Cough Remedy kept at hand ready for instant use as soon as those symptoms appear. For sale by Williams & Brosius.

U. B. BAZAAR.

The United Brethren bazaar will be held at the armory the 12th and 13th of December, next Wednesday and Thursday. In the evening of the 12th, at 8 o'clock there will be held in connection with the fair a "Trade Carnival" in which 28 of the leading business houses of Hood River will be represented by 28 young ladies in costume. The U. B. orchestra will furnish the music for the trade carnival march. There will also be rendered a short programme of recitations and songs. The gardener with a nice choice cut flowers will be there; big dolls, little dolls and boy dolls, pickaninies, lady Dinahs and lady Pipers will hold sway. The tastes and fancies of each and all can be satisfied. Admission at door free through the day, but will charge 10 cents each for evening entertainment. Will serve fresh oysters, coffee and sandwiches in evening.

Thanksgiving Party.

The following parties celebrated Thanksgiving as guests of Harvey and Ida Crapper: Mr. and Mrs. Henry Howe, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Howe, Mr. and Mrs. L. Henry, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Cuning, L. D. Blount, Grandma King, George, Helen and Marion Howe, Alice Miller, Blanche and Myrtle Howe, Arthur Cuning, Guy, Pearl and Roy Crapper. The dinner was one of Mrs. Crapper's very best, and the guests' testimony as to its excellence was in stronger terms than words. Mr. Blount expanded to his fullest capacity, and even Henry Howe's voracity for food was satisfied. He had enough. The hours passed in pleasant informal sociability, and a touching incident was the presentation of a bed quilt to Fred Howe being the anniversary of his birthday by Grandma King that she had made for him in her 78th year. It was a fine piece of needle work and will be regarded by the recipient as among his choicest treasures. And so reasons for thanksgiving multiply. T. J. C.

City Election.

The election on Tuesday for three aldermen and a city treasurer passed off quietly. A light vote was polled. The taxpayers' ticket, the first nominated, was elected throughout. Following is the vote: For Aldermen—M. F. Shaw, 92; D. McDonald, 79; H. D. Langille, 61; C. R. Bone, 59; L. Henry, 55; Wm. Haynes, 44. For Treasurer—Geo. T. Prather, 73; Geo. P. Crowell, 47.

Played Out.

Dull headache, pains in various parts of the body, sinking at the pit of the stomach, loss of appetite, feverishness, pimples or sores are all positive evidences of impure blood. No matter how it became so it must be purified in order to obtain good health. Acker's Blood Elixer has never failed to cure scrofulous or syphilitic poison or any other blood diseases. It is certainly a wonderful remedy, and we sell every bottle on a positive guarantee. Williams & Brosius.

Born.

In Hood River valley, Nov. 30, 1900 to Mr. and Mrs. John Castner, a son.

Church Notices.
