Hood River Glacier.

FRIDAY, JUNE 21, 1901.

Council Proceedings.

The regular meeting of the common council was held in the council chamber Monday evening. Present—Mayor Brosius; Aldermen Bell, Blowers, Davidson, Luckey, McDonald and Shaw; Recorder Nickelsen and Marshal Olinger. Minutes of last regular meeting were read and approved.

Petition of Allen & Morrison for license to sell spiritous, vinous and malt liquors in Hood River in quantities less than one gallon, was read.

Mayor Brosius stated that the ordinance (25) amending ordinance 21 was found to have no enacting clause. In such case, he held, it would be necessary for the council to work under ordinance 21 in granting saloon licenses. Ordinance 21 requires the signature of a majority of legal voters in the town and the publication of petition. Luckey claimed that the council was working under the new charter, which does not require publication of a petition for a saloon.

Attorney Jayne was called to give his opinion in regard to the legality of an ordinance without an enacting clause. He said the weight of authority was in line with the mayor's ruling. No license could ge granted under the charter itself; it requires an ordinance.

Petition of Fouts & Son, asking for a liquor lisence, was also presended. Considerable debate ensued over the petitions, but no action was taken.

Remonstrance against the town contracting for electric light, or making other contracts with corporations, was read and ordered placed on file.

Committee on streets and public property reported that a preliminary survey for establishing street grades had been made, and the council not meeting, the committee had ordered the work done. Report accepted.

Special committee on street lamps reported that street lamps had been put up where most needed and that the same were being paid for by property owners near the lamps.

Ordinance 32, vacating part of Columbia street, between Third and Fourth, was read second time and laid over till next regular meeting.

Claims against the city were ordered paid, as follows:

Mt. Hood hotel	$2 00
M. E. Welch	3 00
E. S. Olinger	6 00
Glacier	50
W. E. Sherrill	2 50
J. Libby	4 50
Williams & Brosius	50

Bill of Mt. Hood Stage Co., for $22 damages to wagon and harness caused by bad roads in town limits, was rejected by finance committee.

Proposition of M. A. Cook, to furnish the town with hydrants, hosecart and fire hose, was ordered placed on file.

W. L. Clark submitted bid and plans to establish street grades at a cost to the town of $95. Accepted.

Resignation of H. C. Coe as street commissioner was accepted and Robt Husbands was appointed and confirmed.

On motion the licenses of the two saloons were extended until July 1st..

The marshal was instructed to look after the fire buckets belonging to the town and see that they are put in convenient places.

Hood River Strawberry Carnival.

About 150 persons went from here to Hood River last night to attend the strawberry carnival, leaving at 8:30 and returning at about 4 o'clock this morning. The trip would have been very much more pleasant to a large majority of the excursionists if about a score of The Dalles young bloods had stayed at home. The main unpleasant feature of the excursion was the presence of a number of young fellows who went aboard half shot and got completely paralyzed on Hood River whisky. It has just come to this, that if any future excursions of a similar nature are to be made enjoyable for self-respecting people, these young hoodlums, who are well-known and could easily be named, must be left at home.

The Hood River people did all in their power to make the visit of the excursionists a pleasant one. The strawberry carnival, which gave occasion to the excursion, was gotten up by the Christian Endeavor of the Congregational church and was arranged to last two nights. The proceeds were to be devoted to the improvements of the grounds surrounding the church edifice. The receipts of the first night netted about $50, and those of last night were probably more.

Hood River misses and matrons served ice cream and Hood River strawberries under the shade of oak trees that would make Longfellow's Village Blacksmith's chestnut tree ashamed of itself.—Chronicle.

Salem Strawberry Fair.

A strawberry fair was conducted at Salem, last week, under the auspices of the Press club. The fair was a grand success. The Journal says: "The exhibits of berries and plants with their fruit were complete in each department. There was a large attendance of growers and the new varieties were closely studied and the result will be that hundreds of acres of new fields will be put out this fall. Salem will become the berry shipping and canning center of the Willamette valley. The exhibitors who showed new varieties deserve greatest praise. It is easy to get plants and grow berries after a variety has been discovered and tested in these various valley soils. But the grower who carries on the tests does so at a loss in cash and time that few persons are aware of, as not over one out of fifty advertised ever amounts to anything for field culture. The exhibit of the Clark's or Hood River berry was surprisingly fine. They surpass in size and deliciousness even the Hood River product, which has become world famous. The grocery firm of Roth & Graber has made a special feature of this berry for their retail trade and it has proven a great winner."

We learn from the Sentinel that Jacob Prahl of Glenwood was shot by Wm. McGrath of Camas Prairie, last week, and is now in Goldendale under the care of physicians. Both parties are sheep men.

The Salem cannery is paying 3 cents a pound for strawberries. The Journal says this year's crop surpasses any previous year by one-third in quantity.

Albert Tozier of the Pacific Farmer was elected president of the national editorial association at its meeting in Buffalo. The next meeting will be held at Hot Springs, Arkansas.

The county treasurer is paying county warrants issued prior to Jan. 3, 1898. Interest ceases after May 24, 1901.

Seth Morgan and wife, who not long ago sold their home in The Dalles and removed to the Sound country, have returned, the Chronicle says, "to God's country."

At the city election in the Dalles, last Monday, G. J. Farley was elected mayor over W. A. Johnston by a majority of 37.

Stevenson will celebrate the glorious Fourth with a procession, oration, music, dancing, athletic contests, etc.

A Snow Storm in June.

Snow began to fall at midnight Tuesday, June 11th, and by 7 o'clock on Wednesday morning it measured five inches on the level. It continued snowing until about noon, when a rain set in. At Ridgeway, about 12 miles west of us, snow is ten inches deep, and the early hay, that was ready to give way to the reapers, is now lying flat on the ground. At Antelope, six miles south, only about two inches of snow was on the ground, while on the hills surrounding the town it is said the snow was 12 inches deep.—Shaniko Leader.

EMMA E. BONNEY

Of Tygh Valley, county of Wasco, state of Oregon, has this day filed in this office her sworn statement No. 181, for the purchase of the northwest ¼ southwest ¼, and southwest ¼ northwest ¼ of section No. 5 in township No. 2 north, range No. 9 east, W. M., and will offer proof to show that the land sought is more valuable for its timber or stone than for agricultural purposes, and to establish her claim to said land before the Register and Receiver of this office at The Dalles, Oregon, on Saturday, the 3d day of August, 1901.

She names as witnesses: Clyde Bonney of Hood River, Oregon; A. A. Bonney of Tygh Valley, Oregon; Ed. Mays and Joseph Mays of Hood River, Oregon.

Any and all persons claiming adversely the above-described lands are requested to file their claims in this office on or before said 3d day of August, 1901.
