Dr. F. C. Brosius has removed to his new residence at the west end of Oak street, midway between the school house and armory, and can be found in his office over Williams & Brosius' drug store between the hours of 10-11 a. m., 2-3 and 6-7 p. m.

Uncle John Smith is visiting in Minnesota. Rev. Chris. Nickelsen came over from Goldendale last week. The infant child of Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Rich died last week and was buried on Sunday.

Mrs. Della Montgomery and son Jamie of Ft. Stevens are visiting relatives in Hood River. Mr. and Mrs. M. V. Harrison of Portland visited Hood River last Sunday on the Bailey Gatzert.

A light frost visited parts of the valley on the morning of May 20th. We can learn of no damage. M. P. Ienbergh has been invited to deliver an oration before the G. A. R. at Hepper on Memorial day.

Oscar Stranahan has given ground for a lane leading from Lyman Smith avenue to the Arkansas settlement. Jos. A. Wilson left Saturday night for Milton, where he has accepted a position as shipping agent for the Milton fruit union.

Strawberry pickers arrive daily in considerable numbers, and the crowds on our streets once more present a cosmopolitan appearance. Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Garrison of Tacoma are visiting Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Baker. Mrs. Garrison is a daughter of Mrs. Baker.

A dead cow was found last week lying in the canyon leading to the Donniker place. It is a light red cow with white on belly, three years old. H. J. Byrket came in from Trout Lake Tuesday. He reports that a heavy white frost visited his section Monday night but did no damage.

Cole & Graham have received a fire proof safe, present from a tobacco company, which they earned by saving and sending in 3,500 tobacco tags. Last Saturday a week ago H. L. Crapper's barn was discovered to be on fire by Will Crapper and Tom Van Auadal, who were working near by. Flames started from loose hay in the mow. No one can tell how the fire originated but it was started by mice setting fire to matches or by spontaneous combustion. The fire was extinguished before much damage was done.

Robt. Rand purchased two lots of the townsite company, on the brow of the hill above his place and has since dug out a spring, that runs about one inch of water. He has piped the water to his residence grounds and will use it for sprinkling his beautiful lawn. Water seems plentiful along the brow of the hill, only a few feet below the surface. Mr. Rand had to dig only about 15 inches. What is the good of others can do.

Harry Bailey, the free delivery mail carrier, says that unless his salary is increased he cannot accept the position for another year. His contract will expire July 1st. Mr. Bailey has been untiring in the fulfillment of his duties as mail carrier in all kinds of weather, and we believe that a petition to the department asking that he be allowed extra compensation would be readily signed by every patron on his route. He delivers mail to 170 boxes. Including all who receive mail and send mail by him, he has 875 patrons.

The street fair commission have completed arrangements for a grand moonlight excursion from The Dalles the night of the 6th of June. It is expected two hundred and fifty people will come to take in the fair. The Dalles band will be at the fair, as also some of the best vocal talent from that place. Plans for the entrance arch are being prepared by contractor Cook, and the decorations are being looked after by Ernest Jensen, who is a professional in that line of work. The commission is looking the grounds will commence next week.

The county superintendent will conduct the eighth grade final examination at the school house in Hood River, beginning at 9 a. m. on Thursday, May 23, and continuing three days. Any applicant who has finished the eighth grade work according to the state course of study, together with those who did not complete the examination in February, are eligible to enter the class. Pupils are expected from Pine Grove, Odell, Frankton, Cascade Locks and Hood River.

The water wheel, pipe and other machinery of the Electric Light Co. has arrived. The generator is expected to arrive Saturday. The power house completed and men are engaged in stringing the wires and expect to finish by Wednesday. The company expects to turn on the electric current and light up the business and other houses of the town by June 1st. The company will have one of the best and most complete electric plants in the Northwest.

B. K. Tucker came to town on Tuesday with a box of fine red apples of the Arkansas Black variety. He also brought in two crates of choice strawberries—all for shipment by the Union. He left samples of both apples and strawberries for the Glacier, and they were first class. Not many countries where fruit growers can send off winter apples and strawberries in the same shipment. No wonder Hood River is famous for its fruits.

D. McDonald has had his house on the corner of State and Park streets repainted outside and in, all the oom-pajered and considerable carpenter work done, making it one of the most desirable homes in Hood River. E. H. Pickard was the artist who did the painting and decorating. Mr. McDonald will occupy this house with his family as soon as it is finished.

The handsome bouquet that ever graced the sanctum of the Glacier was presented by Wm. Penn Watson last Saturday. It also brought along a snow ball flower that measured 17 1/2 inches in circumference. White Salmon may be in some things prolific and ahead in others but when it comes to snow balls it isn't in it with Hood River.

Just as the Glacier was going to press last Thursday, an item was received from Amos Underwood stating that Fred Lund had shipped half a crate of strawberries from Underwood, May 14th. The intelligent compositor set up the item in bad shape, for which we fear the Glacier will never be forgiven by Mr. Underwood.

A basket social will be given at the Franklin school house on the evening of Saturday, May 25th. A short programme will be rendered. The social will be given by the primary room for the benefit of the school library. Everybody invited.

Sam Bartness offered Col. Hartley and Walter McGuire 10 cents to fetch him his cow. He had no sooner made the offer than the cow came walking down the street towards home and was driven into the corral by Hartley and McGuire. Sam promptly set up the cigars.

A full house greeted the participants in the programme rendered at the D. of H. entertainment last Monday evening. Everybody in attendance richly enjoyed the occasion. Twenty-nine dollars was realized by the entertainment.

