Geo. T. Prather went to Portland Tuesday afternoon on the Bailey Gatzert to secure Hood River's pyrotechnic display for the Fourth.

The Hood River library was recently presented with 48 volumes of the Criterion Library Series of histories and biographies. Geo. T. Prather was the generous donor.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. McKee and Miss Belle of Portland spent last Sunday at the Howe house on Lyman Smith avenue. Mr. McKee is clerk of the U. S. district court at Portland.

The Fourth of July.

Preparations for celebrating the 4th are progressing satisfactorily. The finance committee have been very successful in raising funds. The committee on grounds and decoration have received final instructions and are going ahead to beautify the city and to put things in order for such a celebration as Hood River has never undertaken before. People are coming from all parts of Sherman and Wasco county as well as from the neighboring counties in Washington. So look out for a crowd. Everybody is expected to bring baskets well prepared for a feast, and to stay till after the fireworks and balloon ascension. The committee of arrangements will meet Friday evening at Williams & Brosius' store. All sub-committees are requested to get their work well in hand and to make definite reports at that time. Sec. Com. of Arrangements.

Jas. Langille, Walter Boling and Caleb Richardson arrived in from the McCoy creek mining district Monday noon. "The trip in" said Jim, "was the toughest kind of mountaineering. Snow drifts were eight and ten feet deep in places, and the trail so impassable for horses that the party had to turn the animals back when one day out from Trout Lake, the rest of the trip being made on foot, each man carrying a 50 pound load of blankets and provisions." This was a month ago, but the snow has not yet disappeared. While at the mines, Jim cleared out some 14 feet of tunneling, which gives him a 160 foot shaft. Jim thinks there is something in it, and hates to give up after doing so much work, though he has no pay dirt in sight as yet.

The recital in elocution and music given at the Congregational church, Monday evening, by Mrs. Louise Goddard and her pupils was another enjoyable and successful affair that was much appreciated by the large audience present. Nola Atterbury, Nettie Allen, Pearl Bradley and Elliot Staten did very well with their piano selections. W. E. Sherrill and W. A. Isenberg contributed in good form a couple of cornet duets. D. E. Rand appeared in his usual good style in a vocal solo. Mrs. Goddard whose work in elocutionary lines is everywhere well received, sustained a number of difficult parts remarkably well, winning generous applause at each appearance.

L. R. Bradley, when in the East last month, secured a unique curio in the shape of a hand-carved cane made by a forger in the North Dakota penitentiary. Near the handle of the cane are the words "Avengers of the Maine," and down the sides of the cane are carved the pictures of Admiral Dewey, Rear-Admiral Sampson, Lieutenant Hobson and Captain Evans. The pictures are raised about 1-32 of an inch and the outlines filled with India ink. The wood is hard maple, the cane is tipped with buffalo horn and altogether it makes a very unique and valuable curiosity.

F. P. Friday and family of Chehalis, Wash., are expected in Hood River the fore part of July. Mr. Friday will have charge of the new general merchandise establishment which John Otten, the recent purchaser of the Brosius-Early property, expects to open in Hood Rivrt. Mr. Otten is a prosperous merchant of Chehalis and is evidently confident of success in Hood River as he is contracting to erect a two-story brick 50 x 80, with a plate glass front, the proposed structure to replace the wooden building now occupied by Sherrill's furniture store.

R. E. Harbison reports as follows from Hood River for the weekly crop bulletin: "Clover hay making is well advanced and a good crop is being secured. Wheat will soon be ready to cut for hay. The strawberry season is nearly closed. The apple crop will lack a good deal of being a full one, as many have dropped during the last few weeks. Wheat promises an average yield. The country is becoming dry, but no more so than is common at this time of the year. Irrigated crops look fine."

The foundation for the Masonic temple, on the E. L. Smith block adjoining Crowell's store, is completed and work on the building will begin in a week or ten days. Contractor L. D. Boyed will furnish the necessary 135,000 brick, and expects to complete the work in about 60 days. The building will be a two-story structure. The first floor will be rented for store purposes, and the second will contain the lodge hall and reception rooms.

George Baker was arrested on Sunday by Deputy Constable Maltie Dukes. He was caught in the act of selling whisky to an Indian. Baker resisted arrest and was promptly knocked down by Maltie. The prisoner was taken before U. S. Commissioner Geo. T. Prather, plead guilty and was held to answer before the grand jury.

Prather & Barnes made sale of real estate during the past week as follows: Fifteen acres from Thos. Chapman to G. D. Eatinger, $700. Ten acres from Thos Chapman to John Nealeigh, $700. Ten acres from Thos. Chapman to Douglas Lockman, $700. Twenty acres from J. S. Tendick to H. W. Chapman, $1,600.

Capt. F. M. Jackson was seriously hurt on Monday. He was riding from town to his home on the East Side, when his horse fell and fell upon him. He was picked up insensible and remained in that state half an hour. He received a cut in the back of the head and was bruised in other parts of his body.

The Bailey Gatzert is again making trips on schedule time, and is doing a big passenger and freight business. The fast time the steamer makes is attractive to the traveling public. The distance from Hood River and Portland is made in 4½ hours. Prather & Barnes as the Hood River agents are rustling quite a business.

