

Hood River Glacier.

FRIDAY, JUNE 7, 1901.

Will Hood River celebrate the Fourth? This is a question that is asked daily. The town council should take the matter up and see that we have a celebration worthy of the name. No community in the state is more prosperous today than our own, and there is no reason why we should not celebrate, except that no one seems willing to take the initiative and start the good work. By a little judicious advertising of a good programme we could get a crowd. Everybody likes to come to Hood River. The Grand Army has decided to hold a basket picnic in the grove in Blowers addition and will invite all to join. Beyond this we know of no other move towards celebrating or any programme in preparation.

A Good Indian.

Rev. Geo. Waters, an Indian from Yakima, called at the Glacier office and asked for paper to write Wednesday something for publication. He wrote as follows: "I am going to talk to the Indians on Sunday afternoon 3 o'clock on Oak street and every Sunday afternoon I talk, the city marshal gives me Permit Rev Geo Waters from Yakima Reservation Wash." Mr. Waters said he was in Hood River in 1857 and had not been here since till this trip. In 1859 the government sent him to Yakima, where he attended the mission school five years. His people have been coming to Hood River each year to pick berries, and he thought he would come himself this time and see how the Indians behaved. He is sorry to find that his people, men and women, get drunk while here, in his talks to them he will try to convince them that it is better to let the white man's fire water alone.

Eighth Grade Examinations.

Following is the result of examinations held in Hood River by Sup't. Gilbert, May 23, 24 and 25, 1901. These graduates entered in March class and completed at this examination: Pine Grove—Edward Lage, Charles Lage, Gladys Sears, Effie Robinson, Lulu Thomas, Irene Sprout. Hood River—Charles Shuta, Vera Jackson, Blanche Blowers, Willie Foss, Fannie Cole. Frankton—Maggie Garbrant, Lulu Absten.

Hereafter requisitions for eighth grade final examination questions will not be filled unless accompanied by a certificate from the teacher to the effect that the applicants have completed the work as shown by the state course of study.

The Pioneer reunion at Portland, June 14th, comes at the wrong time for Hood River. We have several pioneers who would like to attend but will be prevented because they are busy with the strawberry crop. By the time the G. A. R. encampment at Forest Grove takes place the crop will be mostly harvested, and many of the old boys will attend.

The Delineator for July is received. This magazine is now the acknowledged leader for fashions. The artistic three-color printing in the article on the Pan-American exposition in the July number has never been surpassed. E. R. Bradley of Hood River is agent for this magazine. One dollar a year; 10c a copy.

The quarterly of the Oregon Historical Society for March is received. The article on the "Political History of Oregon from 1853 to 1865," by Geo. H. Williams, is a valuable addition to the literature of Oregon.

Miss Carrie Cople, accompanied by her niece, Alice Taylor, came up from Viento, Monday, where she had been making a protracted stay.

Dr. Pratt, the electric specialist, will return to Hood River June 7th. If you have rheumatism or any chronic trouble, you should consult him at the Glenwood.

J. H. Koberg saved his alfalfa hay that was cut before the late rise of the Columbia. Just after he finished hauling the last load the water came into his meadow.

Hood River valley was visited, Monday night, by a soaking rain. The strawberry patches had been picked clean on Monday, and so there was not much loss in ripe berries. The rain did much good. The weather during the past few days has been cool and could not have been better for the berry crop if it had been specially ordered. Heavy shipments were made every night for the past week, except Tuesday, after the rain, and the berries came in in fine shape.

Kohrt, League of Mt. Hood was in town on Wednesday. He reports a heavy rain at Mt. Hood Monday night, just what was needed for the crops.

A. M. Chase of Lamoni, Iowa, an elder in the reorganized church of Latter Day Saints, will set up a tent in Hull's addition today and hold meetings every evening and at the usual hours Sundays. Bring bibles and song books.

The M. E. Sunday school of The Dalles and friends came down on the Regulator Wednesday morning and picnicked in the park in Blowers addition.

Much complaint is made by farmers from the East Side about the state of the roads belonging to the corporation of Hood River. A few loads of gravel and a new plank in the bridge are badly needed. The county supervisors have done their part towards improving the roads this spring. Who is to blame for the delinquency on the part of the town?

G. A. Hurd of Portland moved to his claim at Mt. Hood Wednesday. He will back while building a house, and his family will come later.

Everybody will be interested in our advertising columns today. Mrs. G. L. Watts of Baker City is visiting Mrs. Baldwin and her mother, Mrs. Jos. McGuire.

E. R. Bradley has been notified from Portland that he is expected to attend the head camp of the Mt. W. A. as a delegate at St. Paul, June 11-15. He was elected as alternate. Mr. Bradley will make the trip if he can possibly arrange his business here.

H. M. Abbott, who bought a part of the T. R. Coon strawberry ranch, arrived here Sunday with the balance of his family, his wife having been here in charge of the ranch for some time. He drove overland from Boise in two weeks.

C. M. Morgan is visiting Hood River after an absence of a year or more. The young ladies' zouave company will meet for drill Friday night, at 8:30 o'clock.

The Evangelical Lutheran Sunday school of The Dalles will come to Hood River on the Regulator next Wednesday. Assessor Schmidt has discovered 9,700 acres of deeded lands that have never been assessed, 1,000 acres being in Hood River valley.

When in need of shoes, groceries, hams etc., call on McCarty's. Ladies' furnishing goods, notions, etc., at McCarty's. Sherrill comes out with a new ad today.

Pioneers of Oregon.

Everything is dry out here and a good rain would be of great benefit to the stock raisers. Walter Gribble made a trip from St. Paul to visit his mother and mother-in-law at Mt. Hood before going to the mountains with his sheep. Wm. Avera and family arrived at Mt. Hood Wednesday from the mountains. He was on the road about a year, traveling overland with a wagon and team. He expects to arrive here later.

W. W. Naon went to Hood River last week, where he will be at work all summer at his trade, as a cooper. James Knight just returned from Kingsley, where he went to get his horses and cattle. He had a very busy time. George and Joe Dimmick are getting ready to go to the harvest fields. It seems a little early to be thinking about harvesting. Mt. Hood, June 4, 1901.

Women suffering from headache, backache, nervousness, sleeplessness, melancholy, fainting and dizzy spells, will find it a priceless blessing. Try it. Satisfaction is guaranteed by Chas. N. Clarke.