A game of base ball will be played June 2d between The Dalles and Hood River nines at Hood River. Admission to the grounds will be charged. Ribbons will be given to all who pay the admission of 25 cents.

In Justice Hayes' court, last Thursday, J. Helmer of Mt. Hood was given a jury trial, charged with obstructing a public road. The jury remained out all night and failed to agree and was discharged Friday morning.

Sears & Porter of the East Side report that their orchards promise to have more apples this year than last. It is surprising that the apple crop promises so well this year after the big crop the trees bore last year.

Hans Lange visited C. R. Bone's camp on the East Fork Irrigating Co's ditch last week. He reports the work progressing finely and that the desert part of the East Side will soon blossom as the rose.

A man was found prowling around in a house in Blowers addition Sunday night. He claimed to be looking for rooms to rent, but took rather late hours in which to conduct his search.

Jos. Delk, a former resident of Hood River, who is now residing in Portland, was in town last week. Mrs. Grant Evans and son Carl accompanied him to Portland on Monday.

Mrs. Paul Van Fraigh died at White Salmon, May 20th, after a long illness. Her remains were prepared and shipped by H. E. Bartness to Portland Tuesday morning.

The Boston Bloomers, a base ball nine composed of women, will play the Hood River nine about June 9th. Admission to grounds to see this game will cost only 25 cents.

J. R. Nickelsen lost his valuable cow last week. For some unknown reason she took sick and died, making the third death among the bovine family in one week.

Mrs. Hattie Williams has an exhibition at the People's Store some of her hand work in the shape of artificial flowers. The work is first class.

Dr. Clarence Crane and wife of Boston, Mass., who have been making a tour of the coast, were the guests of Dr. and Mrs. M. F. Shaw last Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Boorman and Mrs. C. O. Horning went to The Dalles on the steamer Iralda Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Thompson and grandson Merrill went to Bingen on the Iralda Tuesday.

The walls of the large warehouse of the Davidson Fruit Co. are being plastered.

Dr. W. L. Adams and daughter Lenore went to Portland on Saturday's boat.

A. K. Fuller of Sherman county is visiting C. H. Stranahan and family. Mrs. Eva Lewis is visiting relatives in Portland.

C. H. Rogers of Portland was in town Monday.

The noted Eastern reader, Miss Ida Helen Rodkey, will appear in the A. O. U. W. Hall Thursday night May 23d, under the auspices of the ladies' aid society of the A. E. church. The Evening Telegram says: "The entertainment given in the First Baptist church last night was declared by the county clerk to be the most meritorious piece of work in this line ever given in Portland. Miss Rodkey is a charming elocutionist, and her impersonations are thrilling in the extreme. The programme consisted of interpretations from Shakespeare, Emerson, James Whitcomb Riley, Tennyson and other noted authors." Miss Rodkey will be assisted by local talent. Admission, adults 25c, children 15c.

A bad accident happened at Davenport's planer Monday morning. Court Miller was helping the man run the trimmer, trimmer, pushing the work. His buckskin glove caught in one of the trimmer saws. He was thrown against the saw and his left hand cut off and the arm badly lacerated up as far as the shoulder. Dr. Brosius assisted by Dr. Watt amputated the arm at the wrist and sutured up the remaining arm so that the balance may be saved. Mr. Miller is a single man, about 30 years old, and came here last winter from Oklahoma.

A big force of carpenters are at work on F. E. Jackson's building. S. H. Coy, the contractor, pushing the work. The upper story of the building will be made into office rooms on the north side, and on the south side a hall will be finished for the Hassalo club. Dr. F. C. Brosius will occupy the two rooms in the north-west corner of the building up stairs. Though the building may be finished, Mr. Jackson will not move his goods into it before the end of the strawberry season.

Rev. Robt. Copple, who is visiting his parents on the East Side, with his wife, will preach in the Valley Christian church, Wednesday evening, May 23rd. Mr. Copple is a Hood River boy and is making a reputation for himself as an able preacher. He has located at Pendleton and will leave for his new home May 30th.

The Hood River zoneva company will give an exhibition drill at the Armory the evening of Decoration day. The young ladies have spent much time in preparation, and will furnish a pleasant entertainment. The proceeds will go towards paying for uniforms.

Dr. Pratt of Portland is at the Glenwood hospital in Hood River. Any one wishing to have their chronic and nervous diseases cured should not fail to consult with him. Dr. Pratt treats with electricity with wonderful results. Call today. Consultation free.

Fourth of July meeting—All citizens interested are invited to meet in Jackson's room at the Armory, May 24th, to make arrangements for celebrating the 4th of July in Hood River. Everybody is expected to attend this meeting.

Hon. J. W. Morton cut and saved about one-half of his hay crop on his lower meadows before the high water arrived in the Columbia.

James Langille will start today for his mine on McCoy creek. Walter Boling and Caleb Richardson will accompany him.

Mrs. M. E. Harwood and Mrs. G. D. Boardman went to St. Martin's springs, Wednesday, on the steamer Regulator.

M. A. Cook joined a lodge recently, which accounts for his wearing with a cane and his hand lumpy up.

Lena Neston found a dolly on the street and left it at this office for the owner.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. B. Raad of Vancouver are visiting relatives in Hood River.

The ladies of the U. B. Church will sell ice cream at the Armory the evening of the zoneva drill, May 30th.

The Davidson Fruit Co. is today shipping a carload of canned fruit to San Francisco.