Monte Arnold, who had his hand severely injured at Davenport's little mill some time ago, still has a very bad hand. So much of the flesh was burned away from the back of his hand by contact with the saw, that it is very difficult to heal over and Monte says he will have to go to Portland and undergo the grafting process.

The Hood River nine went against it pretty hard at The Dalles last Sunday when the sphere twirlers from that city rolled up a 14 to 5 score. The Hood River boys are not done for yet and will endeavor to reverse the score on the 4th of July and secure the $50 purse put up by our townsmen.

T. J. Cunning, L. D. Blount, O. L. Stranahan, and S. F. Blythe of the G. A. R., and Mrs. O. L. Stranahan, Mrs. Shoemaker and Mrs. T. J. Cunning of the W. R. C., are attending the encampment of the G. A. R. and W. R. C. at Forest Grove.

The defendants counsel in the suit of Mrs. M. Sue Adams vs. A. P. Bateham, which was to have been tried June 25th, not being here, the case has been postponed until July 9th, at 10 a. m., when the case will be tried before C. J. Hayes.

Invitations have been issued by Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Hill for a reception at their home Thursday night of this week to their daughter, Miss Laura, who recently returned from her work in the Portland high school.

The ladies of the Congregational church will give a lawn party at the home of Geo. T. Prather, Friday evening, June 28th. Refreshments will consist of ices, cakes and summer beverages, and there will be music for the occasion. The public is invited to participate.

The decoration committee for the 4th have decided to place the main arch over Oak street between Crowell's store and McCartney's cigar stand, instead of putting it near the depot as at first intended.

Harry Bailey expects to give up his position as mail carrier for the rural delivery by the first of July. Marshall Isenberg will take his place.

E. B. Leaming and family of Portland came up during the week and went out to their ranch in the Crapper district, next to the I. J. Miller place.

Jack Bartmess and his new wife were up from Viento to see the Bloomer base ball game last week.

Mrs. N. M. Harrell is visiting her sister in Seattle.

Seldom has a better chance for "stay-at-home traveling" been offered than in the Ladies' Home Journal for July. From West Point as pictured by George Gibbs on the cover, readers may go with W. L. Taylor to see "A Busy Boston Street at High Noon;" next try "Goin' Fishin' with Joe Jefferson" in Florida; then, travel out West with Ernest Seton-Thompson to see "The Mother Teal and the Overland Route;" next go along the Atlantic coast to find out how the places "Where Our Country Began" look today; then seek Northern Michigan to hear "The Story of a Maple Tree," by William Davenport Hulbert; next visit an eastern magazine editor's office and enjoy the good humored raillery of "The Case Against the Editor," by Edward Bok; and finally see what "The Country of Sheridan's Ride" looks like nowadays. There are many other articles of equal interest on various subjects. By the Curtis Publishing Company, Philadelphia. One dollar a year 10c a copy.

They Got the Digger—W. J. Baker's boys one evening last week, started a smudge in a hollow oak tree to smoke out a digger squirrel. The tree took fire in the middle of the night and the fire burned up 100 cedar posts piled up against the tree. The old farm gate that hung on the tree also burned up. The crackling of the fire waked up Mr. Baker in time to save his barn by hard work. The boys got up, too, and way up on one of the top limbs of the mammoth oak they spied Mr. Digger. He was knocked down by a well-directed stone throw and was killed by the dog.

S. E. Bartmess was agreeably surprised a few days ago to receive a letter from a banking house at his old home (Lafayette, Ind.) containing a draft for $42.36. The letter stated that this amount had been standing on the bank's books to Bartmess' credit for a number of years, and as they were about to close up business they sent it to him. Mr. Bartmess had no recollection of depositing the money.

The Mountaineer prints a big ad of a 4th of July celebration at "the garden spot of the beautiful Northwest." The name of no place is mentioned, but of course every one will know that Hood River is meant by the description.

The person who ordered one of Dr. Hines' books of Mrs. Geo. P. Crowell is asked to report to her. She has a book that was ordered and has forgotten who ordered it.

Geo. Slocum writes to Hon. E. L. Smith that the Hood River apples on exhibition at the Buffalo exposition are keeping better than any others.

Rev. J. W. Jenkins left last Thursday for Turner, where he is attending the state convention of the Christian church, and will remain over Sunday.

H. Bigelow of Newberg, state deputy for the Ancient Order of the Red Cross, is in town arranging to organize a lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Hadley and two children visited the family of Chas. N. Clark for a few days this week.

Grover Slusher of Dufur arrived in Hood River the first of the week for a short visit and to spend the 4th with his sister, Mrs. Chas. N. Clarke.

There will be a musical given the evening of the 9th in the gymnasium. Programme next week.

Mrs. Langille left for Cloud Cap Inn Tuesday to arrange for the opening of the Inn on July 1st.

Hon. E. L. Smith has been invited to deliver the 4th of July oration at Moscow, Idaho.

J. F. Armor came up from St. Martin's springs last Friday much improved in health.

Mrs. M. C. Miller of Scholls is visiting her sons and their families in Hood River.
